Towards the end of the 16th Century drums and fifes became a recognised part of the military establishment. All Captains were required to have drummers and fifers in their companies. One of their duties was to ensure that all soldiers in the company recognised their company march. In Scotland the bagpipes had for centuries been the mainstay of martial music, particularly in the Highlands. Contemporary reports from the 1630’s mention a pipe band in Hepburn’s Regiment of 36 musicians and refer to “The Scottish March” believed to be the forerunner of Dumbarton’s Drums.

Throughout history there are many examples of military musicians raising the morale of fighting troops at critical moments in battle. Piper George Findlater on the North West Frontier of Afghanistan in 1897, Bugle Major John Shaul in South Africa in 1899 and Piper Daniel Laidlaw at the battle of Loos on the Western Front in 1915, all of whom were awarded the Victoria Cross. Indeed up to the beginning of the 20th century musical instruments such as drums, bugles and bagpipes were used to pass commands and orders during battle.

Soldiers have a rich history of writing and singing songs to raise morale and to foster a unit identity distinct from other regiments. This publication is intended to list those marches, tunes, calls and songs relevant to the battalions of The Royal Regiment of Scotland.

It also lays down the routine and ceremonial dress worn by pipers, drummers and bandsmen of Pipes and Drums and Military Bands within the Regiment.

REGIMENTAL MUSIC

General
With such a rich heritage, The Royal Regiment of Scotland has inherited a wealth of Regimental music for both the Pipes and Drums and the Military Band.

Music is an essential part of Regimental life. Each battalion of the Regiment has its own Band of Pipes and Drums manned by soldiers who receive their musical training at the Army School of Bagpipe Music and Highland Drumming in Edinburgh. The Regiment also has its own Military Band formed from soldiers of the Corps of Army Music, and the 6th and 7th Battalions each have a Military Band made up of Territorial Army musicians. These Bands are known as the Band of The Royal Regiment of Scotland, The Lowland Band and The Highland Band of The Royal Regiment of Scotland. These Bands are an intrinsic part of the Regiment’s life and should be a first class advertisement for the Army and the Regiment.

Pipes and Drums
The Pipe Bands are known as the Pipes and Drums and are divided into two sections: the Pipers under the Pipe Major and the Drummers under the Drum Major. Pipers and Drummers are soldiers first and the Pipes and Drums platoon has an operational role in each battalion order of battle. All Drummers should also be trained as buglers. The Drum Major is normally in over-all command of the Pipes and Drums although this can be the Pipe Major on seniority.

The Pipe Majors are responsible for the preservation and maintenance of Scottish and Highland tradition within battalions and for training the Pipers. They have direct access to their Commanding Officers on these matters.

Each battalion appoints a Pipe President who is an officer of field rank and responsible for the management of the Pipes and Drums.

Military Band
The Military Band is as integral a part of the Regiment. Within the Corps of Army Music the Band is the repository for and authority on Scottish music in all its forms. As such it has a crucial responsibility to maintain and build the repertoire of Scottish music, to keep alive the folk/ceilidh band tradition and to promote the work of composers who have served in one or other of the Scottish regiments (eg Alford, Howe, and Lamb etc). The Military Band is commanded by the Director of Music, normally an officer of the rank of captain, supported by a Bandmaster in the rank of WO1. The Territorial Army bands can be commanded by either a commissioned Director of Music or a Warrant Officer Class1 Bandmaster, these are invariably ex regular Directors of Music. The Band may be detached on engagements away from the Regiment for long periods.

In conflict situations the military band’s primary role is in support of the Army Medical Services (eg Iraq in 2003); importantly the Band’s musical contribution supports the moral component of fighting power.
The Army School of Bagpipe Music and Highland Drumming

The School teaches all levels of piping and drumming from novice to Pipe Major and Drum Major courses. It is commanded by the Director of Music - a Captain or Major assigned from the Regiment.

Regimental and ‘Battalion Music’ – Guidelines for Precedence

The guiding principle for selecting music is that any occasion where officers or soldiers of the Regiment are on parade or otherwise present in or out of uniform (e.g. at Dinner nights etc) is a Regimental occasion. Therefore, Regimental music is to feature appropriately and be given due precedence. Each battalion has a large store of antecedent regimental music from which to draw. That store is to be used to supplement Regimental music rather than supplant it. Where there is a Regimental tune for a particular occasion or event then it is to be played and is to take precedence over Battalion music. For example, while the appropriate antecedent regimental march can be played on battalion occasions the Regimental Quick March should be played on all Regimental occasions. It is the senior Pipe Major’s and/or Director of Music’s responsibility to ensure that Regimental music is given due precedence on all occasions.
REGIMENTAL MARCHES AND TUNES

The Regimental Quick March
Pipes and Drums: Scotland the Brave.
Military Band: Scotland the Brave.

