INTRODUCTION.

THE Register of Burgesses and Guild-Brethren of the City of Edinburgh is contained in a number of MS. volumes, carefully preserved in the Town Clerk's fire-proof safe in the City Chambers.

After 30th May 1666 the entries of apprentices are contained in the scroll volumes, along with those of burgesses and guild-brethren. The roll of these is being issued separately.

Of these volumes Nos. 1 to 8 have been used in compiling the roll which follows, beginning at 17th May 1487, and ending in Vol. 8 at 31st December 1700.

The very early entries are taken from the minutes or records of the Town Council. The scroll volumes, whose contents have not been entered in the official volumes, or have been lost with them, are very badly and hastily written, and in many cases the names, christian and, more particularly, family, are very difficult to decipher, the rather that no rule of spelling has been observed, and the attempts at a phonetic rendering are bewildering. The Celtic names are really dreadful.

The earliest entries, being in ancient script, and also in Latin abounding in contractions, offered obstacles which would, it is to be feared, have wrecked the undertaking, but for the help, so graciously given, chiefly by Mr. John Jarvis, Session-Clerk of the City Churches, by Mr. Henry M. Paton of H.M. Register House, and by Miss Marguerite Wood, Keeper of the Burgh Records, to all of whom I tender my very grateful thanks.

CHARLES B. BOOG WATSON.

7 March 1660.—Sir James Stanfield of New Milns, in East Lothian, and his son Philip. Sir James, a Yorkshire man by birth, is said to have been a colonel on the Parliamentary side in the Civil War. He came to Scotland, after the battle of Dunbar, 1650, and having acquired certain lands on the south bank of the Tyne, a mile east of Haddington, he set up a cloth manufactory, named New Milns. Later he was knighted by Charles II., and his cloth industry was encouraged in 1681 by James, Duke of Albany and York, later James VII.

He also acquired property in Edinburgh, both in Blackfriars Wynd, and in what is now called World's End Close, where Sir Wm. Bruce of Balcaskie disponed part of his property to him, whence the close at one time bore the name of Stanfield's Cl. He also owned the ground in Leith whereon the glass work was built later.

He was made a burgess and guild-brother of Edinburgh 7th March 1660, being then secretary to General Major Thomas Morgan, gratis, and £5 voted to him, for his good service done to the town.

On 2 July 1679 Mr. Philip Stanfield, fiar of New Milne, was made burgess and guild-brother of the burgh, gratis. He must have been Sir James' elder and most unsatisfactory son, who was married, and lived in his father's house.

On the 28 November the body of Sir James was found among the ice in a pool in the river. It was secretly buried by his son, as that of a suicide.

But the Lord Advocate, hearing of the case, gave orders for the exhumation and examination of the corpse. This was carried out, and the surgeons performed the autopsy, in the course of which they made an incision in the neck of the deceased. When Philip, at the request of the surgeons, lifted the head of his dead father, to help in replacing the body in the coffin, the blood suddenly showed on the linen swathing, and Philip, horror-struck, dropped his burden, and fell back in a faint. In due course he was arrested, and tried before the High Court of Justiciary in February 1688, and found guilty. Sir George Mackenzie assisting the Lord Advocate in the prosecution. He was hanged at the Market Cross, and his body was hanged in chains at the Gallow Lee, between Edinburgh and Leith, and finally disappeared.

The New Milns property was sold, on the winding up of the cloth company, to the notorious Colonel Francis Charteris, who changed its name to Amisfield, after that of his family seat in Nithsdale. (See "Twelve Scots Trials," by Wm. Roughead, W.S., and "Sir Richard" in Sir Walter Scott's "Minstrelsy of the Scottish Borders.")

8 Feb. 1682. (C.)—"The which day the council appoynts the dean of gild and his councell to admit and receave such stablers of this burgh whoe desyres to enter burges to be burgeses for payment each of them in ane hundred merks Scots in satisfaction of the dewes."

(Burgesses made and 'prenteises bound on Wednesdays.)

13 June 1683.—[Liberty to a woman.] The Dean of Gild and Council grants liberty to Agnes Alisone, shopkeeper in the Exchange, to keep a chop and to buy and sell all sort of ware in use to be sold and bought all the days of her life at least so long as she remains unmarried.

16 July 1684. (C.)—The Lord Chancellor and thirty nine Drummonds made burgesses and gild-brothers by act of council.

7 Jan. 1685. (C.)—The Council ordains that all such Bishops as are not already burgesses and gild-brothers shall be made so gratis.

14 Sept. 1687. (C.)—The council appoints the Principall and whole professors and regents of the College to be made burgesses and gild-brethren gratis.

