The Best

The Newest

Are the characteristic qualities of our stock. To give the best value possible has always been our aim. Our reputation as a Leading Drapery House has been raised, and will be maintained on that principle.

OUR STOCK

Embraces every kind of Heavy Drapery. We lead in the district for value in Flannels. So well do we know the right kind of Flannel that complaints of shrinkage of either our White, Shetland, Army Grey, or Blue Flannels are almost unknown.

BLANKETS

We do well. The man who makes our Blankets is really master of his trade. The secret of making Blankets soft and woolly to the touch and yet retaining the full strength of the wool is his: the privilege of selling them—ours.

READY-MADE SUITS & OVERCOATS

The best of Ready-made Clothing has for long been associated with our name. The contracts for our Winter stock of Tailor-made Garments have, notwithstanding the advance demanded, been placed most advantageously, and we are in a position to show Goods this season which will still further enhance our popularity as the leading Clothing House.

PREJUDICE is opinion without judgment.
WISHING of all employments is the worst.

God cometh in the time of distress, and it is no longer distress when He comes.

THE more a man has to do the more he finds himself capable of doing, even beyond the direct task.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.—Longfellow.

NONE are more to be pitied than those who have the means of gratifying their desires before they have learned to govern them.

HOPE is a pleasant acquaintance, but an unsafe friend. It'll do on a pinch for a traveller's companion, but he is not the man for your banker.—Sam Slick.

We are never happy or strong until we are given some task to achieve, a task to which we can gladly devote every power that is within us.—Canon Scott-Holland.

The best exercise and pastimes are music and gymnastics; the former dispelling mental care and melancholy thought, the latter producing elasticity of body and preserving health.—Luther.

Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and singly toward an object, and in no measure obtained it? If a man constantly aspires, is he not elevated. Did ever a man try heroism, magnanimity, truth, sincerity, and find that there was no advantage in them—that it could ever be described as a vain endeavour?—H. D. Thoreau.

IT is the great art and philosophy of life to make the best of the present, whether it be good or bad—to bear the one with resignation and patience, and to enjoy the other with thankfulness and moderation.

WHAT fairy palaces we may make of beautiful thoughts, bright fancies, satisfied memories, noble histories, faithful sayings, treasure-houses of precious and restful thoughts, which care cannot disturb nor pain make gloomy, nor poverty take away from us—houses built without hands, for our souls to live in!—Ruskin.

THE MERRY COMPANION.

Continual cheerfulness is a sign of wisdom.

"IS your wife ever out of temper?" "Never; she has an inexhaustible supply!"

She: "Is there any sure way of telling the age of a horse?" He: "Yes; ask the dealer, and multiply by two."

Mamma: "Why did you run off from school and spend the whole day rowing about the river?" Boy: "Papa said he wanted me to prepare for college."

Mrs. Newlywed: "John, I've lost our marriage certificate!" Mr. Newlywed: "Never mind. Any one of these receipted millinery bills will prove the ceremony."

George: "Yes, Miss Philipp, you're quite right; he is a fine dog. Would it—aw—surprise you—aw—if I told you that that dog knows as much as I do?" Miss Philipp: "Not at all!"

He: "Come now, Julie, you've got to make up your mind whether you prefer my company or Mr. Smith's." She: "I can't, really. Whenever I'm with one of you I prefer the other!"

MABEL'S mother was showing her a brood of chickens hatched in an incubator. "They are poor little orphans," said the mother. "An' is that the orphan asylum?" asked Mabel.

Parson (who has just arrived for the first time at his new country living): "I say, porter, my arrival seems to have caused a great deal of excitement in the village." Porter: "Yes, sir; but it's now't to when the dancing bear was here yesterday."

A DEALER in fuel, having been unable to clear out his stock before the arrival of warm weather, posted the following notice on his door:—"Good firewood for the summer season, giving out very little heat."

"I HOPE," said a client, who was a baker, to his lawyer, about to furnish a bill of costs, "that you will make it as light as possible." "Ah," said the lawyer, "you might, perhaps, say that to the foreman of your bakery, but that is not the way I bake my bread!"

Mrs. Suburb: "I have been hardly able to breathe all day. Those people next door have been burning the dead leaves on the lawn and the wind is in this direction." Mr. Suburb: "Never mind, my dear. Wait till the wind turns, and then we'll burn ours."

She: "Stop! You shan't kiss me to-night—at least, not before I have had an explanation. I heard to-day that you had been engaged to sixteen different girls." He: "But that was before I had seen your angel face, my love."

She: "So it was, to be sure. I never thought of that."

HUSBAND: "I think you'd better save that money for a rainy day." Wife: "But on a rainy day I can't go shopping."

"You must have perseverance," said the young physician's friend. "No," was the reply, "what I want is patients."

A TOWN COUNCIL candidate, very short in the legs, was saying to his audience that "what he was he had made himself." Voice from the back: "Weren't you short of stuff, gov'nor?"

Mrs. Goode: "You are the sixth man who has asked me for something to eat to-day." The Tramp: "I s'pose so. If de competition in d's life gits any wus, some of us'll have to go to work."

Customer: "Really, now, are these eggs fresh?" Grocer: "Madam, if you will kindly step to the telephone and call up our farm, you can hear the hens that laid those eggs still cackling."

A LADY advertised for sale "A fat pig, three tabby cats, and a parrot." She stated as a reason for the sale that, being recently married, she found all their amiable qualities combined in her husband.

Caller: "My, what a big girl you're getting to be! You'll soon be able to help your mother about the house." Ethel: "Oh, I do that already. Whenever she says 'For goodness' sake, get out of my way,' I do it."

"WHAT are you making that fence of such awfully crooked rails for?" asked the stranger riding by. "So that when them pigs of Thompson's creep through they'll come out on the same side where they started!"

Poulterer: "Very sorry, sir, I've sold out all the game, but I've got some fine German sausages which I can safely recommend." Shootist: "Fraid that won't do at all. My wife would never believe I shot 'em."

"OH, papa, what makes old Mr. Grabball walk so stoop-shouldered? He looks like a horse-shoe." "I have heard, my son, that many years ago, when he was a very little boy, no bigger than you are now, he found a penny."

"MARIE-JEANNE," said a farmer's wife to her servant, "don't lean so far over the well; you might fall in, and then we should be obliged to get our water from the stream."

A MAN with a discoloured eye, upon being asked what had occasioned the marks, replied in the following pregnant sentences:—"Bruce had recourse to the sword, Tell to a bow and arrow; but when a woman strikes for liberty she uses anything she can lay her hands on. Flat-irons are the handiest things in our house!"

Surprising.

*He ate fork chops and sausages
And pies and fried potatoes,
His soups were full of onions and
Of garlic and tomatoes.*

*He ate salt mackerel and cheese,
And pastries and bananas,
And after having finished these,
He smoked a few Havanas.*

*And yet he oft, in mournful tones,
Was heard to ask this question:
"Why is it that I cannot find
A cure for indigestion?"*

The Forth Bridge.

THIS famous bridge, without dispute one of the wonders of the world, was constructed by Sir William Arrol from designs by Sir John Fowler and Sir Benjamin Baker. Its whole length is one and a fifth of a mile, and it is the highest bridge in the world, being four hundred and fifty feet from the base to the highest point.