Scotland the Brave is played on every occasion where a musical element of the Regiment is present, normally to close proceedings and on any occasion involving SCOTS officers or soldiers when music is provided by other Bands.

The Regimental Slow March
Pipes and Drums: The Slow March of the Royal Regiment of Scotland.
Military Band: The Slow March of the Royal Regiment of Scotland.

Composed when the Regiment was formed in 2006, the march is an arrangement of 3 slow marches: My Home, Mist Covered Mountains and Highland Cradle Song.

JOCK’S SONGS

A SCOTTISH SOLDIER

There was a soldier, a Scottish soldier
Who wandered far away and soldiered far away
There was none bolder,
with good broad shoulder
He’s fought in many a fray,
and fought and won
He’d seen the glory and told the story
Of battles glorious and deeds victorious
But now he’s sighing, his heart is crying
To leave these green hills of Tyrol.

Chorus

Because these green hills are not highland hills
Or the island hills, they’re not my land’s hills
And fair as these green foreign hills may be
They are not the hills of home.

And so this soldier, this Scottish soldier
Will wander far no more,
and soldier far no more.
And on a hillside, a Scottish hillside
You’ll see a piper play his soldier home.
He’d seen the glory, he’d told his story
Of battles glorious and deeds victorious
The bugles cease now, he is at peace now,
Far from those green hills of home.

Sung to the tune the Green Hills of Tyrol.
JOCK’S SONGS

BLUE BONNETS OVER THE BORDER

March, march Ettrick and Teviotdale.
Why, my lads dinna ye march forward in order.
March, march Eskdale and Liddesdale.
Awe the Blue Bonnets are over the border.

Many a banner spread,
flutters above your head.
Many a crest that is famous in story.
Mount and make ready then,
sons of the mountain glen.
Fight for your king and the old Scottish glory.

Come from the hills where your
Hirsels are grazing.
Come from the Glen of the Buck and the Roe.
Come to the Crag where the Beacon is blazing.
Come with the Buckler, the Lance,
and the Bow.

March, march Ettrick and Teviotdale.
Why, my lads dinna ye march forward in order.
March, march Eskdale and Liddesdale.
Awe the Blue Bonnets are over the border.

Trumpets are sounding,
war steeds are bounding.
Stand to your arms and march in good order.
England shall many a day tell
of the bloody fray.
When the Blue Bonnets came over the border.
HEY WEE MAN

Hey Wee Man wi the Big Stick in your hand
Won’t you play a simple melody
Just to remind me of the girl I left behind me.
Won’t you play a simple melody.

For I’m coming back Bonny Mary,
I’m coming back to you.
I’m coming back to the good old summer time,
where the Bagpipes are playing for Auld Lang Syne.
And I know she will be waiting, to greet me
with a smile.
For we roam the hills together,
amongst the purple heather.
Bonny Mary O’r Argyll.

Well we held a Grand Procession as we marched before the Queen.
Ten thousand Kilted Warriors the like you’ve never seen.
At first they thought we were Zulus from the Bank beyond the Nile.
Until you heard us singing
Bonny Mary O’r Argyll.

For we’re all Scotsmen, everyone’s a Scotsman.
Buffalo Bill from Maryhill, ever worked and never will.
Aye Man, believe it if you can.
There was Heilan jocks wi Tartan Socks.
Scotsmen Everyone.

Through the day and through the night.
Wi, our brasses shining bright.
We set out from Milton Bridge in Battle Order.
From the Harwich to the Hook,
and on to Barrack’s Brook.
We’re the First Battalion The Royal Regiment
of Scotland.

It was there we had a laugh.
We were stationed with the RAF.
In a wee place in the hills
that they called Gatow.
Well we fought the Yorks and Lancs.
We’re the First Battalion The Royal Regiment
of Scotland.

For Border lads and wild are we.
And ill to keep in order.
There’s no a toon compares the Crown.
Hawick’s Queen of all the Borders.

Battalion variation in lyrics.
MARCH OF
THE CAMERON MEN

There's many a man of the Cameron clan
That has followed his chief to the field,
He has sworn to support him or die by his side
For a Cameron never can yield.

Chorus
I hear the pibroch sounding, sounding
Deep o'er the mountain and glen
While light springing footsteps
Are trampling the heath
'Tis the march of the Cameron men.
'Tis the march, 'tis the march
'Tis the march of the Cameron men.

2. Oh, proudly they walk,
but each Cameron knows
He may tread on the heather no more
But boldly he follows his chief to the field
Where his laurels were gathered before.

Chorus

3. The moon has arisen, it shines on the path
Now trod by the gallant and true
High, high are their hopes,
for their chieftain has said
That whatever men dare, they can do.

Chorus

KILLIECRANKIE

Whaur hae ye been sae braw, lad?
Whaur hae ye been sae brankie-o?
Whaur hae ye been sae braw, lad?
Come 'ye by Killiecrankie-o?

