INTRODUCTION.

The present volume—third of the series of this calendar of the American MSS. in the Royal Institution—covers a period of nine months, namely, from July, 1782, to March, 1783, leaving material sufficient for one more volume to complete the whole of these manuscripts, which extend to the close of the year 1783.

Sir Henry Clinton having returned to England, was succeeded in New York, as shown towards the end of Volume II., by Sir Guy Carleton, afterwards Lord Dorchester, who had previously served as governor and commander-in-chief in Canada from 1768 to 1778. Like his predecessor, Sir Guy held, together with his powers as commander-in-chief, the authority to act with Admiral Digby as Commissioner for restoring Peace. Before leaving England he was acquainted with the negotiations for peace opened by Lord Shelburne upon his appointment as Secretary of State, and though on the first of the month of which this volume opens, the death of the Marquis of Rockingham had closed that short administration, yet, Lord Shelburne being placed at the head of affairs, the negotiations proceeded with but little interruption. The military events belonging to these dates are therefore few, but the details of this concluding period of the British occupation of their late colonies are not without interest.

One of the first papers is a state of the army under Sir Guy Carleton, giving the total of the effectives as 34,529. An attack by a party of Americans on Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, in the month of July, is entered on page 305, and, on page 157, is described the attack by Indians on General Wayne's camp on the outskirts of Savannah, though that event actually took place in June. The skirmish in South Carolina in which the American Colonel Laurens was fatally wounded is also mentioned, (p. 110). The arrival of the French fleet at Boston and the movements of the armies of Washington and Rochambeau, though not specifically stated, are probably the foundation of the opinion given at New York by General Lossberg in October as to the danger of attack (p. 162), and later of the dispositions and minute regulations given by General Robertson for the troops in case of such an event (p. 260).

The evacuation of Savannah took place in July, under a parting protest from Governor Sir James Wright (p. 11). That of Charlestown was next proceeded with and took much longer to accomplish, the correspondence with General Leslie, who was in command there, continuing to the month of December. The artillery and ordnance stores were sent to Halifax, while most of the troops were distributed in the West Indies, East Florida, Halifax or New York. The decision to retain East Florida an asylum for the loyalists induced a great number of these with their slaves to remove thither, see the correspondence with Lt. Col. McArthur and Governor Tonym at St. Augustine. Many other loyal inhabitants went to Jamaica and a few hundreds to Nova Scotia.

On the 20th December Carleton writes:—The evacuation of this place (New York) is to commence as soon as possible.

It was decided that Halifax should be put in the best state of defence and in his letter of the 9th September to Major Gen. Paterson (p. 110), the commander-in-chief intimates that the whole reinforcement of the year was to remain in Nova Scotia. To that province came the civil governor—John Parr—in October, and the correspondence and arrangements as to providing lands, shelter, and provisions for the loyalists, disbanded troops, and others arriving there, continue to the end of these papers. The “troublesome post” of Penobscot, as Washington calls it, was also retained for the time being.

The payment of the various provincial regiments by warrants issued every two months to their own paymasters is explained by Mr. Morgann, secretary to Carleton, as a method introduced by Sir Guy on his arrival (p. 158). Three of these American regiments were placed on the British establishment from December, 1782, viz., the Queen’s Rangers under Lt. Col. John Graves Simcoe, the King’s American Regiment under Col. Edmund Fanning, and the cavalry of the British Legion commanded by Lt. Col. Tarleton.

Delays and difficulties thrown in the way of exchange of prisoners are remarked on in another letter from Mr. Morgann to Commissioner Elliot (p. 129). The prisoners which remained of the Troops of the Convention of Saratoga had actually been in captivity since the year 1777. Papers in the months of December, 1782, and January, February, and March, 1783, describe the sending out from Headquarters of supplies of clothing, money, and other necessities, conveyed under pass-port by Captain Armstrong and Major Gordon to the various prisoners—British, German, and Provincial—in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, and the seizure and detention of some of these supplies en route. The action of the Spaniards towards the prisoners taken in the capture of Pensacola and West Florida calls forth a very angry letter from Major Campbell, see page 22. Depositions of Germans show the efforts made to induce them to become American settlers (pp. 314, 407). A letter from Lord Cornwallis regarding his personal exchange may be noted, as well as some papers relating to the release of Capt. Asgill.

Of the unscrupulousness of army contractors a glimpse is given on page 43, in the destruction of certain barrels of flour which consisted of "sweepings of storehouses and bake-houses, rags, paper and old hats."

Some private bills of the commander-in-chief for groceries, haberdashery, etc., show incidentally the prices of such articles at the time in New York.