In the course of its construction fifty thousand tons of steel were used, including thirty-two miles of bent plates for the tubes, the whole being welded together by eight million rivets. As the bridge has a metal surface of twenty-five acres, it took 250 tons of paint and 35,000 gallons of oil to paint the work.

An allowance of one inch per 100 feet has been made for contraction and for changes of temperature. The bridge can stand a wind pressure of 56 lb. per square foot, or between seven and eight thousand tons of lateral pressure on the cantilevers.

Seven years—that is to say, from 1883 till 1890—were occupied in its construction, and the total cost, including £800,000 for connecting lines, was £3,500,000. The expense was borne by four railway companies—the Great Northern, the North Eastern, the Midland, and the North British, the last named alone working the line.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow early mazagan and long-pod beans during the first and last weeks of the month; early peas in the beginning of the month; onions on very light soils; parsley, short-topped radish, and hardy green and brown Dutch lettuce. All kinds of fruit trees should be pruned; wash those trees which are infested with insects with soap-suds and flowers of sulphur and tobacco liquor. Prepare for making-up hot-beds for early cucumbers and melons. Sow salads, carrots, and kidney-beans on slight hot-beds. Plant dried tubers and bulbs of border flowers, if not done in autumn. Transplant herbaceous plants in light soils, if not done in autumn; also deciduous trees, shrubs, and hedges. Lay edgings when the weather is fine. Sow mignonette, stocks, etc., in pots. Sow sweet peas and a few hardy annuals on a warm border. The protection of choice plants will now require particular care. Water plants in pots sparingly.

THE FORTH BRIDGE.

Fashion in Christian Names.

IT was not the custom for English people to have more than one Christian name before the reign of George the Third. Two or more names were first used by the Court, and the fashion soon spread all over the country, though at first it was considered presumptuous for a person of low degree to confer more than one name on his child.

What a Little Plant Once Did.

A LITTLE plant was once given to a sick girl belonging to a poor family. In trying to take care of it the family made changes in their way of living. First, they cleaned the window that more light might come to its leaves; then, when not too cold, they would open the window, that fresh air might help the plant to grow. Next, the clean window made the rest of the room look so untidy that they used to wash the floor and walls, and arrange the furniture more neatly.

This led the father of the family to mend a broken chair or two, which kept him at home several evenings. After the work was done he stayed home instead of spending his leisure at the tavern, and the money thus saved went to buy comforts for them all.

And then, as the home grew attractive, the whole family loved it better than ever before, and grew healthier and happier with their flower. Thus the little plant brought a real as well as a physical blessing.

The Size of the Chinese Empire.

THE total area of the Chinese Empire is something like 4,300,000 square miles. The eighteen provinces comprising China proper, or the "Middle Kingdom," cover 1,298,000 square miles while Manchuria has 390,000 and Thibet over 700,000 square miles. Probably but a small proportion of this vast area is totally unfit for human habitation; most of it possesses a salubrious climate similar to that of the United States.

Escaping from Dartmoor.

"AMONG Dartmoor traditions," says Major Arthur Griffiths, "are some strange, even comical, episodes, such as that of the fugitive who took refuge in the upper branches of a tree, went to sleep there, and found, when he woke, a picnic party at lunch underneath him. The story goes on that he dropped upon the table cloth, put everyone to flight, finished the lunch, and then made good his own escape!

"Another remarkable venture was that of the convict who broke out of prison, and then broke into the surgeon's house, stole a full suit of clothes, and thus effectively disguised got clear away. There are others more sensational in the earlier records, when Dartmoor was a war prison: one that runs on similar lines as that last told. The surgeon at that time was in the Royal Navy, and his uniform proved an excellent passport to Plymouth, where the fugitive found friends, and sent back the clothes with thanks, saying they fitted extremely well.

The cleverest escape, perhaps, was that of the French officer, who was employed with others in building a new chimney in the chaplain's quarters, and who suffered himself to be built up inside the flue. At night, by a great effort, he threw down the green masonry, released himself, and was never recaptured.

The Delhi Durbar.

AMIDST scenes of unexampled Oriental magnificence, the Coronation of King Edward VII. was on the 1st January, 1903, proclaimed at Delhi to the people of India.

The ceremony took place in a superb amphitheatre erected on the spot where the late Queen Victoria was proclaimed first Empress of India. Close upon 15,000 persons, including many British, Colonial, and European notabilities were present.

The Durbar was opened by a great military display. The utmost animation attended the arrival of the chiefs and their retinues, but no part of the preliminary proceedings excited so much sympathetic interest as the appearance of the surviving veterans of the Mutiny. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Viceregal party had a most enthusiastic reception. The Viceroy sat on a throne decorated with golden lions. When he mounted the dais the bands played the National Anthem, and a salute of thirty-one guns was fired.

The herald (Major Maxwell) then read the proclamation, which declared the crowning of the King Emperor in London.

The Viceroy then made a speech, and proceeded to read the Emperor's message, which declared his love for and interest in his Indian Empire and subjects.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow beans and peas in the beginning and end of the month; a few early cabbages, red cabbages, and savoy in the last week. Sow also early horn carrots, Dutch turnips, onions for a full crop in light soils, with a few leeks. Sow chervil and fennel and lettuce, with radishes and round-leaved spinach, twice in the course of the month; small salads every fortnight. Plant Jerusalem artichokes, garlic, horse-radish, and early potatoes. Strawberries may be planted about the end of the month. Transplant for seed, cabbages, cauliflowers, turnips, etc. Transplant to the bottom of a south wall a few of the peas sown in November for a first crop. Prune apricots, peaches, nectarines, and plums before the buds be much swelled; also apples, pears, cherries, gooseberries, currants, and raspberries before the end of the month. Continue the forcing of all kinds of fruits. In the flower garden in good weather plant dried roots, including most of the finer florists' flowers; continue the transplanting of hardy biennial flowers and herbaceous plants. Sow in the last week mignonette and hardy annuals in a warm border for subsequent transplanting. By sowing in February and again in March or April, one is able to obtain a succession of flowers of the same kind in the summer and autumn.

THE CORONATION DURBAR AT DELHI.

A Turkish Tale.

A BELATED beggar knocked at the Hodja's door. "What do you want?" he called down from an upper window.

"Come down, good Hodja, and I will tell you," replied the mendicant.

Having descended and opened the front door, the beggar asked for alms. "Come upstairs," said the Hodja, and the mendicant was taken to the top floor.

"I am sorry, poor man," said the Hodja, "but I have no alms for you."

"Why did you not tell me so at the door?" inquired the beggar angrily.

"Why did you not tell me what you wanted before I came down?" retorted the Hodja.

White Magic was Common Long Ago.

ONE of the chief uses of white magic was to enable you to obtain with ease that which could not otherwise be gained without long expenditure of time and infinite labour. White magic aimed at making things pleasant in an innocent way; whereas black or diabolical magic had commerce with "devils and evil men," and relied almost exclusively upon the potentates of the nether world. The white variety, indeed, is really a most benevolent institution; for it steps in to one's aid in all the crises of life, however trivial they may appear to the strong-nerved.

