Introduction

What do these statistics cover?

Scottish Annual Business Statistics (SABS) provides data mainly on the Manufacturing, Construction and Service Sectors in Scotland. The Annual Business Survey, from which the statistics are derived, covers approximately two thirds of the economy. The main sectors not covered are parts of agriculture, financial and the public sector. These statistics are therefore best suited to the analysis of individual industries rather than the economy as a whole.

The Tables include information on businesses' employment, turnover, purchases, approximate gross value added and labour costs. Data are classified according to industry group, geographical area and ownership. All figures are at current prices unless otherwise stated.

What year do tables relate to?

Please note that Tables contain 2008-2010 data published on a SIC 2007 basis only and were released on 29th August 2012.

When will the figures be updated?

New 2011 and revised 2010 figures are scheduled for release in August 2013, although this may be subject to change.

Important news

- The first release of SABS data for Growth Sectors on a SIC 2007 basis is available here.
- Industry profiles on Manufacturing, Spirits, Chemicals, Shipbuilding, Aerospace, Construction and Retail sectors will be published on this site during September.

Key facts

Introduction

During the summer of 2008 and into 2009, the global economy experienced two powerful shocks: the emergence of an international financial crisis and a severe commodity-price spike. Scotland, like most other developed economies, was not immune to the impacts of the global downturn. The Scottish economy entered recession in mid-2008 before returning to growth in late 2009.

The latest Scottish Annual Business Statistics (SABS), sourced from the Annual Business Survey (ABS), allow detailed analysis of the structure and performance of businesses in Scotland over the period 2008 to 2010.

Overall, the majority of industry divisions in Scotland experienced a decline in GVA between 2008 and 2009. The 2010 data show that there has been a recovery in some of these industry divisions but not all.

Sectoral Contributions

Services

- In 2010, cash terms Gross Value Added (GVA) in the services sector amounted to £54.8 billion.
- In 2010, the three largest contributions to services GVA came from - insurance £15.6 billion (28.4% of total services GVA), retail trade £5.8 billion (10.6%) and architectural and engineering activities £4.1 billion (7.5%). Together these three industries accounted for 46.5% of total services GVA.
- The three services industry divisions experiencing the largest increases in GVA between 2009 and 2010 were:

  - Insurance and reinsurance (SIC 65.1 & 65.2): £15.6 billion in 2010 - up £2.6 billion on 2009, and following an increase in the previous year.

  - Activities of Head Offices/Management Consultancy (SIC 70): up £0.5 billion, and, following a fall in GVA between 2008 and 2009, recovering to a level above that experience in 2008.

  - Legal and Accounting Activities (SIC 69): up £0.3 billion, and, following a fall in GVA between 2008 and 2009, recovering to a level above that experience in 2008.

- The three services industry divisions experiencing the largest decreases in GVA between 2009 and 2010 were:

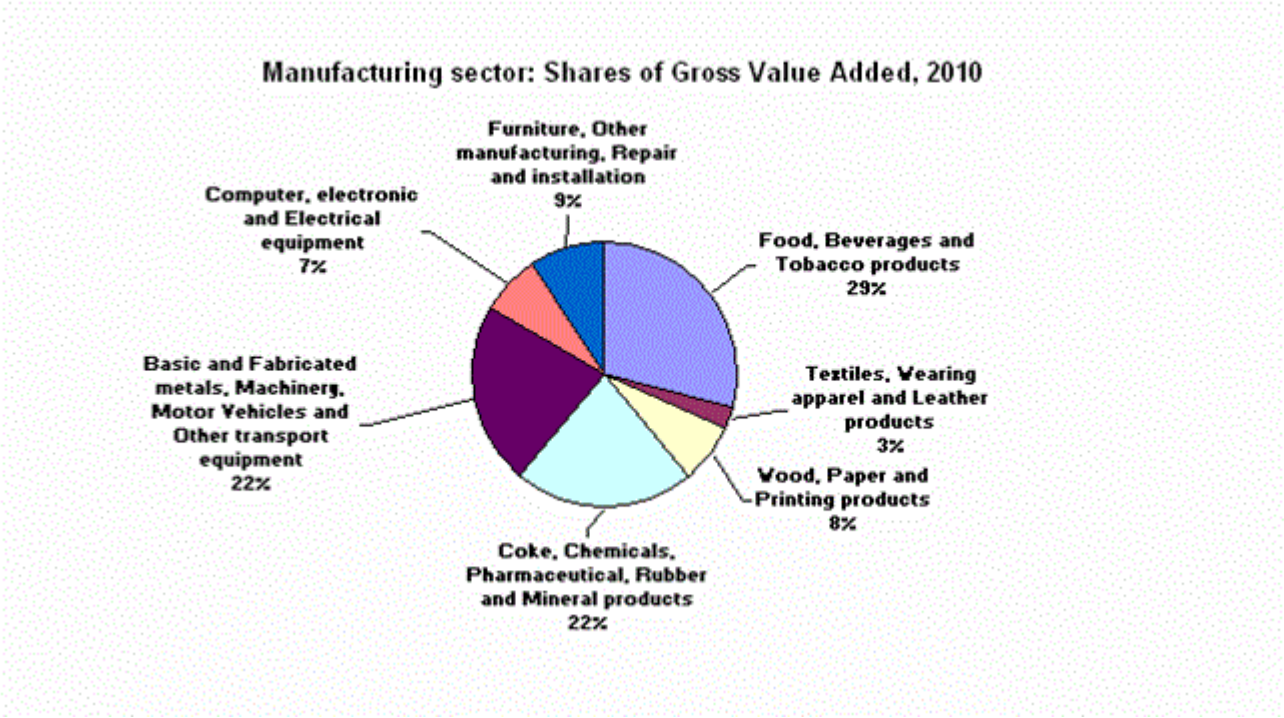
  - Wholesale Trade (SIC 46): down £1.1 billion, following a decrease in the previous year.

  - Retail Trade (SIC 47): down £0.7 billion, and although this follows an increase in the previous year, the 2010 GVA level was below that experienced in 2008.

  - Warehousing and Support Activities for Transportation (SIC 52): down £0.5 billion, and although this follows an increase in the previous year, the 2010 GVA level was below that experienced in 2008.

Manufacturing

- In 2010, cash terms Gross Value Added (GVA) in the manufacturing sector amounted to £12.4 billion.
- In 2010, the three largest contributions to GVA within manufacturing came from the beverages industry division at £2.4 billion (19.5% of total manufacturing GVA), chemicals industry division at £1.7 billion (13.5%) and food products industry division at £1.2 billion (9.6%). Together these three industry divisions accounted for 42.6% of total manufacturing GVA. These were the top three manufacturing divisions, in terms of GVA, in 2009 also – accounting for 41.3% of Scotland's total manufacturing GVA in 2009.
- The top three manufacturing industry divisions (beverages, chemicals and food) increased their share of manufacturing GVA over the latest year (from 41.3% in 2009 to 42.6% in 2010) – this was as a result of an increase in the chemicals sector GVA, which increased by 22.0% between 2009 and 2010. Whereas the food and beverages sectors experienced decreases in GVA between 2009 and 2010.
- The Chart below provides a break-down of Manufacturing GVA by broad industrial groupings (combination of industry divisions) in 2010.



Labour Productivity

- In 2010, GVA per employee in manufacturing (£71,000) was over 60% higher than that in the services sector (£43,800). Whilst labour costs per employee in manufacturing (£32,900) were almost 50% higher than in services (£22,100). To some extent these differences reflect the higher level of part time working in the services sector.

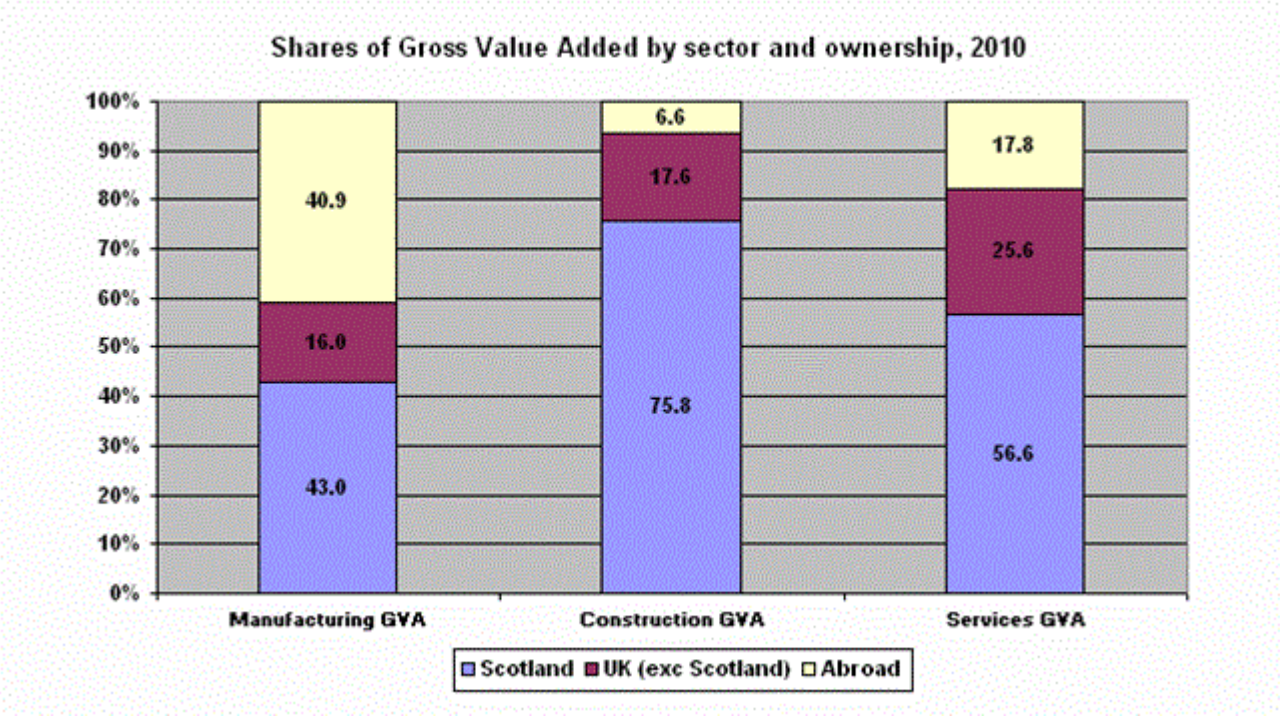
Company Ownership

- In 2010, within services, foreign-owned businesses accounted for 17.8% of GVA and 13.3% of employees, whilst Scottish-owned firms accounted for 56.6% of GVA and 63.3% of employees.
- In 2010, within manufacturing, foreign-owned businesses accounted for 40.9% of GVA and 30.5% of employees, whilst Scottish-owned firms accounted for 43.0% of GVA and 57.8% of employees.
- In 2010, like in previous years, both services and manufacturing GVA per employee was significantly higher for foreign-owned businesses than for Scottish-owned firms. Foreign-owned businesses tend to be larger than Scottish-owned firms, and this difference in scale of business may account for some of the difference in labour productivity performance.