The situation in the West Indies seems an anxious one for the various commanders, naval and military, in view of the movements of the combined French and Spanish forces at Hispaniola, and of the known fact that while the negotiations for peace with both countries were being conducted in Paris, an expedition was in preparation at Cadiz of which the French Admiral—Comte D'Estaing—was to take command. On the 24th March, however, the French minister at Philadelphia communicates to Sir Guy Carleton his official news of the signing of the preliminaries on the 20th January and consequent cessation of hostilities (p. 414).

A few papers at the end of the book may be pointed out as showing the exertions of Lt. Col. Thompson, better known as Count Rumford. In August, 1782, he had been publicly thanked in General Orders for completing the King's American Dragoons (p. 97). At the end of March the papers referred to include a scheme to attach four companies of light infantry to that regiment, as well as plans for the raising of a corps of volunteers from the disbanding Provincial forces to serve in the West Indies.

This volume, like the preceding ones, has been seen through the press by Mr. Henry J. Brown.

MAJ. GEN. EDWARD MATHEW to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 2. Antigua.—Acknowledges letter by Maj. Nesbitt. The corps under Gen. O'Hara, consisting of the 19th and 30th Regiments, arrived on 24 June last, on its way to Jamaica. The season being so far advanced and Jamaica appearing from the successful action of 12 April to be in perfect security and the troops most exceedingly wanted here, took upon himself to detain them, and has added them, for the present, to the garrison of St. Lucia; they have sailed to-day for that place. Gives extract from Shelburne's letter to him, authorising him in case of the arrival of any troops from N. America to detain them, also that he (Sir Guy) had orders to assist with reinforcements from his army. The French since 12 April have sent back some of their troops to their former stations to windward and have strengthened Brimstone Hill, and as the re-possession of St. Christopher appears to be a principal object with the administration, encloses extract of his last letter to Shelburne stating his reasons for not attempting it. Submits for consideration the sending what troops can be spared to put him in a state to act offensively and that they could proceed from New York to arrive in November at St. Lucia; would also be glad to have more ordnance if possible. Has adopted his Excellency's plan, and appointed a commissary, Henry White, of New York, to transact all business that may occur in North America relative to the army under his command. Captain Bibby will deliver this. Sends a cypher.

Three signed letters. Vol. 12, Nos. 145, 175, 149. 4 pages each.

What is particularly required is negroes and if any are to be procured at New York (without purchase) to enter into H.M. service at 6*d.* a day and rations, they are to be sent. He is authorised to grant John Cruden of Charlestown power to send 200 from there.

SIR GUY CARLETON to DON JUAN MANUEL DE CAGIGAL, Gov. of the Havannah.

1782, July 3. New York.—"Your letter of the 18th April . . . addressed to Genl. Campbell, has been placed in my hands. Since which, I have also received two letters of your Excellency's . . . ."

Your Excellency will observe by the inclosed receipts, some slight difference between the number of prisoners intended to be sent, and those actually received, which your Commissary of Exchange will doubtless set right.

Upon the subject of exchanges, and of the detention of Major Campbell and Captn. Deans of the Navy, as Hostages, I had received in May last a letter from His Excellency Genl. Galvez, dated 30th December 1781. In his opinions upon these subjects I cou'd not concur, but I referred the whole to that generosity by which your national character has been always marked, assuring him, as I now assure your Excellency, of every attention on my part towards the subjects of Spain, and so far as it depends upon me, I shall preserve that intercourse of good will and regard between the subjects of two nations, which no course of open war has hitherto been able to destroy. With this disposition of mind, I shall represent with frankness, that it has been inconvenient to the officers, whose regiments are in Jamaica, to be sent here, and as their transmission to this or that place, seems to be of no public moment, I therefore hope, Sir, that in future exchanges those private considerations may be mutually attended to.

I am further to acquaint your Excellency, that those officers, whose corps were in Jamaica, have frequently applied to be conveyed thither in Flugs which were often passing, and that two officers whose men have been brought here in the Flugs have themselves been sent to Bermudas, circumstances with which it is probable your Excellency has not been made acquainted."

JOSEPH CHEW, Secretary for Indian Affairs, to MAURICE MORGAN[N].

1782, July 6. New York.—Sir. I have had sundry conferences with the Indian sent to me in consequence of your note to the Adjutant General, too long to repeat here. He wrote several things he was desirous of saying to His Excellency the Commander in Chief; from them I formed a memorial he has put into the Adj. Generals' hands to deliver.