Thus, if your chimney is on fire, you do not send for the fire-brigade and inform the police, with the certainty of being fined a day or two later. Instead of going to work in that clumsy way, you take a live coal from the grate, make the sign of the cross with it upon the hearthstone, and write underneath, also with the burning coal, the words "Consummatum est"; and straightway the fearsome roar and splutter in the chimney vanish.

Wearyin' for You.

JEST a wearyin' for you,
All the time a-fee'in' blue;
Wishin' for you, wondering when
You'll be comin' home agen;
Restless—don't know what to do—
Jest a-wearyin' for you.

Keep a-mopin' day by day;
Dull—in everybody's way.
Folks they smile and pass along,
Wonderin' what on earth is wrong;
'Twouldn't help 'em if they knew—
Jest a-wearyin' for you.

Roon's so lonesome, with your chair
Empty by the fireplace there;
Jest can't stand the sight of it;
Go out doors and roam a bit;
But the woods is lonesome, too,—
Jest a-wearyin' for you.

Mornin' comes. The birds awake
(Use to sing so for your sake);
But there's sadness in the notes
That comes thrillin' from their throats!
Seen to feel your absence, too,—
Jest a-wearyin' for you.

Evenin' falls. I miss you more
When the dark gloom's in the door;
Seems jest like you orter be
There to open it for me!
Latch goes tinklin'—thrills me through,
Sets me wearyin' for you.

Jest a-wearyin' for you!
All the time a-fee'in' blue!
Wishin' for you—wonderin' when
You'll be comin' home agen.
Restless—don't know what to do—
Jest a-wearyin' for you.

The Countess of Dudley.

THE Countess of Dudley, whose portrait we give a few pages back, is the wife of the second Earl of Dudley, who has occupied the important post of Lord Lieutenant of Ireland since 1902. Her ladyship was prominently before the public in 1903, as it was she who had to play the part of hostess during the visit of the King to Ireland during that year. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. Charles Gurney, and was married in 1891. Lord Dudley, who was born on the 25th of May, 1866, takes his title from Dudley Castle, in Staffordshire. He is the son of the first Earl and Georgiana, the daughter of Sir Thomas Moncrieffe, the seventh baronet.

Sidmouth.

HIS has been described as one of the most compact, and of its kind beautiful, watering-places in England. It occupies a Devonshire valley about half a mile in width, between hills whose slopes are green to the summit, and is watered by the tiny rivulet which gives its name to the place. At the beginning of the last century Sidmouth was the most fashionable seaside resort in Devon. Several years of the infancy of the late Queen Victoria were spent here, and her father, the Duke of Kent, died at The Glen, in 1820.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow main crops of beans, peas, cabbages, onions, leeks, carrots, parsnips, Brussels sprouts, borecoles, lettuce, and spinach. Sow turnips and savoy in the beginning and end of the month. In the last fortnight sow asparagus, cauliflowers, sea kale, celery, etc. Small salads should now be sown every ten days. Plant early potatoes in the first week, and a main crop during the last fortnight. Jerusalem artichokes, sea kale, asparagus and peas, raised in frames, may now be planted. Propagate, by slips, the various pot-herbs, as mint, sage, savory, tansy, etc. Finish the pruning of fruit-trees before the middle of the month. Begin grafting in the third week. In the last week sow hardy annuals in the borders, with biennials that flower the first season. Thin out and plant some of the autumn-sown annuals. This most important month for getting in main crops of several kinds is proverbial for boisterous weather, but take advantage of fine intervals. Fruit trees may be transplanted, but November is the best time.

Always Examine your Purchases.

ALL who buy goods, whether they be tradespeople or only industrious housekeepers, should take note of the following good advice given by a legal authority:—

When goods are sent to you, whether bought by sample or description, take an early opportunity to unpack and examine them, and should you find anything wrong, take pen and ink and write to the seller at once, telling him what is the matter. It does not pay to wait until settling day comes round, and then to write and complain; for you at once lay yourself open to the charge of manufacturing a claim in order to obtain a reduction of your account.

If possible, you should, when you write your letter of complaint, set out the faults complained of fully, and at the same time add that the goods are still lying in your warehouse (or wherever else they may be), and that you will be glad to receive your correspondent or his representative and to point out the defects specified.

This course is not only the fairest and most businesslike, but it will stand you in good stead should the seller scout your complaint and try to make you pay the full agreed price by legal process.

I have heard it said scores of times when a defendant (defender) has set up the defence of bad quality, "Why did you not complain at the time?" which is followed by the second question, "Then you never complained of the quality of these goods until the seller pressed you for payment?" It requires no very trained mind to see that if you are able to answer, "I did complain at the time, and offered to point out the defects," you score a point.

In ordering things by letter always keep a copy of what you have said, for memory is often treacherous, and you may be at fault as well as the trade man.

A Literary Housemaid.

A SERVANT was recently dismissed for impertinence by a gentleman in Kensington. After her departure a bulky MS. was found in her room, which the head of the house had the curiosity to read. To his amusement he found it to be a romance written by the girl, in which she figured as the heroine.

She left her hated serfdom in Kensington (according to the story), went out to the Transvaal as a nurse, and professionally attended on a gallant wounded General, whom she practically snatched from the jaws of death. When peace was finally proclaimed in South Africa, the grateful General married his nurse, and the pair returned to England and took up quarters in the husband's ancestral home.

After her return Mrs. General happened to pay a visit to the country workhouse, and, to her surprise and satisfaction, she found as inmates her old master and mistress of Kensington, who had come down in the world. They implored her help, but Mrs. General would have none of them. She could neither forgive nor forget their treatment of her when she was their humble domestic. So the pair died broken-hearted, and were laid in paupers' graves.

Grantham.

THE ancient town of Grantham lies rather over a hundre 1 miles nor. h of London. It is a place well supplied with public buildings and can boast of its connection with several eminent men; a mongst others Sir Isaac Newton, who was educated at Grantham School.

The "Angel and Royal" Hotel is remarkable as an ancient possession of the Knights Templars, also as the seat of a Court held by King John in 1213. King Richard III. came here in 1483, when he affixed his signature to the death-warrant of the Duke of Buckingham.

The "George," another leading hotel, has been written of by Charles Dickens in his "Nicholas Nickleby."

The principal architectural feature of Grantham is the magnificent Gothic elevation of the Parish Church, its crocketed spire rising to a height of two hundred and eighty feet. It is held to be one of the finest spires in England. The interior of this famous church possesses several details of interest. The southern porch is surmounted by a chamber containing a library where are many chained volumes, presented during the sixteenth century.