8 June 1688. (C.)—Wm. Penman, son to deceased Robert Penman, burgess and gild-brother, and (blank) Glen, son to James Glen, stationer, burgess and gildbrother, had right to be admitted burgesses and gild-brethren, but omitted to enter. Their sons, however, elected to be educated and entertained in Heriot's Hospital, are to be admitted thereto.

25 Oct. 1689. (C.)—The act of 1674 revived, namely, that no "gratis" burgess shall have right to book 'prentices or get admission for his bairns to Heriot's Hospital.

19 Aug. 1691. (C.)—In view of the prejudice caused by the non-residence of so many burgesses and gild-brethren, the council revives all acts thereanent and appoints that all burgesses and gild-brethren who do not reside in the city for eight months in the year shall be reckoned as unfreemen during their actual non-residence.

28 April 1693. (C.)—The council ordains that fees received for burgesship shall be applied to buying of arms for the town magazine.

27 July 1694. (C.)—Elizh. Corse, relict of Andrew Miller, mason, B., late deacon of the masons, craves that the £33 : 16s. Scots paid by her husband for entry as gild-brother (made necessary by his admission to the dean of gild court) may be repaid, and his entry be deleted. Council grant her £24 Scots, with deletion of entry as craved.

5 April 1695. (C.) –(Blank), William, servitor to Mr. Francis Montgomerie, made B. and G. gratis.

19 July 1695. (C.)—The council ordains that all "gratis" burgesses made hereafter shall swear and take the burgess oath in presence of Dean of Gild and his court.

6 Nov. 1695. (C.)—The council ordains that Wm. Murray, presently prisoner in the Tolbooth, as a spreader of false news, having lately spread letters containing false news received from London correspondent, shall have his burgess ticket cancelled and himself banished after his release from prison.

3 Jan. 1696. (C.)—The council appoints burgess and gild-brother tickets to be given out by the clerk to twenty-two persons as servants of the commissioner.

7 Sept. 1698. (C.)—Peter Chazelon, furrier, took the oath of allegiance, being a French Protestant refugee ; made burgess gratis 1 July 1696 and gild-brother 22 May 1700, having married Jean, daughter to umquhyle Patricke Grahame, skinner. On 30 Sept. 1696, one hundred and fifty-six pounds Scots was paid to him, being a reasonable charge for furring the Lord Provost's gown.

27 March 1700. (C.)—"The same day upon report of the dean of gild that in the accounts of incidents of the Thesaurer's depursements there was found considerable soumes payed to the clerks for burgesses and gild tickets given be the council gratis, which expence might be saved to the town and payed be the pairties. Therefore the Councill in all tyme comeing appoint the pairties who receive the freedome of burgesses and gild-brethren from the Councill gratis to pay the clerk's dues as others doe pay, excepting allwayes such noblemen and gentilmen as the councill shall think fitt to complement with the freedome ot this city."

In the early admissions of burgesses payments of duty were sometimes "by composition." In some cases spices and wine, a banquet in fact, were furnished, and accepted.

Burgesses were often admitted by the provost, or a bailie, or the treasurer, apart from the Dean of Guild Court.

When thus admitted by a bailie, it was by him as a bailie "et ea ratione." This was corrected later.

A master often is admitted burgess in order to be able to take an apprentice.

The date, between brackets, in the entry of admission of a craftsman as B. or G. by right of his apprenticehip, is that of his entering his master's service.

When a letter is given in brackets in a name, as in "Caldwell(s)," it indicates that both forms ("Caldwell" and "Caldwells") are found.

A good many entries appear twice, under different dates.

If "gratis" be not mentioned, the burgess paid for his burgesship.

Dates.—It must be remembered that under the Old Style the year ended 24 March.

Thus 1 Jan. 1500 (o.s.) succeeds 31 Dec. 1500, and should be written 1 Jan. 1500-1.

The New Style was adopted 1st Jan. 1600.

There are very few addresses or residences given, e.g. "John Adamsone fornent the crose." 12 Jan. 1570-1

John Hamilton, "dwelland in Williamson's Close," 14 Jan. 1567-8.

Residence.—When a man was made a burgess of Edinburgh it was necessary for him to reside within the burgh. Instances occur frequently of indwellers in Leith, who, on being made burgesses, are required to remove and find residence in Edinburgh, under the paine of tinsell (loss) of their freedome, e.g. Francis Aird and Rob. Dowglas, 27 Oct. 1669. Patrick Crightoun, mt. was forced to leave the Canongate and reside in Edinburgh 17 March 1648.

An applicant for burgesship could choose one qualification therefor, rather than another—probably preferring the cheaper. Thus a man eligible as 'prenteis to an employer, or as guidson to a burgess, would choose the latter qualification.

