30 November 2018

Dear Alastair

In later September 2018, I was going another project, when I stumbled onto your family tree research on the electricscotland.com website. As I was leaving to go the USA for four weeks, in a few days' time, I copied the data down and filed it. And last week, after I contacted Beth Gay Freeman, whom I meet again at Stone Mountain Games, she gave me your Email address, which I could not find on electricscotland, so I can now send the Family Tree I draft on your Boyd family from Largs. If I do not write this down, I will quickly forget what I said to you.

One of my roles as Chairman of the Historical Committee of the House of Boyd Society is to try to find Boyd families wherever they are in the World and include them in Clan Boyd of Scotland. This is an effort to build a Clan Boyd Pyramid of its descendants from pre-1,200. It will also add to the over 900 Boyd families (in over 10,000 pages) that I have collected so far and make it much easier to make connections. During my recent seven trips to Britain and the USA, I have found a further three thousand plus of new Boyd families but I have not had time to process these data into family trees yet. I have not yet sorted out my papers from this trip but assume that I will have found another 700 to 800 new Boyd families to turn into Family Chapters or 14 to 16 new Volumes of Clan Boyd of Scotland. I have been going to the USA annually since 2010 and manned a number of Boyd tents at Games in various States and normally during these Games I visit other tents to meet other Clans.

(i) I have turned the data that you have on your website into Family Chapter 19/975 in FILE W19658VE.doc, starting on my page 39, under the title - 19/975 BOYD OF Largs, Ayrshire, Elizabeth Boyd & John McIntyre.

(ii) When I finish this letter, I will post two queries to the AYRSHIRE net list about the Census from 1851 and the other one that you have cited in this website, to see if anyone is researching any of the other siblings to your direct Boyd family or might know anything about this Boyd Fisherman family.

(iii) Have you been able to find anything out about where this Boyd family were buried in Largs? And were they buried with any other Boyd families?

(iv) From what is known of our Boyd history, Simon the half-brother of Walter the first High Stewart came together and settled in Renfrewshire, but I do not know this date. (I have just written to the Chairman of Clan Stewart in America, with a number of questions about Boyd and Stewart history, along with a number of articles that I have written about Boyd history.)

It is thought that they settled in the Barony of Gaven and Risk, which is east of Castle Semple Lock and has the A 737 running through it. I know that in the early 1700's, when either the 3rd or 4th Earl of Kilmarnock were going to visit 13 tenants, that he called vassals. Which, when I saw it though was a strange term to us in the 1700's. As I have never seen a map of this Barony, I am not sure if it may also include Boydtone, down near the Renfrewshire/Ayrshire border or not. Or if this was a second Boyd Barony.

It is also known that after the Battle of Largs in 1263, where the Boyd got our Motto of "Confido", as the King said that I trust Sir Robert Boyd (II) to do the task of defending Goldenberry Hill above Hunterston, (about 5 or 7 miles south of Largs) and that is also when we got the "hand" symbol as well, that the King gave Sir Robert Boyd lands in Cunninghame, Ayrshire, but not where. I think that some of this land was one or more of the Boyd estates listed in April 1467, when Thomas Boyd, Earl of Arran, married Princess Mary Stewart, that are listed just outside of Largs.

Then at Bruce's coronation in March 1306 at Scone, Sir Robert Boyd (IV), was listed as being a small landowner from Cunninghame, Ayrshire, but not where these lands were. He was the only Ayrshire landowner listed amongst the 21 named people at this coronation.

(v) Over the years I have written a number of articles on various parts of our Boyd history. Would you like me to send you some of these? Some of these question the "common" statements that the Boyds came from Bute or that they were vassals of the de Morvilles in Ayrshire.

(vi) While I am also trying to build data around a number of "questions on Boyd history" – such as

1. DNA shows
2. Stewart & Boyd Links with DNA
3. Simon Boyd's 6 children
4. First mention of the name Boyd - 1,111
5. 1205 Irvine - Scots Peerage, page 136.