Grantham is surrounded by good residential seats, one of the principal being Belvoir Castle, the home of the Duke of Rutland. It is eight miles distant and forms a favourite excursion.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow asparagus, seakale, beet, carrots, and onions on heavy soil; also peas, beans, turnips, spinach, celery, cabbages, savoys, and German greens for succession. Sow broccoli and kidney-beans both in the second and in the last week. Plant cauliflowers, cabbages, seakale, lettuces, and finish the planting of the main crop of potatoes. Attend to the hoeing and thinning of spinach, onions, turnips, etc. Earth up cabbages, cauliflowers, peas, beans, and early potatoes; stake peas. Blanch seakale and rhubarb in the open air by covering with straw or leaves. Sow main or succession crops of annuals of all sorts; half-hardy annuals in warm borders or in slight hotbeds. Biennials and perennials should be sown before the middle of the month. Plant Tigridia pavonia and fine stocks. Finish the transplanting of herbaceous plants by the end of the first week. Plant out deciduous trees and shrubs raised in pots. Remove part of the coverings of all tender plants in the first week, and the remainder at the end of the month. Watch rose trees, and be careful to free them from grubs.

The Enthronement of the Archbishop.

THE imposing ceremony of the enthronement of Archbishop Davidson at Canterbury took place on 12th February, 1903, in presence of an immense congregation. "The enthronement," says one who was present, "was imposing, impressive, in complete accordance with ancient usage, and marked by a sober brightness which was in full harmony with the occasion. The memory of the long-drawn ceremonial first in the Chapter Room, then at the Archiepiscopal throne, next in the Trinity Chapel at St. Augustine's Chair, then in the Dean's Stall, and on the steps leading from the nave to the choir, and last of all in the Chapter Room again, with the flowers above Archbishop Temple's grave in the cloister garth visible through the open door, is distinctly a memory to be treasured. There was nothing to mar its brightness at any point. In a word, the ceremonial was, from beginning to end, absolutely perfect."

Speaking afterwards at a luncheon given by the Dean and Chapter in the Cathedral Library, the Archbishop dwelt on the labours of his predecessor and referred to the world-wide recognition of the importance of the office of Primate.

The Archbishop was born on 7th April, 1848.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow small salads every week; radishes and lettuces thrice, spinach once a fortnight; carrots and onions for late drawing; kidney-beans in the first week and last fortnight; peas and beans, cauliflowers, cabbages, Brussels sprouts, etc., for late crops. Continue the various operations of hoeing and earthing-up the different crops. Pick caterpillars from gooseberry bushes and wall-trees on their first appearance. Remove from raspberries and strawberries all suckers and runners that are not wanted. Sow annuals for succession. Propagate, by cuttings, dahlias, pansies, double wallflowers, rockets, scarlet lychnis; and lobelias, by dividing the roots. Plant out during the last week, dahlias, hardy pelargoniums, and stocks, protecting the dahlias from slight frosts. In dry weather water becomes necessary to many plants in the open ground, but it should not be used unless positively required.

ENTHRONEMENT OF THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

Let Young Couples be Sensible.

EVERY young couple who set out with the idea that a happy marriage means living in a bed of roses into which no thorn must ever appear make a great mistake. Human beings are not constituted for perfect happiness; there is no such thing in this world of ours, and a young husband and wife are creating unnecessary misery for themselves by starting with an impossibly high standard, because everyday life falls far below it, and a comparison between actualities and a Utopian ideal is needlessly depressing.

What are Sardines?

THE sardine is the young pilchard. Sardines are most abundantly found off the west coasts of France and Portugal, and along the shores of the Mediterranean. Young pilchards are taken in Devonshire and Cornwall, but a regular fishery for those the size of sardines never seems to have been possible, because the fish at this early stage are in the habit of frequenting the warmer waters of the sunny south. Even the adult pilchard confines itself to the south-west portion of our shores, where the Gulf Stream is well marked in its effects, leaving the colder waters to its first cousin, the herring.

Judging from the great supplies of tinned sardines which come to us from Norway, we might be led to suppose that the young pilchards go across the North Sea to form their nurseries in the fiords and estuaries of the Norwegian coast.

As a matter of fact, however, the sardine is not found in Scandinavian waters. An examination of the contents of the tins shows that the little fishes are sprats, which, no doubt, are equally wholesome as food, and which, when treated à la sardine can hardly be distinguished.

She Waited for Him.

IN a village in Somersetshire, two lovers, agreeing to separate; the man asking the woman to wait for him a certain number of years, after which she would be free, if she thought proper, to marry another man. She affirmed, however, that she would wait for him till death; and he went abroad. Several years later, a gentleman returning by train from London to Taunton had a companion in the carriage whose complexion and manner excited his curiosity. He was swarthy and sunburned, in the full vigour of manhood and strength, but excited and uneasy, with a wandering eye and twitching features, especially when they entered Somersetshire. At length he found it impossible to preserve silence, and asked the gentleman if he knew a certain village near Taunton.

"I live there," was the reply, "and am just returning to it from town."

"Then," said the young man, with difficulty restraining his emotion, "do you know such a one?"—mentioning a young woman's name.

"Yes—perfectly well."

"Is she—?" And he could get no further.

"Married, you would ask," said the gentleman.

"No; she is waiting for her lover, who is gone abroad."

"That's me!" exclaimed the man with enthusiasm. "Thank God, she has waited, for I am come back to marry her."

The sequel may be left to conjecture.

Pause and Think.

Consider well your actions,
What's done you can't recall;
No use to pull the trigger,
And then try to stop the ball.

The Right hon. Joseph Chamberlain.

IN Mr. Chamberlain we have one of the most prominent men of our time, and one who has enjoyed a long career of public usefulness. He was born in 1836, and has held his present position as Secretary of State for the Colonies since 1895, previous to which he was President of the Board of Trade, 1880-85, and President of the Local Government Board, 1886. Mr. Chamberlain has been three times married, his present wife, whose portrait is here given along with that of her husband, being Mary, the only daughter of Mr. W. C. Endicott, who was Secretary for War in President Cleveland's first Administration. They were married in 1888. Mr. J. Austen Chamberlain, who has been Postmaster-General since 1902, is the son of Mr. Chamberlain by his first wife.

Herne Bay.

THIS favourite seaside resort, on the north coast of Kent, is visited every summer by large numbers in search of health and enjoyment. It is at a convenient distance from the metropolis, being only sixty-two miles away. The commencement of the growth of Herne Bay may be held to date from about 1830. An historical spot of some note in the vicinity is Reculus, a Roman fortified camp.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow peas and beans for late crops. The kinds used for early crops are likewise best for this purpose. Sow salading every ten days; also carrots and onions for drawing young. In the beginning of the month sow endive for an early crop. In the first week sow turnips for succession, and in the third week for a full autumn crop. Pull and store winter onions if ripe. Train and prune the summer shoots of all descriptions of wall and trellis trees. Net over cherry-trees to protect the fruit from birds.

Destroy insects by repeated washings and direct- ing tobacco smoke against them, or by strewing snuff (or the fine powder of tobacco) upon them. Take up all bulbs and dry them in the shade before removing them. Remove all kinds of decaying crops. Sow perennials, if neglected last month, to be planted out in the spring. Watering out of doors is more or less necessary during this month for newly planted vegetables and flowers, and from drought. After watering loosen the ground round plants with the hoe.

It is Good to be Beautiful.

YOU should always remember that the more mental exertion you have the more care you should take of your health.

Brain work exhausts the body quite as much as physical exertion, though many people do not seem to grasp this fact.

