"Journeys end in lovers meeting."—SHAKESPEARE.

GEMS OF THOUGHT FROM ANCIENT AUTHORS.

Every true thought is a valuable acquisition to society.

MAN is born to do good.
MAN'S prerogative is mind.
VULGAR spirits scorn to bear.
ONE swallow does not make a spring.
TO seek what is impossible is madness.
LET no act be done without a purpose.
THY life is short, turn to profit the present.
TIME wears away and everything grows old.
BEAUTY when unadorned is adorned the most.
EVERY man is the architect of his own fortune.
THE arbitrator looks to equity, the judge to law.

WHILE thou livest, while it is in thy power, be good.

HE loses character who puts himself on a level with the undeserving.

LET us be lambs in disposition towards each other.

WHEN liars do speak the truth, they are not believed.

AN undeserved reproach goes no farther than the ears.

RESTRAIN your tongues, your appetites, and your passions.

DIE I must, though death distaste;

Why let life, then, run to waste?

GIVE thyself time to learn something new and good.

LANGUAGE is to the mind what beauty is to the body.

THE roots of education are bitter, but the fruit is sweet.

BEAUTY is woman's grace, but man's is courage.

MEN often perish while meditating the ruin of others.

HE deserves to be suspected who has once done an injury.

ADAPT thyself to the things with which thy lot has been cast.

THINK not so much of what thou hast not as of what thou hast.

EDUCATION is an ornament in prosperity, and a refuge in adversity.

THE best sort of revenge is not to be like him who did the injury.

A MAN is bound to be grateful if he has received a kindness.

NEVER value anything which compels thee to lose thy self-respect.

A MAN'S folly is his worst foe and his discretion his best friend.

TO reveal the gross vices of your fellows is always an ungrateful task.

THERE is nothing so calculated to win the affections of people as kindness.

IT is precept and principle, not an estate, that makes a man good for something.

SINCE it is possible that thou mayst depart from life this very moment, regulate every thought and act accordingly.

THINK it the first of virtues to restrain the tongue; he approaches nearest to a god who knows when it is best to be silent.

MODERATION is best.
CARELESSNESS is accounted a crime.

WHILE there is life there is hope.

WISDOM is better than great valour.

ECONOMY is of itself a great revenue.

GRATEFULLY direct thy mind to God.

KEEP the choicest of thy love for God.

BE not desponding when in difficulties.

BEWARE in whom thou place thy trust.

SOCIETY has killed far more than famine.

TO live long it is necessary to live slowly.

HE listens to good purpose who takes note.

THERE is not a moment without some duty.

BY having nothing to do men learn to do evil.

EVERY fool is a slave; the wise man alone is free.

THE mind of man is always longing to do something.

MISERS blame money, but are preposterously fond of it.

A WISE man will restrain vice, and excite men to virtue.

CULTIVATION to the mind is as necessary as food is to the body.

THE office of liberality consisteth in giving with judgment.

THOSE things alone are to be feared whence evil may proceed.

A CONTENTED life is the surest path to glory and lasting happiness.

BEFORE you begin consider, and when you have considered act.

IN prosperity let us especially avoid pride, disdain, and arrogance.

WITH little pains is the investigation of truth pursued by most men.

EXPEDIENCY most attends that line of conduct in which one does least wrong.

THE wise learn many things from their enemies, for caution preserves all things.

THE wicked man in private life will never prove the virtuous counsellor towards the public.

SILENT and secret enmities are more to be dreaded than war openly declared and waged against us.

LOOK how thou walkest, take good heed thy soles do not tread on the heels of thy poor brethren.

TRUE friends visit us in prosperity only when invited, but in adversity they come without invitation.

EXPOSTULATION is due to friends who are in error, but accusation to enemies who have committed injustice.

WHATEVER that be which thinks, which understands, which wills, which acts, it is something celestial and divine, and on that account must be eternal.

THE man is very simple who thinks that when human nature is eagerly set on doing a thing he has any means of diverting it either by law or any other terror.

Difficulties.

It is difficult to be the same in heart and life;

It is difficult to bear insult without anger;

It is difficult, being poor, to be charitable;

It is difficult to attain one's end without exultation.

-BUDDHIST SCRIPT.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN HUMORIST.

Laugh and grow fat.

ENQUIRER: "What is the extreme penalty of bigamy?"—Two mothers-in-law.

Husband (reading the paper): "What asses some men will make of themselves!" Wife: "Now, John, what have you done this time?"

SOME women are awfully touchy. A widow has brought an action against a local paper which said that her husband had gone to a happier home.

"WHAT is the reason," said one Irishman to another, "that you and your wife are always disagreeing?" "Because," replied Pat, "we are both of one mind—she wants to be master, and so do I."

School Teacher: "Johnny, what is the second letter in the alphabet?" Johnny: "Don't know."

School Teacher: "What flies about the garden?"

Johnny: "When?" School Teacher: "In the summer."

Johnny: "Oh, I know—mother after the hens!"

Mr. Isaacstein: "I sell you dot coat, my frent, for £2 10s.; you dake hum along?" Customer: "I thought, Isaacstein, that you didn't do business on Saturday. Isn't this your Sunday?"

Mr. Isaacstein (in a low, reverent tone of voice): "My frent, to sell a coat like dot for £2 10s. was not peensness; dot was charity."

BOBBY came into the house sobbing and told his mother that Tommy White, a neighbour's boy, had kicked him. "Well, Tommy White is a very bad boy," said Bobby's mother, handing him a large slice of cake; "you didn't kick him back, did you, Bobby?" "No," replied Bobby, between bites; "I kicked him first!"

THE minister began, "Wilt thou have this woman to thy wedded wife?" when the strapping groom interrupted him as follows: "Say, Mr. Minister, quit yer foolin' and get to bizness. You know I'm here to take this lady, an' so what's the use o' askin' me? Besides, I don't allow nobody to call her a woman. She's a lady, she is!"

Mrs. G.: "I understand you have had trouble with your servant girl." Mrs. H.: "Not at all." Mrs. G.: "Oh! then I was misinformed." Mrs. H.: "It was nothing. I was going to have a party, but she had arranged for one herself that night." Mrs. G.: "And she gave hers up?" Mrs. H.: "No, I gave up mine, so we are still the best of friends."

"You are charged with bigamy," remarked the judge impressively, while the prisoner glanced over his shoulder at three stern-visaged women. "Now," continued the court, "I intend to give you the severest penalty the law allows." Here the prisoner covered his face with his hands and wept. "I shall sentence you to penal servitude for twenty years. What are you grinning at?" "I thought," smiled the prisoner through his tears, "you was a-going to turn me loose."

WOMEN do not marry for money, but they say it is easier to love a rich man than a poor one.

"How can I hide my freckles?" writes a sweet young thing. "Oh, paint your face black, Clara, paint your face black, and they won't show; no, not by limelight."

"THAT will do! That will do, madam!" said a dentist to a lady who wanted a tooth out, and opened her mouth very wide. "I am going to stand outside to operate."

Visitor: "Tommy, I wish to ask you a few questions in grammar." Tommy: "Yes, sir." Visitor: "If I give you the sentence, 'The pupil loves his teacher,' what is that?" Tommy: "Sarcasm."

"THERE is one thing I dread," remarked Fenderson, "and that is a premature burial." "Don't worry about that," replied Fogg, "the thing is impossible; there is no danger of your being buried too soon."

"You must give me time, George, to think it over. It is all so strange, so unexpected." "I will give you a year's time if you wish it. My love for you is great enough to bear that strain." "Oh, I don't want a year—give me five minutes."

Mrs. Sharp (angrily): "You're a fool!" Mr. Sharp (neekly): "Yes, dear." Mrs. Sharp: "And I'm a fool, too." Mr. Sharp (soothingly): "Yes, dear." Mrs. Sharp (breaking into a storm of tears): "Oh, you never would have said that to me before we married, never."

"PA, what's a mirage?" "It's the union of one man and one woman until the law shall separate them." "That's a marriage, pa. I want to know what a mirage is." "Same thing, sonny, same thing. A man imagines he sees wonders where there is nothing. Fight shy of them, sonny, fight shy of them. Each is a delusion and a snare."

"Now that we are engaged, George," she said, shyly, "it is proper that we should have no secrets from one another. I have loved before, but it only resulted in a breach of promise case." "And what did you get?" asked George, hoarsely. "Six hundred pounds." "Ah, dear, never mind the breach of promise suit. My love is founded upon rocks and will endure."

"OH, mamma!" said the happy girl, holding a letter in her hand, "Harold has proposed at last!" "Let me see," said mamma. "Yes, it is a genuine proposal. Put on your clothes, love. We'll go down to the lawyer's office and have a copy made, and Harold's signature certified by two or three witnesses." "Why, mamma," exclaimed the fair young maiden, "why must we do that?" "It is simply a proper precaution, daughter. This letter may be written in that new lovers' ink, which is warranted to fade in twenty-four hours after using."

An Advanced Girl.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"To lecture at Cambridge, sir," she said.

"What is your subject, my pretty maid?"

"The total extinction of man," she said.

"Then you can't marry, my pretty maid?"

"Advanced girls don't marry now, sir," she said.

The Moon's Age.

THE following is an easy method of finding the moon's age—i.e., the number of days from the last new moon.