Local Authority Areas

- In 2010, within the services sector, the highest contributing local authority areas to GVA were City of Edinburgh (29.0%), Glasgow City (13.3%), Aberdeen City (10.0%) and Stirling (9.7%).

- In 2010, the local authority areas contributing most to total GVA within manufacturing were Falkirk (11.8%), Glasgow City (9.6%), Fife (8.1%) and Renfrewshire (7.1%).
- In 2010, the local authority areas contributing most to total GVA within construction were Glasgow City (14.9%), North Lanarkshire (9.3%), City of Edinburgh (9.3%) and Aberdeenshire (7.8%).

Growth Sectors

The Government Economic Strategy (GES) 2011 sets out the Scottish Government's approach to establishing the foundations for long-term economic prosperity with a focus on Growth Companies, Growth Markets, and Growth Sectors. The six private sector dominated Growth Sectors are defined as:

- Energy (including renewables)
- Sustainable Tourism
- Creative Industries (including digital)
- Life Sciences
- Financial & Business Services
- Food & Drink (including agriculture & fisheries)

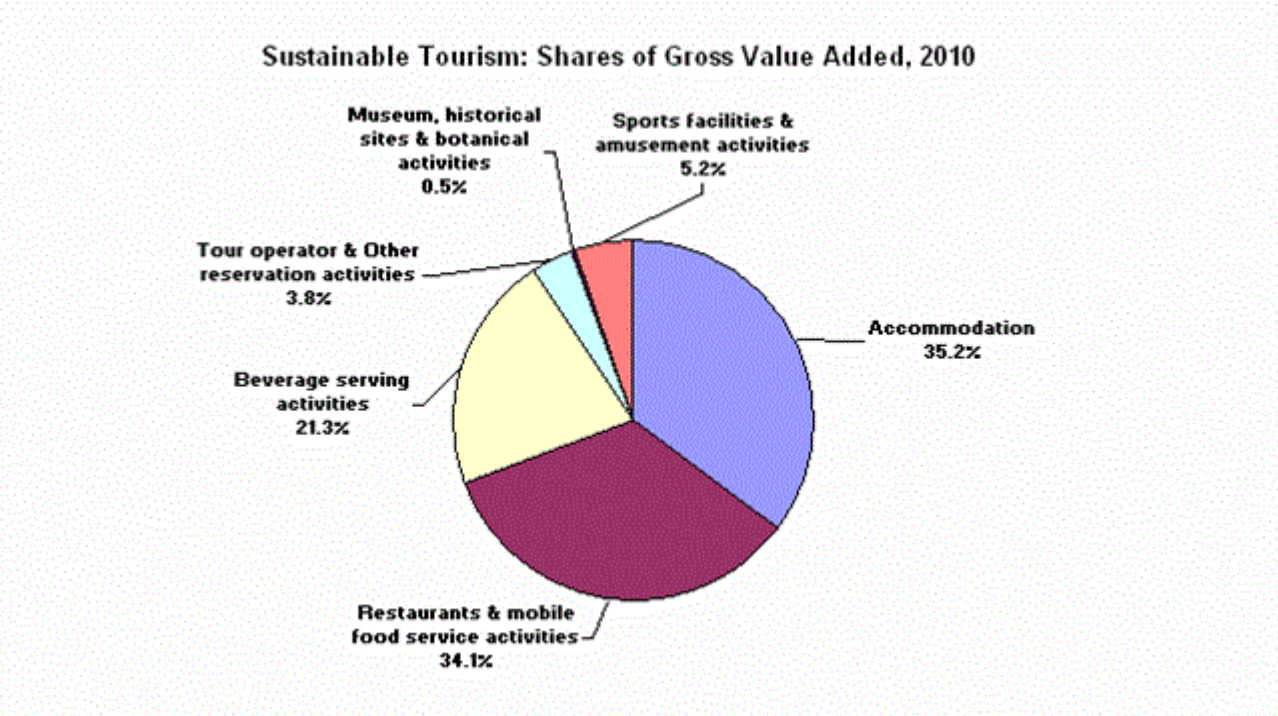
SABS 2010 includes the first release of GVA and Turnover data for the Growth Sectors as defined using Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) 2007 codes.

Energy

- In 2010, GVA in the energy sector in Scotland amounted to £24.6 billion – this represents an increase of 9.5% on 2009, but GVA in the energy sector has not returned to the level generated in 2008 (£28.7 billion). These fluctuations in the energy sector GVA can be largely attributed to changes in oil prices.
- Given that GVA in the energy sector is heavily influenced by fluctuating oil prices, it is helpful to consider changes in the energy sector employment series. Employee jobs in the energy sector increased from 62,000 in 2009 to 64,900 in 2010, representing an annual increase of 4.7% - this follows an increase between 2008 and 2009 of 8.0%.
- It is important to note that the SABS energy sector results include off-shore oil and gas activity; GVA associated with off-shore activity, under UK regional accounts procedures, is normally allocated to a separate 'Extra Regio' category rather than allocated to a region within the UK.

Sustainable Tourism (tourism-related industries)

- In 2010, turnover in the tourism-related industries sector in Scotland amounted to £6.2 billion and GVA amounted to £2.9 billion. Despite the number of employee jobs within the sector dropping by 5.2% between 2009 and 2010, turnover was up 3.6% and GVA was up 4.2% over the same period. And the levels of turnover and GVA in the tourism-related industries sector in 2010 were above the pre-recession levels experienced in 2008.
- In 2010, within the tourism-related industries sector, the highest contributing local authority areas to GVA were City of Edinburgh (16.2%), Glasgow City (10.1%) and Aberdeen City (9.7%). Please see related Sustainable Tourism by Local Authority Area Map.
- The tourism-related industries play a particularly important part in the economies of the more rural local authority areas – for example 10.1% of Argyll & Bute's business economy GVA in 2010 was generated by tourism-related industries, this compares to 3.0% for Scotland as a whole in 2010.
- The chart below provides a break-down of Sustainable Tourism GVA by broad sector in 2010.



Creative Industries

- In 2010, GVA in the creative industries sector in Scotland amounted to £2.7 billion (down 2.8% on 2009) – this follows a 9.3% fall in GVA in the previous year.

- The decreases in GVA are largely attributable to a declining GVA trend in Advertising, Architecture and Software/Electronic Publishing.
- Software/Electronic Publishing is the largest sector group within the creative industries sector, at £995 million it represented 37.2% of total creative industries GVA in 2010.

Life Sciences

- In 2010, GVA in the life sciences sector in Scotland amounted to £751 million, up 5.7% on 2009 – this follows a 22.6% fall in GVA in the previous year. And therefore the life sciences sector GVA has not returned to pre-recession levels – in 2008 GVA in the life sciences sector in Scotland amounted to £918 million.
- The life sciences sector GVA increase experienced between 2009 and 2010 is largely attributable to a rise in GVA within the pharmaceutical industry. In 2010, GVA in the pharmaceutical sector in Scotland amounted to £296 million, up 40.3% on 2009 and exceeding the 2008 level of £214 million.
- However, GVA in the "research and experimental development on natural sciences/engineering" sector continued to decline between 2009 and 2010. In 2010, GVA in the "research and experimental development on natural sciences/engineering" sector in Scotland amounted to £323 million, down 13.7% on 2009 and following a 27.0% annual decline in the previous year.

Financial and Business Services (partial)

- Totals for Financial and Business Services growth sector relate only to those sectors covered in the ABS – and so 'SIC 64: Financial service activities', 'SIC 65.3: Pension funding' and 'SIC 66: Activities auxiliary to financial services and insurance activities' are not included. The SABS results therefore really only cover the insurance and the business sector components of the growth sector.
- In 2010, GVA in the insurance and businesses sector in Scotland amounted to £21.8 billion, a 16.5% increase on 2009 – and GVA in 2010 exceeded the 2008 level of £17.9 billion. The overall increasing GVA trend is largely attributable to strong GVA performance in the insurance sector where in 2010 GVA amounted to £15.6 billion, up 19.7% on 2009 and following a 10.2% rise in the previous year.
- However, employment associated with the insurance and businesses sector in Scotland has not recovered to 2008 levels – this is largely on account of employment declines in the following sub-sectors:

  Management consultancy activities
  General engineering activities
  Market research and opinion polling
  Activities of employment placement agencies
  Other business support service activities

Food and Drink (partial)

- Totals for the Food and Drink growth sector relate only to those sectors covered in the ABS – and therefore agriculture is not included. Food and Drink, as presented in the SABS results, relates only to:

  SIC 3: Fishing and Aquaculture
  SIC 10: Manufacture of Food Products
  SIC 11: Manufacture of Beverages

- In 2010, turnover in the food and drink manufacturing industries (SIC 10 and SIC 11) in Scotland amounted to £9.2 billion – a 2.1% increase on 2009. However, GVA in the industry fell by 7.1% from £3.9 billion in 2009 to £3.6 billion in 2010. The fall in GVA over the latest year is partly as a result of the costs of good and services used in production of food and drink increasing at a faster rate (up 4.5%) than turnover (up 2.1%).
- In 2010, within food and drink manufacturing industries, the highest contributing local authority area to GVA was Moray (15.2%).
- In 2010, GVA in the fishing and aquaculture sector (SIC 3) in Scotland amounted to £297 million, up 45.8% on 2009 – GVA in 2010 exceeded the 2008 level of £237 million.