Not infrequently a group of one trade entered as burgesses at one time—a bunch of tailors, hatmakers, or fleshers, while on special occasions, such as banquets, or the honouring of a special family, as many as a hundred might be admitted burgesses and gild-brethren, gratis. Such burgesses, however, as a rule, enjoyed the privilege personally, without the right to transmit it to their bairns.

Moses Mosias, a Jew, was allowed to trade in the town, with a promise, for his encouragement, that if he become a Christian, he shall be admitted burgess, gratis (M.T.C. 14 Dec. 1698.)

NOTES ON THE GUILD REGISTER, EXPLANATIONS, GLOSSARY, ETC.

GUILD REGISTER.

Vol. 1. Size 11 in. × 7½ in. Marked 24 May 1487 to 8 Jan. 1579, but the first entry is 17 May 1487, the last 12 Feb. 1579-80.[1] The folios, as indicated by pencil notes at the beginning of the volume, are badly arranged. This must be noted in making search for entries.

There is a blank between Jan. 1500-1 and 30 March 1508; also between 24 May 1509 and 27 Sept. 1520.

The folios are numbered.

The earlier entries are in Latin. (See 15 March 1560-1.)

The volume closes with "τελος."

Vol. 2. Size 11 in. × 7½ in. The folios are not numbered.

It begins with several "Acts," and contains entries of burgesses and guild-brethren from 13 April 1580 to 25 Dec. 1616.

Vol. 3. 11½ in. × 7½ in. The folios are not numbered.

It contains entries from 1 Jan. 1617-18 to 18 Feb. 1669-70. A massive volume, bound in wooden boards, covered with leather, having brass corners and studs, with two brass-hinged bands, formerly fitted with hasps suiting the two locks for which two keys were required. On the fly leaf is written: "The lokkit guild buik of the burgh of Edinburgh, Maid be David Aikenheid, deyne of gild[2] of the said burgh, the fourt year of his office. Conteyning all the burgesses and gild brether admittit and resavit efter this present day the first day of Januar one thousand six hundrethe and sevinteene years."

It is beautifully written.

Vol. 4. Size 7½ in. × 5½ in. The folios are not numbered.

It begins with the prayer to be used at the meeting of the court, the oaths to be taken by burgesses and gild-brethren respectively, and the scale of fees for booking of 'prentices, and admission of burgesses and guild-brethren; then entries from 24 Feb. 1669-70 to Dec. 1676, and at the end jottings of fees paid.

Vol. 5. Size 8⅞ in. × 6½ in. The folios are not numbered.

It begins with the form of prayer, and the oaths to be taken; then entries from 3 Jan. 1677 to 13 Sept. 1691, and at the end jottings of fees paid.

Vol. 6. Size 7¼ in. × 5¾ in. The folios are not numbered.

It begins with the form of prayer, then entries from 10 Oct. 1691 to 14 April 1697, and ends with jottings of fees paid.

Vol. 7. Size 12½ in. × 8 in. The folios are not numbered.

It contains entries from 5 Jan. 1687 to 12 March 1695 and is beautifully written, but less than half the volume has been written up; the remainder is blank.

Vol. 8. Size 7¾ in. × 6 in. The folios are not numbered.

It contains entries from 21 April 1697 to 4 June 1703, beginning with four pages of entries of loans from the guild funds, and jottings at the end of fees paid.

Vols. 4, 5, 6 and 8 are evidently scroll entries of burgesses, guild-brethren and 'prentices. These have been only partly written up in the court books. Vols. 1, 2, 3 and 7, which are very carefully written, contain no entries of 'prentice bookings.

[1] It must be remembered that under the "old style" the year began on the 25th March.

[2] And afterwards more than once provost.

Walker, waker = waulker, fuller.
Weyver, webster = weaver.
Women burgesses. A wife could transmit to her husband the right of admission coming from her father as a burgess, but women were themselves eligible, although the instances are very rare of their being made burgesses. For examples see :—
Alison Duscoul, 17 March 1406-7.
Ann Keith, 28 April 1665.
Agnes Alison, 13 June 1683.
Also Margaret Gray, under Thos. Brown, 3 Aug. 1642.
In the note of fees, 1 Dec. 1450 (q.v.), the feminine form "post natae" seems to indicate that the right was claimed and exercised.
Wryt = writer.

Y. See Charles I.
Yor. = younger.
Ypor. = apothecary.

[NOTES.

NOTES ON BURGESS ROLL, 1701-1760.