First we must take note of the tabular numbers of the months here given:—

January 0
February 2
March 1
April 2
May 3
June 4
July 5
August 6
September 8
October 8
November 10
December 10

RULE. — To find the moon's age on any given day in the years 1894 to 1900, add to the day of the month the number of the Epact of the year (see Principal Articles of the Calendar) and the tabular number of the month, and the sum will be the moon's age. If this sum exceeds 50 reject 30, and the remainder will be the moon's age—e.g., to find the age of the moon Christmas, 1894, number of days added to Epact number for 1894, 23, added to tabular number for December, 10, = 25 + 23 + 10 = 58. Reject 30, and the remainder, 28, is the moon's age at that date.

The interval between successive full moons amounts to about twenty-nine and a half days. This interval is called a lunar month or lunation.

Sun's rising and setting are here given in Greenwich time. For local time at Dublin subtract 25 m.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow early mazagan and long-pod beans during the first and last weeks of the month, onions on very light soils; parsley, short-topped raddish, and hardy green and brown Dutch lettuce. All kinds of fruit-trees should be pruned; wash those trees which are infested with insects with soap suds and flour of sulphur, and tobacco liquor. Prepare for making up hot-beds for early cucumbers and melons. Sow salads, carrots, and kidney beans on slight hot beds. Plant dried tubers and bulbs of border flowers if not done in autumn. Transplant herbaceous plants in diout soils if not done in autumn. Also deciduous trees, shrubs, and hedges. Lay edgings when the weather is fine. Sow mignonette, stocks, etc., in pots. Sow sweet peas, and a few hardy annuals on a warm border. Look over dahlia roots and remove all decayed portions with a sharp knife, and get soil and other requisites in readiness for potting pelargoniums.

FOR EVER.

Joys soon are past,
 No grief can last,
 The years stream in time's river.
 The sun will die,
 The earth pass by,
 Yet love remains for ever.

A FRIENDLY CRITIC.

A Clever Lobster.

THE following marvellous anecdote of instinct displayed by a Cornish lobster is related by Dr. Borlase:—"As he was fishing one day, a fisherman observed a lobster to attempt an oyster several times; but as soon as the lobster approached the oyster shut his shell. At length the lobster, having waited with great attention till the oyster opened again, made a shift to throw a stone between the gaping shells, sprang upon his prey, and devoured it."

A Royal Marriage.

THE marriage of Prince Ferdinand of Roumania and Princess Marie of Edinburgh took place at Sigmaring, the seat of the Hohenzollerns, on the 10th of January, 1893.

There was first a civil ceremony, performed at 2 p.m. in the Red-hall of the Castle, by Herr von Wedel, the Minister of the Royal House.

At 4 o'clock the grand ceremony—the marriage, according to the rites of the Roman Catholic Church—took place in the town church, dedicated to St. John, which forms an integral part of the Castle.

After the Roman Catholic ceremony there was yet another rite to be performed. The guests, after leaving the church, assembled first of all in the Ancestors' Room, where they congratulated the newly-married pair. When the congratulations were ended, a second marriage ceremony, according to the rites of the Anglican Church, was performed in an adjoining room, fitted up as a temporary chapel. In front of a reredos, composed of white and gold silk, was the altar, covered with a beautiful cloth, also in white and gold, on which stood a cross, two lighted candles, and two vases of flowers. The Rev. W. V. Lloyd, the private chaplain of the Duke of Edinburgh, read the service.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow beans and peas in the beginning and end of the month; a few early cabbages, red cabbages, and savoy in the last week. Sow also early horn carrot, Dutch turnip, onions for a full crop, in light soils, with a few leeks. Sow chervil and fennel, and lettuce, with radishes and round-leaved spinach, twice in the course of the month. Small salads every fortnight. Plant Jerusalem artichokes, garlic, horse-radish and early potatoes. Strawberries may be planted about the end of the month. Transplant for seed cabbage, cauliflowers, turnips, etc. Transplant to the bottom of a south wall a few of the peas sown in November for the first crop. Prune apricots, peaches, nectarines, and plums before the buds be much swelled; also apples, pears, cherries, gooseberries, currants, and raspberries before the end of the month. Continue the forcing of all kinds of fruit. In the flower garden in good weather plant dried roots including most of the finer florist's flowers. Continue the transplanting of hardy perennial flowers and herbaceous plants. Sow in the last week mignonette and hardy annuals in a warm border for subsequent transplanting. It is to be observed that by sowing in February, and again in March or April one is able to obtain a succession of flowers of the same kind in the summer and autumn. Chinese roses and those of robust growth should now be pruned.

MARRIAGE OF PRINCESS MARIE OF EDINBURGH.

On his Lordship's Side.

A CASE was being tried in the West of England, and at its termination the judge charged the jury, and they retired for consultation. Hour after hour passed, and no verdict was brought in. The judge's dinner-hour had arrived, and he became hungry and impatient. Upon inquiry he learned that one obstinate jurymen was holding out against eleven, and he ordered the twelve men to be brought before him.

He told them, sternly, that he had so plainly stated the case and the law that the verdict ought to be unanimous, and the man who permitted his individual opinion to weigh against the judgment of eleven men of wisdom was unfit and disqualified ever again to act in the capacity of jurymen. At the end of this excited harangue a little squeaky voice came from one of the jury.

He said—"Will your lordship allow me to say a word?"

Permission being given, he added—"May it please your lordship, I am the only man on your side."

Occupation for Children.

THE habits of children prove that occupation is of necessity with most of them. They love to be busy, even about nothing, still more to be usefully employed. With some children it is a strongly developed physical necessity, and if not turned to account will be productive of evil.

Children should be encouraged, or if indolently disinclined to it, should be disciplined into performing for themselves every little office relative to the toilet which they are capable of performing. They should also keep their own clothes and other possessions in neat order, and fetch for themselves whatever they want; in short, they should learn to be as independent of the services of others as possible.

No Kings Here!

ON one occasion, when a young American actor was acting Richard the Third in Philadelphia, some of the underlings kept their hats on while he was on the stage, whereat the stage manager remonstrated, requesting them in a whisper to uncover, as they were in the presence of a king, to which admonition he received the following characteristic reply:—

"Fiddlestick! I guess we care nothing about kings in this country."

The Last Word.

It was in a sleeping-car on an American railway, and they thought that everyone else was asleep. Probably everyone had been, but they woke me.

When I was enough awake to notice what was going on, I heard her:—

"Well, I don't care. I think you're real mean. All I want——"

"Yes," broke in he; "all you want now is the last word, same as you always have, ain't it?"

"Yes, and I'll have it, too!" spitefully.

"You won't."

"See if I don't."

"All right."

"All right it is."

"Have to mock every word I say, don't you?"

"Heavens, no! You never say anything worth repeating."

"Why do you echo me, then?" "I don't!" "You do!" "I don't!" "Shut up!" "I won't!" "Ugh!" And there was a noise like a man tumbling into his berth.

Then we heard, rather softly, as if talking to herself—"I said I'd have the last word, and I did. 'Ugh' don't count, 'cause I don't believe it is a word."

Ivinghoe.

On the opposite page we give a picturesque glimpse of Ivinghoe, one of the ancient market-towns of England. It is situated in Buckinghamshire, about nine miles east from Aylesbury. The industry of the place concerns itself chiefly with straw-plait and lace.

Quaint Language.

THE following is taken from a volume of sermons published during the reign of James I.:—
"This dial shows that we must die all; yet notwithstanding, all houses are turned into alehouses; our cares into cates; our paradise into a pair o' dice; matrimony into a matter o' money, and marriage into a merry age; our divines have become dry vines. It was not so in the days of Noah—Ah, no!"

Making Music.

MEYERBEER, that man of mournful melody and plaintive notes, used to shut himself up in an old granary hidden from all eyes. In hearing the wild wind moan, the rain coming down in torrents, the storm burst over the heads of those exposed thereto, was the source of his wonderful inspiration. He delighted in thumping out upon his piano an imitation of the disorder of the elements—the wailing of the blast, the crashing of the thunder, and the flashing of the lightning and the roaring of the ocean.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow main crops of beans, peas, cabbages, onions, leeks, carrots, parsnips, Brussels sprouts, broccolis, lettuces, and spinach. Sow turnips and savoys in the beginning and end of the month. In the last fortnight sow asparagus, cauliflowers, sea-kale, celery, etc. Small salads should now be sown every ten days. Plant early potatoes in the first week, and a main crop during the last fortnight. Jerusalem artichokes, sea-kale, asparagus, and peas raised in frames may now be planted. Propagate by slips the various pot herbs as mint, sage, savory, tansy, etc. Finish the pruning of fruit-trees before the middle of the month. Begin grafting in the third week. In the last week sow hardy annuals in the borders with biennials that flower the first season. Thin out and plant some of the autumn-sown annuals. This most important month for getting in main crops of several kinds is proverbial for boisterous weather, but advantage should be taken of fine intervals.

IVINGHOE.

Healthy Exercise.

PROFESSIONAL men should have recreation largely of a physical nature. A brisk walk is what physicians most frequently recommend for exercise; but for a person not accustomed to exercise this is not always beneficial, for, his brain being the only part of his body that is kept in activity, the exercise forces the blood into the head, and he returns home with a severe headache. Such a man should take passive exercise, such as rowing, sailing or hunting, where his mind could be in slight activity also.

The majority of men engaged in mercantile pursuits get enough physical exercise from their every-day life, and their recreation should be of a mental nature. A few days in the country, a change of scenery, is beneficial to everyone. Stockbrokers and bankers require a very quiet recreation, but instead they try to get their recreation from the most exciting of sports, which is really no change from their daily life. Mechanics and clerks are recommended to attend light entertainments, such as concerts, lectures, or play cards, chess, draughts, or other games of that nature.