Chorus

An' ye bad been whaur I bae been
Ye wadna been sae cantie-o
An' ye bad seen what I bae seen
On the braes o' Killiecrankie-o

I fought at land, I fought at sea
At hame I fought my auntie-o
But I met the Devil and Dundee
On the braes o' Killiecrankie-o

Chorus

The bauld pit cur fell in a furr
And Clavers gat a crankie-o
Or I had fed an Athol gled
On the braes o' Killiecrankie-o

Chorus

Oh fie, MacKay, What gart ye lie
I' the brush ayont the brankie-o?
Ye'd better kiss'd King Willie's lofe
Than come tae Killiecrankie-o

Chorus

It's nae shame, it's nae shame
It's nae shame to shank ye-o
There's sour slaes on Athol braes
And the de'il at Killiecrankie-o

The Battle of Killiecrankie was fought in 1689 in the first Jacobite Uprising and was the baptism of fire for the 25th and 26th Regiments of Foot. Casualties on both sides were considerable. John Graham of Claverhouse, Viscount Dundee, led the charge against General Hugh MacKay and won the day, but died in the battle.
JOCK'S SONGS

BONNIE LASS OF FYVIE

There once was a troop of Irish dragoons
Come marching down thru Fyfie, O.
And the captain fell in love
with a very bonnie lass
And the name she was called was pretty Peggy-o.

There’s many a bonnie lass
in the glen of Auchterless
There’s many a bonnie lass in Garioch-o
There's many a bonnie Jean in the streets of Aberdeen
But the flower of them all lives in Fyvie, O.

O come down the stairs, Pretty Peggy, my dear
Come down the stairs, Pretty Peggy-o
Come down the stairs,
comb back your yellow hair
Bid a long farewell to your mammy-o.

It's braw, aye it's braw, a captain's lady for to be
And it’s braw to be a captain’s lady-o.
It's braw to ride around
and to follow the camp,
And to ride when your captain he is ready-o.

O I'll give you ribbons, love,
and I'll give you rings,
I'll give you a necklace of amber-o,
I'll give you a silken petticoat
with flounces to the knee,
If you'll convey me doon to your chamber-o.

What would your mother think if she heard the guineas clink
And saw the haut-boys marching all before you
O?
O little would she think
gin she heard the guineas clink,
If I followed a soldier laddie-o.

I never did intend a soldier's lady for to be,
A soldier shall never enjoy me-o.
I never did intend to gae tae a foreign land
And I will never marry a soldier-o.

I'll drink nae more o your claret wine,
I'll drink nae more o your glasses-o.
Tomorrow is the day when we maun ride away,
So farewell tae your Fyvie lasses-o.

The colonel he cried, mount, boys,
mount,boys, mount.
The captain, he cried, tarry-o.
O tarry yet a while, just another day or twa,
Til I see if the bonnie lass will marry-o.

Twas in the early morning,
when we marched awa,
And O but the captain he was sorry-o.
The drums they did beat a merry brasselgeicht,
And the band played the bonnie lass of Fyvie, O.

Long ere we came to the glen of Auchterlass,
We had our captain to carry-o.
And long ere we won
into the streets of Aberdeen
We had our captain to bury-o.

Green grow the birks on bonnie Ethanside,
And low lie the lowlands of Fyvie, O.
The captain's name was Ned
and he died for a maid,
He died for the bonny lass of Fyvie, O.
A MAN'S A MAN FOR A' THAT

Is there for honest poverty
That hings his head, an' a' that?
The coward slave, we pass him by -
We dare be poor for a' that!
For a' that, an' a' that!
Our toils obscure, an' a' that,
The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gowd for a' that.

What though on hamely fare we dine,
Wear hoddin grey an' a' that?
Gie fools their silks, and knaves their wine
A man's a man for a' that.
For a' that, an' a' that,
Their tinsel show, an' a' that,
The honest man, tho' e'er sae poor,
Is king o' men for a' that.

Ye see yon birkie ca'd 'a lord',
Wha struts, an' stares, an' a' that?
Tho' hundreds worship at his word,
He's but a cuif for a' that,
For a' that, an' a' that,
His ribband, star, an' a' that,
The man o' independent mind,
He looks an' laughs at a' that.

A prince can mak a belted knight,
A marquis, duke, an' a' that!
But an honest man's aboon his might -
Guid faith, he mauna fa' that!
For a' that, an' a' that,
Their dignities, an' a' that,
The pith o' sense an' pride o' worth
Are higher rank than a' that.

Then let us pray that come it may
(As come it will for a' that)
That Sense and Worth o'er a' the earth,
Shall bear the gree an' a' that,
For a' that, an' a' that,
It's comin yet for a' that,
That man to man the world oe'r
Shall brithers be for a' that.