6. Vassals of the de Morville (Folder 08M #3A)

The Boyds are Norman and not Gaelic?

I have written up some details that I have under some of these headings. I hope that in time, these and other topic/questions can be added to the History page of the House of Boyd Society webpage, so that they can become the starting point of a dynamic history of our clan. And allow others to add what material they might find to PROVE or DISPROVE, my statements and data that I have found in references.

At present we only have a single page on Clan Boyd history, on our webpage, when it should be both generic and under the various Countries that Clan Boyd members migrated to from 1111 A. D. With some of that coming under the "heading" of Myth.

(vii) When I was checking something else, I found Beth Gay's article on electricScotland about the book Scottish Clan and Family Encyclopaedia, by George Way of Plean and Romilly Squire, in the third edition of 2017.

Our Genealogical Society, only had the first edition of 1994 – which I copied last week – but I noticed that it a number of errors in regard to Clan Boyd. And our State Library only had the 2nd Edition of it. I think that my daughter will buy me the third edition for Xmas and I was advised by our Genealogical Society, a few days ago, that they will also buy a copy of this book as well. So hopefully, shortly, I can see this third edition to see what it now says about Clan Boyd. Although, I expect that I may have to correspond with Romilly about certain aspects of our Boyd history they have written.

viii) Are you aware of what Scotland is planning for the 700th anniversary of Arbroath on 6 April 2020?

Perhaps this is the real Independence for Scotland and not the Battle Bannockburn in 1314?

It is a great pity that the Scottish Government, can't organise a clans gathering the weekend before at Edinburgh and then on the Monday supply trains to take the 25 to 50,000 people up to Arbroath for whatever might be planned for this 700th anniversary. If they do not do something, they will miss out on a very good opportunity to promote Scottish Tourism. Arbroath could not accommodate that number of people.

I went to both the Clans Gathering at Edinburgh in 2009 and to Bannockburn in 2014. And the Edinburgh event was far better than the 30 clan tents at Bannockburn rather than the 140 tents at Edinburgh.

I think that is all that I can help you with at the present.

I would certainly like to get what information you have for your Boyd family so I can include them in a family Chapter in a Volume of Clan Boyd of Scotland. With you as the source of these details (or other family members). It will allow me to build onto it in the future. I would contribute that information to you, so any future researchers can contact you about it. Clan Boyd of Scotland is a collection of Boyd families in an effort to build a pyramid of the Clan. The bases of these family chapters is to show a families origins; include the known details; sources of the information; any books/publications on the family and list known researchers or possible researchers (type of family Research Group). The third Edition of I think at present I only have 2 or 3 such families, so I might leave that task to someone else and just collect Boyd families.

The information I would ideally like to be able to include are full names (including common name); date and place of birth, death and marriage (incl. church); place of burial; to whom married; spouses' parents, children; and where they lived. This format also allows for a small history to be included on each individual. The initial draft need not have all this information and it is more important to list children and other descendants etc. The best way is to send it to me electronically as I am not the world's fastest typist. When you send that, I could then type it up and send it back to you to ensure that I have it correctly layout. It is on Word processing in Word for Windows 2 so allows you to add what you like. Depending on your objective, it can be used as a research tool to record what you have done to find information about an individual; as an appendix to a family history or as I am doing just a straight genealogy and recording who were members of the Clan. My aim as said above is to build a pyramid of the Clan, which will make it much easier for people to fit their family into the Clan. I think the above details for each Boyd descendant will help build the Clan Pyramid.

I would like to get your full postal address please, so I can pass on your name to others when I think I might get a match. Are you aware of any other Boyd researchers/families who I might be able to include on my researcher's list as well please. The details I would like to include here are:-

NAME OF RESEARCHER;
ADDRESS;
EARLIEST KNOWN DATE;
EARLIEST KNOWN LOCATION; AND EARLIEST KNOWN NAME;

Feel free to pass on my name to anyone you might come across who have a Boyd in their family tree, so I can add their Boyd or Boyd descendants to the Clan Boyd Pyramid or any Family History Group that you are involved with.

