THE OLD SONGS

I WANT to hear the old songs,
The songs I used to hear,
When every day brought happiness,
And Fancy flouted fear ;
When sunset's glory ever new,
Foretold a morn more bright —
I want to hear the old songs,
Oh, sing me one to-night.

I want to hear the old songs,
No trilling, no roulade,
Where music dons her lace and gems
And trips in masquerade.
But give to me the simple strain
That seeks the heart outright,
And nests within its deepest part —
Ah, sing me one to-night.

I want to hear the old songs,
Their names I need not tell;
The quaint old names mean naught to you,
But I can feel their spell.
Each one, a key, can ope to me
The garden of delight
That blossomed in my vanished youth :
Oh, sing me one to-night.

I want to hear the old songs —
I never hear them now —
The tunes that cheer the tired heart
And smooth the care-worn brow.
Heard in the twilight's dreamy hour,
Best suited to their flight,
Each cadence like a blessing falls —
Ah, sing me one to-night.

I want to hear the old songs,
The gentle lullabies
That reft me of my weariness,
And closed my childish eyes ;
The fabled music of the spheres
Beside those strains would blight.
The dear old songs my mother sang —
Oh, sing me one to-night.

NO ONE TO LOVE

A. H. G. RICHARDSON

W. B. HARVEY
Arranged by A. La Meda*Andante*

1. No one to love, none to ca-ress, Roam-ing a-lone through this world's wil-der-ness,
 2. In dreams a-lone, loved ones I see, And well-known voi-ces then whis-per to me;
 3. No one to love, none to ca-ress, None to re-pond to this heart's ten-der-ness!

Sad is my heart, joy is un-known, For in my sor-row I'm weep-ing a-lone.
 Sigh-ing I wake, wak-ing I weep; Soon with the loved and the lost I shall sleep.
 Trust-ing I wait; God in His love Prom-i-ses rest in His man-sions a-bove.

ROCK ME TO SLEEP, MOTHER

ELIZABETH AKERS ALLEN
(FLORENCE PERCY)

ERNEST LESLIE

Moderato. With expression

1. Backward, turn back-ward, O Time, in your flight, Make me a child a-gain just for to-night!
2. Tired of the hol-low, the base, the un-true, Moth-er, O moth-er, my heart calls for you!
3. O-ver my heart, in the days that are flown, No love like moth-er-love ev-er has shone;
4. Come, let your brown hair, just light-ed with gold, Fall on your shoul-ders a-gain as of old;

Mother, come back from the ech-less shore, Take me a-gain to your heart as of yore;
 Man-y a sum-mer the grass has grown green, Blossomed and fad-ed our fa-ces be-tween;
 No oth-er wor-ship a-bides and en-dures,—Faithful, un-sel-fish, and pa-tient like yours;
 Let it fall o-ver my fore-head to-night, Shad-ing my faint eyes a-way from the light;

Kiss from my fore-head the fur-rows of care, Smooth the few sil-ver threads out of my hair;
 Yet with strong yearning and pas-sion-ate pain, Long I to-night for your pres-ence a-gain;
 None like a moth-er can charm a-way pain From the sick soul and the world-wea-ry brain;
 For with its sun-ny-edged shad-ows once more Hap-ly will throng the sweet vi-sions of yore;

O-ver my slum-bers your lov-ing watch keep;—Rock me to sleep, moth-er,—rock me to sleep.
 Come from the si-lence so long and so deep;—Rock me to sleep, moth-er,—rock me to sleep.
 Slumber's soft calms o'er my hea-vy lids creep;—Rock me to sleep, moth-er,—rock me to sleep.
 Lov-ing-ly, soft-ly its bright billows sweep;—Rock me to sleep, moth-er,—rock me to sleep.

Chorus ad lib.
 Clasped to your heart in a lov-ing em-brace, With your light lash-es just sweep-ing my face, ritard.

 Nev-er here-after to wake or to weep; Rock me to sleep, mother,—rock me to sleep.

HAIL! COLUMBIA

Origin of Hail! Columbia.— This popular National Song was written in 1798 by Judge Hopkinson. At that period a war with France was thought inevitable. Party-spirit ran high among all classes. A theatre was open in Philadelphia, and a young man who had some talent as a singer announced his benefit on its boards. He was acquainted with Judge Hopkinson and, discouraged at his prospect of success, called on him on Saturday afternoon and stated that he feared a loss instead of a benefit, but that if he could get a patriotic song adapted to the tune of "The President's March," then quite popular, he might depend on a full house. The Judge replied that he would try to furnish one. The next afternoon the young man came again, and the song was handed him. It was announced on Monday morning. In the evening the theatre was crowded to excess, and continued to be night after night through the entire season—the song being loudly encored and repeated many times during each night, the audience joining in the chorus. It was sung at night in the streets by large assemblies of citizens, including Members of Congress, and found favor with both parties, as neither could disavow its sentiments.