Methodology & Notes

Background

Scottish Annual Business Statistics (SABS) is based on data from the Annual Business Survey (ABS) (formerly Annual Business Inquiry (ABI)) conducted by the Office for National Statistics (ONS).

The statistics have been produced under partnership procedures agreed between ONS and the Scottish Government (SG). These have resulted in an improvement in the quality of the underlying data and consistency in the figures used by ONS and SG.

The ABS is the UK's key resource for understanding the detailed structure and performance of businesses across the UK, classified to the UK Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system. Estimates[1], by industry (using SIC codes), are published for:

Estimates included in the SABS results:
Local unit counts	Increase in Stocks
Employee Jobs	Gross Wages and Salaries
Employment	Total Labour Costs
Turnover	Total Output
Purchases of good and services	GVA per Employee
Approximate Gross Value Added (GVA) at basic prices	Gross Wages and Salaries per Employee
Taxes	Total Labour Costs per Employee

Within SABS, estimates by industry sector are published for Scotland, Scottish local authority areas and business ownership groups. These estimates are presented as monetary values, and give a snapshot of business activity that can be used to understand the level of contributions to the Scottish economy from different industry sectors, local authority areas and ownership groups.

[1] Definitions for the employment and financial estimates are available at: http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Business/SABS/Definitions

Coverage

The ABS is an annual survey of registered[2] businesses covering the production, construction, distribution and service industries which represent the UK Business Economy. This is about two thirds of the UK's whole economy in terms of Gross Value Added. The statistics do not cover the whole economy, omitting much of the public sector, parts of finance and agriculture.

Exclusions

The following sub-classes of SIC 1 (Crop and animal production, hunting and related service activities) are omitted:

01.1 – Growing of non-perennial crops
01.2 – Growing of perennial crops
01.3 – Plant propagation
01.4 – Animal production
0.15 – Mixed farming

Within SABS, the services sector is defined as division codes 45 to 96 of SIC 2007 (SIC07). Although the publication refers to the services sector for simplicity, it should be noted that the figures quoted do not relate to the entire services sector, but only to those sectors covered by the ABS. The main industries excluded from the services sector are:

- Financial intermediation (SIC 64 (Financial service activities, except insurance and pension funding), SIC 65.3 (Pension Funding), SIC 66 (Activities auxiliary to financial services and insurance activities) in Section K);
- Public Administration and defence (Section O);
- Education (public provision in Section P); and
- Health (SIC 86.2, public provision in SIC 86.1 and 86.9 in Section Q).

Oil & Gas

ABS data relating to Oil & Gas extraction (SIC 6) is allocated to UK regions (including Scotland) according to the address at which the business is registered - onshore and offshore Oil & Gas extraction and activities are allocated in this way. GVA associated with off-shore activity, under UK regional accounts procedures, is normally allocated to a separate 'Extra Regio' category rather than allocated to a region within the UK.

Use

The Annual Business Survey (ABS) is a valuable source dataset which is used alongside a number of other important datasets in the production of macro-economic statistics for Scotland and the UK as a whole. It is important to note that overall growth rates associated with the ABS are not comparable to the official growth rates for the whole economy given that significant sectors of the economy are not included in the ABS and the results have not been balanced with other datasets. The SABS statistics are therefore best suited to analyses of individual industries rather than the economy as a whole.

The SABS data allows analysis of business structure, ownership and location within detailed sectors of the Scottish business economy. SABS figures are used extensively, by the Scottish Government, to inform sectoral policy (including the growth sectors) and regional/local economic development. A consultation on the use made of SABS, carried out in the Spring of 2011, showed that other users of SABS include local authorities, the enterprise networks, academics and consultants. For more details on the consultation, please consider the following document: http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Business/scotstat/SABSFindingsReport.

The SABS results can be used to answer questions such as:

- how much value has been created in a particular industry, and how many people are employed by it?
- has there been a shift in activity from one industrial sector to another, and which sub-industries are driving the change?
- are any industries particularly dominant in specific local authority areas?
- how productive is a particular industry and what is it that is having an impact on productivity?

Major Time Series Analysis Caveats

Further Education (FE) Colleges were reclassified as Central Government entities on 13 October 2010, transferring FE Colleges from the private/business sector to the public sector. This change brings FE Colleges out with scope of ABS survey from 2010 onwards, which represents a step change in the 2010 results for SIC 85 compared to data for earlier years.

2009

The data, from 2008 onwards, are published on a Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) 2007 basis – data pre-2008 were published on a SIC 2003 basis. Updates to the SIC are required to enable it to more accurately reflect the structure of the modern economy - SIC 2003 was replaced by SIC 2007 in January 2008. The revision was motivated by the need to adapt the classification to changes in the world economy. The revised classification reflects the growing importance of service activities in economies over the last fifteen years, mainly due to the developments in information and communications technologies.

More information on SIC (2007) is available at: http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Business/Corporate/sic2007note#top and http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/guide-method/classifications/current-standard-classifications/standard-industrial-classification/index.html

The employee/employment data published in SABS, from 2008 onwards, are based on Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES) – previous years SABS employee data were based on the employment part of the Annual Business Inquiry (ABI/1). The BRES replaced and integrated the Business Register Survey (BRS) and the ABI/1 in 2009 (note that there was a pilot of BRES in 2008 which allowed 2008 BRES estimates to be produced). For businesses that are surveyed by BRES, the regional and local estimates of employment are more accurate (than those from the ABI/1) because, rather than producing data by a headquarter-based apportionment model, they are obtained directly from data reported at site level (shop, office, factory, etc). More information on BRES is available on the ONS website at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/publications/all-releases.html?definition=tcm:77-230512

Although the 2008 and 2009 ABS followed a similar sample selection criteria (see Sample Design section below) and were both sampled on a SIC 2007 basis. It is important to note that 2009 marked the full introduction of the BRES, this and the change to SIC 2007 may lead to some discontinuity with businesses moving from one SIC to another between years. It is not unusual for some businesses to change SIC code over time, but there are some particular movements between 2008 and 2009 that users should be aware of e.g. a large number of landscape business sites have moved from SIC 01 (Crop and animal production, hunting and related service activities) to SIC 81 (Services to Building and Landscape Activities) between 2008 and 2009 – this is a result of the change from SIC03 (where landscape businesses were included with the agricultural sectors) to SIC07 (where landscape businesses fall under the services sector).

Insurance and Reinsurance (SIC 65.1 and 65.2) data is published for 2008 and 2009 – this is the first time that these data have been included in SABS. Please note that SIC 65.3 (Pension funding) is still omitted from the SABS results.

ONS improved the sample design for the 2008 survey which means that the latest results for 2008 cannot be compared with historical trends. Although this temporary loss of comparability over time is a downside - it means that the results for 2008 are more accurate, and comparisons can still be made between sectors across the UK. More details are provided below on the change in sample design due to SIC 2007 and the complete re-allocation of the sample in 2008.
Notwithstanding, the change in sampling, the high energy prices in 2008 have had a significant impact on the "Remaining Sectors" results for Scotland in 2008.

For 1998-2005 data, Scottish Government analysts merged ABI/1 (employment survey) and ABI/2 (financial survey) results in order to produce consistent "per employee" totals (e.g. GVA per employee). During this process, employee data was retained only if a company was part of smaller financial survey. However, for 2006-07, there has been a change in the sampling arrangements for the two parts of the ABI. In previous years, ABI/2 was a sub-sample of ABI/1 but they are now sampled separately in different months. This leads to non-matching between the two sets of results - this affects around 3-4% of total ABI/2 units. For these units, employee totals have been set to their values from the Inter-Departmental Business Register (IDBR).
Further, for 2006-07, ABI/1 survey reference date has been moved from December to September each year. This step change should be taken into consideration when analysing time series data.

From 2001 coverage of Section A was further extended to include Groups 01.4 (Agricultural and animal husbandry service activities, except veterinary activities; landscape gardening) and 01.5 (Hunting, trapping and game propagation including related service activities). Within Groups 01.4 and 01.5 employee data is volatile between years due to small sample size - time series should therefore be treated with caution.

2000

From 2000 ABI coverage was extended to include Division 02 of Section A (Forestry, Logging and Related Service Activities) and Division 05 in Section B (Fishing).

1999

From 1999 improvements to the questionnaires for Sections M (Education - excludes some public sector) and N (Health and social work - excludes some public sector), have led to a movement of data from 'total turnover' to 'value of grants/donations received'. This has caused the approximate Gross Value Added at basic prices to fall between 1998 and 1999. Data from 1999 onwards has been collected and processed on a consistent basis.

Rounding of Figures

Where necessary, figures have been rounded to the nearest final digit shown. Consequently, there may be slight discrepancies within a table between totals and the sums of constituent items.