He says much about peace, religious & Christian duties having been educated and ordained a minister at Dartmouth College in New England, a place famous for the true spirit of canting and zeal in the cause of rebellion; he has been preaching to the Stockbridge and other Indians more immediately under the care of Mr. Kirkland who was educated under the same pious masters, and who by his unwearied endeavours got the Oneida Indians, to join the rebels, neither of these people being able to come at the salary allowed by the Society in Great Britain to Indian Missionarys Mr. Simons's principal business here is to find means of getting that or some other reward for what he calls his Christian labours, and having heard of the money given by the people of England to Whitaker Wheelock and the mohigan Indian preacher Ocum, under the pretence of their sole motive being the civilisation of the savages—he proposed to ask a passage to England there to solicit and get his salary fixed, also to endeavour to obtain other donations. I have put him of this at present being well assured it would occasion much trouble and no one good can arise from it,—

He says he hears the Oneida Indians have retired from amongst the inhabitants and gone back to their former settlement, that the Indians of Stockbridge and the New England tribes who were with the Rebels have quitted the service and are now at home and he thinks if the Commander in Chief sends a favourable message to them forgiving their former behaviour, they will remain at home, attend to their own affairs, and have nothing more to do with the Rebels notwithstanding Mr. Kirkland's endeavours to keep them in their service, who with many others have made them believe it was the Kings Troops from Detroit who murdered the moravian Indians on the Ohio.—I know several instances of kindness shewn by the Connecticut Indians, particularly the Nahautick Tribe, to His Majesty's persecuted subjects and believe any favourable report this man may make will have a good effect and I think the sooner he is dismissed the better. I will do myself the honor of calling upon you and if theres any other circumstance concerning him you wish to know will give the best information in my power, and am with great respect, &c.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 64. 2 pages.

OLIVER DELANCEY, Adj. Gen., to MORRIS [MAURICE] MORGANN.

1782, July 6. Head Quarters.—Encloses a memorial of Captain Neil McArthur and begs to know if any orders are come from England on this subject.

Signed letter. Vol. 44, No. 133. 1 page.

THOMAS KNOX to [GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON].

Saturday [probably 6 July 1782].—Since the dragoon was mounted John Hutchins brings information that the sloop called the “Dove” answers to the description given of the “William and John”; she lies now at the wharf and was sold for auction; the men have escaped. It is thought that those who seized her, took her to Egg harbour, and she was brought into this port under name of “Dove,” having the Admiral’s permission to enter with lumber. Desires to know whether the Marshall (sic.) of the Court is to detain this vessel until further enquiries have been made.

And this when a reinforcement of 4 or 500 Men would have effectually held the country, and when the last letters I recd. from His Majestys Secretary of State authorized me to declare to the people that His Majestys Loyal and Faithful Subjects in Georgia might rely on His Majestys protection & support. GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON to LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, July 15. New York.—No. 4. Approves of his delaying the evacuation of St. Augustine; would agree to the change made in the garrison if he did not fear it would hinder the evacuation of Savannah and Charlestown. Would have been much censured had he given the permission to go to Europe desired at such a time. All other operations are suspended till these evacuations have taken place. The evacuation is not a matter of choice but of deplorable necessity in consequence of an unsuccessful war. Therefore again requests that the troops from Savannah be sent as soon as possible to New York, those from Charlestown to follow. Is not unmindful of distresses of Loyalists, but considers the safety of the province of first importance, and that being accomplished the prospects of Loyalists will be more favourable. Has applied to the Admiral for a convoy to Jamaica and he thinks he can supply one. Has not received the papers respecting the rents of houses. Major Wemyss, who takes this letter, will give information on the several matters mentioned in Leslie's letters.

LT. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to DON BERNARDO DE GALVEZ.

1782, July 17. New York.—A very angry letter caused by the communication of his (Galvez's) letter to Sir Henry Clinton dated 30 December last, and the language he has therein "indecently presumed to express." Conscious of rectitude he presents his conduct to the rigid test of a public investigation. "I have transmitted the correspondence in question with you Sir, to the Minister of my Sovereign. Have you done the same? If so, why disturb the Commander in Chief of these armys, or attempt to divert his attention from more important objects, by the intrusion of a subject, which was already left to the mutual and ultimate decision of the Courts of London and Madrid." Were the epoch of the assault on Pensacola to revolve he would repeat his conduct, and glories in recollecting that "the handfull of gallant and intrepid officers and men I had the happiness to command, resisted a multitude of foes (in the combined forces of France and Spain) in a manner that I leave to the chaste pen of a candid historian to relate. . .

I think it beneath me here to comment on the use you have made of that power [gained by the capitulation]. Let events, and the too often mentioned correspondence speak for themselves. I am above, & feel my conduct superior to expostulations. And I here declare, that with respect to personal considerations, I consider myself & my reputation, so far above, & so much out of the reach of your ungenerous, & unbecoming reflections, that as a private gentleman, I would have treated your last letter with a disregardfull & contemptuous silence. But when I view myself as an officer holding a respectable rank in the service of my most gracious sovereign, and beloved country, I obey the impulse of a just resentment, at your unavailing effort, & impotent attempt to tarnish the lustre of the arms of Britain, & gloss the inconsistency of your own conduct in doing which you have stained your paper with language, I would blush at the thoughts of imitating, in retorting with similar illiberality on you.