No woman can hope to be attractive who neglects her personal appearance.

A little extra care bestowed upon her hair, hands, etc., will more than repay herself and her friends for the trouble she has taken.

The flushed appearance of the face that so many people suffer from, which has an unpleasant habit of making its appearance after meals, is due to indigestion. A glassful of hot water should be taken the first thing in the morning, and cocoa should be drunk instead of tea.

A Well-known Hymn Tune.

A HIGHLY popular hymn tune is known by the name of "York." It is a tune with a history.

Sir John Hawkins, writing in 1776, said of it: "Within memory half the nurses of England were used to sing it by way of lullaby, and the chimes of many country churches have played it six or eight times in four-and-twenty hours from time immemorial." The tune appears first in the Scottish Psalter of 1615, where it bears the curious name of "The Stilt." When Ravenscroft printed it in his "Whole Booke of Psalmes," 1621, he expressed an opinion that it was "a northern tune," yet it was he who called it "York."

There is a belief that the tune was the composition of John Milton, the father of the poet; but all that Milton did was to harmonise it.

The Language of Sealing Wax.

WE have had the language of the eyes, flowers, handkerchiefs, and postage stamps, and now we have a new way of communication through the medium of sealing wax.

A business letter should be sealed with red. When writing to a friend use grey.

If you are writing to your lover and everything is smooth sailing, then use blue; but if you wish to hint to him that you have, or think you have, any cause for jealousy, then use yellow. In replying to a wedding invitation, then white is de r. gueur. For a letter of condolence it is optional with you whether you use black or violet. As many object seriously to the use of anything suggesting mourning, violet is very much more of a favourite than black.

None knows the weight of another's burden.

A Royal Court.

AN interesting incident of 1903 was a royal visit paid to Scotland in May, when the King and Queen were received by their faithful subjects both in Edinburgh and Glasgow with the heartiest of welcomes. Their Majesties left London on the 11th of May, and returned to town on the 15th of the month. They made their headquarters when on the other side of the Border at Dalkeith House, the seat of the Duke of Buccleuch, a few miles out of Edinburgh. The ancient Palace of Holyrood was put in order for the occasion, and was a most royal place for the royal receptions. The quadrangle was converted into a sub-tropical garden, in which were many beautiful flowers and palms and variegated foliage plants. The throne room was the finest room in the Palace—a room lighted by six windows looking out on to the quadrangle. The throne consisted of a platform ascended by three steps, upon the topmost of which were two arm-chairs for the accommodation of the King and Queen. There was a massive golden canopy with crimson hangings. Here the presentations took place. The Court was held on the 12th of May. It was the first Court held by a British king in Holyrood for more than eighty years. A large number of ladies attended, who appeared in morning dress, wearing bonnets or toques.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow peas in the first week for the last crop of the season. In the last week sow yellow turnips for a full winter crop, and spinach for an early winter supply. Plant full crops of celery, celeriac, and endive about the middle and end of the month; late crops of broccoli, cauliflower, and coleworts in the last week. Gather and dry medicinal pot-herbs; also propagate such by slips and cuttings. Continue the summer pruning and training of all wall-trees with the destruction of insects. Plant strawberries in pots for forcing next winter. Take up the remainder of tuberous roots, such as anemone and ranunculus, and finish by the end of the first week. Propagate herbaceous and other plants that have gone out of flower by slips and cuttings. Advantage should be taken of rainy weather for planting, otherwise copious watering will be necessary. In dry weather dip the roots in puddle before planting. Hedges and ever-greens now require cutting.

THE KING'S COURT AT HOLYROOD.

A Story from the Far East.

A SUFI Dervish, the father of sorrow and the son of grief, sat at night by the sea. The waves like sleek serpents writhed at his feet, and hissed forth, "Come, let us strangle thee and thy griefs, and make an end."

"Ah, welcome death!" he answered. Then a greater billow, rolling in, covered him, and went back, and the man was very wet. Thereupon he went home and dried his clothes.

Nautical Terms are Often a Puzzle.

To landsmen nautical terms frequently need explanation. We give here the meaning of a few of those most commonly heard:—

Starboard.—The right side.

Port.—To the left side. This term is used to put the helm to left instead of the word larboard, to make a distinction from the affinity of sound in the word starboard.

Stand On.—To keep in the course.

Turning to Windward.—Tacking.

To Wear.—To turn round from the wind.

Fore and Aft.—The direction of the ship, or in the direction of the keel.

Halyards.—Ropes to hoist the sails.

Lee Tide.—Wind and tide the same way.

Luff.—Put helm to leeward.

To Windward.—Toward that point from which the wind blows.

To Work to Windward.—To make progress against the wind by tacking.

To Tack.—To turn a ship by the sails and rudder against the wind.

Leeward.—The point towards which the wind blows.

By the Head.—When a ship is deeper in the water forward than aft.

By the Stern.—Reverse of the former.

A Fowl in the Kettle.

HERE is a good dog story. Not long ago a retriever was sent after a winged partridge which had run into a ditch. The dog followed it some way down the ditch, and presently came out with an old rusty tea-kettle held in its mouth by the handle. The kettle was taken from the dog amid much laughter. Then it was found that inside the kettle was the partridge!

The explanation was that the bird, when wounded, ran into the ditch, which was narrow. In the ditch was the old kettle with no lid on. Into this the bird crept; and, as the dog could not get the bird out, it very properly brought out the kettle with the bird in it.

Courage.

*It is not they that never knew
Weakness or fear who are the brave;
Those are the proud, the knightly few
Whose joy is still to serve and save.*

*But they who in the weary night,
Amid the darkness and the stress,
Have struggled with disease and blight,
With pitiful world-weariness;*

*They who have yearned to stand among
The free and mighty of the earth,
Whose sad, aspiring souls are wrung
With starless hope and hollow mirth;*

*Who die with every day, yet live
Through merciless, unbrightened years,
Whose sweetest right is to forgive
And smile divinely through their tears;*

*They are the noble, they the strong,
They are the tried, the trusted ones,
And though their way is hard and long—
Straight to the pitying God it runs.*

Glasgow University.

THE University of Glasgow is a structure of which any city might justly be proud. It occupies the summit of Gilmore Hill, on the north bank of the Kelvin, and is one of the most remarkable of the many fine buildings in Glasgow.

The founder of the University, which till quite a recent date occupied a site near Glasgow Cathedral, was Bishop Turnbull. A charter in the Bishop's favour was granted by James II., at Stirling, in 1443, and the bull for its establishment was issued by Pope Nicholas V. in 1450.