Symbols and Abbreviations

The following symbols and abbreviations are used within the ABS data:

.. not available

- nil

* Information suppressed to avoid disclosure

Inter Departmental Business Register

The sampling frame used for the ABS is the Inter Departmental Business Register (IDBR), which consists of companies, partnerships, sole proprietorships, public authorities, central government departments, local authorities and non-profit making bodies. The main administrative source for updating the IDBR is the HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) for VAT and PAYE details.

Each legal unit is classified to a single activity, whether it is wholly or mainly engaged in that activity. The nature of a business can change with time, possibly because another business has been absorbed in a take-over. Some businesses have a very significant secondary activity, perhaps completely different from their main activity, and a small change of direction can lead to a new main activity and to the reclassification of the business. Other changes may arise from improvements to classification data held on the IDBR as a result of new information received about individual businesses. The reclassification of businesses for reasons such as these contributes to the year on year changes in the figures published.

Further information on the IDBR can be found at http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/about-ons/who-we-are/services/idbr/index.html

Sample Design

The ABS sample is designed as a stratified random sample of around 70,000 businesses from the IDBR. The inquiry population or universe is stratified by Standard Industrial Classification, employment, and country using the information from the IDBR. The sampling scheme is designed to give best estimates of the population totals for a given sample size and involves selecting all the largest businesses with a progressively reducing fraction of smaller businesses. This method ensures the sample size is kept to a minimum.

The inquiry results are grossed up to the register population, so that they relate to all active UK businesses on the IDBR for the sectors covered.

Scottish sample

Since 1998, the Scottish Government has funded an enhanced ABS sample in Scotland, to improve the quality of Scottish figures. In 2010, around 2,600 extra firms in Scotland were sampled as a result of this "boost", giving a total sample size in Scotland of around 8,100 firms.

Changes to the sample

From 2008 onwards, the sampling stratification and resultant estimation has been carried out on a SIC 2007 basis.

Please note that, for the 2008 sample, ONS undertook a complete sample re-allocation (using the Neyman methodology) to ensure that sufficient account of the variability within the micro businesses was reflected in the sample.

Due to the complexity of the ABS sample structure ONS had erred away from regularly re-allocating the sample. Hence, for a number of years ONS were left in the position of having the basis of the original sample produced in 1998 but with a number of manual tweaks. The earlier sample design did not adequately take account of the greater variability of smaller businesses, which should have led to a larger proportion of smaller businesses than was actually selected over that period. Consequently, the share of smaller businesses in 2007 and earlier was smaller than it should have been.

The Sampling Framework table shows that, since 2008, there has been a significant increase in businesses sampled in 0-9 employment size. In 2007, businesses in the 0-9 employment size band made up 43% of the Scottish ABS sample, this share was increased to 58% in 2008 and 2009, and 59% in 2010.

The change in the sample design, due to the SIC 2007 and the sample re-allocation, from 2008 onwards means that the results for 2008 onwards are not strictly comparable with earlier years data.

Response

Details of UK-wide ABS response rates are made available by ONS at:

Confidentiality

The Statistics of Trade Act 1947 prohibits the disclosure of any information relating to an individual undertaking without the consent of the person carrying on that undertaking. Rigorous checks have been made to ensure that information relating to individual businesses has not been disclosed, either directly or by deduction, in any of the figures released. Similar precautions will be taken in safeguarding the confidentiality of returns in the preparation of any ad-hoc analyses.

Estimation

Estimation

Factors are produced to enable estimates for all businesses classified to each SIC(2007) to be compiled from data provided by responding businesses. These factors are calculated for each employment size-band within each SIC(2007) and are equivalent to the ratio of responding businesses to the total number of businesses. Northern Ireland and Scotland are sampled and estimated for separately, England and Wales are sampled separately but are combined for the estimation procedure.

Returns for the few large non-responders are estimated for individually. This estimation is normally based on summary data received from the business, or on the business's return to the survey in the previous year adjusted to take account of the likely change in the value of trading over the period.

Regional Estimation

The business unit to which ABS questionnaires are sent is called the reporting unit. For ABS, the reporting unit represents an enterprise, which may consist of one or more sub-units (called local units). For example, an enterprise might be the head office for a group of shops. An enterprise may therefore have local units at different locations, and may carry out more than one type of economic activity.

To produce the regional estimates, the reporting unit data returned by each business are divided amongst its local units. Each local unit's allocation depends on the size of its employment, the industry it is in and its geographical location. This is achieved using a standard statistical modelling technique called regression analysis.

Local unit employment is obtained from the Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES), which collects data from local units, rather than enterprises. Results are then aggregated for each region /country and industry, using the industry classification of the local units. Each local unit is assigned a single SIC code, which corresponds to the unit's principal activity. Where more than one type of economic activity is carried out by a local unit or enterprise, its principal activity is the activity which contributes most to the value of the unit. Hence, although the sum of the regional results for the whole business economy will match the total for the national results, the sum of the regional results by industry will not necessarily match the UK industry totals, as local units might not all share the same industry classification as their parent units.

Changes to the regional weighting methodology were introduced to ABS for the revision to the 2009 regional results and the provisional 2010 regional results. Analysis of the impact of the new weighting method shows that the resulting differences in the figures are generally small, particularly at high levels of aggregation. Further information on the methodology of the approach and analysis of the impact can be found in the ONS published note, 'Weighting in the Regional System - September 2011', available at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/guide-method/method-quality/specific/business-and-energy/annual-business-survey/quality-and-methods/index.html

Note that, as BRES is not carried out at the same time as ABS, differences in the timing of responses from ABS and BRES can lead to some reduction in the quality of the apportionment method.

For more information on the methodology used to compile regional ABS statistics, please consider the ONS background and technical documents available on-line at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/guide-method/method-quality/specific/business-and-energy/annual-business-survey/quality-and-methods/index.html

Total Employees/Employment and Per Employee/PerHead variables

For 2008 data onwards, Scottish Government analysts have merged BRES (employment survey) and ABS (financial survey) results in order to produce consistent "per employee" totals (e.g. GVA per employee). However, the BRES and ABS are sampled at different times of the year so where a BRES employee/employment estimate cannot be found for a business within the ABS, employee/employment totals are set to their values from the Inter-Departmental Business Register (IDBR).

The Total Employees/Employment variables included in SABS are based on a head count and not a Full Time Equivalent (FTE) measure. This distinction is particularly important for sectors with high levels of part time employment (e.g. Retail and Accommodation & Food Service activities) especially when comparing Per Employee figures[3].

Please note that SABS 2010 leads with providing "per employee" figures for the productivity measures. However, from next year's publication (SABS 2011) onwards SABS will lead with "per employment" figures. This future development is being planned as a result of a change, in the treatment of working owners, in the underlying BRES data from the 2011 results onwards. The BRES form for 2011 onwards has been changed so that BRES is consistent with the IDBR, which treats working owners of a limited company as employees rather than working owners. As a result of this change the BRES results for 2011 will show a step change jump in employees (where workers previously classed as working owners will be now classed as employees) but overall employment (employees and working owners) will remain consistent over time. Therefore to maintain a consistent time series the SABS publication will move to leading with "per employment" measures of productivity from 2011 onwards.

Data Reliability

SABS figures are based on an annual survey of businesses. In the context of overall Scottish figures, year-on-year differences are sometimes less obvious as they can be compensated for by other changes. However, at a more disaggregate level, such as sectoral or local authority area, changes in a small number of large companies can have a have a very marked effect on figures from one year to the next.

Furthermore, estimates derived from samples invariably produce results which differ from those that would have been obtained from a complete census of all businesses. If a number of different samples were selected then each would produce a different result. Sampling errors measure the extent to which these estimates can be expected to differ from the 'true' value. The standard error is the estimated value of the sampling error – the closer the standard error to zero, the more reliable the estimate. UK level standard errors for the main variables are made available by ONS at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/rel/abs/annual-business-survey/2010-revised-results/abs-2010r---abs-quality-measures--june-2012-.xls

It is not possible to produce standard errors for the regional or local estimates given the estimation involved. Therefore, to give users an indication of data quality and reliability, the SABS publication includes information on the percentage of selected data (business units, turnover, GVA, labour costs) that is from actual survey returns as opposed to estimated data. For example, if a Local Authority area has an estimate of £X

[3] The ONS publish sub-regional labour productivity figures in terms of GVA per hour worked and GVA per filled job. Both sets of figures are published at a NUTS 2 and NUTS 3 sub-regional geographies. Data up to 2009 are available at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/publications/all-releases.html?definition=tcm%3A77-233093. However, note that results are not available broken down by industry group.

Turnover in the Manufacturing sector, from the associated quality measure table, users will be able to see that Y% of the Turnover figure is produced from actual returns and by deduction Z% from estimated data. Data quality measures for SABS can be found at:

http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Business/SABS/QualityMeasures

The actual survey returns proportions also include constructed returns; this is where returns for the few large non-responders are estimated for individually. This estimation is normally based on summary data received from the business, or on the business's return to the inquiry in the previous year adjusted to take account of the likely change in the value of trading over the period.

Note that SABS data quality measures have not been provided for the employment or employee variables. The employment and employee estimates are largely based on Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES) data, and sampling errors for BRES estimates are provided at a regional and local level, by ONS, at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/publications/all-releases.html?definition=tcm:77-230512

In addition to sampling errors there is the potential for non-statistical errors which cannot be easily quantified. Examples where these errors may occur are deficiencies in the sampling frame (IDBR) and errors made by respondents in completing the inquiry forms.

For more information on ABS data reliability, please consider the ONS background and technical documents available on-line at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/guide-method/method-quality/specific/business-and-energy/annual-business-survey/quality-and-methods/index.html

Revisions

Revisions Policy

In general, SABS follows the Revisions Policy for the ONS ABS results i.e. the latest results are provisional until the following year when they may be revised as a result of late returns or information received in the course of the following year's inquiry. So, for example, within SABS 2010 the latest results for 2010 are provisional and will be made final when they are re-published within SABS 2011 - at which point they may be revised due to late returns. Likewise the results for 2009 within SABS 2010, have been revised since SABS 2009 and are now final.

