EDITORIAL NOTE

THE earliest description of the Western Islands made from personal observation. The first printed issue of this extremely rare work was published in Edinburgh in 1774, and comprised the first portion of a small 12mo. volume containing several early works on the Western Islands. Of this volume only fifty copies were printed; it is now extremely rare, very few copies beyond those in three or four of the great public libraries being known to exist. The title in full, of the above curious volume is as follows: —“Description of the Western Isles of Scotland, called Hybrides; by Mr. Donald Monro, High Dean of the Isles, who travelled through the most of them in the year 1549, with the genealogies of the chief clans of the Isles, now first published from the MS. To which is added 1. An account of Hirta and Rona, by the Lord Register, Sir George M'Kenzie of Tarbat, never before published. 2. A Description of St. Kilda, by Mr. Alexander Buchan, late minister there. 3. A Voyage to St. Kilda, by M. Martin, gentleman.”

In addition to the issue referred to above, the work has also been included in, and forms a small portion of one of the volumes of the Miscellanea Scotica published in four volumes. But unfortunately it appears there labouring under two serious disadvantages. The year in which the Dean travelled through the Isles is given as 1594, whereas it should be nearly fifty years earlier, namely 1549; and the "Genealogies" is omitted altogether, both matters of some interest and importance.

The present edition is a verbatim reprint with all the old curious spellings and names strictly retained. In these respects the work is so different from the modern renderings, that this, in itself, is a feature of exceeding interest. With regard to the genealogies, appearing as they do in two or three instances rather confusing, possibly the printer of the 1774 volume had some difficulty in making out the Author's MS, however, it is reproduced exactly as it appeared there. The number printed is strictly limited to two hundred and fifty copies.

DESCRIPTION
WESTERN ISLES

FIRST in the Ireland seas, forment the poynt of Galloway, neirest betwixt Scotland, England, and Ireland, lyes the first iyle of the saids isles, called in Latin tongue Mona and Sodora, in English Man, in Erishe Manain, whilks sometime, as auld historiographers sayes, was wont to be the seat first ordynit by Fynan king of Scottis to the priest and the philosophers called in Latine Druides, in English Culdeis and Kildeis, that is, worshippers of God, in Erish Leid Draiche, qu'ilks were the first teachers of religion in Albion, quherinto is the cathedrall of the bishop of Man and Isles dedicate, in the honour of St. Peter the apostle. This ile is twenty-four myles lang and eight myles braid, with twa castellis.

2. ELSAY. Northwart from this ile of Man, sixty myles off, layes Elsay, an iyl of ane myle lange, quherin is ane grate high hill, round and roughe, and ane heavin, and als abundance of Soland geise, and ane small poynt of ane nesse, quherat the fishing bottis lyis : for in the same ile is verey good killing, ling, and uther whyte fishes. Fornent this ile layes Carrick on the southeast pairt, Ireland on the southwest pairt, and the lands of Kintyre on the west and north-west pairt ; the said Elsay being neir hand midsa betwixt the said marches.

3. ARRAN. Be north or northeast fra this ile, twenty-four myles of sea, lies Arran, ane grate ile, full of grate montains and forrests, good for hunting, with pairt of woods, extending in lenthe from the Kyle of Arran to Castle Dounan southwart to twenty-four myles, and from the Kyle of Drumdoun to the Ness of Kilbride, sixteen myles of breadthe, inhabit onlie at the sea coasts. Herein are thre castils ; ane callit Braizay, pertening to the Earle of Arran ; ane uther auld house callit the castle of the heid of Lochrenasay, pertyning likeways to the said Earle ; and the third callit castle Dounan, pertaining to ane of the Stuarts of Bute's blood, callit Mr. James : he and his bluid are the best men in that countrey. In Arran is a loche callit Lochrenasay, with three or four small waters : two paroch kirks, the ane callit