The dates quoted in the Burgess Roll of the admission of a burgess or guild brother by the Town Council are frequently incorrect, and sometimes cannot be traced. A number of those admitted by the Council were never admitted by the Dean of Guild and his court; their names are not on the register, and consequently do not appear in the MS. Index. Occasionally a burgess is admitted by the Guild Court by an act of Council passed some time after! Nor was admission by the Town Council promptly followed by that of the Guild Council—we find, for instance, Wm. Lumsdain was admitted by the Town Council 5 Sept. 1744—and only six years later, 12 Oct. 1750, did the Guild Council admit him. John Russel, writer to the signet, admitted by the Town Council 5 Aug. 1741, became B. and G. only on 15 Sept. 1749, after eight years' delay, while Dr. Robert Hay waited for nearly ten years, from 28 May 1740 to 10 Jan. 1750, ere he became a "freeman."

But the apprentices were far more dilatory.

Robert Thomson, skinner, entered p. 18 July 1711, burgess 18 Feb. 1747.
John Somervail, wright, entered p. 3 Mar. 1797, burgess 11 Feb. 1736.
Robert Young, wright, entered p. 25 Oct. 1682, burgess 19 Sept. 1722.
Robert Tod, wright, entered p. 18 July and 22 Aug. 1705, burgess 7 Mar. 1750.

Evidently there was no advantage to be gained by early admission.

The same may be noticed in the case of guild brethren, entering sometimes long after admission as burgesses.

It is quite evident that despite all the care taken in entering apprentices, burgesses and guild brethren, omissions have occurred. We find men admitted burgesses as apprentices who are not entered in the apprentice roll; or others entered by right of a father burgess, whom we seek in vain in the burgess roll.

Occasionally the Council passed a second act admitting some one as B. and G., apparently forgetting that this had been done already.

Admission as a burgess and guild brother without payment of dues—"gratis"—was in many cases purely complimentary, and conferred no rights or privileges, unless particularly specified.

In some cases it was granted "for good service done," such as the admission of Wm. Blair, gratis, "for good service done at the late fire in the head of the West Bow (29 Sept. 1710)

In at least one case the widow of a burgess and guild brother seems to have conferred the right of admission on her second husband. See Thomas Espline, 30 Aug. 1710.

Note.—The form of the entry in the Minutes of Town Council differs occasionally so far from that in the Burgess Roll as to make it worth while to note both. Where no "right of admission" is mentioned, the admission is by payment as exigible from an "unfreeman."

The paucity of cutlers within the city may be gauged by the entry of Robert Boog, 26 Apr. 1748, when there was "no quorum of their craft within the city," and the Town Council had to assume the responsibility.

Chairmasters seem to have been admitted invariably on payment of the dues as unfreemen. They served no apprenticeship, and, curiously enough, seem to have had no right by parentage or marriage.

19 Mar. 1701.—Act discharging unfree traders to keep shops, cellars, etc. for selling wares, drink; also prohibiting burgesses to keep more shops or cellars than one, contrary to law; offenders' shops to be shut and themselves amerciat at the discretion of Dean of Gild and Council.

11 Apr. 1701.—"The same day the Council taking to their serious consideration the great prejudice the old burgesses and their children and these that have served their 'prenticeship or have bought their freedome in this cittie doe daylie sustaine by gratis burgesses who oft times doe make moyen with one or other of the Council to get a gratis burges ticket upon designe either to get a place or to get their children put in Heriott's Hospitall or themselves into the Trinity Hospitall or both—which does much prejudice, etc." No gratis burgess ticket shall henceforth entitle to these privileges.

21 May 1701.—All gratis burgesses must compear before the Dean of Gild and his Council and take the oaths before extracting of the burges ticketts.

27 June 1701.—Act of Council in favour of the freemen burgesses.

The following acts were exhibited, and appointed to be intimate yearly by tuck of drum, against abuses committed by unfree persons in the land mercat and elsewhere, viz. :—Act of 8 May 1607 ;
16 July 1647 ;
17 Oct. 1656 ;
14 Feb. 1688,

forbidding hawking at private houses except on the market day, viz. Wednesday, between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., between the Weigh-house and the Luckenbooths. None allowed to sit down in front of the stands but must take stands for themselves. No retailers (hucksters) allowed, only makers of what they sell. No one allowed to keep unsold goods within the town. The bailie of the Butter Mercat empowered to put this into effect.

25 Feb. 1702.—John Kerbie admitted burgess—"hattmaker ; full rights granted on payment of dues of apprentice in respect of his singular airt in making of hatts and weaving," by act of C.

M.T.C., 18 Mar. 1702.—"The same day the Council prohibits and discharges the Incorporation of the Baikers and other Incorporations of this city in all tyme coming to communicat the freedome of the trade to any in the head of the Cannogate or any other place within this burgh but to such who are burgesses, and appoynts the several corporations to cause record thir presents in their respective books and return ane extract of the same to the Councill."

30 June 1702.—"The same day the Lord Dean of Gild and his Council in obedience to the Act of the Lords of her Maj. Privie Councill anent the takeing the oath of alleadgeance and subscryveing the same with the assurance to her Maj., did accordingly take and subscryve the same."