Women and children, the former especially, rely too much on excitement for recreation, and carry it to such an excess that it becomes simple dissipation.

A distinction must be understood between excitement which invigorates and excitement which exhausts. Dancing and roller skating are excellent exercises, but under the excitement of the music are too often continued to exhaustion.

What Might Have Been.

*It might have been that the sky was green, and the grass serenely blue;
It might have been that grapes on thorns, and figs on thistles grew;
It might have been that rainbows before the showers came;
It might have been that lambs were fierce, and bears and tigers tame;
It might have been that cold would melt, and summer heat would freeze;
It might have been that ships at sea would sail against the breeze;
And there may be worlds unknown, dear, where we might find the change
From all that we have seen or heard, to others
just as strange;
But it could never be wise, dear, in haste to act or speak,
It could never be noble to harm the poor and weak;
It never could be kind, dear, to give a needless pain;
It never could be honest, dear, to sin for greed
of gain;
And there could not be a world, dear, while
God is true above,
When right and wrong are governed by any law but love.*

READING without purpose is sauntering, not exercise. More is got from one book on which the thought settles for a definite end in knowledge than from libraries skimmed over by a wandering eye.

Will-Making.

"WHAT'S in a name?" The author of the following will evidently had great ideas of his own family name.

A Mr. Furstone, having no family, left £7,000 to any man legitimately bearing the name of Furstone who should discover and marry a female Furstone. If the marriage should result in children, the same was to descend to the male offspring, if any, or to any child or children of the opposite sex who should, if married, retain the name of Furstone.

Parents, as everybody knows, are apt to consider their daughters worth their weight in gold, but a Scotch gentleman estimated his two daughters' value even at a higher rate than this, bequeathing to each her weight in £1 bank-notes. The elder seems to have been slimmer than her sister, for she only got £51,200, while the younger was fortunate enough to receive £57,344.

Often does it happen that by an ambiguous expression in a will people come in for property which was never intended for them. For example, some years ago a lady anxious to leave her servant her clothing, jewelry, and whatever else she had worn on her person, thought she could not be wrong in describing it as "personalty," thus unwittingly including in the bequest £10,000.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow asparagus, sea-kale, beet, carrots, and onions on heavy soils; also peas, beans, turnips, spinach, celery, cabbages, savoy and German greens for succession. Sow broccoli and kidney beans both in the second and in the last weeks. Plant cauliflowers, cabbages, sea-kale, lettuce, and finish the planting of the main crop of potatoes. Attend to the hoeing and thinning of spinach, onions, turnips, etc. Earth up cabbages, cauliflowers, peas, beans, and early potatoes. Stake peas, blanch sea-kale and rhubarb in the open air by covering with straw or leaves. Sow main or succession crops of annuals of all sorts; half hardy annuals in warm borders or in slight hot-beds. Biennials and perennials should be sown before the middle of the month. Plant tigridia pavonia, and fine stocks. Finish the transplanting of herbaceous plants by the end of the first week. Plant out tender deciduous trees and shrubs reared in pots. Remove part of the coverings of all tender shrubs and plants in the first week, and the remainder at the end of the month. Keep a sharp look out for slugs, which are very destructive to young plants.

A Man-of-War Ashore.

WHILE entering the harbour of Ferrol on the 2nd of November, 1892, along with the other vessels of the Channel Fleet, H. M. S. Howe got aground on a reef. The ship struck whilst steaming seven knots, and immediately afterwards the fires in two stokeholds were extinguished. The water-tight doors were immediately closed and steam-pumps were set to work, but they proved incapable to overcome the volume of water entering the ship, and in about three-quarters of an hour three of the stokeholds and the port engine-room were flooded. After using every means to overcome the influx of water, the engine-rooms and stokeholds were left after the fires were put out. A great hole was in the hull abreast of the after stokehold.

The Howe is a twin-screw battleship of the first class. She is a barquette ship of the "Admiral" class, having a displacement of 10,300 tons, and 11,500 indicated horse-power. She carries four 67-ton breech-loading rifled guns, six 6 in. and 5-ton breech-loading rifled guns, nineteen quick-firing guns, and seven machine guns.

A court-martial in respect of the stranding of the Howe was held at Portsmouth at the close of November. The captain and navigating commander were acquitted, the disaster being proved to have been caused by inaccuracy of the charts.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow small salads every week, radishes and lettuces thrice, spinach once a fortnight. Peas and beans, cauliflowers, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, etc., for late crops. Continue the various operations of hoeing and earthing up the different crops. Pick caterpillars from gooseberry bushes and wall-trees on their first appearance. Remove from raspberries and strawberries all suckers and runners that are not wanted. Sow annuals for succession. Propagate by cuttings dahlias, pansies, double wall-flowers, rockets, scarlet lychnis, and lobelias, by dividing the roots. Plant out during the last week dahlias, hardy pelargoniums, and stocks, protecting the dahlias from slight frosts. Take great care to keep lawns and walks in perfect good order, for no garden can be thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by people of taste where they are allowed to remain untidy and neglected.

H.M.S. "HOWE" ASHORE AT FERROL.

In Malta.

MALTA is the paradise of small incomes. For all the little luxuries of life it is perhaps the cheapest place in Europe. You can drive any distance in a cab for 6d., or take it for an hour for 1s. 6d.; a boat to a vessel in the harbour costs you 2d.; beef is 6½d. a pound; four mutton cutlets cost 6d.; grapes are 3d. a pound; and washing 1s. 8d. a dozen. Then there is a perpetual lawn-tennis, constant balls and parties, and a good Italian opera, a stall of which is to be had for 1s. 3d.

There are simple sailor officers and beautiful soldier officers, all unmarried and marriageable. The wonder is that all the hardly-entreated mothers of Great Britain don't come out here every winter with all their daughters.

But there are always at least four prices in Malta for everything. There is the price to the natives, who know all about it, which is the price; there is the price to any kind of foreigner in general; there is the price to the English; and there is the price to the yachtsman; each one of these prices rising above the other in a geometrical proportion.

There is a still further price—the price that the late Lady Brassey paid—but this is now only a fondly and sadly-remembered tradition, appealed to by the vendor as a proof of his moderation, and the fact that there were once good old times even in Malta. A Maltese gentleman, who had been for a short time in our dear foggy old island, was recently asked what he thought of England on the whole.

"England, sar," said he, "great country, sar—yes! England grand country. You go into shop—ask how much that? He says 3s. 6d. Yes, Maltee gentleman come. How much? 3s. 6d. Yes. Greek, Italian, Jew come. Yes. How much? 3s. 6d. 3s. 6d. to English, French, Greek, Jew. All same everybody. Yes. England great country, sar."

The "Neck Verse."

IN the Roman Catholic Church the fifty-first Psalm, beginning with the word "Misereere," is usually appointed for penitential acts. It is also known as the "neck verse." In olden times criminals who could repeat this verse were able to save their necks from the hangman. It is as follows:—"Have mercy upon me, O God, according to Thy loving kindness; according unto the multitude of Thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

The King and the Ants.

ONE day, according to a Rabbinical story, King Solomon rode out of Jerusalem with a great retinue. An ant-hill lay directly in his path, and Solomon with his keen ears heard its little people talking.

"Here comes the great king," he heard one of them say. "His flatterers call him the wise, and just, and merciful, but he is about to ride over us and crush us without heeding our sufferings."

And Solomon told the Queen of Sheba, who rode with him, what the ant said, and the Queen made answer, "He is an insolent creature, oh, King! It is a better fate than he deserves to be trodden under our feet."

But Solomon said, "It is the part of wisdom to learn of the lowest and weakest." And he commanded his train to turn aside and spare the ant-hill.

Then all the courtiers marvelled greatly, and the Queen of Sheba bowed her head and made obeisance to Solomon, and said—

"Now know I the secret of thy wisdom. Thou listenest more patiently to the reproaches of the humble than thou hast ever done to the flatteries of the great."

Brill.

THE view on the opposite page is from Brill, in the west of Buckinghamshire near where that county borders upon Oxfordshire.

Edinburgh Castle.

As a person was showing Dr. Johnson the Castle of Edinburgh, he mentioned to him a tradition that some part of it had been standing 300 years before Christ. "Much faith," replied the doctor in his usual manner, "is due to tradition; and that part of the fortress which was standing at so early a period must undoubtedly have been the rock upon which it was founded!"

Doctors' Fees.

THE fees of the more renowned doctors are always interesting to laymen. Radcliffe, we are told, made over £7,000 a year in the height of his fame, Mead £5,000 to £6,000, Baillie £9,000 to £10,000, and Sir H. Holford the largest income ever known in the profession, namely, £10,000 to £11,000. As to special fees, Radcliffe once received £1,600 for visiting Lord Albemarle at Namur.

The fee of fees, however, was that received by Dr. Dimsdale in 1768 for inoculating the Empress Catherine and her son at Petersburg. It consisted in £12,000 paid down, a pension of £500 a year for life, and the dignity of a Baron of the Empire.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow peas and beans for late crops. The kinds used for early crops are likewise best for this purpose. Sow salading every ten days, also carrots and onions for drawing young. In the beginning of the month sow endive for an early crop. In the first week sow turnips for succession, and in the third week for a full autumn crop. Pull and store winter onions if ripe. Train and prune the summer shoots of all descriptions of wall and trellis trees. Net over cherry-trees to protect the fruit from birds. Destroy insects by repeated washings and directing tobacco smoke against them, or by strewing snuff (or the fine powder of tobacco) over them. Take up all bulbs and dry them in the shade before removing them. Remove all kinds of decaying crops. Sow perennials if neglected last month, to be planted out in the spring. Dahlias and chrysanthemums should be planted now; they require beds of good soil heavily manured and deeply trenched to grow them to perfection, but they will do in any ordinary garden soil and should be freely planted in mixed borders and amongst shrubs which they will brighten in the autumn months.