It is with unexpressible satisfaction Sir, I now announce to you, that I am now no longer in your power, nor subject to the haughty & wanton caprices of your temper. By recent letters from Havannah & Jamaica, I have with real joy received authentick, & unequivocal intelligence, that conformable to the laws of nations, & of war, as well as to the first article of the capitulation, signed & ratified with you (on the surrender of the garrison of Pensacola) on the 10th May 1781, the officers & soldiers, together with myself, the publick & staff officers composing that garrison, have been fairly & actually exchanged, by an equivalent of officers & men in the service of Spain (that had been captured and detained as prisoners of war to the British arms) being sent by the Governor & Commander in Chief of the Island of Jamaica, to the Havannah, & there received for the purpose of said exchange, by the Governor & Captain General &c of the Island of Cuba, and that transaction stamped with every necessary & conclusive sanction, agreeable to the honourable and liberal cartel settled & interchanged between their Excellencies the Governors of said Islands on the 18th November 1781. . . . .

I would wish . . . to avoid making any further mention to you of Major Campbell . . . I shudder at the accounts of cruelty being added to injustice in his confinement at Mobile, which as being one of the most unhealthy situations on earth, offers a probability he may there perish (and with him the power of that pen you seem so much to dread), and of representing the accumulated injuries that have been vindictively & illiberally heaped on him. Should he survive his maltreatment, his liberty & redress of his sufferings will be sought & expected from other powers than those you possess. . . . .

As it is utterly impossible that any thing you can ever say or do, will amount to an attonement for your conduct & behaviour towards me; and as from education and disposition, I am unaccustomed to a harshness of expression reluctantly forced from me by you, I hope our correspondence will here for ever finish, and as my service is now again called for, & devoted to my King & country, I never wish to meet you but in arms. I cannot however lay down my pen, without observing to you, that should the chance of war, in your turn ever place you a prisoner to the arms of Britain, & in my power (an event by no means unusual even in that career of conquest, & unequal advantages that seems to have intoxicated your imagination) you may rest assured that a liberal treatment, contrasted to that I have experienced from you, would in my humble opinion, be the deepest reproach, & the severest censure you could possibly meet with."

Closes with sincere testimony to the uncommon politeness and liberal treatment received from Don Manuel de Cagigal Governor of Cuba.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 17. Charlestown.—No. 3. Sir,—Five Spanish Officers and about seventy men, having been captured by one of our privateers, and brought into this port, in the month of March, I was induced from motives of various consideration to adopt the measure of sending them immediately to the Havana; in the number of which the expectation of being able to obtain some consequential intelligence of the strength and situation of the enemy's force at that place had much weight with me, which the then critical state of our affairs in that part of the world, and the invasion which threatened Jamaica had rendered an object of considerable importance.

In this view I made choice of Mr. Robert Ross, who embarked in the Flag of Truce which conveyed the Spaniards, with the temporary appointment of a Commissary of Prisoners for the purpose of adjusting the exchange. This Gentleman readily engaged in a design which from his connections with the Spaniards during his former residence on the Mississippi he was well qualified to execute. The uncommon ability with which this service has been performed, will in the perusal of the extensive and correct information which I have the honor herewith to enclose be manifest to Your Excellency, and render my praise superfluous—I embraced the opportunity of the Zebra sloop of war sailing from this port to the West Indies to transmit a copy of it to Sir George Rodney.

The relation which I also enclose of the situation of Captain James Campbell, I thought it my duty to procure, and to lay before Your Excellency; I have every confidence that a proceeding of so extraordinary a nature, thus coming Sir to your knowledge will not remain unredressed, and the pain with which I represent the unmerited sufferings of a British Officer is alleviated when I reflect that I address myself to Your Excellency. I have the honor to be, &c."