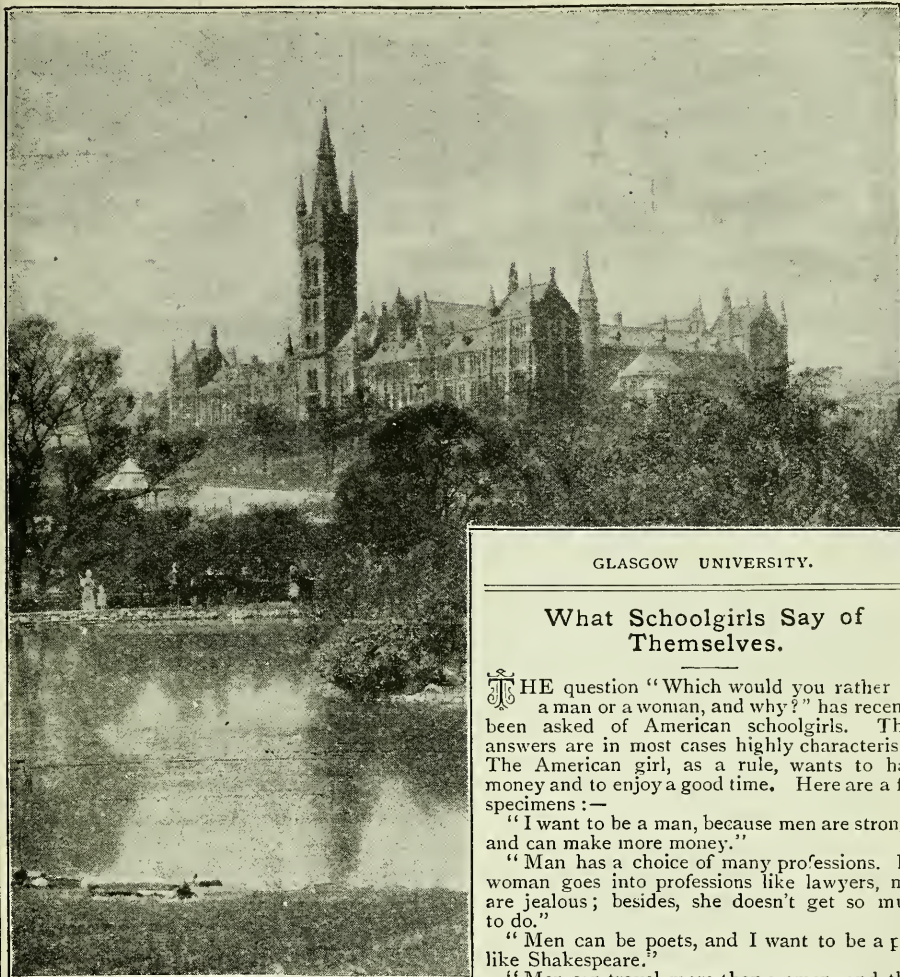

Here are a few of the eminent names which adorn its annals, and have shed a lustre over the literary, scientific and civil history of Scotland—Melville, Baillie, Burnet, Simpson, Hutcheson, Cullen, Adam Smith, Reid, Jardine, and Lord Kelvin.

The architect of the University buildings was Sir G. Gilbert Scott, and the general style adopted was that of the Early English, with an infusion of the Scots French domestic and secular architecture of a later period. The foundation stone was laid by his present Majesty, then Prince of Wales, on the 8th October, 1868, and the opening ceremony took place in 1870. The spire, however, which rises three hundred feet from the ground and is the dominant feature of the principal façade, was not erected till 1888.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow winter and spring spinach in the beginning and about the end of the month; parsley and winter onions for a full crop in the first week; cabbages, cauliflowers, savoys, and German greens about the middle of the month, for planting out in spring; lettuces in the first and last weeks; small salads occasionally. Plant and earth up celery and endive. A few coleworts may still be planted. Net up, in dry weather, gooseberry and currant bushes, to preserve the fruit till late in the autumn. Every exertion should now be made to preserve the ripening fruit on the walls from insects, and to destroy wasps' nests. Sow auricula and primula seeds in pots and boxes. During this month the hues of autumn will begin to make their appearance; but its approaches in the flower-borders may be deferred for a considerable time by regularly removing decayed flowers of such plants as throw out a succession.

GLASGOW UNIVERSITY.

What Schoolgirls Say of Themselves.

THE question "Which would you rather be, a man or a woman, and why?" has recently been asked of American schoolgirls. Their answers are in most cases highly characteristic. The American girl, as a rule, wants to have money and to enjoy a good time. Here are a few specimens:—

"I want to be a man, because men are stronger and can make more money."

"Man has a choice of many professions. If a woman goes into professions like lawyers, men are jealous; besides, she doesn't get so much to do."

"Men can be poets, and I want to be a poet like Shakespeare."

"Men can travel more than women, and they do not need much luggage, because women have a lot of dresses, which is a bother to themselves and a great plague to men."

"Men needn't do housework, and all other work is nicer than that."

On the other hand, many of the American girls are resigned to their lot, and make the best of it.

"I would rather be a woman because I have to be."

"I am satisfied with the way I am, and it would make no difference if I wasn't."

"Women are treated more politely than men, and they do their hair nicer."

"Women have no hard work to do, and men have."

"Women are quicker than men, and they can control their temper."

"Women just have patience when they are crossed, but men are often known to use bad language."

Hints for Travellers.

THE first duty of travelling is to be well behaved and quietly dressed. Well-bred people are careful never to do anything which attracts attention in public. They are not loud of voice and free in gesture, their manners show repose and gentle dignity.

People who assume an air of importance or assertive independence, or who are exacting and fault-finding when in hotels, and thus imagine that they are gaining the good opinion of others, had best remember that, on the contrary, they are being critically judged and ridiculed by those whom they wish to impress.

It is of great importance, too, to be polite even under circumstances calculated to ruffle our plumage. "Cap in hand," says the proverb, truly enough, "goes through the land."

Ross Castle.

NE of the sights of Killarney is Ross Castle, a conspicuous object from some positions on the Lower Lake. It was erected by one of the O'Donaghues. In 1652 it held out against the English, and was the last stronghold to surrender in Munster.

The story of its surrender is interesting. On the 26th July, Lord Muskerry had been defeated in the County Cork, and many of his followers had been slain, amongst them being a Kerry chieftain, Macgillcuddy, who held a commission as colonel.

Retreating to Ross Castle, Lord Muskerry held out against the repeated attacks of General Ludlow, and not until ships of war were seen upon the lake did the garrison give in. An old prophecy had declared that Ross Castle would be impregnable till ships should surround it, and the Irish soldiers, looking upon the prophecy as accomplished, would not strike a blow. The "ships of war" were boats, into each of which Ludlow managed to pack about a hundred and twenty men. After the surrender five thousand Munster men laid down their arms. Lord Brough, who accompanied Ludlow, made a good thing out of the surrender, for he had granted to him "£1,000 yearly out of the estates of Lord Muskerry."

Ross Castle is now in ruins, but its situation is highly romantic.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow a few small salads for late crops; lettuce and spinach, if not done last month, for spring crop. Plant endive and lettuce. If broccoli be too strong or tall to withstand the winter, lift them and lay them nearly up to the neck in the earth. Lift onions, and lay them out on a dry border or gravel walk. Lift potatoes and store them. Finish the autumn pruning and training of fruit-trees. Gather and store carefully the autumnal sorts of apples and pears. Plant strawberries for a main crop. Sow in the beginning of the month all half-hardy annuals, if not done last month; also the different species of primula and the seeds of all such plants as, if sown in spring, come up the same season, but if sown in September or October vegetate readily the succeeding spring. Continue the propagation of herbaceous plants, and plant evergreens. If a bed is prepared expressly to sow pinks as show flowers, it should be done now. The soil should be good loam, about a foot and a half deep. Keep walks and borders as neat as possible.