A VIEW FROM BRILL.

English and French.

“AN Englishman,” says Kossuth, “would live twenty years in a house without knowing his neighbours! A Frenchman would know all of them in twenty-four hours.

“Let the sociable Frenchman be planted among the tattooed islanders of the South Seas, and in two years he would be found tattooed. Put an Englishman in the same position, and he would be king of the island in the same time.”

English as She is Spoke.

A NOTICE displayed in a Norway hotel is a curious specimen of “English as she is spoke.” It reads as follows:—“Bath! first-class bath. Can anybody get. Tushbath. Warm and cold. Tub-bath and shower-bath at any time. Except Saturday. By two hours for-bore.”

This brings to mind another specimen of foreigners’ English, displayed on a notice posted up in an art exhibition in Japan to which foreigners were welcomed. Here are a few examples of the rules:—“Visitors is requested at the entrance to show tickets for inspection. Tickets are charged 10 sens and 2 sens, for the special and common respectively. No visitor who is mad or intoxicated is allowed to enter in, if any person found in shall be claimed to retire. No visitor is allowed to carry in with himself any parcel, umbrella, stick, and the like kind, except his purse, and is strictly forbidden to take in with himself dog, or the same kind of beasts. Visitor is requested to take good care of himself from thievily.”

An Englishman in Boulogne saw displayed in a shop-window this notice—“Eating and drinking sold here.”

Wolves in Paris.

IN the year 1437 the vicinity of Paris was so infested with wolves that they entered the city by the river, and devoured fourteen or fifteen persons. In the following year they again suddenly entered the city, killed four women and bit seventeen other individuals, eleven of whom died of their wounds.

There was one formidable wolf in particular, called Courtaud, because he had no tail, that became an object of universal dread. When anyone was leaving, it was said, “Gardez-vous Courtaud.” This animal at length was killed, and his carcass paraded through the streets of Paris as a spectacle.

The Famous Sonnet of Arvers.

ARVERS was a young littérateur who died by his own hand about 1846. This sonnet was found among his private papers. It is known in French literature as “Le jâmeux Sonnet d’Arvers.”

“*My soul has its own secret; life its care;
A hopeless love, that in one moment drew
The breath of life. Sient its pain I bear,
Which she who caused it knows not—never knew.*”

*Alas! by her unmarked, my passion grew
As by her side I walked—most lonely there.
And long as life may last I am aware
I shall win nothing—for I dare not sue;
Whilst she whom God has made so kind and sweet
Goes heedless on her way with steadfast feet,
Unconscious of Love’s whispers murmured low,
To duty faithful as a saint, some day
Reading these lines, all filled with her, she’ll say,
‘Who was this woman?’ and will never know.”*

THE LITTLE BROTHER.

Sleep.

*Is there aught in sleep can charm the wise?
To lie in dead oblivion, losing half
The flashing moments of too short a life;
Total extinction of th' enlightened soul—
Who would in such a gloomy state remain
Longer than nature craves?"*

THOMSON.

Beauty.

*"WHO hath not proved how feebly words essay
To fix one spark of Beauty's heavenly ray?
Who doth not feel until his failing sight
Faint into dimness with its own delight,
His changing cheek, his sinking heart confess
The night, the majesty of loveliness."—BYRON.*

Prudent pauses forward business.

SALUTING THE SQUIRE.

Ingratitude.

BL*OW*, blow, thou winter wind,
Thou art not so unkind
As man's ingratitude;
Thy tooth is not so keen,
Because thou art not seen,
Although thy breath be rude.

SHAKESPEARE.

Self-control.

RE*ADER*, attend—whether thy soul
Soars fancy's flights beyond the pole,
Or darkling grubs this earthly hole
In low pursuit;
Know—frudent, cautious, self-control,
Is wisdom's root.

Marriage of the Duke of York.

THE marriage of the Duke of York and Princess Victoria Mary of Teck was celebrated on the 6th of July, 1893, in the Chapel Royal, St. James's Palace. No circumstance of splendour was wanting. Nothing was omitted that could strike the fancy or impress the imagination. The ordered grace of the State function, the gay livery of the streets, the vast concourse of spectators from all classes of the population and all parts of the United Kingdom made the occasion one that will never be effaced from the memory of those who beheld it. The weather was the most brilliant possible.

The Princess May looked pale, but very composed, as she was conducted up the aisle by her father. At the close of the ceremony the Duke of York led his bride to the Queen, who embraced her affectionately; the Prince of Wales patted his son on the shoulder as he parted with him.

The Duke led his wife by the hand down the chapel, and the newly-married couple entering their carriage, drove to Buckingham Palace. On reaching the palace, after a short rest, the marriage register was signed and attested. Then followed luncheon; and at a quarter to five the bride and bridegroom took an affectionate farewell of their relatives and drove to Liverpool Street, where they took train and proceeded to Sandringham.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow peas in the first week for the last crop of the season. In the last week sow yellow turnips for a full winter crop, and spinach for an early winter supply. Plant full crops of celery, celeriac, and endive about the middle and end of the month. Late crops of broccoli, cauliflower, and celerworts in the last week. Gather and dry medicinal and pot-herbs, also propagate such by slips and cuttings. Continue the summer pruning and training of all wall trees with the destruction of insects. Plant strawberries in pots for forcing next winter. Take up the remainder of tuberous roots, such as anemones and ranunculus, and finish by the end of the first week. Propagate herbaceous and other plants that have gone out of flower by means of slips and cuttings. Hoe beds of violets, remove runners, attend to waterings. Chrysanthemums will require throughout the season frequent applications of liquid manure, and should at no time be allowed to flag; stake them whenever necessary and thin out the weak shoots.

THE MARRIAGE OF THE DUKE OF YORK.

The Biter Bit.

A CERTAIN policeman on duty at the gates of one of the London docks has the name of being one of the sharpest and most cunning among his comrades. No person could ever boast of getting any excisable goods, such as tobacco or cigars, out of the dock whilst he was on duty, and he was proud of the same. If he was offered a bribe he always took it, and had the offender arrested afterwards in the act.

One day, however, a ship arrived from India, and the skipper, a 'cute, hard-headed Scotsman, came ashore in the evening and proceeded to the gates. Walking up boldly to the policeman, he whispered in his ear—"I've got some rare tobacco and some valuable cigars, which the Customs folk have overlooked, and I want to smuggle them oot th' morn's night. It'll be all right, I suppose?" and at the same time slipping half-a-crown into the policeman's hand.

The redoubtable Robert smiled a malignant smile, and said it would be all right, and the merry skipper passed out of the gates, and went on his way rejoicing.

The next night the skipper was walking boldly out of the dock-gates when he was seized by the policeman, and taken into his watch box, where he was confronted by a sergeant, and underwent a thorough search. Much to the officer's chagrin, however, neither tobacco, cigars, or anything of an excisable nature was found on his person, and he asked the skipper what he had done with them.

"Oh!" said the skipper quite innocently, "I had them on me last night when I gave you the half-crown, and I just thocht I'd better tak' them oot there and then, which I did."

It was remarkable how much that policeman aged during the next twenty-four hours.

A Thoughtful Parent.

PETTED DAUGHTER: "Papa, what has come over you? I never had a wish you were not anxious to gratify, and you even anticipated my wants and handed me money for all sorts of things I hadn't even thought of. But now I have to ask you for every shilling I need, and you growl and grumble, and ask if I think you are made of money, and what on earth I did with the last cheque or sovereign you gave me. Don't you love me any more?"

Papa: "My darling, I love you as much as ever, but you are soon to be married, and I am trying to gradually prepare you for the change."

An Actor Asleep.

MR. JOSEPH JEFFERSON, who was once playing Rip Van Winkle at Chicago, went to the theatre very much exhausted by a long day's fishing. When the curtain rose on the third act, it disclosed the white-haired Rip still deep in his twenty years' nap. Five, ten, twenty minutes passed, and he did not waken. The fact was that all the time Jefferson was really sleeping.

Finally the gallery became uproarious, and a man called out—"Is there going to be nineteen years more of this snooze business?"

At this point Jefferson began to snore.

This decided the prompter, who opened a small trap and began to prod Rip from below.

The much-travelled comedian began to fumble in his pocket for an imaginary railway-ticket, and muttered, "Going right through, 'ductor."

The audience was transfixed with amazement.

An instant later Jefferson sat up, with a loud shriek, and evidently in agony. The exasperated prompter had "jabbed" him with a pin!

Hampton.

THE small town of Hampton is situated about twenty-four miles from London, and lies on the left bank of the Thames. The town is scattered over a considerable space, a number of villas and houses of a similar class having from time to time been added to the original street or strand of Hampton. "The Cockney appellation, 'Appy 'Ampton,'" says Mr. Charles Dickens, "arises from the Hampton races, which, in point of fact, do not take place at Hampton at all, but at Molesey Hurst, on the other side of the river and in another county.

"Among the notabilia of Hampton is Garrick Villa, on the bank of the river opposite the island just past the church. The house itself stands some little distance back, being separated from the lawn which abuts on the river by the high road, and which Garrick constructed a short tunnel. On the lawn is a summer-house, sometimes grandiosely described as a temple, which at one time contained Roubiliac's statue to Shakespeare, afterwards removed to the hall of the British Museum."