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 17. Charlestown. Sir,—Since the departure of Captain Ashe, I have been severely attacked with an inflammation in my eyes, which has confin'd me to a dark room, and from my being subject to this complaint for these some years past, I have every reason to suppose that my confinement will continue near a month longer; my constitution from the nature of the climate has been very much reduced, but as I have your Excellency's orders to remain here, nothing but the immediate apprehension of my health being in danger, can induce me to remove myself to New York, although my physicians have pressed me to it.—I have therefore resolved to try the remainder of the summer; but I think it proper to apprise your Excellency, that should it become necessary for my healths sake, that I should be obliged to leave Charles Town, that Genl. De Bose, who will have the command in my absence, has, from his good sense and prudence, ever left the business department of the command, to the senior British officer.—Major Genl. Gould whose health was declining very fast, sailed in the Grenville Packet for England the 13th inst by the positive advice of his physician.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 18.—Sir,—Notwithstanding the arrangement that I proposed to your Excellency by Captain Ashe, in removing part of the 60th Regiment to this place; I have since judg'd it of more essential service, to order the Florida Rangers, who were raised for the service of Carolina & Georgia, to disembark at Charles Town; where I propose keeping them, till such time as your Excellency may think proper to remove them to New York, or St. Augustine.—Should the latter place be determined to be kept, I think it necessary to acquaint your Excellency, that Lieut. Col. McArthur, from the knowledge I have of him, will be, if it can be contrived, the properest person to leave the command of that fort to.—From the late changes in the publick departments, I have reason to think, that application will be made to your Excellency, by Major General Dalrymple, for Capt. McKinnon, Deputy Quar. Masr. General, for leave to go to New York, in order to settle his accounts; I need not I hope Sir, point out to you, the great occasion there will be, for the service of a Quarter Master General here, should this place be evacuated, and I am to hope that leave will not be granted for him.—I beg leave to put your Excellency in mind of the very great want of rum here, which I have reported in every letter, that I have written to New York for these three months past. Although I have made every saving in my power, by confining the issuing of that article to the soldiers alone, yet I am sorry to acquaint your Excellency that I have not at present in this garrison, more than one week's rum; and I am sorry also to add, that not long since, three ships from Jamaica, have been taken off our bar, and carried into George Town.—I must therefore request that a quantity of rum may be ordered here as soon as possible, and if there was sent at the same time a proportion of port wine for the use of the sick it would be of the greatest service.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 19. Charles Town.—No. 4. Will send this by the fleet from Savannah, which may be hourly expected. Refers him to Brig. Gen. Clarke for an account of the evacuation of Savannah. Has been induced in answer to the request of Sir James Wright and the inhabitants, to desire Capt. Swiney to supply shipping to transport about 2,000 of their negroes to Jamaica; has written to Campbell and commanding officer of the navy at that island, concerning this, and to desire the immediate return of the vessels. Is not yet informed if Capt. Swiney could comply with this, but desires his instructions, as it is probable a similar requisition will be made by the inhabitants of this place when evacuated. Scarcity of provisions in Florida. Has ordered the Florida Rangers to disembark at this place not thinking it advisable from the conditional circumstances under which they were raised to send them to the Northward. The sickness which rages among the troops at Charlestown has compelled him to contract the works at the Quarter house and to reduce the command at that post which now consists of about 700 men. General Greene has moved his army opposite Ashley Ferry near Mathew's plantation. Thinks the amount of shipping required for evacuation of Charlestown cannot be estimated at less than 15 to 20,000 tons, and doubts if the total embarkation can be completed in less than four or five weeks. Has given leave to Lieutenant Colonels Balfour and Cruger and Captain Barry to proceed to New York to request Carleton's permission to return to Europe. Has appointed Lieutenant Colonel Allen of the New Jersey Volunteers to succeed Balfour as Commandant of Charlestown. P.S. Has learned that Greene has been joined by 300 new men under General Pickins; a number of boats have been collected on the Ashley, and the militia ordered to assemble. As it will not be possible to keep any number of them together at this season of the year he has probably some immediate attempt in meditation to which every possible attention will be given.

JOHN GRAHAME to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 20. Tyby in Georgia.—His Majesty having been graciously pleased to appoint me Superintendent of Indian Affairs for the Western Division of the Southern District in the room of Mr. Cameron deceased—I presume to address myself to your Excellency, and to request that I may be honored with your instructions as to the line of conduct which your Excellency may wish me to pursue, in respect to the different Nations of Indians within my district.

Above two hundred of the Chactaw Nation arrived in this Province in January last and have remained with the Garrison of Savannah ever since—they have upon every occasion shown themselves ready and willing to go upon service—and in every instance where they have been actually employed have behaved not only with spirit but with a degree of good order and regularity, not very common amongst savages, they are now embarked for East Florida, and having been absent from their Nation near twelve months—I shall send them home how soon they arrive.

I beg leave to observe to your Excellency that from the contiguity of the Chickesaw and Chactaw countrys to West Florida and the Mississipi, the Indians of those Nations have it at all times very much in their power to harrass the Spanish Settlements in that quarter, and indeed not only to break up the more remote ones altogether—but likewise to possess themselves of several of their outposts,—and I humbly apprehend a diversion of consequences may be made by them, should your Excellency think proper to give me orders to that purpose.