Great Marlow.

THIS ancient town on the Thames, fifty-seven miles from London, is of considerable importance and there is no more favourite spot on the river, whether for fishing, boating, holiday, or sketching purposes. There are two leading streets: High Street, going up from the river; and West Street, at right angles to it. In the latter is a house in which Shelley the poet lived, and where he was visited by Lord Byron.

The church of Great Marlow, a modern structure of a style of architecture variously described as Late English or Modern Gothic, is, says Mr. Dickens, "ugly without and bald within," although it must at one time have been rich in brasses and monuments, some of the former dating from the latter end of the fourteenth century.

Many and varied are the walks and excursions which may be taken from Great Marlow. Within easy walking distance are Henley, Maidenhead, and the quaint and interesting towns of High or Chipping Wycombe and Cookham.

The name Marlow, or as it is called in Domesday Book, Mercelaw, is derived from Camden from "the chalk commonly called marle," which he says is plentiful here. Another authority, however, derives the name from a mere, or piece of standing water, which is supposed to have been here in ancient times.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

PLANT small salads and radishes in the first week; maragan beans and early frame peas in the last week. If the winter prove mild they will be somewhat earlier than those sown next month or in January. Plant cabbages in beds or close rows till wanted in spring. Store potatoes, beet, carrots, parsnips, etc., by the end of the month. This is the best season for transplanting fruit-trees. Store and lay up very carefully during the month all sorts of apples and pears, the longest-keeping sorts not before the end of the month if the weather be mild. A great part of them may be placed in a close cellar. Plant the greater part of the common bulbs about the end of the month with a few anemones for early flowering. Put in cuttings of all sorts of evergreens. The garden kinds of roses may now be pruned and the suckers removed. Thrift and other edgings may still be planted. Destroy weeds and keep the paths and other parts of the garden neat and clean. Protect any choice flowers from the heavy rains which often fall about this time.

It was a Puzzle.

JOHANNES GELERT, the American sculptor, was in his studio one day, when a man and a woman called. They were apparently a well-to-do farmer and his wife. The sculptor explained to them the mysteries of modelling and casting.

At the end the man said: "There is still one thing that puzzles me."

"What is it?" asked the artist.

"I understand how a statue is in the piece of marble that you buy, but how do you cut away the stuff which is around it?"

"Can I Go On with this Train?"

It was in New York.

"If I want to get off at Seventy-second Street," said a man with a brown valise in his hand, "can I go on with this train?"

"You can, sir," answered the jaunty brakeman. Half an hour later the train whizzed by Seventy-second Street at a thirty-mile gait.

"I thought you told me you stopped at this station!" exclaimed the man with the brown valise sharply.

"Oh, no!" answered the jaunty brakeman pleasantly. "You asked me if you could go on this train. Anybody can go on this train."

That's why the jaunty brakeman got a letter next day from the superintendent of the road expressing regret that the company would be compelled to get along without him.

The man with the brown valise happened to be the president of the road.

The Royal Road to Success.

"WHAT is your secret?" asked a lady of a distinguished painter. He replied, "I have no secret, madam, but hard work."

Also says Dr. Arnold, "The difference between one man and another is not so much in talent as in energy."

"Nothing," says Reynold: "is denied to labour, and nothing is to be obtained without it."

"Excellence in any department," says Johnson, "can now be obtained by the labours of a lifetime, but it is not to be purchased at a lesser price."

"There is but one method," says Sydney Smith, "and that is hard labour; and a man who will not pay that price for distinction had better at once dedicate himself to the pursuit of the fox."

The President of France.

ON the 6th of July M. Loubet, the President of the French Republic, arrived in England, and received a welcome befitting the honoured guest of the King and of the British nation. The Guichen, in which he came to Dover, was met in the Channel by a flotilla of torpedo-destroyers, which escorted her through the lines of warships brought up outside the harbour to her anchorage at their western end.

On the President landing the British fleet fired a salute. He was met at the gangway by the Duke of Connaught.

At Victoria Station, London, a brilliant gathering, which included the King, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of Fife, Prince Christian, the Duke of Argyll, the principal Ministers, Lord Roberts, and the members of the Headquarters Staff, awaited the arrival of the President, who was cordially greeted upon alighting by the King.

The visit came to an end on the 9th of July. Not a single untoward event occurred to mar the enjoyment of the President's stay amongst us, and during it all he won golden opinions from those who met him, and called forth popular sympathy for his country with a fulness which it is given to very few men to elicit.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow early frame peas and mazagan beans in the second week for an early crop. Protect endive, celery, artichokes, and seakale with stable litter or ferns; mulch asparagus with hotbed manure; take up endive, late cauliflowers, early broccoli, and lettuces, and lay them in an open shed or in old cucumber or melon pits, which will protect them from frost, and afford a supply during winter. Plant all sorts of fruit-trees in fine weather—the earlier in the month the better. Commence and carry on the various operations of pruning and nailing when the weather permits. Plant dried tubers of border flowers, but the finer sorts had better be deferred till spring. Protect such half-hardy plants as were not sheltered last month. Plant deciduous trees and shrubs as long as the weather continues favourable, and before the soil has parted with the solar heat absorbed during summer. This is the reason why early autumn planting is so strongly recommended. Tulips must be planted in the first week if the weather permits. They are usually planted in several rows, six inches apart along a four-foot bed. They should be set from three to four inches deep, and surrounded with sand in the same way as hyacinths.

MEETING OF THE KING AND M. LOUBET AT VICTORIA STATION.

Goodness Better than Talent.

"THE older I grow," says George Henry Lewes, "the more clearly I see that intellect is not the highest faculty in man, although the most brilliant. Knowledge, after all, is not the greatest thing in life; it is not the 'be-all' and 'end-all' here. Life is not science. The light of intellect is truly a precious light, but its end and aim is simply to shine. The moral nature of man is more sacred in my eyes than his intellectual nature. I know they cannot be divorced — that without intelligence we should be brutes; but it is the tendency of our gaping, wondering dispositions to give pre-eminence to those faculties which most astonish us. Strength of character seldom if ever astonishes us; goodness, lovingness, and quiet self-sacrifice are worth all the talents in the world."

The Education of Princes.

HERE, according to the Prince de Joinville, is how the children of King Louis Philippe were educated.

"They rose generally," he says, "at five o'clock in the morning. The elder boys went to college in time for the day's class work, took their meals and played with the boarders, and returned home after the evening class. The boys who were not collegians and the girls passed the day at lessons. In the evening pupils and teachers of both sexes all dined together, and afterwards went into the drawing-room, where there was always company, as my parents received visitors every evening. Thursdays and Sundays, being college holidays, were specially devoted to lessons in what were called the pleasing arts (les arts d'agrément) — drawing, music, physical exercises, horsemanship, fencing, single-stick, dancing, etc. On Sunday great and small dined at the large table. This life went on like clock-work, summer and winter."

"Very Gratifying."