Text adapted to "The President's March," by Professor PHYLIA

(Which was first played when Washington came to New York to be inaugurated in 1789.)

YANKEE DOODLE

Air unknown. Arr. by F. C.

Origin of Yankee Doodle.— The tune, which originated in France or Holland, was first sung in England to the nursery rhyme "Lucy Locket Lost Her Pocket." It was soon adapted to verses sung by the Cavaliers in ridicule of Cromwell, who was said to have entered Oxford riding a small horse and wearing a single plume fastened to a knot called in derision a "macaroni." In the summer of 1755, the British army lay encamped on the east bank of the Hudson river near Albany, awaiting reinforcements of militia from the Eastern Colonies previous to marching on Ticonderoga. During the month of June these raw levies poured into camp, company after company, each man differently armed and equipped from his neighbors, and the motley whole presenting a spectacle that greatly amused the British officers. Dr. Shamburg, a joke-loving surgeon, gave the new recruits this song, gravely dedicating it to them. To the great amusement of the British, the joke took. Twenty-six years later Cornwallis marched to the same tune into the lines of these same old Continentals to surrender his sword and his army.

- 5 And every time they fired it off
 It took a horn of powder;
 It made a noise like father's gun,
 Only a nation louder.
- 6 I went as near to it myself,
 As Jacob's underpinin';
 And father went as near again —
 I thought the deuce was in him.
- 7 (It scared me so, I ran the streets,
 Nor stopped as I remember,
 Till I got home, and safely locked
 In granny's little chamber.)
- 8 And there I see a little keg;
 Its heads were made of leather,
 They knocked upon't with little sticks,
 To call the men together.
- 9 And there they'd fife away like fun,
 And play on corn-stalk fiddles;
 And some had ribbons red as blood,
 All bound around their middles.
- 10 The troopers too, would gallop up,
 And fire right in our faces;
 It scared me almost half to death,
 To see them run such races.
- 11 Uncle Sam came there to change
 Some pancakes and some onions
 For 'lasses cakes to carry home
 To give his wife and young ones
- 12 But I can't tell you half I see,
 They keep up such a smother;
 So I took my hat off, made a bow,
 And scampered home to mother.

p 2. Could my tears for - ev - er flow, Could my zeal no lan-guor know. These for sin could not a - tone; pp 3. While I draw this fleet-ing breath, When my eyes shall close in death, When I rise to worlds un-known,

From Thy side, a heal-ing flood, Be of sin the dou-ble cure, Save from wrath and make me pure.

Thou must save, and Thou a-lone: In my hand no price I bring; Sim-ply to Thy cross I cling.

And be - hold Thee on Thy throne, Rock of A - ges, cleft for me, Let me hide my-self in Thee. A - MEN.

SOFTLY NOW THE LIGHT OF DAY

GEORGE W. DOANE

CARL MARIA VON WEBER

1. Soft - ly now the light of day Fades up - on my sight a - way;
 2. Thou, whose all per - vad - ing eye Naught es - capes, with - out, with - in,
 3. Soon for me the light of day Shall for - ev - er pass a - way;
 4. Thou, who sin - less, yet hast known All of man's in - firm - i - ty;

Free from care, from la - bor free, Lord, I would com - mune with Thee.

Par - don each in - firm - i - ty, O - pen fault and se - cret sin.

Then, from sin and sor - row free, Take me, Lord, to dwell with Thee.

Then, from Thine e - ter - nal throne, Je - sus, look with pit - ying eye.

AS A LITTLE CHILD

1 As a little child relies

On a care beyond its own,

Knows beneath its father's eyes

It is never left alone.—

2 So let me, a child, receive

What to-day Thou shalt provide,

Calmly to Thy wisdom leave

What to-morrow may be-tide.