26 June 1702.—"Anthony Leureux, french hatter, gives in a petition shewing that he, being admitted ane freeman in the Incorporation of the Hattmakers, upon a gratis burgess tickett, from the Councill, upon the account of his singular art in making of hatts : and having as a freeman applyed to the Dean of Gild and his Councill for booking ane apprentice, they refused the same, in respect of his gratis burgess tickett, and therefor craving the Councill to ordaine his apprentice to be received and booked seeing he payed ane valuable consideration to the Incorporation of the Hattmakers. Which being considered be the Councill, they appoynt the Dean of Gild and his Councill to admit and receave the petitioner to be burgess of this burgh for payment of the dues of ane apprentice in respect he served his apprenticeship to ane hattmaker, and his master neglected to book him." (The 'prentice in question was David, s. to John Leurie, cupper in France, who entered as 'prentice the same day, 15 July.) (15 July 1702.)

7 Aug. 1702.—Thomas Halkston and Robert Anderson, maltmen, to be censured and punished by the Dean of Gild and his court for exercising the imployment of maltmen and brewers in Leith, being neither burgesses nor having licenses for that effect.

24 Sept. 1703.—Gratis burgess tickets to continue only five years—owing to rejudice to traders.

12 Apr. 1704.—Chamberlain, and successors in office, ordained to pay the clerks servants for writing burges tickets :—

In the privately printed "Reminiscences" (p. xxxv) of Charles Cowan of Logan House, ex-M.P., speaking of the paper mills at Valleyfield, Penicuick, he says, "they were occasionally possessed and wrought by the King's printer of the day. There is a tradition in the parish that a King's printer, named Watkins, about the middle of last (i.e. 18th) century met with a very appalling death. He had been a very godless man, and one Sunday he had been walking with a friend towards Pennicuick House during the hours of divine service, when a storm of thunder and lightning suddenly set in ; he blasphemously defied the power of the Almighty, and was immediately struck down dead. It created a great sensation in the congregation, who were informed of the death by the officiating minister before the close of the service."

4 May 1709.—Chamberlain appointed to pay to Mr. John James Caesar, an German minister Calvinist and of the Presbyterian persuasion, the sum of twenty pound sterling for a help to the upholding of the German congregation and meeting of the said persuasion at London.

15 Apr. 1719.—The children of poor relations of George Heriot declared by act of Council virtually burgesses and freemen, so that they may be chosen and admitted into his Hospital; propinquity to be proved.

22 July 1719.—"Edinburgh, the twenty-second day of Jully one thousand seven hundred and nynteen years. The which day the Councill appointed the Dean of Gild and his Councill to admitt and receave John Law, Lord and Earle of Tankervell, Director Generall of the Royall Bank and Indian Company of the Kingdom of France, to be burgess and gild brother be right of John Law of Lauriston, burgess and gild brother, his father. Dispensing with the dues."

22 July 1719.—John Law, Lord and Earl of Tankerville. This is not the Tankerville family of Bennet, at Chillingham, but its namesake in France on the river Seine.

In "Les Ecossais en France" (Francisque-Michel), 1862, Vol. II, p. 423, speaking of this famous John Law, the author states that the Laws of Lauriston are not the direct descendants of the financier. "Cette famille est issue du frère de l'inventeur du système, qui l'avait rejoint en France et fut compris avec lui. La Duchesse de Bourbon fit placer les deux neveux de John Law au service dans les Indes orientales. L'ainè, Jacques François Law, comte de Tancarville, devint chevalier de Saint Louis, etc." He adds a note on "Tancarville":—"Cette terre venait, à ce qùil paraît, de John Law. Dangeau ecrit dans son Journal, à la date du 31 août 1718. 'On dit que le comte d'Evreux a vendu la terre de Tancarville à M. Law, qui lui en donne 650,000 livres et une pension viagère de 6000 francs.'"

In the letterpress of Turner's "Rivers of France" (published by J. M'Cormick, 147 Strand, London, N.D. Letterpress in both French and English), the note on the front view of the Castle states that "a portion of the building is comparatively new having been built by the celebrated projector, Law, who, immediately after he had bought the property for eight hundred thousand francs, was obliged to fly the kingdom." He died in obscurity and poverty in Venice, his grave is in the church of San Moïse.

22 July 1719.—Sir Archibald Primrose of Dunipace.

In 1661 Sir John Foulis of Ravelston md. Margaret, dr. of Sir Archd. Primrose of Dunipace, half-sister of Archd., 1st Earl of Roseberry.

Their son and heir, George, assumed the name of Primrose on succeeding to the estate of Dunipace, but was evidently known popularly by his patronymic, Foulis, as in this entry.

The Sir Archibald, now made B. and G., was executed at Carlisle, 5 Nov. 1746, for his adherence to the Stewart family in the rising of the '45.