MOST of us have met with a certain kind of people who, if they possessed no personal quality which recommended them to favour, would try to make themselves important by dragging in some relative or acquaintance whom they asserted had been on terms of familiarity with the Duke of "This" or the Earl of "That."

A young man of this sort met a lady at a social gathering, and commenced to bore her upon his favourite theme until she grew tired.

"Oh, yes," said she, "it is very gratifying indeed to have distinguished connections. We have had one in our family. I have often heard my father speak of a distant relative who once had the honour of being kicked by George IV." This closed the conversation.

The New Arrival.

HERE are two stanzas from a little poem written by the American author Mr. George Cable many years ago to welcome the coming of his first-born child:—

*There came to port on Sunday night
The queerest little craft,
Without an inch of rigging on.
I looked, and looked, and laughed.
It seemed so curious that she
Should cross the unknown water,
And moor herself right in my room—
My daughter! O my daughter!*

*Ring out wild bells, and tame ones too,
Ring out the lovers' moon,
Ring in the little worsted socks,
Ring in the bib and spoon.
Ring out the muse, ring in the nurse,
Ring in the milk and water;
Away with paper, pen and ink—
My daughter! O my daughter!*

The Servian Tragedy.

THE history of Servia has been marked by several tragedies. In 1817 Kara George, the first Prince of the modern State, fell by the hand of an assassin; in 1862 Prince Michael, third of the Obrenovitch line, was murdered at Topchider; and on the 11th June, 1903, King Alexander and Queen Draga met a similar fate.

The immediate instrument of the death of King Alexander and his wife was a military conspiracy, which had evidently been in existence a considerable time. The conspiracy, however, was only part of a far wider movement, in which many leading persons were included.

It appeared that about two o'clock in the morning a detachment of the 6th Regiment of Infantry marched to the Palace and surrounded the building. The guard, after a conflict in which several soldiers and gendarmes were killed, was overpowered, the main door was shattered by a dynamite bomb, and the conspirators entered the Palace. They proceeded through the reception rooms to the Royal apartments on the first floor, those who resisted their progress being killed.

They then obtained access to the apartment of the King and Queen, and murdered both their majesties, their bodies being thrown out of the window into the court below.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow a few peas and beans as in November. Very few operations can be carried on this month, with the exception of trenching and digging in dry weather—operations which should by all means be attended to. The ground should be thoroughly well turned up for exposure to the frost and snow. Plant all sorts of fruit trees in mild weather. Mulch over the roots of tender trees such as apricot and peach, as they are often so much affected by frost as to be barren in the coming year. Protect, with pruning and nailing, wall-trees whenever an opportunity occurs. Examine the fruit that is in the store room every week and remove all that is found to be in a state of decay. As to the flower garden, the directions for last month will be found equally applicable to this. The store plants in the pit must be kept dry and have full exposure whenever the weather is fair and not frosty; keep them free from dead leaves or damp litter.

THE ASSASSINATION OF THE KING AND QUEEN OF SERVIA.

Evening Amusement.

A VISITOR to a country town asked the local policeman when the theatre opened.

"We have no theatre here."

"Well, the music-hall, then?"

"No, nothing of that kind here."

"Have you no evening amusement at all?"

"Oh, yes," said the policeman; "if you will wait till nine o'clock, you'll see them shunting the goods train!"

In a Kitchen in Paris.

THE Paris kitchen is remarkable for its smallness and its neatness. In the apartment houses it is no more than a closet, but a closet well arranged for the purpose. The floor and the lower part of the wall are tiled, the sink is a big slab of building stone hollowed out, the range adapted for a large fire of coal or a small one of charcoal.

The oven soon becomes a receptacle for extra pans, for no baking is done, the fire being allowed to die out after each meal. To bake? Why, the cook would be indignant, indignant, if you were to ask her to bake anything. What are the bake-shops for, monsieur?

If there is any brand of cake that madame is especially fond of, and she can make the dough for it, cook will take it to the bake-shop, and they will bake it for a few centimes. Or if there is a roast of beef or a leg of lamb, she will take them out to be baked; and it is always done to perfection, at less cost than keeping up the fire.

The battery of copper pans and kettles is the chief beauty of the Parisian kitchen. It takes from forty to sixty of these shining utensils to make a complete set, and they are always kept hanging against the wall. In the apartment houses many of the kitchens are at the front, and the cook on the ground floor likes the passers-by to see the brilliance of the pans.

What is Man?

WHAT, then, is man? He endures, says Carlyle, but for an hour, and is crushed before the moth. Yet in the being and in the working of a faithful man is there always (as all faith from the beginning gives assurance) a something that pertains not to this wild death-element of Time; that triumphs over Time, and is, and will be when Time shall be no more.

Influence.

*I dropped a pebble in the stream,
It sunk for ever from my sight;
A moment in the sun's warm beam
A diamond sparkled warm and bright,
Reflecting far its radiant light.
A circle, small indeed at first,
Widened e'en 'midst the tempest's roar;
Until at last it faintly burst,
And vanished on the farther shore.
A frown, a scowl, an angry glance,
A hasty or unguarded word,
A formal bow, a look askance—
These quicker than a swift-winged bird,
Pierce to the heart like two-edged sword;
Spreading a baleful influence wide,
They cast a mirksome shade and gloom
Across life's rough and troubled tide,
And reach unto the silent tomb.
A word, a look of sympathy,
A penny generously bestowed,
A simple act of courtesy,
A kindly influence shed abroad,
Can from the soul lift many a load—
These angels, deeds, grand and sublime.
Like ripples on the restless sea,
Sweep o'er the fretful stream of time,
And reach into eternity.*

Copies of these are kept at Somerset House, and may be searched on payment of a fee of one shilling. ## A NEW BICYCLE

If there is any reason why you should have a new bicycle, there is every reason why you should have the best for your money. Factory made machines are NOT made of interchangeable parts; therefore, when repairs become necessary, delay and disappointment is generally the result. Whereas if your machine is locally built, time, inconvenience, and much annoyance is saved.

Reasons why you should have your Machine from a Local Maker.

1. Because the local maker is dependent on his local trade, and will therefore use nothing but the very best material in building the machine, if not unduly cut in price.

2. Because the local maker is on the spot, so that you can at any time call and see the machine in course of erection, and also inspect the materials with which it is being built.

3. Because the local maker can supply any tyre, rim, saddle, or other specialty which you may specify.

4. Because the local maker can execute on the spot any repair under guarantee that may be necessary, and thus save the correspondence, delay, worry, and expense entailed in sending your machine to a wholesale maker.

JUST PUBLISHED.

The Intervening Sea.

By DAVID LYALL, Author of "Another Man's Money," "The Gold that Perisheth," &c. With Seven Illustrations by HAROLD COPPING. Large crown 8vo, cloth gilt, 3/6.

In "The Intervening Sea" David Lyall has produced a story full of interest, in which ambition, love, and pathos play their part. A hard-headed, selfish mill-owner, proud of the wealth he has amassed by his great business ability, is led to look at life from a nobler standpoint by the loss of his fortune, and by the example of his younger son Evan. This young fellow, after finishing his Oxford course, wins the hearts of the employees by his practical religion, and by the real interest he shows in their everyday life.