To develop your family tree, I would also strongly recommend that you post to the BOYD@rootsweb.com net list, so you can advertise your Boyd Branch. This can be about telling the list more about your Boyds; asking for help to find his parent and or sibling, etc It is best to put only one idea or request in each message. The messages that go to the list are also kept in the archives, so it means that other people can look back and see if anyone is researcher their ancestor. I am not quite sure what is happening with the Boyd Net list at present. There were no postings between 3 October and 30 October, while I was away in the USA. And about a week ago, I a "reject" message for about 9 messages from 1 October to about 10 November which I have yet to get time to look at, as to why they did not go through, when they went though some of the other rootsweb.com net sites that I am on.

As I have said above, it would be very good if you could write a series of short stories for Dean Road on your Boyd's. The editor of DR is Kevin McLachlan – his email address is editor@clanboyd.org So if you can submit any articles that are ready to publish that would help him greatly. Initially this could be your direct tree from yourself back to your first known Boyd and there could also be one on who are their known children; while a third article could be on whom you think the parents might be, etc. There could also be quires on later generation – parents and children – to try to find lost cousins from those Branches.

So, have you undertaken DNA testing? You will need to get the 67-marker DNA test to see if your male origins come from. I have been told that they can tell you locations from these tests? I understand that if you go to this website you can get the details of how to go about getting the test done - <http://www.familyreedna.com/group-j-oin.aspx?Group=Scottish-Clans> Hopefully this will "show" the linkage and the number of generations back to where is a common link. So, it will be interesting to see if you can make any linkage with any other Boyd family and where they came from. In recent times, I have started to put those details at the beginning of each family chapter.

Over the last few months I am not quite sure if my personnel Email mikejboyd@bigpond.com is working all the time, as some people report it has "bounced". So, it might be best to use both the above and my House of Boyd Email historian@clanboyd.org, which drops to me private Email.

I look forward to hearing from you in the future to add further details to your Boyd family and their origins.

Kind regards

Mike Boyd

19/971 BOYD OF Kilmarnock [17], Elizabeth Boyd & Mr Bankhead (CB17080)

This Elizabeth Boyd's origins in Kilmarnock, Ayrshire, before 1667 is not known in June 2018.

Where did the date of her birth of 1667 and place of birth come from?

What is this family's migration path to the USA and throughout the USA?

[Lived:]

There is a number of websites for a James Bankhead, Jr, born about 1713 that went to Westmoreland County, Virginia and also seems to have settled in Caroline County, Virginia. However, these sites do not currently provide any details for James Bankhead, SR. and if his parents are Elizabeth Boyd and Robert Bankhead.

It is undoubtedly this Robert #6 who witnessed the wedding of Sarah Gordon in 1699.

The following baptismal entries are to be found in the IGI, having been initially missed by the author. William 25/6/1732, Alexander 5/6/1733, Janet 16/3/1735, William 6/1/1737, James 18/3/1739, Euphan 27/2/1741, Mary 16/3/1743. The children of William Bankhead #7 who married Euphan Allan on 24th July 1732.

This source seems to list "additional" children to what Paula Lampkin provided me with in June 2018. (I think she had 3 children listed, so I will make these two the 4th and 5th children, but they may need to be renumbered when more data is found.

 4. ANNABELLA2 REID (THOMAS1) was born 6 October, 1759 in Stevenston. She married ROBERT REID CUNNINGHAME 22 January, 1781 in Stevenston, son of JOHN REID and ANN CUNNINGHAME.

Notes for ROBERT REID CUNNINGHAME:

Robert Reid Cunninghame was born Robert Reid.

It is recorded in several works that in the case of the marriage of 1737, John Reid was the second son of the Rev. William Reid (the first was Thomas, father of Robert Reid of Adamton), and he and Ann, who was heiress to the Auchinarvie lands, had two sons. Of these, Robert Reid became possessor of the Cunningham property at Auchinharvie and added the name Cunninghame to his own, and John went to India, married a Miss Boileau, and had a numerous family.