Although the general rule is to only revise back one year, if revisions have a significant impact on estimates for Scotland, then we may revise back the entire time series. Significant revisions of this sort, and their treatment within SABS, will be highlighted at the time of the release.

Latest Revisions

SABS 2010

Within industry 46.3 (Wholesale of food, beverages and tobacco), there has been a significant revision to the 2009 data. This revision was expected as it was identified in the analysis of SABS 2009 that there was an under-reporting of data within the Scottish results for 2008 and 2009. This under-reporting was a result of business data being inadvertently excluded from the Scottish results in both years. This error has now been corrected in the 2009 results contained in SABS 2010 – but the 2008 data remain erroneous given the overarching ABS revisions policy of revising back the previous year only.

Major Historical Revisions

SABS 2009

Within industry 20.14 (Manufacture of other organic basic chemicals), a significant downwards revision has been made to the 2008 data, which has an impact on turnover and GVA for this group. This revision was required as it became apparent that previous data submitted was incorrect as it included turnover generated in other European countries. This error has been corrected for the 2008 data onwards.

Within industry 46.3 (Wholesale of food, beverages and tobacco), there is a significant under-reporting of data within the Scottish results for 2008 and 2009. This under-reporting is a result some business data being inadvertently excluded from the Scottish results in both years. This data is included in the overall UK results but not the Scottish results. This error in the Scottish results cannot be amended until the 2010 data and revised 2009 data are published in summer 2012

Within industry 92.20 (Radio and television activities) a significant revision has been made to 2006 Turnover and GVA. The revision is identified due to changes in the nature of the reporting within the Industry for 2006 onwards. Note that the entire time series for Creative Industries was redefined in from SABS 2007 onwards to incorporate this change.

SABS 2006

Within industry 23.20 (Manufacture of refined petroleum products) and 24.14 (Manufacture of other basic organic chemicals) there have been significant revisions to Turnover, Purchases and GVA for both 2005 and 2006. This is due to a large reclassification of a business from Class 23.20 to Class 24.14 that came to light during the processing of the 2006 ABI inquiry. Further, for both 2005 and 2006, there has been an additional upward revision to Class 24.14 to correct underestimation.
Within industry 92.20 (Radio and television activities) a significant revision has been made to 2005 Turnover and GVA data after some overestimation was identified. The overestimation has also been identified for earlier years but in conjunction with current Annual Business Inquiry (ABI) revision policy there will be no revision to published data for years prior to 2005. However, note that the entire time series for Creative Industries was revised back to adjust for this over estimation.

Comparable ABS Data for the Rest of the UK

Statistics for the UK, English Government Office Regions, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland are available at:

http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/rel/abs/annual-business-survey/index.html

Other Sources of Economic and Business Statistics

Gross Value Added (GVA)
The SABS results include approximate GVA at 'basic prices'. Gross Value Added (GVA) at basic prices is the output at basic prices minus intermediate consumption at purchaser prices.

There are differences between the ABS approximate measure of Gross Value Added and the GVA measures published in UK and Scottish National Accounts data. It is important to emphasise that ABS GVA does not cover the whole economy and that it does not include all the National Accounting adjustments that reconcile the ABS data with other data sources (especially taxes and subsidies, margins and the 'mixed income' economies).

The quarterly GDP index is the Scottish Government's preferred source for measuring real (inflation-adjusted) GVA change over time – for the Scottish economy as a whole and for broad sectors of the Scottish economy: http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Economy/PubGDP

The Scottish National Account Project published data series, which incorporates the National Accounting adjustments, is the Scottish Government's preferred source for current price (non-inflation-adjusted) GVA change over time - for the Scottish economy as a whole and for broad sectors of the Scottish economy: http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Economy/SNAP

Note that nominal (non-inflation-adjusted) regional GVA estimates are also published by ONS Regional Accounts: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/taxonomy/index.html?nscl=Regional+Accounts

Detailed information of the differences between ABS approximate GVA at 'basic prices' and National Accounts/Regional Accounts GVA will be available in the ABS Technical Report to be published at the end of August 2012 at:
http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/guide-method/method-quality/specific/business-and-energy/annual-business-survey/quality-and-methods/index.html

Business Register and Employment Survey
Employee jobs/employment data, largely sourced from the Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES), are provided in the SABS results. These employment estimates are provided in SABS to enable consistent productivity measures to be calculated. The employee jobs/employment estimates in SABS will tend to be lower than those published in BRES since BRES has wider industrial coverage than the ABS. There will also be differences between the employment estimates in BRES and the employment estimates as published in the ABS as a result of differences in the samples selected for each survey.

If employee jobs/employment data by industry only is required (and so not to construct labour productivity measures), then the BRES is the preferred source for Scotland and local areas within Scotland. The latest BRES data to 2010 was published in September 2011, and is available at: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/publications/re-reference-tables.html?edition=tcm%3A77-230519

Scottish Corporate Sector Statistics

The Scottish Corporate Sector Statistics (SCSS) is another annual business statistics publication, released by the Scottish Government – the source of the SCSS is the IDBR. The main purpose of the SCSS is to provide information about the number of enterprises operating in Scotland. Like SABS, the SCSS provides estimates of employment and turnover by industry, local authority area and ownership. However, the employment and turnover estimates are provided in the SCSS as auxiliary variables that enable users to determine what proportion of employment/turnover generated in the economy can be attributed to businesses of different size. Employment and turnover, as published via the SCSS, do not relate to a single point in time and can be out of date for some small firms. For this reason, it is not advisable to compare employment and turnover SCSS estimates over time. More information on the key differences between Scottish Annual Business Statistics and Scottish Corporate Sector Statistics is available at:

http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/Business/SourcesandSuitability/KeyDifferences

ONS Interactive Guide

ONS has published an interactive guide to help statistics users to find statistics on UK businesses published by the Office for National Statistics (so this excludes SABS & SCSS). By selecting your topics of interest, the tool will pinpoint publications that should be of interest to you, and provide you with links to more detailed information and the relevant statistical releases. The interactive guide is available at:

http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/guide-method/understanding-ons-statistics/business-statistics---interactive-user-guide/index.html

Regional Capital Expenditure

It has been established that the estimation of regional capital expenditure is unreliable, and therefore Net Capital Expenditure figures are not now available on Scottish Annual Business Statistics website.

Office for National Statistics (ONS) has provided the following information:

Regional Capital Expenditure

Figures on regional capital expenditure are no longer made available on the ABS website pages. Accurate estimation of regional capital expenditure is dependent on there being a strong correlation between the variable on which any estimation is based, in this case local employment, and the variable for which we are attempting to produce estimates, here regional capital expenditure. It has been established that the relationship between regional employment and regional capital expenditure is, in fact, unreliable.

It will still be possible to obtain regional capital expenditure figures by requesting either standard extracts, for which there is no charge, or special analyses, for which a charge will be made. ONS does not recommend the use of these regional capital expenditure figures but recognises that some users will, nevertheless, wish to have them.

For more information about either of these services, please either email abs@ons.gov.uk or telephone +44 (0)1633 456592

Further information on the regional methodology is contained in an article published in the November 2000 edition of Economic Trends: http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/rel/elmr/economic-trends--discontinued-/no--564--november-2000/the-development-of-the-annual-business-inquiry.pdf. Refinements to the methodology have taken place since this article was written; methodological information given on these pages supersedes the Economic Trends article.

If you require Scottish Capital Expenditure figures only, you can alternatively contact the Scottish Government.

Code of Practice for Official Statistics

This is a National Statistics publication. It has been produced to the high professional standards set out in the Code of Practice for Official Statistics[4] and the Pre-release Access to Official Statistics (Scotland) Order 2008[5].

Statistics assessed, or subject to assessment, by the UK Statistics Authority (UKSA) carry the National Statistics label, a stamp of assurance that the statistics have been produced and explained to high standards and that they serve the public good.

In 2012, the Scottish Annual Business Statistics publication was assessed by the UKSA for compliance against the Code of Practice for Official Statistics. Details of the assessment are available at: Statistics on Scottish Businesses and Research and Development (Scottish Government)

[5] Pre-release Access to Official Statistics (Scotland) Order 2008: http://www.opsi.gov.uk/legislation/scotland/ssi2008/pdf/ssi_20080399_en.pdf

A UKSA assessment has also recently been carried out for the ONS ABS statistical publications. Details of the assessment are available at: Statistics from the Annual Business Survey (Office for National Statistics)

Future Developments

Future developments regarding the quality of the ABS data and up-coming SABS data releases are as follows:

- An ONS project is underway to improve the ABS regional apportionment estimation. Currently ABS UK financial data is apportioned to the UK regions using Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES) local unit employment data, however local unit turnover data is now collected via BRES and could be used to improve the apportionment methodology. Further information on the methodology of the proposed approach and analysis of the potential impact can be found in the latest ONS published note, 'Apportionment of Financial Variables Using BRES Local Unit Turnover Data - April 2012', available at:

http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/guide-method/method-quality/specific/business-and-energy/annual-business-survey/quality-and-methods/index.html

- One of the key actions following the UKSA assessments, of the SABS and the ONS ABS publications, is to improve the timeliness of the ABS publications. SABS data are currently published 20 months after the reference period covered by the data. The Scottish Government will be working with the ONS to consider changes to the publication process to reduce this time lag for future SABS releases.

- During 2012/13, the Scottish Government will be working with ONS to explore what could be done to improve the methodology used to estimate regional net capital expenditure. The historical methodology for estimating regional net capital expenditure is known to be unreliable, leading to its continued exclusion from the ABS publications.