Pipers call telling defaulters to fall in for Commanding Officers Orders.
THE MASSACRE OF GLENCOE

Chorus:
Oh cruel is the snow that sweeps Glencoe,
And covers the grave o' Donald,
And cruel was the foe that raped Glencoe,
And murdered the house o' MacDonald

They came in the blizzard we offered them heat,
A room for the night, dry shoes for their feet,
We wined them and dined them, they ate of our meat,
And they slept in the house o' MacDonald.

Chorus

They came from Fort William with murder in mind.
The Campbells had orders King William had signed,
And all through the order the words underlined,
That named all the lives o' MacDonald.

Chorus

They came in the night while the men were asleep,
That band of Argylls. the snow soft and deep,
Like murdering foxes amongst helpless sheep,
And slaughtered the house o' MacDonald.

Chorus

Some died in their beds at the hand of the foe,
Some fled in the night and were lost in the snow,
Some lived to accuse them that struck the first blow,
But gone was the House o' MacDonald.
THE STOUTEST MAN IN THE FORTY TWA

Behold I am a soldier bold
And I'm only twenty five years old
A finer warrior ne'er was seen
From Inverness tae Gretna Green
When I was young ma faither said
He wad pin me tae a decent trade
But, I did nae like that job at all
So I went and joined the Forty Twa.

*Chorus:
The wind may blow and the cock may craw
The rain may rain and the snow may snaw
But ye winna frighten Jock McGraw
The stoutest man in the Forty Twa*

The corporal who enlisted me
He claps ma back and then say's he
A lad like ye sae strong and bold
Will never be killed by a cannon ball
The Colonel then when he cam' roun'
He looks me up and he looks me doun'
And then says he "I'll tak'a guess,
Ye must be the beasty of Loch Ness."

Chorus

At our last battle across the sea
The General he sent efter me
When I got there, wi ma big gun
The battle was as good as won
For the enemy they all ran awa'
When they saw the sight of Big McGraw
A lad like me sae big and neat
Ye ken yourself', ye could never be beat.
THE LADIES FROM HELL

Sergeant they’ve caught me I’ve fallen  The battalions who stand side by side
As the gunfire sprayed over the clay.  Then victory cannot be denied.
Tell my mother and father I love them  Sergeant when this war is over
Your war is over young Private McCrae.

As the dawn breaks we bury our comrades  And our Colours fly pinned in the ground.
And the winter snow covers the lair.  Will the pages of history tell us
Tho the TOS and the tartan may wither  Of the men who will never be found.
The badge will bear witness you’re there.  But their names will forever live on
And on...........And on...........And on

We salute you goodbye one last time  We’re the Ladies From Hell
Rest in peace we must head for the line.  and The Royal Scot's as well
With our rifles in hand  With the boys from the Borders so fine.
we explore no mans land  The Gordon's Bydand,
Till the winter and darkness close in.  The Queen's Own Seaforth man
In the still of the night we move in for the fight  Fusiliers and the Argyll's thin red line
And freedom for our kith and kin.

The Captain says this is the big one  We’re the Ladies From Hell
We attack just before dawn.  and The Royal Scot's as well
Defeat and destroy is our mission  With the boys from the Borders so fine.
And remember our lads who have gone.  The Gordon's Bydand,

As the night slowly turns into day  The Queen's Own Seaforth man
The whistle blows and the Pipes start to play.  Fusiliers and the Argyll's thin red line

We’re the Ladies From Hell  Terry Moore
and The Royal Scots as well
With the boys from the Borders so fine.
The Gordon's Bydand,
The Queen's Own, Seaforth Man
Fusiliers and The Argyll's thin red line
DRESS REGULATIONS FOR PIPERS & DRUMMERS

Pipers and drummers wear antecedent uniform in ceremonial dress. In all other forms of dress they wear the uniform of The Royal Regiment of Scotland. MISCELLANY

Pipes and Drums Dress
Pipers and Drummers in all battalions and those at the Army School of Bagpiping and Drumming wear respective antecedent ceremonial uniform less cap badge and buttons which are of Regimental pattern. In all other forms of dress they wear the uniform of The Royal Regiment of Scotland.

Military Bands
The Band of The Royal Regiment of Scotland (Regular), The Lowland Band (TA) and The Highland Band (TA) wear the ceremonial dress laid down in this publication. In all other orders of dress they are to comply with Regimental Dress Regulations.

Governance
Pipes and Drums are governed by the Regiment. Military Bands are governed by the Corps of Army Music based at Kneller Hall for music policy but by the Regiment on matters relating to dress.

Pipe Banners, Baldrics and Drum Emblazons
Pipe banners are to have the Regimental badge on the obverse side with a suitable crest on the reverse. The selection and design of pipe banners, baldrics and drum emblazons is the responsibility of the Regimental Council.