St. Augustine being now the only British post to the Southward from whence any communication can be kept up with the Indian Nations in our interest—I shall there wait your Excellency's orders—I have carried with me the few presents which remain undistributed—of which a fresh supply is very much wanted—letters from Lord Geo. Germain of the 7th Decembr mention that two different cargoes of such goods had been shipt for Pensacola for the use of my Department, but on the surrender of that garrison were stopt at Jamaica, and had been since ordered to New York—where if they should be arrived—I hope your Excellency will be pleased to give orders that they may be sent to me at Augustine.

If the Commanding Officer of his Majesty's Troops in East Florida should require of me—as necessary and essential to the King's service & the security of that Province; that I should order down a considerable body of Indians—I conceive it will be my duty so to do—but in obedience to late instructions signified by the Right Hble. Welbore Ellis Esqr. I shall persevere in restraining them from committing any acts of violence or from acting at all offensively, unless they should be ordered on detachment with the King's Troops."

LT. COL. WILLIAM MARTIN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 26. New York.—Description of Delaware River, Head of Chesapeake Bay, Hudson's River and Gardner's Bay. Situation of the "rich populous trading town" of Philadelphia. "The command of the navigation of the River Delaware is of the utmost importance to the British Nation, both in peace and war, and the taking possession of it would be one great and decisive step towards terminating the American Rebellion. To do this effectually and permanently, it would be necessary to establish a respectable post between Philadelphia and the sea, on the banks of the River, whose guns could command the ship channel." Two points are proposed—one at the mouth of Christian Creek, the other at Reedy Island. Advantages of both these. The post of Reedy Island "would bring over to the British interest, a most valuable, extensive, and fertile tract of country, commonly called in Virginia and Maryland the Eastern Shore. . . . This country is well peopled, and besides tobacco produces abundance of wheat, Indian corn, oats, rye, with plenty of pasture and hay. So that were the British established either at Reedy Island or Christeen Creek in the Delaware, they could draw from it the same resources, as they do now from Long Island by possessing the lower parts of Hudson's River, the East River & Connecticut Sound, but much more abundantly, as Long Island is by no means so rich or fertile as the country above described whose inhabitants have already made many advances to come under the protection of the British Government, and have long wished for the execution of the plan now suggested. And were they to prove upon trial insincere in their professions, a few frigates and armed vessels would soon reduce them to submission, as they could not long subsist with any comfort without free egress to the ocean thro' the Cheaseapeak and Delaware Bays. Their example would very soon be followed by the inhabitants of Virginia and Maryland, on the opposite shore of the great Bay of Cheaseapeak. In short the Delaware and Cheaseapeak are so connected, that whoever is master of the first, will very soon be so of the last, with the help of such a sea force as may be reasonably expected, where almost every thing depends on the command of the water, and the proper distribution of cruizers and armed vessels. . . . . The town of New York tho' well situated for trade, is one of the worst situations in the world for a military post. It commands no extent of country or important pass, either by land or water, but is itself commanded by Brooklyne and Powles Hook; both its land and water lines are so extensive, that it requires an army to defend it, and has accordingly had one for that purpose these six years past. It is a spot of no intrinsic or natural value to Great Britain, and has a very bad harbour for ships of war, tho' its temporary importance is at present very great, by its immense quantity of moveable property belonging both to the King and to the British merchants that is at this time within it." Brooklyne on Long Island is infinitely preferable to the city or island of New York. The post called the Flag Staff Hill on Staten Island may be rendered very respectable. But Sandy Hook is thought by good judges to be the most important spot to Great Britain of any spot connected with this communication. Description of Gardner's Bay called by Admiral Arbuthnot the Spithead of America. "Rhode Island and Boston Harbours having already been mentioned in the Remarks dated July 1780, it is only further to be observed, that whoever commands the navigation of Boston and Rhode Island Harbours, Hudson and Delaware Rivers, will finally bridle the whole Rebel Country, and reduce those infatuated people to the necessity of suing for peace on any terms. It may be objected to this plan that the securing of a few harbours or rivers included altogether in the short distance of four hundred and fifty miles, can never command the rebel coast which is upwards of fifteen hundred miles in extent, with many harbours, rivers, and bays both to the Southward of Delaware and to the Northward of Boston, besides several small harbours between them—To this it is answered that the countries depending on the Delaware and Hudson Rivers, Rhode Island and Boston Harbours for exports and imports, contain upwards of three fourths of all the whites in the thirteen revolted colonies, and produce the sinews of war in the same proportion, therefore whoever permanently possesses that coast will have the whole." The great Bay of Cheasapeak with the Carolinas requires a decided superiority at sea to engross it. If Great Britain cannot keep on the American Coast this decided superiority all other plans for permanently holding N. America will prove abortive. Besides the Royal fleet armed vessels must be at each post. "It is notorious that the present American Rebellion was raised by the smugglers of New England, New York and Pennsylvania, residing in the sea port towns, particularly the large cities. The Bostonians gave the first being to the thought, their example was soon followed by the rest, and finally adopted by the thirteen provinces now in Rebellion. These are the greatest enemies to America as well as Britain, to the latter they will never be reconciled but by compulsion, and when the rebellion is over, they will begin their smuggling again, unless they are curbed by Britain's effectually commanding the navigation of the four principal posts, above mentioned, when that is done all the rest will be easily bridled by cruisers." The choice of a military emporium will fall either on Rhode Island or Gardner's Bay as the fittest situation.