The church — though the register dates from 1712 — is a comparatively modern building, not by any means to be commended, having been built at a disastrous architectural period. Although its exterior is not promising, it is not undeserving of a visit.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow winter and spring spinach in the beginning and about the end of the month; parsley and winter onions for a full crop in the first week, cabbages, cauliflowers, savoy, and German greens about the middle of the month for planting out in spring. Lettuces in the first and last week; small salads occasionally. Plant and earth up celery and endive. A few coleworts may still be planted, Net up in dry weather gooseberry and currant bushes to preserve the fruit till the late autumn.

Every exertion should now be made to preserve the ripening fruit on the walls from insects and to destroy wasps' nests. Sow auricula and primula seeds in pots and boxes. Continue to bud roses, and insert cuttings; this is the best of all months for budding. Pansies may still be propagated under hand lights; select for cuttings the young shoots that spring from the base of the old plants. The herbaceous borders will now be very gay with sweet peas, sweet-williams, etc.

HAMPTON.

The Comtist Calendar.

THE Comtist calendar consists of thirteen months of four weeks each. The months are thus proportioned :—

The first to Moses (representing theocratic civilisation).

The second to Homer (ancient poetry).

The third to Aristotle (ancient philosophy).

The fourth to Archimedes (ancient science).

The fifth to Cæsar (military civilisation).

The sixth to St. Paul (Catholicism).

The seventh to Charlemagne (feudal civilisation).

The eighth to Dante (modern epic poetry).

The ninth to Gutenberg (modern industry).

The tenth to Shakespeare (modern drama).

The eleventh to Descartes (modern philosophy).

The twelfth to Frederick II. (modern statesmanship).

The thirteenth to Bichat (modern science).

"Of course," says a recent critic, "it is easy to be puzzled with the system under which the names are grouped.

"One does not see very clearly why the painters should be classed under epic poetry, and musicians under the modern drama.

"Some may think it strange to see Galileo, Newton, Lavoisier, and Lamarck sitting at the feet of Bichat.

"Thomas à Kempis, too, looks to heretic eyes a little out of place in the company of Byron and Shelley, of Klopstock and Madame de Staël.

"But a list of great names is like a list of the best books, or an anthology.

"Every man will prefer to make it for himself."

The Art of Inlaying in Wood.

"MARQUETRY" is a French term, which expresses what in England we call "wood-inlaying," and wood-inlaying of some description is an art of great antiquity. It appears probable that the art of inlaying was known to both the ancient Egyptians and Assyrians, and the Romans, besides their free use of mosaics for pavements, appear to have frequently employed veneers.

But it is in Italy in the fifteenth century that we really come upon veritable wood-inlay. This was a form of decorative work called "intarsiatura," in which designs and even pictures were built up by the juxtaposition of a number of small cubes of wood of different colours. While, however, these wooden cubes were comparatively thick, modern marquetry is cut out of very thin veneers.

The Lights of Home.

*IN many a village window burn
The evening lamps;
They shine amid the dews and damps,
Those lights of home!*

*Afar the wanderer sees them glow,
Now night is near;
They gild his path with radiance clear,
Sweet lights of home.*

*Ye lodestones that for ever draw
The weary heart,
In stranger lands or crowded mart,
O! lights of home.*

*When my brief day of life is o'er
Then may I see
Shine from the heavenly house for me,
Dear lights of home.* H. J. KING.

Shipwrecked.

The Roumania steamer of the Anchor Line, bound from Liverpool for Bombay, was wrecked on the night of the 27th of October, 1892, near Peniche, a town fifty miles north of the Portuguese capital. The Roumania carried fifty-five passengers and a crew of sixty-seven. Of the latter seven Lascars alone were saved, while all the passengers were lost except Captain Hamilton and Lieutenant Rooke.

It appears that the vessel got out of her course during a heavy fog, and in the middle of the night, when all the passengers were asleep below, ran aground on the rocks. She stuck fast, broadside on, and was swept from stem to stern by a tremendous sea. The officers of the ship, who were all on duty on the bridge, were among the first to perish.

The immediate result was confusion of the wildest description. The Lascars appear to have lost their heads. Some time elapsed before the passengers realised the extent of their danger, and even then many were too ill to make any effort to save themselves. Those who rushed on deck, seeing the boats gone, endeavoured to reach the bridge, hoping that they would there be beyond reach of the waves, but they were all washed overboard. The rest, it is thought, were drowned in their cabins.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow a few small salads for late crops—lettuce and spinach, if not done last month, for spring crops. Plant endive and lettuce. If broccoli be too strong or tall to withstand the winter, lift them and lay them nearly up to the neck in the earth. Lift onions and lay them out on a dry border or a gravel walk. Lift potatoes and store them. Finish the summer pruning and training of fruit-trees. Gather and store carefully the autumnal sorts of apples and pears. Plant strawberries for a main crop. Sow in the beginning of the month all half-hardy annuals, if not done last month; also the different species of primula, and the seeds of all such plants as if sown in spring seldom come up the same season, but if sown in September or October vegetate readily the succeeding spring. Continue the propagation of herbaceous plants, and plant evergreens. If a bed is prepared expressly to sow pinks as show flowers it should be done now. The soil should be good loam about a foot and a half deep.

LOSS OF THE STEAMER "ROUMANIA."

How Do You Walk?

"AS soon as a man comes into my shop and takes off his shoes," says a shoemaker of large experience, "I can tell whether or not he is a good walker, and it is astonishing to find how few men know the proper way to step out. If the shoe is worn down at the heel, not on the side but straight back, and the leather of the sole shows signs of weakness at the ball of the foot, a little greater on the inside just below the base of the great toe, I know that the wearer is a good walker. If, however, the heel is turned on one side, or is worn unevenly throughout, and the sole is worn most near the toe, I know that I have to deal with a customer who is but a poor pedestrian.

"The reason of the difference in position of the worn spot lies in the fact that the poor walker walks from his knee and the good one from his hip.

"Watch the passer-by on the street, and you will at once see the difference. Nine men out of ten will bend the knee very considerably in walking, stepping straight out with both hips on the same line, and the toe will be the first to strike the ground.

"The tenth man will bend his knee very little, just enough to clear the ground, and will swing the leg from the hip, very much as the arm is swung from the shoulder, and not from the elbow. By so doing he calls upon the muscles which are strongest to bear the strain, and increases the length of his stride four or six inches. The heel touches the ground first and not the toe. A slight spring is given from the ball of the foot on the pedestrian making another stride.

"Men who walk in this fashion cover the ground 30 per cent. faster with the same exertion than those who are in the habit of walking from the knee."

The Art of Music.

"IN all countries legends exist ascribing the origin of music to a celestial source. China, Greece, Rome, Assyria, Egypt, and India all concur in giving the art a divine origin, and also in returning the gift to its Maker in songs of praise.

Egypt, however, recognised the dual character of music by a legend which described music as springing from two sources, the one good, the other evil.

The Egyptian was more sparing of music in religious service than Roman or Grecian, but deserves thanks for at least understanding that music, like any other art, could be abused. Even to-day, the division between the sensuous and lofty in music is a strongly marked one; and, unfortunately, the tendency of modern composers is too often toward the former style, and the oratorio school seems almost extinct.

The Vigil of Adam.

*FAR in Asia, saith the legend,
On a peak whose nameless towers
Use the plains a hundred miles off
For their dial of the hours;*

*Where the tallest Himalaya
Rises sad because so lonely,
Whence the eagle swoops in terror,
And the stars of God are only;*

*Sitteth one of ancient visage,
One more strange than aught below him,
One who lived so near to God once,
That for man we scarce should know him;*

*Far above the busy world tribes,
Miles above the pine trees, bending,
Lonely as when God first made him,
There he keepeth watch unending.*

A Curious Case.

HERE is a case of Oriental justice that could hardly be outdone for sharp and subtle discrimination. Four men, partners in business, bought some cotton bales. That the rats might not destroy the cotton they purchased a cat. They agreed that each of the four should own a particular leg of the cat, and each adorned with beads and other ornaments the leg thus apportioned to him.

The cat, by an accident, injured one of its legs. The owner of that member wound about it a rag soaked in oil. The cat, being too near the fire, set the rag on fire, and, being in great pain, rushed in among the cotton bales where she was accustomed to hunt rats.

The cotton thereby took fire, and was burned up. It was a total loss.

The three other partners brought an action, to recover the value of the cotton, against the fourth partner, who owned the particular leg of the cat.

The judge examined the case, and decided thus:—"The leg that had the oil rag on it was hurt; the cat could not use that leg—in fact, it held up that leg, and ran with the other three legs. The three unhurt legs, therefore, carried the fire to the cotton, and are alone culpable. The injured leg is not to be blamed. The three partners who owned the three legs with which the cat ran to the cotton will pay the whole value of the bales to the partner who was the proprietor of the injured leg."

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

PLANT small salads and radishes in the first week, mazagan beans and early frame peas in the last week. If the winter prove mild, they will be somewhat earlier than those sown next month or in January. Plant cabbages in beds or close rows till wanted in the spring. Store potatoes, beet, carrots, parsnips, etc., by the end of the month. This is the best season for transplanting fruit-trees. Store and lay up very carefully during the month all sorts of apples and pears, the longest-keeping sorts not before the end of the month, if the weather be mild. A great part of them may be placed in a close cellar. Plant the greater part of the common border bulbs about the end of the month, with a few anemones for early flowering. Put in cuttings of all sorts of evergreens. Destroy weeds and protect choice flowers from heavy rains. Some plants of violets should now be lifted and planted close up to the glass in a cold frame. This is a good time to divide and transplant herbaceous plants, Phloxes, scarlet lychnis, etc., may be treated and increased in this way.