12 Aug. 1719.—The Councill with the Extraordinar Deacons appointed Mr. George Drummond, present Town Treasurer, to cause make ane gold box with the inscription following, viz. :—

6 Apr. 1722.—Sir Francis Grant of Cullen was admitted B. and G., by act of C. 3 Jan. 1711, but not by the Dean of Guild and his Court. This explains their action in cancelling the admission of his son and namesake, but the entries which follow are difficult to understand.

5 Sept. 1722.—"Alexr. Hill, brewer in Leith, compeiring is made burges of this brugh for payment of one hundred merkes in satisfaction of the dues to John Weightman, late Dean of Gild, and counted for be him in his accompts but omitted to be booked as appears by ane act of the Toun Counsill dated 29 Aug. last, and gave his oath, etc."

Scored out and on margin: "[Gratis.] [Expunged by order.] [But the mony being payed by D. G. Jo. Wightman to D. G. R. Wightman is accompted for by him and so valid.]"

17 Oct. 1722.—Act in favour of Charles Dallas, for delivery of his burges ticket, of which he had been deprived, and also fined, for printing and publishing a paper called the Edinburgh News Letter, containing several scandalous speeches and poems, without licence, contrary to an act of Council. He pleads ignorance of the said act, blushes for and is ashamed of his action, and has found caution to behave himself civilly and forbear the like practices in time coming.

25 Mar. 1724.—James Brownhill, wright, late burgess and guild brother, had been convicted of being accessory to an attempt made on the house of Andrew Wardrope, late Deacon convener, for the purpose of seizing a banner or ensign belonging to the craftsmen of the city. Part of his punishment was the loss of his freedom as burgess and guild brother. He is now most penitent and craves reinstatement, which is granted.
(Builder of "James" Court, Lawnmarket.)

23 Oct. 1734.—Brigadier Moyle to be entertained at his admission as burgess and guild brother of this city.

5 Feb. 1735.—"An honorary burgess ticket to Alexr. Montgomerie, dated 2 Aug. last, was produced by Dean of Gild Simpson, and upon a motion made by him, was cancelled, in respect that there was a misnomination of the person. The person intended by the Marquis of Lothian, late Commissioner to the General Assembly, to have had the foresaid ticket being James Scot, tayler in Edinburgh, and therefore the Dean of Gild and his Council were appointed to admit and receive the said James Scot to be a honorary burgess of this city in common form."

29 Aug. 1735.—Paid one pound ten shillings stg. for the three trumpeters attending the Duke of Buccleugh being made burgess.

19 Nov. 1735.—The Council considering that as there are several processes now in dependance before the Court of Session whereto the city is a party which may occasion an appeal to the House of Lords, whence it is expedient that councillors at London, learned in law, ought to be timeously retained by the city. Did therefore resolve that William Murray, Esq., be accordingly retained, and that Provost Lindsay do the same.

2 Feb. 1737.—Owing to the great number of applications for relief from persons only recently admitted as burgesses, the Council resolve that no demands of this nature shall be remitted to the committee of younger date than seven years.

(Minutes of Town Council.) 8 June 1737.—The Hon. Sir John Barnard, one of the members of Parliament for the city of London, B. and G., gratis, for good services. A silver box to be made for the burgess ticket, and to be transmitted to Sir John in London.

19 July 1738.—Committe appointed to revise and examine the rates of upsetts and entries of burgesses and gild brethren and report how much the same ought to be increased.

1 Feb. 1740.—"Considering that the Rt. Honble. James, Earle of Murray, has made a present of forty pounds sterling to be distributed towards relief of the poor of this city and Canongate, which Treasurer Shairp has received and wherewith he is to debit himself, therefore (the Council) did appoint the Dean of Gild and his Council to admit and receive the said Earl of Murray and the Honble. Francis and Henry Stewarts, his bretheren german, to be burgesses and gild bretheren of this city in most ample form."

6 Feb. 1740.—"Reported by the Lord Provost that the Earl of Hopeton and his son Lord Hope have made a present of one hundred pounds sterling to be distributed to the poor of this city as the Magistrates thought proper for their relief in this rigorous season, and that his Lordship had returned the said noble Earl and his son a letter of thanks." (Both made honorary burgesses and gild brethren.)

6 Feb. 1740.—Charles Hope Weir of Craigiehall. Of the great Hope family, second son of the 1st Earl of Hopetoun, married 26 July 1733 Catharine, only dr. and heir of Sir Wm. Weir of Blackwood, Lanarkshire. Their eldest son, William, took the name of Hope-Vere.