STORES.

1782, July 30. New York.—Report signed George Turnbull, Lieutenant Colonel New York Volunteers, James Duncan, navy, and William Armstrong, Captain 64th, of a survey taken by warrant of Sir Guy Carleton on damaged provisions exhibited to them by Peter Paumier, Deputy Commissary, as unfit for use. At the Victualling Stores at New York they found  $75\frac{1}{2}$  barrels of pork, and 11 of beef which being totally unfit for men to eat were taken below Governor's Island and the barrels staved and emptied into the river. Barrels of butter, oatmeal and rice were also found unfit to eat and were thrown into the river. Pease and bread being mouldy and unfit to issue were sold for the good of government. Seventy-two barrels of flour they saw thrown into the river after staving the barrels at the wharf. Six of these barrels consisted of "sweepings of stores and bake houses, rags, paper and old hats." At Jamaica Long Island twenty barrels of flour were examined, four only appeared to be damaged flour, the other 16 were of a composition much the same as that mentioned above. Barrels of pork and butter being unfit to issue were sold for the benefit of government. A barrel of oatmeal appeared to them a composition of flour, meal, pease and dirt. Two casks of vinegar were also ordered to be destroyed.

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM BOULOGNE.

1782, July 31.—“The probable cessation of arms in “America, and the promised acknowledgement of Independence will render it necessary to make some permanent “arrangements for our family, and either to collect the “disunited branches or make further division, in either “case it will be my greatest pleasure to contribute as far as “I am able to it's harmony and felicity.

“I say the promised acknowledgement of Independence, “because the only difference between the Rockingham and “Shelbourne parties is, that the former wanted an immediate and unconditional acknowledgement, and that Lord
 “Shelburne (who is likely to continue in office) has declared
 “in the House, his intention of not suffering it to remain
 “an obstacle in the way of Peace—but the flattering “prospect begins to decay, the English are accused by the “French of being too much elevated by their successes in “the West Indies, and of proposing unreasonable terms.
 “Their agents however still continue at Versailles, and it “is possible their negotiations may only be protracted on “account of the length of time necessary to receive dispatches from Madrid and the Hague. I mentioned before
 “that the Dutch had constantly declined the proposition “of a separate Peace, and as my countrymen have some“what uncivilly done the same, a general pacification or “redoubled war are all that remain.”

GEORGIA REFUGEES to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, July 31. St. Augustine.—Memorial. Protesting against the inaccuracy and harshness of a written engagement drawn up by Capt. Swiney which they were obliged to sign, to the effect that having had the option of proceeding to New York or St. Augustine they have accepted the latter, and that if it be considered by the Commander-in-Chief a deviation from his order to Capt. Swiney to land them at St. Augustine instead of New York, they will then claim no accommodation to remove from there, if it should be quitted, unless more craft than sufficient to remove the garrison should arrive. Represent that they had no choice left but to sign, and trust that should this province be evacuated they would meet with his countenance and protection in spite of it. At least 4000 persons whites and blacks have removed from Georgia into this province. Jamaica or some other of the West India Islands is the only place where they can employ their slaves to any advantage.

1782, July 31. St. Augustine.—Has received his of the 24th of May and congratulates him upon his appointment. Transmits triplicates of his dispatches sent by Moore, on the alarming occasion of the intended evacuation of this province, with an address to the king, Moore having informed him that the originals were thrown overboard. Has received, through General Leslie, his commands for the troops to remain in East Florida; expresses his own and the inhabitants' thanks for this measure, as it has saved them from destruction. They expected no mercy from the rebels. Trusts this last order will anticipate the royal clemency. Flatter themselves the attention due to subjects so distinguished for their loyalty and the commodious asylum the province will prove, will induce His Majesty to continue it

HUGH KELLY and JAMES FLEMING.