- During 2012/13, the Scottish Government will also be working with ONS to look at whether the constituent purchases breakdown variables (e.g. Purchases of water) could be estimated for Scotland in such a way that they sum at Regional level to overall Total Purchases figure – currently the constituent parts of purchases do not sum to the total. We are looking to rectify this anomaly so that more detailed ABS data can be made available for Scotland on a consistent basis

- The SABS Industry profiles on Manufacturing, Spirits, Chemicals, Shipbuilding, Aerospace, Construction and Retail sectors will be published during September.

- The SABS long time series data for the Manufacturing sector in Scotland, to 2010, will be published in Autumn/Winter 2012.

Information on Maps

Please find below Maps at Local Authority area level for the Manufacturing, Retail and Sustainable Tourism sectors.

The first Map, "Gross Value Added per Employee in Manufacturing" shows the variability of labour productivity across the Local Authority areas in Scotland. The Map shows that Falkirk, West Dunbartonshire, Moray and Renfrewshire Local Authority areas had the highest GVA per employee in 2010 - this will be driven by the types of manufacturing industries concentrated in these areas.

The other Maps on "Shares of Gross Value Added" are calculated by dividing each Local Authority areas' GVA (in Manufacturing, Retail or Sustainable Tourism) by Scotland's total GVA for that sector to create a percentage, which is then represented as a banding within the Maps.

Forms

The inquiry forms were addressed to the individual legal unit, i.e. the individual company, partnership, sole proprietorship, etc.

The forms, listed here, are designed to ensure the burden on the individual contributor has been kept as low as possible. A number of different form-types are used in the survey:

- Long form-types were sent to all businesses with an employment of 250 or more and also to a proportion of selected businesses with lower employment. Please find here an example of a Standard Long form.
- Short form-types were sent to the remaining selected businesses.

The forms differ in that long form-types ask for a detailed breakdown of purchases; employment costs; taxes, duties and levies, whereas short form-types just ask for the totals of these variables.

NOTES TO HELP YOU COMPLETE THE QUESTIONNAIRE

Please read these notes before completing this questionnaire

This questionnaire will be scanned, therefore:

- please complete in black ink
- ensure letters and numbers are printed and centred within each box
- do not use commas , or dashes -
- do not cross sevens 7 or zeros Ø
- round your answer to the nearest £ or € thousand for example £1,702,700 = £ 1 7 0 3 ,0 0 0

1. WHAT YOUR ANNUAL BUSINESS SURVEY QUESTIONNAIRE SHOULD COVER

All activities carried out in the United Kingdom (UK) except where the coverage is specified as Great Britain underneath your address on the front page. Any activity outside the UK lasting for more than one year should be excluded from this questionnaire - except all installation activities outside the UK, which should be included regardless of the length of period of the work carried out. Any work done in connection with overseas contracts where employees travel abroad regularly for short periods should be included and any overseas activity which is deemed to be capital expenditure in that country should be excluded.

2. PERIOD COVERED BY THE RETURN

Your return should be made for the year ended 31 December 2010. If no figures are available for that period, the return may be made for your business year. If the business year figures are supplied, they should relate to a 12 month period which ends at any time between 6 April 2010 and 5 April 2011.

If you commenced trading during 2010, then your return should cover the period from the commencement of your business until 31 December 2010 or, alternatively, any date up to 5 April 2011.

If you ceased trading during 2010, then your return should cover the period 1 January 2010 to the date you ceased to trade or, alternatively, from the beginning of your last business year up to the cessation date.

3. INCOME (EXCLUDING VAT)

3.1 TOTAL TURNOVER

Turnover consists of total takings or invoiced sales and receipts of the business in connection with the sale of goods and services. Interest and similar income, "Other Operating Income" and extra-ordinary income should be excluded from the total turnover figure, as should net proceeds on sales of capital items. Give the value of all sales made in the year of this return whether or not the goods were produced in the year. The values given should be the 'net selling' value (i.e. the amount charged to customers whether valued 'ex-works' or 'delivered', less VAT, trade and cash discounts etc. and allowances on returned goods).

Figures should be given gross of indirect taxes, duties and levies (except VAT) invoiced to the customer.

INCLUDE:

- Provision of goods and services to other parts of your company or organisation which are not covered by this return. These should be valued as if sold to an independent customer. If you are unable to supply figures on this basis, please value them at transfer cost;
- Transport, insurance and packaging charges (less amounts for returnable containers) invoiced by your business (even if invoiced separately);
- Progress payments received for Work in Progress on long term contracts which have not been identified as stocks in the balance sheet.

EXCLUDE:

- VAT;
- Output for own final use;
- Income recorded as extra-ordinary income in your accounts;
- The sale of vehicles previously treated as capital assets during the period. Include these in section 6;
- Interest payments received and other similar income;
- Amounts received from the sale of fixed capital assets;
- Amounts received from the sale of patents, trade marks, copyrights etc.;
- Grants from any source. Include these in 3.2 (b);

- Subsidies from UK public authorities and the European Community (EU);
- Value of insurance claims received. Include these in 3.2 (a);
- Income recorded as "Other Operating Income" in your accounts. Include this in 3.2 (b);
- All trade, cash or other discounts and rebates (i.e. record turnover net of these);
- Income derived from the renting of land (if recorded separately within your accounts). Include this in 3.2 (b);
- Sales by other businesses operating on your premises (as well as any commission received on such sales);
- For those in the nuclear fuel industry, exclude any receipts received for fossil fuel premiums;
- Dividends received;
- Amounts arising from donations and fundraising activities;
- The full value of any transfer fees received.

(a) VALUE OF SALES OF GOODS OF OWN PRODUCTION

INCLUDE:

- Sales of goods made by you or for you by others from materials supplied by you;
- Sales of waste products, residues and scrap.

EXCLUDE:

- Output for own final use;
- Transport and delivery charges where possible. Include these in 3.1 (d);
- Export rebates received under the EU's Common Agricultural Policy;
- Income recorded as "Other Operating Income" in your accounts. Include these in 3.2 (b).

(b) VALUE OF WORK DONE ON CUSTOMERS' MATERIALS

INCLUDE:

- Value of any additional materials provided by you.

(c) VALUE OF INDUSTRIAL SERVICES PROVIDED BY YOU

INCLUDE:

- Payments received for entry, exit, system and infrastructure charges;
- Option fees and net amounts receivable under contracts for differences;
- Any repairs, maintenance and installation provided by you to customers;
- Waste management and remediation services.

(d) VALUE OF NON-INDUSTRIAL SERVICES PROVIDED BY YOU

INCLUDE:

- Management fees;
- Income derived from the renting of property. Income derived from the renting of land (if recorded separately within your accounts) should be included in 3.2 (b);
- Services provided to other organisations such as amounts charged for hiring out plant, machinery and other goods, the provision of transport, computer processing, technical research and studies;
- Amounts received for the right to use patents, trade marks, copyrights etc., manufacturing rights, technical know-how and advertising revenue;
- Royalty payments received;
- Use of system charges;
- Transport and delivery charges where possible.

EXCLUDE:

- Sales of patents, trademarks, copyrights etc.

3.2 OTHER INCOME

None of the following inclusions should be reported in 3.1 Total Turnover.

(a) VALUE OF INSURANCE CLAIMS RECEIVED

INCLUDE:

- Claims received from all forms of commercial insurance (e.g. fire, motor vehicle, accident, transit within the UK, loss of profit etc.). Insurance companies should only record claims made on behalf of own business.

EXCLUDE:

- Claims received from sinking fund policies, policies providing pensions, superannuation or other retirement, sickness, personal, accident, disability or death benefits for employees or their dependants;
- Any claims receivable from re-insurance business written.

(b) VALUE OF ANY "OTHER OPERATING INCOME"
INCLUDE:
- Any "Other Operating Income" recorded in your profit and loss and/or income and expenditure accounts;
- Income derived from the renting of land (if recorded separately within your accounts);
- Interest and dividends;
- All trade, cash or other discounts and rebates that are recorded in your profit and loss and/or income and expenditure accounts.

3.3 RETAIL TURNOVER
(Please give examples, in section 10, of the main retail products sold)
Retail turnover is the identifiable amount attributable to sale (including repair and installation) of goods to the general public (and not businesses) for personal or household use.

Where exact figures for wholesale/retail split are not available, informed estimates should be used.
INCLUDE:
- Sales of food, confectionery, drinks, envelopes and other stationery, knitting wool, ornaments, toys and games etc.;
- Repair and installation work on domestic and household appliances only, whether or not in combination with sale of goods;
- Retail sale by commission agents;
- Commission on lottery sales;
- For commission work (i.e. where you do not hold title to goods sold), the commission/fee is to be included but not the full transaction price. Also to be included here are costs incurred and passed on to the customer;
- Service charges for credit provided (but not interest charges);
- Receipts from government for goods and services supplied free (or at a subsidised rate) under the National Health Service and similar public services;
- Income from retail sales over the Internet (where you hold title to the goods sold);
- Over the counter supply of drugs, medicines and general supplies.

EXCLUDE:
- Income (including repair and maintenance) from other businesses;
- Sales, repair and maintenance of motor vehicles, motorcycles, their parts and accessories and of fuel for these;
- Sales of food and drink as a catering activity (including staff canteens, take-away food and bar sales);
- Renting and hiring of goods;
- Income from postal activities and Post Office Ltd;
- Sales of services (e.g. holidays, cinema and other tickets, membership fees etc.);
- Sales by other businesses operating on your premises (as well as any commission received on such sales);
- Turnover from work on the structure of a building (e.g. decorating, plumbing etc.);
- Sales and maintenance of land and buildings;
- Agricultural merchants - sales to farmers;
- Drugs, medicines and general supplies administered by vets during treatment.