8 Sept. 1742.—Eleanor Aitkinson, spouse to Daniel Forbes, writer, is licentiat to trade within this city dureing her life, she having paid to the Dean of Gild one hundred merks Scots money for her said liberty." (Margin, "Mrs. Forbes, £1 : 11 : 1·4.")

8 Feb. 1744.—Thomas Kid, late mt. in Dundee, now residing in Leith, B. and G., be r. of his dec. w. Rachael, dr. to dec. Mr. Wm. Eccles, doctor of physic, B. and G., although the Dean of Gild had "demurred to make the petitioner burges and gild brother in right of his wife because she dyed some few months before the petitioner's application without authority from the Town Council." Precedent quoted of Mr. Walter Heart, 1 Feb. 1723. This priviledge not to be granted to any one hereafter.

8 Feb. 1744.—"The Council enact, statute and ordain that in time comeing such as shall neglect to enter in right of their wives during their lifetimes shall not upon their offering to enter afterwards be entitled to any abatement of the ordinary dues in use to be paid by unfreemen." This arose from the case of Thomas Kyd, q.v.

11 Sept. 1745.—The Dean of Gild Council met for the last time before the interruption caused by Prince Charles Edward's capture of the city. David Nevey's is the last name entered as burgess and gild brother. The box was opened, and five pounds stg. taken out and entrusted to the Dean of Gild.

The court was constituted anew by the Lords of Council and Session 6 Aug. 1746, as recorded in the Burgess Register, viz. :

6 Aug. 1746.—"At Edinburgh the sixth day of August one thousand seven hundred and fourty-six years. The which day in obedience to ane act and warrand of the Right Honble. the Lords of Council and Session, dated the thirty-first day of July last, recorded amongst the minuts of proceedings of the Gild Court nominating and appointing Thomas Allan, Dean of Gild, Hugh Hathorn, old Dean of Gild, and George Gray, merchants, Samuel Neilson and Charles Mack, masons, and James Herriot, wright, to exerce the power and office of Dean of Gild and Councill for the purposes and to the effect therein mentioned.

Sederunt—Thomas Allan, Dean of Gild.
Hugh Hathorn, O.D.G.
Samuel Neilson.
Charles Mack.
James Herriot."

20 Aug. 1746.—The Dean of Gild Council duly met, but no burgesses were admitted till 4 Jan. 1747.

1 Apr. 1747.—"The same day His Royal Highness William Augustus, Duke of Cumberland, Brunswick, Lunenburgh, etc., etc., Captain General of all His Majestie's land forces and Commander in Chief of the allyed army, etc., etc., etc., was by the Right Honble. George Drummond, Esq., Lord Provost of the City of Edinburgh, Robert Montgomery, William Hamilton, John Brown and Andrew Wardrop, baillies of the said city, Thomas Allan, Dean of Gild, and the Gild Councill, and hereby is invested with the freedom of this city as a testimony of their grateful sense of the glorious services done by his Royal Highness to his Sacred Majesty and the British Nation in happily crushing the late detestable Rebellion, giving a total overthrow to the rebells in the memorable Battell of Culloden, restoring the publick tranquillity, makeing way for the free exercise of goverment in this city, secureing the trade liberties and laws of Great Britain, and transmitting to posterity along with the immortal honours of a young hero the invaluable blessings enjoyed under the auspicious reigns of the Protestant Princes of the illustrious House of Hanover,—conform to an act of the Town Council of the date the 3rd day of January last, 1747, and the seal of the city affixt."

1 Apr. 1747.—"Act investing His Royal Highness William, Duke of Cumberland, with the freedom of the city of Edinburgh." ("The Butcher.") (An ominous day !)

21 Mar. 1748.—The Town Council recommended to the Lord Provost to present Mr. Thorntoun of Cattlehall with the freedom of the city, and to entertain him on that occasion at the city's expense.

1 July 1748.—Captains and others of the East India Company's squadron, to be admitted burgesses and gild brethren gratis. Marked E.I.C. in entries.

8 Nov. 1749.—(The Town Council) appointed the Dean of Gild and his Councill to admitt and receav George Walker, Esquire, Commodore of the late squadron of private ships of war called the Royall family, to be burges and gild brother of this city in the most ample form.