A BOATING PARTY.

A Good Reason.

A LITTLE girl was told by her nurse that if she did not think so much by day she would dream less at night. "But I can't help thinking," she said, and added pathetically, "I cannot make my mind sit down."

Marrying Again.

IT is not unusual for a man to leave all his property to his wife, with the proviso that if she marries again she is to have only what the law allows her. Governor Morris, the celebrated American statesman, did not treat his wife so. He had married very late in life a woman much younger than himself, and with whom he lived very happily. He bequeathed a very handsome income to her, and then provided that in case she married again the income should be doubled.

Odd Burial Customs.

THE Mohammedans always, whether in their own country or one of adoption, bury without coffin or casket of any kind.

During the time of the old Roman Empire the dead bodies of all except suicides were burned.

The Greeks sometimes buried their dead in the ground, but more generally cremated them, in imitation of the Romans.

In India, up till within the last few years, the wife, either according to her wishes or otherwise, was cremated on the same funeral pyre that converted her dead husband's remains into ashes.

When a child dies in Greenland the natives bury a live dog with it, the dog to be used by the child as a guide to the other world. When questioned with regard to this peculiar superstition, they will only answer: "A dog can find his way anywhere."

A Railway Accident.

EARLY on the morning of the 2nd of November, 1892, the East Coast south express, leaving Edinburgh at 10.20 on the previous night, ran into a goods train which was about to be shunted at Manor House siding, three miles north of Thirsk. The train, which consisted of the second portion of the express, was made up of sixteen vehicles, and carried upwards of 100 passengers.

The force of the collision must have been tremendous. The guard's van of the goods train was completely smashed and the guard himself instantly killed. The engine and tender of the express were overturned and wrecked, several of the carriages in the front part of the train shattered, and the end of the Pullman car driven in, while the wreckage caught fire either from the engine furnace or from the ignition of the gas used to light the train. Altogether ten persons, including two railway servants, were killed on the spot, and about ten were injured, some of them very seriously.

It seems that, owing to pressure of traffic, it was necessary to divide the express into two parts, one following the other as soon as possible. The first to leave passed Thirsk in safety. The collision occurred about 4 a.m., and many of the passengers were asleep.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow early frame peas and mazagan beans in the second week for an early crop. Protect endive, celery, artichoke, and sea-kale with stable litter or ferns. Mulch asparagus with hot-bed manure; take up endive, late cauliflower, early broccoli, and lettuces, and lay them in an open shed, or in old cucumber or melon pits, which will protect them from frost, and afford a supply during winter. Plant all sorts of fruit-trees in fine weather—the earlier in the month the better. Commence and carry on the various operations of pruning and nailing when the weather permits. Plant dried tubers of bordered flowers, but the finer sorts had better be deferred till spring. Protect such half-hardy plants as were not sheltered last month. Place deciduous trees and shrubs as long as the weather continues favourable, and before the soil has parted with the solar heat absorbed during summer. This is the reason why early autumn planting is so strongly recommended by all practical men.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT TO THE SCOTCH EXPRESS AT THIRSK.

A Quiet End.

DR. JOSEPH BLACK, the eminent chemist, called by Fourcy "the Nestor of the chemistry of the eighteenth century," had a remarkably peaceful end. Being at table with his usual fare, some bread, a few prunes, and a measured quantity of milk diluted with water, and having the cup in his hand, when the last stroke of the pulse was to be given, he appeared to have set it down on his knees, which were joined together, and in the action expired without spilling a drop, as if an experiment had been purposely made to evince the facility with which he departed.

Salutations in the East.

VARIOUS modes of salutation are practised by the Moslems. "Among these," says Mr. G. W. Lane, "the following are the more common or more remarkable:—

1. Placing the right hand upon the breast.
2. Touching the lips and the forehead or turban (or the forehead or turban only) with the right hand.
3. Doing the same, but slightly inclining the head during the action.
4. The same as the preceding, but inclining the body also.
5. As above, but previously touching the ground with the right hand.
6. Kissing the hand of the person to whom the obeisance is made.
7. Kissing his sleeve.
8. Kissing the skirt of his clothing.
9. Kissing his feet.
10. Kissing the carpet or ground before him.

"The first five are often accompanied by the salutation, 'Peace be on you!' to which the reply is, 'On you be peace and the mercy of God and His blessings!'

"The sixth mode is observed by servants or pupils to masters, by the wife to the husband, and by children to their father, and sometimes to their mother."

When Jim was Dead.

"HIT sarved him right," the nabors said,
*An' bused him for the life he'd led,
 An' him a-lying thar at rest
 With not a rose upon his breast!
 Ah! menny cruel words they sed
 When Jim was dead.*

"Jes killed hisself." "Too mean ter live."
*They didn't have one word ter give
 Of comfort as they hovered near
 An' gazed on Jim a-lyin' there!
 "Thar ain't no use to talk," they said,
 "He's better dead!"*

*But suddenly the room growed still,
 While God's white sunshine seemed to fill
 The dark place with a gleam of life,
 An' o'er the dead she bent—Jim's wife!
 An' with her lips close, close to his,
 As tho' he knew an' felt the kiss,
 She sobbed—a touching sight to see—
 "Ah! Jim was always good ter me!"*

*I tell you when that cum ter light
 It kinder set the dead man right:
 An' round the weepin' woman they
 Throwed kindly arms of love that day,
 And mingled with her own they shed
 The tenderest tears—when Jim was dead.*

Not Playing this Time.

THE little boy had come in with his clothes torn, his face scratched, and his hair full of dust.

"Oh, Willie, Willie!" exclaimed his mother.
 "How often have I told you not to play with that wicked Stapleford boy!"

"Mamma," said Willie, "do I look as if I had been playing with anybody?"

A Poet's Funeral.

On the afternoon of the 12th of October, 1892, in the presence of a vast and eminently representative gathering of mourners the mortal remains of the late Lord Tennyson were solemnly laid to rest in Poets' Corner, Westminster Abbey, amid every token of the affectionate reverence and sincere admiration, both of the sovereign and the whole nation.

The dense crowd that thronged every corner of the Abbey which was open to the public, and the still larger masses of people that lined the approaches to its gates, formed one of the most impressive and most touching features in the spectacle. Within the Abbey the intense solemnity of the whole ceremony was due to the entire absence of all effort at effect. The character and the deeply reverential attitude of the congregation, the majesty of the great church, the associations and the memories that linger round it, the glorious music and the magnificent language of the liturgy wrought the strange spell of this most stately and heroic burial.

One exceptional feature, indeed, there was in the arrangements, which all men felt to be most moving and most meet. The Union Jack completely covered the coffin, an eloquent emblem of "the feeling of the beloved Queen, and the nation and the Empire he loved so dear."

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow a few peas and beans, as in November. Very few operations can be carried on this month, with the exception of trenching and digging in dry weather—operations which should by all means be attended to. The ground should be thoroughly well turned up for exposure to the frost and snow. Plant all sorts of fruit-trees in mild weather. Mulch over the roots of tender trees, such as apricot and peach, as they are often so far affected by frost as to be barren in the coming year. Proceed with pruning and nailing wall trees whenever an opportunity occurs. Examine the fruit that is in the storeroom every week, and remove all that is found to be in a state of decay. As to the flower garden, the directions for last month will be found equally applicable to this. Draining is an operation that may be carried on this month; it greatly improves all wet soils, especially those of a clayey character. Flower-beds, etc., on such soils should be drained, for the soil, by being relieved of the superfluous water, admits warm air and showers more readily.

FUNERAL OF LORD TENNYSON.

The Great Game of China.

THE great game of China is the game of Wei-chi. It is considered by the Chinese far superior to their chess, which is but slightly different from ours, and to be the special game of the literary class, while the military men amuse themselves with chess.

Wei-chi possesses interesting features, and requires great skill in playing. It has for us the merit of absolute novelty, because it differs essentially from all Western games.

Unlike chess or draughts, the men are never taken, but remain where they are played. The game is not a series of skillful evolutions, but a successive occupation of points which, joined together, give a final winning position.

Though the game is on a very extensive scale, the board containing 361 places, and the men employed being nearly 200 a side, still it is very simple in principle, all the men having the same value and the same powers.

To achieve the object of the game on such an extensive board requires great foresight and profound calculation. This object is to occupy as much space on the board as possible. He who at the end of the game commands most places has won.

This can be carried out in two ways—by enclosing empty spaces on the board with a certain number of one's men, and by surrounding and capturing the enemy's men.

Chinese Emperors have been very fond of the game, though it subjects them to the necessity of forgetting their rank, and those who play with the Emperor sit in his presence.

It is recorded of an Emperor of the fourth century that on one occasion he made a move irregularly. The courtier who was playing with him held the Monarch's finger, and the Emperor was not offended. This was thought important enough to be mentioned in history.

The Alternative.

HE was a speculator, and for a year past nothing had been coming his way except expenses.

One day his daughter informed him in an unfeeling manner that if he did not give her a diamond tiara worth at least seven hundred and fifty dollars she would elope with the coachman.

"Come to my arms, my darling child," he exclaimed, as the tears of joy coursed down his wrinkled cheeks; "come to my arms."

"Do I get the tiara?" she asked, hesitating.