(d) OTHER AMOUNTS PAID FOR TAXES, DUTIES AND LEVIES

INCLUDE:

- Excise duties (e.g. on alcohol, tobacco, petrol etc.) when paid directly to government by your business;
- Council tax (rates payable via local authorities in respect of your rented property);
- Stamp duties;
- Export levies (e.g. under the EU's Common Agricultural Policy etc.);
- Import duties paid;
- Any statutory amounts paid e.g. to either the Environment Agency (EA), Office of the Gas and Electricity Markets (OFGEM) or the Water Regulators – Office of Water Services (OFWAT) in England and Wales and the Scottish Water and Sewerage Customers Council (SWSCC) in Scotland, to enable them to fund their mandatory duties;
- Fossil fuel levies;
- Gas levies;
- Taxes on production e.g. hydrocarbon oil duty etc.;
- Consumer and Credit Act fees;
- Franchise payments.

EXCLUDE:

- VAT;
- Corporation Tax;
- Vehicle Excise Duty (road fund licences);
- Operators' licences;
- Capital Gains Tax;
- Petroleum Revenue Tax;
- Income tax and tax on franked investment income;
- Taxes already included in the purchase price of goods and services purchased;
- Net payments to trade associations and similar bodies;
- Inheritance Tax;
- Air Passenger Duty;
- Landfill Tax;
- Insurance Premium Tax;
- Lottery duty.

4.4 SUBSIDIES RECEIVABLE

These are amounts receivable from UK government bodies or the EU to reduce the price of products (goods or services) sold into a market environment.

INCLUDE:

- Import and Export refunds (e.g. under the EU's Common Agricultural Policy etc.). Include these in 4.4 (a);
- Subsidies on payroll or workforce [e.g. through Welfare to Work (New Deal) Programme etc.] which should also be recorded separately in 4.4 (b).

EXCLUDE:

- Grants received from any source i.e. UK government bodies, EU, charitable organisations etc. Grants are defined as one-off payments received with the intention to lessen the burden of capital expenditure i.e. new building work, machinery etc.;
- Receipts from government for goods and services supplied free (or at a subsidised rate) under the National Health Service and similar public services;
  Grants to cover historical losses or for the cancellation of debt.

5. VALUE OF STOCKS HELD

Inventories should be valued on the basis used in your financial statements i.e. on the basis of UK GAAP (Generally Accepted Accounting Principles) or International GAAP. Where long-term contract balances are included in stocks, they should be recorded net of progress payments. Where the outcome of the contract is known with reasonable certainty and a proportion of the contract income has been recognised as turnover, progress payments should be disregarded.

INCLUDE:

- Materials, stores and fuel, Work in Progress and goods on hand for sale (Work in Progress consists of goods and services that have been partially processed, fabricated or assembled by the producer but are not usually sold or turned over to others without further processing);
- Raw materials and components purchased for incorporation into products for sale;
- Consumable stores;
- Semi-processed goods;
- Office supplies;
- Packaging materials;
- Any stocks purchased for resale without further processing (i.e. merchanted or factored goods);
- Show houses completed but not yet sold;
- Finished goods, including buildings;
- Houses taken in part exchange;
- Contracts not yet finalised - commission fees for work carried out;
- Building work carried out by yourselves (including finished properties built by yourselves) with the intention to sell;
- All stocks owned and either held by you or currently in transit within the UK;
- The value of any goods let out on hire, only if they were charged to current account when acquired and do not rank as capital items for taxation purposes;
- Products in intermediate stages of completion that you own (even if not held by you);
- Long term business contract balances (with progress payments treated in line with UK GAAP or International GAAP);
- Duty for dutiable goods held out of bond.

EXCLUDE:

- Stocks you hold that do not belong to you;
- All stocks held abroad or in transit on the seas;
- Duty on stocks held in bond;
- VAT, whether paid on purchases or chargeable on sales;
- Products in intermediate stages of completion that do not belong to you;
- Land.

6. CAPITAL EXPENDITURE (INCLUDING NON-DEDUCTIBLE VAT BUT EXCLUDING DEDUCTIBLE VAT)

The amounts entered should include the purchase costs and disposal proceeds of fixed assets, together with any other amounts treated as capital items for taxation purposes.

Do not deduct any amounts received in grants (including lottery grants) and/or allowances from government sources, statutory bodies or local authorities. Values should include non-deductible VAT but exclude deductible VAT.
Ideally items should be considered as capital expenditure if their value exceeds £500.

INCLUDE:

- Expenditure on new construction work contracted by you, whether directly with the constructors or arranged by property developers. This covers the construction of new buildings and extensions and improvements to existing buildings (including fixtures such as lifts, heating and ventilation systems);
- All work of a capital nature carried out by your own staff. This should cover the provision of any capital asset or item ranked as capital for taxation purposes, including computer software. The relevant employment costs and the cost of purchases consumed in the work should be included in 4.1 and 4.2 respectively;
- Expenditure on replacing assets destroyed in circumstances (e.g. fire) which have given rise to an insurance claim;
- All expenditure on computer software to be used for more than one year. Such software may be purchased on the market or produced for own use;
- The total capital value of any assets that you have bought on hire purchase or acquired (as lessee) under a finance leasing arrangement in the period covered by the return, but not interest and instalment payments;
- Expenditure on assets acquired for hiring, renting and other leasing purposes (but not assets acquired in order to lease to others under finance leasing arrangements);
- All additions, alterations, improvements and renovations which prolong the service life or increase the productive capacity of existing capital goods;
- Capital expenditure at any site belonging to the business where operations have not yet begun;

6. CAPITAL EXPENDITURE (INCLUDING NON-DEDUCTIBLE VAT BUT EXCLUDING DEDUCTIBLE VAT) (Continued)

- Expenditure incurred during the period on additions to capital assets, which is temporarily being carried forward under other headings e.g. Work in Progress on capital assets in the course of construction, deposits or other payments on account of capital assets in process of acquisition;
- Plant spares, jigs, dies, patterns, moulds, loose tools and/or special tools.

EXCLUDE:

- Expenditure on work carried out by sub-contractors that does not relate to capital expenditure;
- Assets acquired in taking over an existing business or sold as part of a going concern;
- All expenditure on dwellings but include land intended for new dwellings;
- Assets like goodwill, patents or licence fees;
- The proceeds from an insurance claim against the loss of fixed assets. Include these in 3.2 (a);
- The capital value of any assets acquired by your business but leased out to others under finance leasing arrangements [see note 6.1 (h)];
- Items of a capital nature acquired for re-sale rather than for use within the business e.g. stocks of vehicles held by motor traders;
- Rentals charged for assets leased by you through operational leasing facilities;
- Assets outside the UK.

6.1 (d) FINISHED WORK OF A CAPITAL NATURE CARRIED OUT BY OWN STAFF PRODUCED FOR# OWN USE

Identify the value charged to capital account for work carried out by your own staff included in 6.1 (g). This should cover the provision of any capitalised asset or item ranked as capital for taxation purposes, including computer software. The relevant employment costs and the cost of purchases consumed in the work should be included in 4.1 and 4.2 respectively.

6.1 (e) TOTAL AMOUNT FOR INVESTMENT IN PURCHASED COMPUTER SOFTWARE

INCLUDE:

- Network ware;
- Large databases;
- Word processing packages;
- Spreadsheet packages;
- Specialist packages.

6.1 (h) TOTAL AMOUNT FOR ASSETS ACQUIRED UNDER FINANCE LEASING ARRANGEMENTS

The full value of assets acquired or leased in under a finance lease or hire purchase agreement should be included but assets leased out on these terms should be excluded. A finance lease is a lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset to the lessee. In this sort of lease, rentals will normally be calculated to allow the lessor to recover the cost of the asset and to make a profit over the period of the lease. This period will normally be equal to the useful life of the asset. Hire purchase arrangements and the provision of operational leasing facilities are NOT regarded as finance leases.

6.3 GROSS INVESTMENTS IN CONCESSIONS, PATENTS, LICENCES, TRADE MARKS AND SIMILAR RIGHTS

INCLUDE:

- Gross investments in concessions;
- Patents;
- Licences;
- Trade marks and similar rights.

7. SERVICES: EXPORTS AND IMPORTS (EXCLUDING GOODS)

This section relates to imported/exported services only. Exclude the value of any goods imported/exported. Any transactions with individuals, enterprises or other organisations domiciled in a country other than the UK are regarded as international transactions. The UK is defined as England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. It does not include the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man. A subsidiary or parent of your company situated in another country is regarded as an international resident and hence transactions in services with these entities should be regarded as international trade in services. The values shown in these boxes should already have been included as part of your figures in Sections 3 and 4.2.

INCLUDE:

- Repair of construction equipment and computers (but not maintenance).
- The hiring out of plant, machinery and other goods (operational leasing);
- Consultancy services (e.g. market research, advertising, accountancy and research and development);
- Royalties and licence fees;
- Telecommunications services;
- Computer services (excluding hardware);
- Advertising and commission as an agent (excluding the value of imports/exports of goods);
- Merchanting profits and losses (on goods bought and sold abroad without entering the UK);
- Management fees;
- Insurance and finance services.

EXCLUDE:

- Trade in goods;
- Dividend or interest payments;
- Transactions in financial assets or liabilities;
- Repairs other than for construction equipment and computers;
- Salaries of staff seconded abroad - if the period of their absence is less than one year;
- Business travel services such as accommodation and meals whilst abroad.

8. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Research and Development is characterised by investigation or experimentation, the outcome of which is new knowledge (with or without specific practical application) enhanced materials, products, devices, processes or services.

Definitions

Number of Units

This relates to the number of individual business sites e.g. a plant, factory, shop etc.

Total Employment

This is the point in time estimate of full and part time employees on the payroll plus the number of working proprietors employed on a set day in September.

Total employees

This is the point in time estimate of full and part time employees on the payroll on a set day in September.

