

SCOTTISH STUDIES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF GUELPH
and
THE SCOTTISH STUDIES FOUNDATION present

2005 SPRING COLLOQUIUM AND FAMILY HISTORY DAY

23 APRIL 2005
12 NOON
KNOX COLLEGE, TORONTO

Scottish Studies at the University of Guelph and the Scottish Studies Foundation will be holding their annual Spring Colloquium/Family History Day on Saturday April 23rd at Knox College, 59 St. George Street, Toronto, Ontario M4S 2E6. The plenary speaker will be Guelph University Librarian Tim Sauer who will talk about his remarkable achievement in digitizing the works of John Galt (1779–1839), Scottish novelist, secretary for the Canada Company and founder of Guelph. The program will continue with Dr Karen Cullen (University of Dundee), some of the best graduate papers in Scottish Studies, and a workshop on Scottish genealogical research aimed both at beginners and those who are more advanced, conducted by Jane MacNamara of the Ontario Genealogical Society.

Fee: $20 for members of the Foundation, $25 for non-members (cheques payable to The University of Guelph).

Registration from 12noon. Welcome at 12.45pm. Plenary Lecture 1pm.

Registration/General enquiries to:

Scottish Studies

University of Guelph
Guelph, Ontario, Canada, N1G 2W1
Tel: (519) 824 4120, ext 53209
scottish@uoguelph.ca

Enquiries about the program to:

Dr Graeme Morton

The Scottish Studies Foundation Chair
Tel: (519) 824 4120, ext 52255
gmorton@uoguelph.ca