1770 Robert Reid, eldest son of John Reid of Auchinharvie succeeded his father and in consequence of a special arrangement with the heir-portioners, acquired the estate of Auchinharvie and added the name Cunninghame to his own. He entered into a co-partnership with Mr Warner of Ardeer to work the coal on their respective properties. Mr Reid Cunninghame of Auchinharvie being the sole manager.

19/975 BOYD OF Largs, Ayrshire, Elizabeth Boyd & John McIntyre

The family of Alistair McIntyre of Electric Scotland, is based on data from the website –

Alastair McIntyre's Genealogy - Electric Scotland

<https://electricsscotland.com/history/other/genealogy.htm>

James Boyd of Largs, Ayrshire is said to have been a fisherman. So would this help to trace his "father"? And were James Boyd's siblings also fishermen at Largs? If so, can any records be found for them? And could this family be linked to those fishermen who are said to have lived in the ruin castle at Portincross (but whose names were never cited) in the 1700's. Or could they have come from one of the Boyd families from around Largs, Ayrshire or even those that lived on Kintyre, Argyllshire from the early 1600's or before?

U1? James Boyd, b / /176x (town, etc), d / /184x (town, Ayrshire?), died before 1851 Census, bu Largs? m / /180x (Church, town, Ayrshire), Margaret Crawford, dau of Ninian Crawford and Margaret Beith, bc / /1777 (town, etc), d 9/9/1862 (8 New Street, Largs, Ayrshire), bu Largs (?), and issue:-

[Lived: 1851: Lade Street, Largs, Ayrshire, Scotland]

Details? There does not appear to be any IGI entries for either James Boyd and Margaret Crawford in the 1994 IGI for the UK. Are there any OPR entries? From the Electric Scotland website - "On 9th September 1862, at 8.30pm, at 8 New Street, Largs, Margaret Boyd, relict of James Boyd, fisherman, died, aged 85, daughter of Ninian Crawford (Mason) and Margaret Crawford m/s Beith

Cause of death: Senile debility, dropsy and incipient gangrene of foot

Certified by: I Campbell MD

Informant: Ninian Boyd, son

(Ref: 1862)

There was no sign of Margaret's birth, nor of her parents' marriage."

Need to get the 1841 Census for Largs to get details on James and other possible children born to him and Margaret. Need to check Cemetery records for Largs for this family and other Boyds?

The more than two year gap between the known children's birth, would suggest that other children were born to this couple? Is this correct? If so, can they be found? Where?

From the Electric Scotland website it says -

“Although there is a question mark concerning the paternity of Alexander McIntyre, there is no doubt that his mother was Elizabeth Boyd, daughter of Crawford.

Her parents' marriage was found as follows:

 June 7 Crawford Boyd, fisher and Alice Wood, both residing in this Parish.

Details? In the 1881 Census for Crawford Boyd and Family is listed “Alex McMillan Grandson 2 Largs, Ayrshire”. But there is no indication as to whom his parents are from the Census. He could be a child born to a McMillan couple and the mother having died at birth, “Alex” was taken in by this Boyd family. However, the website suggests that he is more likely to be the son of Elizabeth Boyd. DNA testing may be required to determine this theory.

John would have been born in about 1851 whereas Statutory Civil Registration didn't start in Scotland until 1855. Before that one has to rely on the Old Parochial Registers (OPRs). There were almost 1,000 parishes in Scotland, and not all of the old registers have survived. It was not really until the early part of the 18th Century that the maintenance of OPRs became reasonably widespread. The registers were usually the responsibility of the Session Clerk and some were much more diligent than others. The secession of 1733 had an adverse effect and many of those who seceded refused, on principle, to register baptisms with the Established Church. In 1783, an act was passed imposing a tax of three pence on every entry; this also deterred many from registering.

John's birth, and his parents marriage, were both discovered in Largs:

JOHN, 2nd child of Archibald MCINTYRE in Largs, and Margaret Blair his wife, was born 20th December 1851, and baptised on the 25th January 1852 by the Revd J Kinross