"Of course not," he smiled delightedly; "you get the coachman. I owe him eight months' wages."

That ended it.

Notes on the Tongue.

"THE boneless tongue, so small and weak, Can crush and kill," declared the Greek.

"The tongue destroys a greater horde," The Turk asserts, "than does the sword."

The Persian proverb wisely saith,
"A lengthy tongue—an early death."

Or sometimes takes this form instead,
"Don't let your tongue cut off your head."

"The tongue can speak a word whose speed," Says the Chinese, "outstrips the steed."

While Arab sages this impart,
"The tongue's great storehouse is the heart."

From Hebrew wit the maxim sprung,
"Though feet should slip, ne'er let the tongue."

The sacred writer crowns the whole,
"Who keeps his tongue doth keep his soul."

Post Office Telegrams.

The charge for telegrams through the United Kingdom is 6d. for the first twelve words, and ¼d. for every additional word. Addresses are charged for. Figures are counted at the rate of five figures to a word. Postage stamps are used for payment, and the public are required to affix them to the message forms just as they are required to affix them to letters. A receipt for the charges can be obtained at a cost of 2d.

For the rates charged for foreign telegrams, see the Post Office Guide, published quarterly.

Letter Post.

To and from all parts of the United Kingdom, the prepaid rates are:—

Not exceeding 1 oz.	1d.
Excgd. 1 oz., not exc. 2 oz.	1½d.
" 2 " " " 4 " "	2d.
" 4 " " " 6 " "	2½d.
" 6 " " " 8 " "	3d.
" 8 " " " 10 " "	3½d.

and so on at the rate of ½d. for every additional 2 oz.

A letter posted unpaid is chargeable on delivery with double postage, and a letter posted insufficiently paid is chargeable with double the deficiency.

The charge for re-direction of letters has been abolished.

Inland Book Post.

The Book Post rate is one half-penny for every 2 oz. or fraction of 2 oz. Every Book Packet must be posted either without a cover or in a cover entirely open at the ends. No Book Packet may exceed 5 lb. in weight, or one foot six inches in length, nine inches in width, and six inches in depth, unless it be sent to or from a Government Office.

Parcel Post.

Parcels not exceeding 11 lb. in weight are received at any post office for transmission between places in the United Kingdom.

The rates of postage are 3d. for a parcel not exceeding 1 lb. in weight, and 1½d. for every additional pound. For example, 2 lb. cost 4½d.; 3 lb., 6d.; and so on up to 11 lb., which cost 1s. 6d.

The dimensions allowed for an inland postal parcel are:—

Greatest length	3ft. 6in.
Greatest length and girth combined	6ft. 0in.

A Parcel Post has also been established between this country and many foreign countries and the British Colonies and possessions generally. For rates and regulations, see the Post Office Guide.

Postage on Inland Registered Newspapers.

Prepaid Rate.—On each Registered Newspaper, whether posted singly or in a packet, the postage when prepaid is one halfpenny; but a packet containing two or more Registered Newspapers is not chargeable with a higher rate of postage than would be chargeable on a Book Packet of the same weight—viz., one halfpenny for every 2 oz. or fraction of 2 oz.

Inland Pattern and Sample Post.

This post is absolutely restricted to bond fide trade patterns and samples. 4 oz. are charged 1d.; 4 to 6 oz., 1½d.; 6 to 8 oz., 2d.

Post Cards.

Post Cards, bearing a halfpenny impressed stamp, are available for transmission between places in the United Kingdom only. They are sold at 10 for 5½d., or of finer quality, 10 for 6d. They can also be had in smaller numbers or singly. Reply Cards are now sold.

Letter Cards have recently been introduced, and are sold at 8 for 9d. Smaller numbers in proportion. Foreign Postal Cards, 1d.; reply, 2d.

Money Orders for the United Kingdom.

Money Orders are granted in the United Kingdom at the following rates:—

For sums not exceeding £1, 2d.; £1 to £2, 3d.; £2 to £4, 4d.; £4 to £7, 5d.; £7 to £10, 6d.

Money may now be sent by Telegraph Money Order at the following rates:—

For sums not exceeding £1, 4d.; £1 to £2, 6d.; £2 to £4, 8d.; £4 to £7, 10d.; £7 to £10, 1s.

In addition to the commission a charge is made at the ordinary inland rate for the official telegram of advice and its repetition.

Money Orders payable Abroad.

Money Orders, payable abroad, are issued in the United Kingdom at the following rates:—

If payable in France, Switzerland, Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Italy, &c. &c.—

On sums not exceeding £2, 6d.; £2 to £5, 1s.; £5 to £7, 1s. 6d.; £7 to £10, 2s.

Postal Orders.

Postal Orders are issued at the following rates: on those for 1/- and 1/6, the charge is ½d.; for 2/-, 2/6, 3/-, 3/6, 4/-, 4/6, 5/-, 7/6, 10/-, 10/6, the charge is 1d.; for 15/- and 20/-, 1½d. Broken amounts may be made up by affixing stamps to the face of the Order.

Registration and Compensation.

By the prepayment of a fee of twopenny any postal packet (parcels included) may be registered to any place in the United Kingdom. Every packet to be registered must be given to an agent of the Post Office, and a receipt obtained for it. The Postmaster General will give compensation up to a maximum limit of £50 for the loss and damage of Inland Registered Postal Packets of all kinds. The ordinary fee of 2d. secures £5; the payment of 3d. £10; 4d. £15; 5d. £20; 6d. £25; 7d. £30; 8d. £35; 9d. £40; 10d. £45; and 11d. £50.

Post Office Savings Banks.

No deposit of less than a shilling is received, nor any pence, and not more than £30 in one year. No further deposit is allowed when the amount standing in depositor's name amounts to £200 inclusive of interest. Interest is allowed at the rate of 2½ per cent. (or sixpence in the pound) per annum—that is, at the rate of one halfpenny per pound per month.

At every Post Office in the United Kingdom forms for making small deposits are issued gratuitously. Each form has twelve divisions, in each of which a penny postage stamp can be placed; when the twelve are filled in, it is received at any Post Office Savings Bank as a shilling.

Any person can invest, at any Post Office Savings Bank, small sums in Government Stock. Not more than £100 can be invested in any one year. The amount held by the investor must not exceed £300.

DRAWN WITH PEN AND PENCIL.

BRIDGE OVER THE JÖKULSÁ, from "Icelandic Pictures."

The Pen and Pencil book for 1893. Although Iceland as a subject for one of these volumes is somewhat limited in scope, it possesses special interest both from the close relationship existing between Icelanders and ourselves, and also because Mr. Howell has not only described the many interesting features of Icelandic scenery, but has also paid special attention to the literature and history of the island. To Mr. Howell belongs the distinction of being the first man to scale the summit of the Óraefa Jökull, the highest mountain in the island, and the volume is enriched with many illustrations of this and other peaks.

RECENT BOOKS.

WHICH WAY? or, The Old Faith and the New.

By the late E. JANE WHATELY. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. cloth boards.

This was the last book written by the ready pen of the late Miss E. J. Whately. In a compact, moderate, and scriptural series of chapters she points out the contrast between the old Evangelical faith and the modern Romanism with its slavish imitator, the fashionable Ritualism of the day.

DID A HEN OR AN EGG EXIST FIRST?

or, My Talks with a Sceptic. By JACOB HORNER. Edited by JAMES CROMPTON. 1s. 6d. cloth. New and Revised Edition.

"A capital defence of the faith."—Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette. "May do good service among thinking artisans."—Yorkshire Daily Post.

ECHOES FROM THE UNDYING WORD.

By the Rev. FREDERICK HARPER, M.A. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. cloth boards.

A series of brief, pointed, aptly illustrated chapters of various aspects of Biblical teaching. They all have a direct practical purpose, and the volume will be found useful for devotional reading.

CHRIST THE CENTRAL EVIDENCE OF CHRISTIANITY, AND OTHER PRESENT DAY TRACTS.

By the late Principal CAIRNS, D.D. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. cloth.

"We most heartily commend this volume to the perusal of all who may be seeking an enlightened appreciation of the foundations of our faith."—The Record.

ATONEMENT:

The Fundamental Fact of Christianity. By NEWMAN HALL, LL.B., D.D. (Edin.), Author of "Come to Jesus," "It is I," etc. Crown 8vo. 2s. cloth.

"A calm and argumentative statement of the doctrine of the atonement."—Manchester Examiner. "Its worth is in inverse ratio to its size."—Christian Witness.

"It condenses into a brief and readable volume the gist of many more learned and authoritative books."—Scotsman.

THE HEAVENLY SECRET OF DAILY LIFE.

By the Rev. J. B. FIGGIS, of Brighton. Fcap. 8vo. 1s. 6d. cloth boards.

"An excellent book on practical Christianity. It is a robust work, nothing weak about it, and is full of instruction, well put and ably pressed."—N. B. Daily Mail.

"We could wish that all young men and women had a copy of this little book put into their hands."—The Record.

BARNABAS; or, The Great Renunciation.

By G. BUCHANAN RYLEY. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. cloth boards.

"A thoughtful and carefully-written monograph."—N. B. Daily Mail.

"The reader will seem to know Barnabas as an actual personality after studying this beautiful book."—Christian Commonwealth.

MODERN IDEAS OF EVOLUTION,

As Related to Revelation and Science.

By Sir J. WILLIAM DAWSON, C.M.G., LL.D., F.R.S., Author of "Acadian Geology,"

"The Chain of Life in Geological Time," "Egypt and Syria: their Physical Features in Relation to Bible History," etc. Sixth Edition. 5s. cloth.