3 Quiet, Lord, my froward heart.

Make me loving, meek and mild,

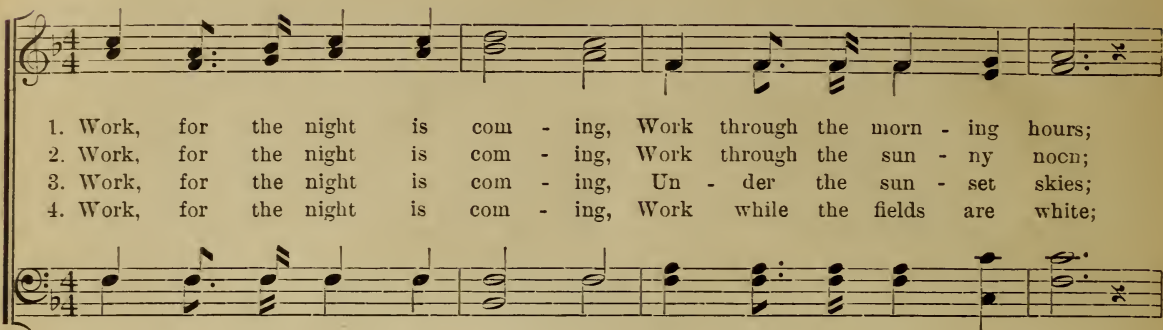

Upright, simple, free from art,

Make me as a little child.

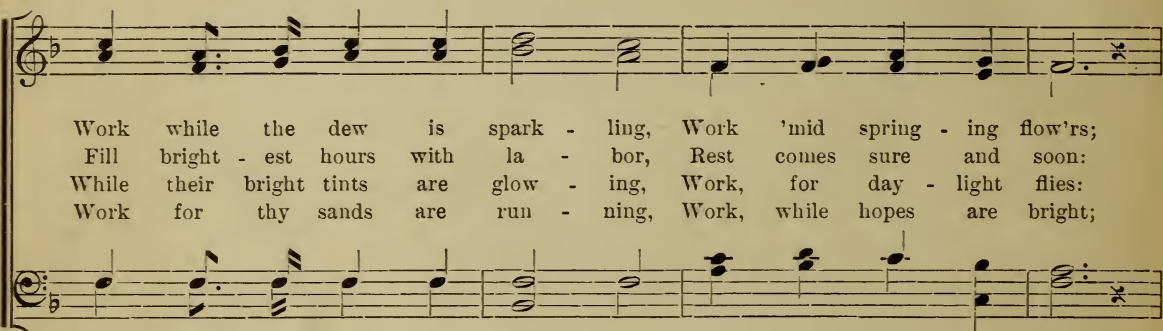

WORK, FOR THE NIGHT IS COMING

COLLEGE SONG BOOKS

COLLEGE SONGS

(New and Enlarged Edition)

Price 50 cents, by mail, post-paid

This, by far the most popular college song collection ever published, has been enlarged by the addition of twenty-eight favorites, making a total of one hundred and thirteen songs. Bound in heavy paper.

COLLEGE SONGS FOR GIRLS

Price, post-paid, $1.00

A collection of fifty-three songs arranged for women's voices. Bound in heavy paper, cloth back.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY SONGS

Price, $1.25, post-paid

Much of the new material in this book is original with Columbia men—notably the 'Varsity Show Songs. The football songs of recent years are here published for the first time in complete form. There are sixty-seven songs and one hundred and twenty-eight pages of music. Bound in cloth.

DARTMOUTH SONGS

Price, post-paid, $1.00

With one exception, no song in this collection has been previously published. Addison F. Andrews, Ethelbert Nevin, Homer N. Bartlett, Frederic Field Bullard, P. A. Schnecker, and other well-known composers' contributions to this new book of college songs, attest its worth from a musician's standpoint. Bound in heavy paper.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY SONGS

Price, post-paid, $1.50

The music is authoritative in arrangement, and the majority of the songs are not obtainable in any other collection. Each of the twenty-seven songs has a decorative heading, drawn by a Harvard man. Bound in cloth.

THE NEW HARVARD SONG BOOK

Price, post-paid, $1.00

A collection of distinctly Harvard Songs. The original edition issued in 1891, contained thirty-four songs. The revised edition contains fifty-five songs, including popular new songs as sung by the Harvard Glee Club. Well bound in heavy paper, cloth back cover.

TECH SONGS

Edited by FREDERIC FIELD BULLARD, '87

Price, post-paid, $1.25

This, the first published collection of Tech Songs, is due chiefly to the efforts of President Pritchett, whose plan for better and more general comradeship embraced a Tech Union, Tech Kommerz, and a book of Tech Songs. The book is handsomely bound in cloth, with illuminated title and contains forty-nine numbers.

COLLEGE SONGS AND POPULAR BALLADS FOR THE GUITAR

(Published also with Banjo accompaniment)