Please note that Total Employees is a head count and not a Full Time Equivalent (FTE) measure. This distinction is particularly important for sectors with high levels of part time employment (e.g. Retail and Accommodation & Food Service activities) especially when comparing Per Employee figures.

Total turnover

Turnover is defined as total sales and work done. This is calculated by adding together the values of:

- sales of goods produced
- goods purchased and resold without further processing
- work done and industrial services rendered
- non-industrial services rendered

Purchases of goods & services

This is the value of all goods and services purchased during the year.

Gross Value Added at Basic Prices

Approximate Gross Value Added (aGVA) represents the amount that individual businesses, industries or sectors contribute to the economy.

Generally, this is measured by the income generated by the business, industry or sector less their intermediate consumption of goods and services used up in order to produce their output, labour costs (for example, wages and salaries) and an operating surplus (or loss). The latter is a good approximation for profits, from which the cost of capital investment, financial charges and the payment of dividends to shareholders are met.

There are differences between the approximate measure of aGVA calculated by ABS and the measure of Gross Value Added (GVA) used in the National Accounts (NA). NA carry out coverage adjustments, conceptual and value adjustments such as subtracting taxes and adding subsidies, quality adjustments and coherence adjustments. The NA estimate of GVA uses inputs from a number of surveys, and covers the whole UK economy. Some industry sectors are not included in ABS. No real (inflation-adjusted) estimates of regional GVA are published in the NA, however, nominal (non-inflation-adjusted) regional GVA and approximate regional GVA at basic prices are published by the Regional Accounts and ABS respectively.

Total Taxes

These are the amounts payable to the government for taxes, levies and duties. Included are rates relating to industrial and commercial property which are payable to the government via local authorities.

Increase in Total stocks

This represents the increase during the year for materials, stores and fuel and goods on hand for sale. Amounts for materials which have been partially processed but which are not usually sold without further processing are also included.

Gross Wages & Salaries

This represents the amount paid to employees (in cash or kind). This includes gross wages and salaries and redundancy and severance payments to employees. Payment to working proprietors, travelling expenses etc. are excluded.

Total Labour Costs

This represents the total cost to employers of employing staff. This includes gross wages & salaries (as defined above) and also all overtime payments, bonuses, commissions, payments in kind, benefits in kind, holiday pay, employer's national insurance contributions, payments into pension funds by employers and redundancy payments less any amounts reimbursed for this purpose from government sources. No deduction is made for income tax or employee's national insurance contributions etc. Payment to working proprietors, travelling expenses, lodgings allowances, etc are excluded.

Total Output at Basic Prices

Output is essentially the measure of productive activity and covers - market output, output produced for own final use and other non-market output.

Scottish Neighbourhood Statistics

Scottish Neighbourhood Statistics (SNS) is the Scottish Government's on-going programme to improve the availability, consistency and accessibility of small area statistics in Scotland.

Growth Sector Statistics Database

The Growth Sector statistics database provides economic statistics for the six private sector dominated growth sectors as set out in the Government Economic Strategy (GES) 2011.

Input-Output Tables and Multipliers for Scotland

Input-Output tables provide a complete picture of the flows of products and services in the economy for a given year, illustrating the relationship between producers and consumers and the interdependencies of industries.

Scottish Corporate Sector Statistics

Scottish Corporate Sector Statistics (SCSS) provide information on enterprises operating in Scotland. The tables include information on businesses' employment and turnover and are broken down into various groupings including industry, company size, local authority area, and country of ownership.

Business, Enterprise and Energy - Data Sources and Suitability

For background on Scottish Corporate Sector Statistics (SCSS) and Scottish Annual Business Statistics (SABS) as data sources including comparison of their differences.

Scottish Export Statistics

There are two sources of data on Scottish Exports: the Global Connections Survey and the Index of Manufactured Exports.

Economic Pocket Databank

The Economic Pocket Databank is a summary of the key statistics on Scotland's economy. It contains information on the Scottish Labour Market, GDP, and other main economic indicators, including comparisons to the UK and other countries.

UK and Regional Annual Business Survey (formerly Annual Business Inquiry) statistics produced by the Office for National Statistics.

Annual Business Survey User Group minutes and meeting papers

Annual Business Survey (ABS) User Group meets a minimum of two times a year. Specific operational issues are discussed at meetings.

Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES)

Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES) data and sampling errors are produced by the Office for National Statistics at a UK and regional level.

Regional Economic Activity (GVA)

Shows economic activity as measured by Gross Value Added (GVA) for English regions, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland including component totals and industry group totals produced by the Office for National Statistics.

See Comparisons with other GVA estimates in Methodology & Notes section for more information.

The Virtual Microdata Laboratory (VML)

The Virtual Microdata Laboratory (VML) is a facility within the Office for National Statistics (ONS) which enables access to restricted microdata for research purposes. Researchers from government and academia use the VML to carry out research on ONS surveys and other confidential datasets.

Secure Data Service

Funded by the ESRC, the Secure Data Service works closely with data producers, such as government departments and higher education research centres, to provide restricted access to securely stored confidential, sensitive, and potentially disclosive data in the fields of social science, economics and humanities.

UK Creative Industries data sourced to DCMS

Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) publishes UK and Regional Creative Industries data. Please note that there are some methodology differences between DCMS publication and Scottish Creative Industries data published in Scottish Government's Growth Sector Statistics Database. The Growth Sector definition is based on specific analysis of the Creative Industries in Scotland.

Scottish Business Insider

Individual companies cannot be identified in production of Annual Business Survey data for confidentiality reasons. Some analysts find the Scottish Business Insider a useful alternative source of information as it provides data on the top 500 companies in Scotland.

Scottish Business Information Service

Scottish Business Information Service (SCOTBIS) provides a research service for businesses across Scotland. SCOTBIS is based on the vast resources of the National Library of Scotland (NLS). At NLS you can access market research reports, business databases, international directories, and business and trade journals.

Source: Office for National Statistics, Annual Business Survey
(Compiled by Scottish Government)

Notes:
1. Annual Business Survey (ABS) coverage excludes certain areas such as parts of agriculture, financial and the public sector.
2. Within industry 46.3 (Wholesale of food, beverages and tobacco), there is a significant under-reporting of data within the Scottish results for 2008.
This under-reporting is a result of some business data being inadvertently excluded from the Scottish results. This data is included in the overall UK results but not the Scottish results.
This error in the Scottish results cannot be amended due to ABS revision policy of only revising one year's back data.
3. Insurance and Reinsurance data (SIC 65.1 and 65.2) is included in this publication for the first time from 2008. SIC 65.3 (Pension funding) is not included.
4. Colleges of Further Education were reclassified as Central Government entities on 13 October 2010, transferring FE Colleges from the private/business sector to the public sector.
This change brings FE Colleges outwith scope of ABS survey from 2010 onwards, which represents a step change in the 2010 results for SIC 85 compared to data for earlier years.
5. Totals may not sum due to rounding.
6. Please see Methodology page for details on estimation of Total Employment, Total Employees and Per Employee figures.
7. From 2008, ABS is sampled on a SIC 2007 basis using revised methodology. Please see Methodology page for more details.

(Compiled by Scottish Government)

Notes: 1. Annual Business Survey (ABS) coverage excludes certain areas such as parts of agriculture, financial and the public sector.
2. The ONS uses data provided by Dun & Bradstreet to identify businesses with foreign ownership and/or subsidiaries.
For further information on Dun & Bradstreet please contact Ron Turner at TurnerR@dnb.com
3. Totals may not sum due to rounding.
4. Please see Methodology page for details on estimation of Total Employment, Total Employees and Per Employee figures.
5. From 2008, ABS is sampled on a SIC 2007 basis using revised methodology. Please see Methodology page for more details.

Notes: 1. Civil engineering defined as Division 42 under SIC 2007.
2. Totals may not sum due to rounding.
3. Please see Methodology page for details on estimation of Total Employment, Total Employees and Per Employee figures.
4. From 2008, ABS is sampled on a SIC 2007 basis using revised methodology. Please see Methodology page for more details.

(Compiled by Scottish Government)

Notes: 1. Annual Business Survey (ABS) coverage excludes certain areas such as parts of agriculture, financial and the public sector.
2. Totals for Food and Drink & Financial and Business Services relate only to those sectors covered in ABS. Full Growth Sector definitions include other industries not covered in ABS.
3. Full Growth Sector definition for Financial and Business Services includes SIC 65 (Insurance, reinsurance and pension funding, except compulsory social security). However, only SIC 65.1 and SIC 65.2 (Insurance and Reinsurance) is covered in ABS and is included in Table above.
4. SIC 6 (Extraction of crude petroleum and natural gas) data is included in Energy Totals. ABS data is allocated to UK regions (including Scotland) according to the address at which the business is registered - onshore and offshore Oil & Gas extraction is allocated in this way.
Note that, such offshore activity, under UK Regional Accounts procedures is normally allocated to a separate "Extra-regio" category rather than allocated to a region within the UK.
5. Totals may not sum due to rounding.
6. Please see Methodology page for details on estimation of Total Employment, Total Employees and Per Employee and Per Head figures.
7. From 2008, ABS is sampled on a SIC 2007 basis using revised methodology. Please see Methodology page for more details.

A NATIONAL STATISTICS PUBLICATION FOR SCOTLAND

Official and National Statistics are produced to high professional standards set out in the Code of Practice for Official Statistics at http://www.statisticsauthority.gov.uk/assessment/code-of-practice/code-of-practice-for-official-statistics.pdf. Both undergo regular quality assurance reviews to ensure that they meet customer needs and are produced free from any political interference.

Statistics assessed, or subject to assessment, by the UK Statistics Authority carry the National Statistics label, a stamp of assurance that the statistics have been produced and explained to high standards and that they serve the public good.

Further information about Official and National Statistics can be found on the UK Statistics Authority website at www.statisticsauthority.gov.uk