"It embodies the thoughts of an eminent geologist on some of the chief flaws and discrepancies in what he justly styles the 'hypothesis' of evolution. If there is anything calculated to arrest the cocksure young scientist, who is always the young man in a hurry, this book will do it."—Saturday Review.

MR. BY-ENDS OF FAIR SPEECH, and other Sketches from Bunyan. By LESLIE KEITH, Author of "Of all Degrees," "Our Street," "Ralph Ellison's Opportunity," etc. With Illustrations. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. cloth.

"Leslie Keith's graceful pen is well known, and she treats her themes with religious sympathy as well as with literary skill. It is a pleasant little book."—British Weekly.

Just Published. With Illustrations. Crown 8vo. 7s. 6d. cloth.

THE CHRONICLES OF THE SID;

or, The Life and Travels of Adelia Gates. By ADELA E. ORPEN, Author of "Stories of Precious Stones," "Margareta Colberg," etc.

"A sprightly, amusing, and in many ways remarkable book. 'Sid' means lady or mistress, and is the title by which the heroine of this history was known in the Sahara during her travels there. Not many men—not to speak of ladies—would be so disdainful of luxuries as to venture far into the African desert with no larger 'kit' than could be compressed into a hand bag and the pockets of a waterproof cloak."—The Times.

"Most fascinating in every way."—Christian World.

"As pleasant a book of travels as we have had in hand for long past."—Saturday Review.

THE HANDWRITING OF THE KINGS AND QUEENS OF ENGLAND.

By W. J. HARDY, F.S.A.

With Reproductions of the Autographs, and many Letters of all the Sovereigns from Edward the Black Prince to the present time.

Many of the sections of this book originally appeared as articles in the Leisure Hour. Mr. Hardy has thoroughly revised the original chapters, and has added a great deal of new material. The most important part of this new material deals with recent discoveries, viz., of passages, hitherto unknown, in the handwriting of Edward IV., Henry IV., and a signature of Richard II. The illustrations give fine specimens of the handwriting of every English Sovereign, examples of whose penmanship have come down to us. The most important documents are reproduced in exact photogravures, and the volume is largely made up of facsimiles. The book is a contribution of permanent value to historical literature, and will also make an exceedingly handsome gift or prize book,

MISSIONARY BOOKS.

FORTY-TWO YEARS AMONGST THE INDIANS AND ESKIMO.

Pictures from the Life of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Horden, First Bishop of Moosonee. By BEATRICE BATTY. With Map and Illustrations. 2s. 6d. cloth.

Bishop Horden was a great pioneer missionary. This book tells the story of his hard and adventurous life mainly in his own words. It abounds with incidents of Indian life and travel; and it also contains records of success which gladden the hearts of all who long for the triumph of the Saviour's kingdom.

HENRY MARTYN,

Saint and Scholar, First Modern Missionary to the Mohammedans. 1781—1812.

By GEORGE SMITH, C.I.E., LL.D., Author of "Life of William Carey," "Life of Alexander Duff," etc. With Portrait. 10s. 6d. cloth.

"Everyone must be the better for reading a book like this."—Church Times.

"A welcome and impressive record of a charming personality and a remarkable career."—The Standard. "A book which ought to find a place on every minister's bookshelf and in every church library."—The Independent.

THE STORY OF UGANDA

And the Victoria Nyanza Mission.

By S. G. STOCK. With a Map and Illustrations. 3s. 6d. cloth.

"The story of Uganda has been partially told by many persons in many ways. But Miss Stock has gathered the fragments together and made of them a continuous narrative."—Guardian. "A very fascinating book."—English Churchman. "A stirring narrative."—Christian World.

THE AINU OF JAPAN.

The Religion, Superstitions, and the General History of the Hairy Aborigines of Japan. By the Rev. JOHN BATCHELOR, C.M.S., Missionary to the Ainu. With 80 Illustrations. Crown 8vo. 6s. cloth.

"Mr. Batchelor's book is valuable as being the first which treats at any length of this strange people."—Pall Mall Gazette. "An interesting volume."—Standard. "Of the greatest ethnological and anthropological interest."—Literary Churchman. "Unquestionably the best work on the subject."—The Speaker.

JAMES GILMOUR OF MONGOLIA:

His Diaries, Letters, and Reports. Edited and Arranged by RICHARD LOVETT, M.A. CHEAP EDITION, with Portrait, 5s. cloth.

"We are sure that this work will be read with the deepest interest by Churchmen as well as Nonconformists."—Record.

AMONG THE MONGOLS.

By the late Rev. JAMES GILMOUR, M.A. With Engravings and Map. CHEAP POPULAR EDITION, 2s. 6d. cloth gilt.

MORE ABOUT THE MONGOLS.

By the late Rev. JAMES GILMOUR, M.A. Selected and Arranged from his Diaries and Papers by RICHARD LOVETT, M.A. Crown 8vo. 5s. cloth.

"The experiences of a devoted missionary, whose gift of circumstantial narration has not inaptly been likened to Defoe's."—Times. "A delightful volume."—English Churchman.

LIFE ON THE CONGO.

By Rev. W. HOLMAN BENTLEY, of the Baptist Mission. NEW EDITION, REVISED. With Illustrations. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. cloth boards.

Mr. Bentley has carefully revised his little book, and entirely re-written the last chapter, giving the results of missionary enterprise upon the Congo up to 1893.

New and Thoroughly Revised Edition. 8s. Cloth, Gilt Top.

THE MIDNIGHT SKY:

Familiar Notes on the Stars and Planets. By EDWIN DUNKIN, F.R.S., F.R.A.S., Past-President of the Royal Astronomical Society, and late Chief Assistant at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich. With Thirty-two Star-Maps and numerous other Illustrations.

"Those little maps of the starry spaces far surpass, in clearness and useful worth, all I have seen before in the planisphere way; no reader but by help of them may find, with a minimum of trouble, the star he seeks. . . . Why did not somebody teach me the constellations too, and make me at home in the starry heavens, which are always overhead, and which I don't half know to this day?"—THOMAS CARLYLE (referring to the first edition of this book).

THE ROMANCE OF ELECTRICITY.

By JOHN MUNRO. With Illustrations. 5s. cloth, gilt edges.

"A remarkably instructive and entertaining account of the marvels of electric phenomena."—The Times.

"This book of Mr. Munro's gives some very delectable knowledge, serviceable both to men of science and to general readers, old and young."—Electrical Review.

ELECTRICITY AND ITS USES.

By JOHN MUNRO. Third and carefully Revised Edition. With numerous Engravings. 3s. 6d. cloth.

"We have here a popular but clear and correct account of electrical science in all its various branches."—Journal of Science.

PIONEERS OF ELECTRICITY;

Or, Short Lives of the Great Electricians. By JOHN MUNRO. With Portraits. 3s. 6d. cloth.

"The stories of these lives are admirably told, and will be read with fresh interest alike by the scientific and non-scientific reader."—Manchester Guardian.

HEROES OF THE TELEGRAPH.

By JOHN MUNRO. With Portraits. Crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. cloth.

"Well-written sketches of the lives of eminent inventors."—Saturday Review.

"A capital book to give to a boy."—Church Times. "Interesting biographical sketches."—The Times.

THE BROOK AND ITS BANKS.

By the Rev. J. G. WOOD, M.A. With many Illustrations. 6s. cloth, gilt.

"A charmingly-written series of chapters in natural history. A reader of the book will be instructed without knowing it."—Scotsman.

"A nicer book for boys than this it would be hard to imagine."—Spectator.

THE HANDY NATURAL HISTORY.

By the Rev. J. G. WOOD, M.A. With 224 Engravings. Small 4to. 8s. cloth boards, gilt edges.

"A handsome volume, in which the author, a well-known naturalist, tells his readers, in simple, untechnical language, the habits and nature of birds, beasts, and reptiles. Mr. Wood's style is excellently adapted for attracting the interest and insuring the attention of even ordinarily careless readers."—The Mail.

ANTS, AND THEIR WAYS.

With Numerous Illustrations, and Appendix giving a Complete List of Genera and Species of the British Ants. By the Rev. W. FARREN WHITE, M.A. Crown 8vo. 5s. cloth.

THE HONEY BEE.

Its Nature, Homes, and Products. By W. H. HARRIS, B.A., B.Sc. With Eighty-two Illustrations. Crown 8vo. 5s. cloth.

Romance of Real Life.

True Incidents in the Lives of the Great and Good. Profusely Illustrated.
Large 4to, 3s. 6d. cloth, gilt edges.

“The Romance of Real Life” should be put into the hands of young people. It is ‘written down to them,’ and shows once again that truth is stranger than fiction. The book is well illustrated and—what is a great consideration in looking for prizes—there is plenty of it for the money.”—Methodist Times.

COPYRIGHT EDITION, WITH ALL THE AUTHOR'S CORRECTIONS. Illustrated.

THE PEEP OF DAY.

A Series of the Earliest Religious Instruction the Infant mind is capable of Receiving. With Verses illustrative of the Subjects. Imperial 16mo. With numerous Illustrations. 2s. 6d. cloth.

The Religious Tract Society has, since 1863, aided in publishing this book in upwards of thirty languages and dialects. The copyright of the original edition having expired, and several reprints of that edition now being published, the Society have made arrangements with Messrs. Longman & Co., the present publishers of the duly authorised edition, by which they are enabled to place upon their list, not a reprint of the earliest unrevised edition, but one which contains all the latest revisions and copyright improvements and additions of the author.
