

Savocho (and Auchnagatt): The war memorial stands in the churchyard of Savocho Church. There is no church in the nearby village of Auchnagatt.

The memorial commemorates the dead of WW1 and WW2; it is made from polished pink granite (Perhaps Peterhead granite). It is made from a large engraved square block standing on a two-step base surmounted by a tall tapering rectangular 20ft obelisk. It is engraved 'Greater love has no man than that a man lay down his life for his friends', and also 'In loving and grateful remembrance of the men of Savocho who fell in the Great War 1914 – 1918'.
