IMBOLC 2006

Imbolc / Winter 2006

Welcome to the Clan Gregor newsletter. Inside you'll find information, pictures, and anecdotes, detailing the recent happenings in the Clan Gregor. We certainly hope you enjoy what you see. More so, we hope you will wander through and visit the pages following this one that list the septs and aliases recognized by the Clan Gregor. If you find your family name among these, joining the Gregor clan may be a move you wish to consider.

The newsletter contained here is only part of the entire publication, released especially for preview purposes. The entire newsletter is just one of the benefits of becoming a Gregor Clan member, the others being fun, fun, and fun!

A membership form follows the septs and aliases page.

Again, we certainly hope you do enjoy your visit and most definitely hope you will join the Gregor clan!

Thank you,

Carl Basile

IMBOLC

Imbolc, also known as Candlemas and Groundhog's Day, occurs at the beginning of February. It marks the middle of Winter and holds the promise of Spring. The Goddess manifests as the Maiden and Brigid. The Groundhog is a manifestation of the God. Colors are White, and sometimes Red. It is a festival of spiritual purification and dedication.

Brigid is the Celtic Goddess of inspiration, healing, and smithcraft. She is one of the best examples of the survival of a Pagan Goddess into Christian times. She was canonized as St. Brigit by the Roman Catholic Church and various stories are given of Her origins and Her life. She was a Druid's daughter, described in the Carmina Gadelica as the "daughter of Dugall the brown." She is reported to have predicted the coming of Christianity and to have been baptized by St. Patrick. Popular folk tales describe Her as the midwife to the Virgin Mary, and She is thus always called upon by women in labor. The Christian St. Brigit was a nun, and later an Abbess, who founded an Abbey at Kildare in Ireland. She was said to have had the power to appoint the bishops of Her area, an unlikely role for an Abbess, made stranger by Her unusual requirement that these bishops also be practicing goldsmiths.

*If Candlemas day be fair and bright,
Winter will have another flight.
If Candlemas day be shower and rain,
Winter is gone and will not come again.*

The Clan Gregor Society instituted in 1822 is one of the oldest clan societies. Today the Society is a growing organization with membership throughout the world. Its most active objectives are to extend the links of kinship and friendship between MacGregors wherever they may be and to provide a focal point for all members of the Clan and, indeed, any interested visitors who wish to learn more of our past. The Society promotes and encourages research into Clan Gregor and the publication or information pertaining to its history, tradition, and genealogy. The Society extends, a warm welcome to persons bearing names included in list A and to those with maternal descent from an eligible person. Persons bearing names or descent from names in Lists B and C who can show evidence of descent or a family tradition or MacGregor connection are also eligible for membership. Names in list D are properly the domain of other Clan and Family societies, however we would welcome enquiries from persons bearing these names who can show their descent from a MacGregor who adopted the name as an alias.

From the Desk of the Chapter President:

Dear Fellow Gregors,

Happy New Year to each and every one. I hope you all had a most enjoyable Christmas season with family and friends and loved ones. It hardly seems possible we are already in a new year!

Since I last wrote, I attended the Tartan Ball in Sacramento on the 19th November, and as usual, had a very enjoyable time, meeting with friends and acquaintances, enjoying demonstrations of highland dancing and piping, eating, participating in the silent auction, then highland and ballroom dancing ourselves. One of the most amusing aspects of the evening was coincidental; at the club where our event was held, a large crowd of young people had booked an adjoining room for a graduation celebration, which included a lot of more modern, or "younger generation" dancing. Somehow, one of the pipers there for our function, while standing outside our room, got invited in to their celebration and entertained them with several rousing bagpipe tunes to which they found they could easily continue their dancing; this so impressed and delighted them that they invited any of the others of us that wanted to join them as we left our function. Several of us did so, Patricia and I included, and the two of us were very shortly split up by a nearby young couple; the young man dancing with Patricia, and the young lady with myself, for quite an extended period of time! It was most amusing and entertaining, and the young folk were very friendly!

The final Scottish event of the year for us was the Annual Scottish Christmas Walk in the small old gold-era town of Volcano, near Jackson. As usual, many people from various clans and other friendships assembled themselves in town during the course of the afternoon, then as darkness fell, lit up candles and lanterns, and this year we were lucky to be led by a piper, in a procession through the streets of town, ending up at the local Catholic Church, just before the conclusion of evening Mass. The Priest then came out and "fed" the assembled multitude with the traditional blessing in Gaelic. (For the loaves and fishes we had to make our own arrangements, and we had!) Us Gregors, ten of us, assembled ourselves at Giannini's, an Italian restaurant in nearby Pine Grove, which apparently we had done in years past. We had a most enjoyable get-together around a meal that lasted about three hours! They just kept on bringing more courses, but I didn't hear anyone complaining, certainly not me! It was a most amicable occasion, with excellent service amidst the ambience of the Italian decor. Definitely worth repeating in my opinion. Those from our Clan who attended the Christmas Walk, and the dinner afterwards, were Carolyn and Bob Stoops, who had come all the way from their new home in Oregon, Ed and Raiyn Moore, Jerry and Alice White and daughter and son-in-law, and Patricia and myself. The majority of us were staying at the Best Western in Jackson, and arranged to meet for breakfast together at the adjacent Denny's for breakfast the next morning. Imagine everyone's surprise when we found we had the same waitress as we had at the Italian restaurant the night before! This certainly contributed to making the breakfast more amusing and entertaining! Shortly after breakfast, Bob and Carolyn had to leave to go back to Oregon, and after that the rest of us said our "goodbyes" and headed off in various directions to make our way home. Much to our further surprise, later in the morning, all the rest of us ran into each other again in a used bookstore in downtown Jackson that Ed had recommended earlier in the weekend!

The Christmas/New Year period in the northern California area was characterised by quite a lot of "Highland" weather, with a lot of days of rain, mist, fog, and some areas of flooding; the rain having been going on continuously for a couple of days as I write here on January 2nd. Things are decidedly soggy!

Probably the next Scottish event for most of us is the traditional Burns Dinner, in celebration of Robbie Burn's birthday in January. Hooray, more haggis, and I'm actually not being facetious; I genuinely like the stuff I have been served, and go back for 2nd and 3rd helpings! After all, it's just "Scottish meatballs", although I believe the chef who makes it for our Burn's dinner doesn't include all the traditional "innards", (or roadkill!) However, I've never much liked the taste of whiskey, so Patricia is delighted to get my share of the stuff they serve with the haggis.

Following the Burn's Dinners is the Queen Mary Scottish Festival and Games in Long Beach on the 18th and 19th of February. We don't know whether we will make it to that or not, yet.

As of this writing, it looks as though the next Clan Gregor Council Meeting is going to have to be scheduled for one of the first two weekends in March, to try and avoid clashing with the afore-mentioned Queen Mary Festival, and subsequent Scottish events. This will, however, be subject to availability and approval of Councilors. Any items of business anyone would like to have discussed would need to be submitted to me somewhat prior to that time so it can get on the agenda. We still have no Secretary followingCarolynn Black-Stoops relocation in Oregon, and her resignation.)

Well, when I started writing this on 2nd January (so I could send it in early for a change), we were having Scottish weather, and here today on the 14th we are having the same. I thought I had sent this to our editor already, but senility and "old-timers" disease has struck again, and my memory has once again let me down! I have however today e-mailed our Clan Councilors re the proposed dates for the next Council meeting.

I hope you are all having a successful and enjoyable start to the year 2006, which will continue as the year progresses.

I look forward to re-uniting with as many of you as possible as the Scottish events calendar unfolds throughout the year.

Regards, Glynn Clark, President.