(From Minutes of Town Council.)—11 July 1750.—"Anent the petition given in by John M'Hardie, mert., lawfull son procreat betwixt the deceast John M'Hardie, writer in Edinr., and Jean Jollie, his spouse, lawfull daur. to the decast John Jollie, mert. burges of Edinbr., setting furth that the petitioner's father haveing gone abroad soon after his marriage in order to push his fortune was very suddenly carried off by a feavor before he had any opportunity of returning home. That if the petitioner's farther had setled in this place he had a right by his wife to have entered a burges, that the petitioner intending to carry on business as a mert. he hop't the council notwithstanding his father's ommission would allow him to enter in right of his grandfather and to authorise the Dean of Gild to admit him accordingly, more especially as the petitioner by the mother's side is descended of a very ancient race of burgesses and has also a right to enter by his wife as the petition bears. Which haveing been read in Council the same was remitt to a committee of their number and they to report. Accordingly this Day Baillie Robert Baillie from the said committee reported that they haveing considered the said petition, and altho' the petitioner's father neglected or att least by his sudden death was prevented from entering in right of his wife yett as the petitioner himself has right to enter by his wife, lawfull daur. to Charles M'Hardie, mert. That therefor the Dean of Gild and his Council should be ordered to admitt the petitioner a burges and gild brother in right of his grandfather, by which no manner of loss is sustained by the city as the fees of entering in both cases are the same as the report under the hands of the Committee bears. Which haveing been considered by the Magistrates and Councill they with the extra'ry deacons approved of the said report and ordered the Dean of Gild and his Councill to admitt and receave the petitioner to be burges and gild brother of this city in the right of John Jollie, mt., his grandfather, dispenseing with his father's ommission. Whereanent ane extract of these presents shall be a warrant."

20 Nov. 1751.—"Mr. Sands, City Treasurer, represented that the indentures entered into with James M'Crabie as ane apprentice with the city's cassway layers being now expired, and as the overseer of the city's publick works informs that M'Crabie is pretty much master of his business and that the toun will have occasion for his service farther. That James Pirrie, son to James Pirrie, a souldier in the garrison of Edinbr. Castle, was willing to enter into indentures on the like termes with M'Crabie, wherefor the Treasurer desired the Councill's directions in what is above represented. Which being considered they ordered the treasurer to give M'Crabie a declaration with respect to his haveing faithfully served the city during the years of his indentures upon M'Crabie's acknowledging that he is fully satisfied and paid of his wages. Also they agreed to continue M'Crabie in the city's service as a casswaylayer and to give him the ordinary wages during the Councill's pleasure. And they authorised the Treasurer to enter into indentures in behalf of the city with the said James Pirrie on the like conditions with M'Crabie."

7 Dec. 1751.—"Appointed the Dean of Gild and his Councill to admitt and receave Dougall Young, weaver, to be burges of this city, dispensing with the dues in consideration of his ingenuity in contriving a loom for weaveing herron nets."

18 June 1755.—"Mr. David Flint, old Dean of Gild, represented he was well informed that Richard Beckford, esquire, Member of Parliament for the City of Bristol, had been generously pleased to signify that he was to give two hundred pounds Jamaica currency annually for the four ensuing years in order to promote the exportation of linnen made in Scotland from the Port of Leith. Therefore moved the Councill that they would be pleased as a mark of their gratitude for this singular favour to the country and to the City of Edinburgh in particular to order a burges ticket, for Mr. Beckford, and to recommend to the city's member when he goes next to Parliament to deliver it himself with the Councill's best compliments. Which having been considered by the Magistrates and Councill, they appointed the Dean of Gild and his Councill to admit and receive the said Richard Beckford a burges and gild brother of this city, dispensing with the Dues for the good services done by him to the interest thereof. Whereanent these presents shall be a warrant."

18 July 1755.—Philip Yorke, Lord Royston (b. 30 Dec. 1722, d. 20 Jan. 1770), afterwards 2nd Earl of Harwick, and (1770) Lord High Chancellor, was the eldest son of Philip, 1st Earl of Hardwick, by Margaret Cocks.

The entry in the Burgess Roll reads :—18 July 1755.—"The which Day the Right Honble. George Drummond, Esq., Lord Provost [of] the City of Edinburgh, James Stuart, Robert Forrester, George Lind and John Learmonth, baillies of the said city, James Grant, Dean of Gild, and the Gild Council, did and hereby do invest with the freedom of this city Philip, Lord Roystoun, in testimony of their grateful sense of the many eminent services done to Great Britain by The Right Honble. Philip, Earl of Hardwick, Lord Chancellor, and his Lordship's particular attention to the improvement of this part of the United Kingdom, conform to an act of the Town Council of this date."

(The said act is much more concise.)

Among the "eminent services" were the Earl's presiding at the trial of the Jacobite peers after Culloden, in which capacity he must bear large responsibility for the cruelly vengeful verdicts pronounced and executed. It was due to him that the act was passed in 1748, for disarming the Highlands and making the wearing of the kilt a criminal offence. The abolition of "Hereditary Jurisdictions" in 1746 must, however, be put to his credit.

Note.—2 Feb. 1757.—Gilson, Mr. Cornforth, B. and G., gratis, "for the eminent services done by him to this city by improving the taste of the inhabitants in church music." He was appointed precentor of the new church 13 Mar. 1757, with £5 above the other precentors, teaching them and the church music schools.