N.D. [qy. 1782, July.]—Case. That in the year 1775 when the rebels were associating the people to carry on rebellion Kelly commenced counter-associations—that Fleming being appointed associating officer for the rebels he joined Kelly under that colour and together in Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania they associated upwards of 1900 men. “That in the year 1779, a report prevailed in Maryland, and Virginia, that part of the British Troops, was preparing, to penetrate from Fort Detroit, to Pittsburgh, on which Kelly immediately went to Red Stone Settlement, near Pittsburgh (where he had large connexions) above two hundred miles, from his residence in Maryland, and there associated one hundred and seventy five men to join the Kings Troops at their coming to Pittsburgh, and that at the same time, Fleming went to the Kittawnings, in the upper part of Pennsylvania, and associated seventy five men to join the King's Troops at the same time and place. . . . That previous to June 1781, near thirteen hundred fighting men, had taken the annexed oaths, No. 3 and 4, under the name or appellation of the Maryland Royal Retaliators, and near five hundred the affirmation No. 1 and oath No. 2." That Kelly with officers and privates was apprehended, Fleming escaped to Lord Cornwallis in North Carolina; Kelly, condemned to be hanged, was saved by a dispute between the civil and military authorities. Later, 170 officers and privates were apprehended and some sentenced to death—but in spite of dangers Kelly and Fleming continued to prepare the Loyalists for the coming of Lord Cornwallis, but hearing, with a number of other loyalists, of his Lordship's then situation in York Town, and a reward of 500*l.* and 350*l.* respectively being offered for them dead or alive, their property in the hands of the rebels, they resolved on separating and getting to New York. On his way to that city Kelly was apprehended and kept in gaol twenty two days. On his arrival at New York he met General Hamilton who gave him the annexed certificate. His case was laid before General Clinton who promised to provide for him, but other than a dollar and a ration per day and fuel for one room he has received no consideration or gratuity, though he has lost property, been at much expense, and been thirteen times tried by the rebels. Both he and Fleming now expect their families in New York and have no means of providing for them.

LT. GEN. ALEXANDER LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, August 2. Charles Town.—No. 5. Has received his of 15th by Major Wemyss. It will be a satisfaction to have an officer so well instructed in His Excellency's sentiments with regard to future operations. Will give particular attention to the disposal of everything for the speedy evacuation of this place on the return of the fleet from New York. Will give orders meantime for articles of heaviest encumbrance to be embarked on vessels now here; expects some ships will soon return from St. Augustine and Jamaica. Fears they will not have sufficient shipping to transport all the loyal inhabitants of Charlestown. Sickness still prevails among the troops and to such an extent that the reinforcements from Georgia are barely sufficient to relieve the posts.

REAR ADMIRAL ROBERT DIGBY to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1782, August 3. New York.—I have been talking with Mr. Taylor who appear'd to me a good deal disappointed at the news, but willing to go out & will write; & wd return I believe if required.

He wishes much to have something to produce to the people from authority. If your Excellency therefore will have something drawn out for him to carry out I sd think it wd. be of service, or give him a copy of our letter to Genl. Washington, which indeed I think cant be publish'd too soon, & if you will be pleased to order me a copy & dont disaprove, I will give one to Mr. Taylor & others—But at all events I think it sd. be printed immediately. I have the honor &c. I this moment hear that the news which has got abroad from Genl. Conway's motion has made the Refugees violent to a degree & I am afraid will occasion more disorder in the town.

Signed letter. Vol. 20, No. 117. Copy.No. 118. 2 pp. and 1 p.

EARL CORNWALLIS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, August 4. Calford.—Dear Sir, Lady Asgill, whose situation has been most distressing, is very anxious to have the inclosed letter transmitted to Genl. Washington. I think I convinced her that it was impossible that the letter could arrive in America time enough to be of any use, but yet she was unwilling to give up sending it, I have therefore taken the liberty of inclosing it to Your Excellency, that you may determine whether it ought to be sent to Genl. Washington, if, contrary to all probability, you should receive it before that unfortunate transaction is finally settled.

I mentioned in a former letter how my exchange was circumstanced; but lest that packet should have miscarried I will again trouble you with a repetition of it. Mr. Laurens on obtaining his liberty engaged to procure me a release from my parole; and as Dr. Franklyn had been empowered by Congress to offer Lt. Genl. Burgoine in exchange for him, & as that General had already been exchanged in America, he requested the Dr. to give me an immediate release, that I might not be under the necessity of waiting for an answer from America. The Dr. said that he had no authority from Congress to propose any person in exchange for Mr. Laurens but Genl. Burgoine, but that, as he was of opinion that in justice & equity I ought to be released, & that it was for the honour of his country that it should be so, he would take it upon himself to do it, but he still seemed to entertain some doubts whether the Congress would confirm it. He likewise concurred with the Marquis de Lafayette in giving their activity to my aides de camp Ld. Chewton, Majr. Ross and Lieut. Haldane, (who are still however to be exchanged whenever a cartel shall take place), as a civility of nearly a similar nature was done to Genl. Lincoln.

I shall take it as the greatest favour if you will give every assistance in your power for the final settlement of this business. I most heartily beg pardon for giving you so much trouble about my affairs, and can only assure you that if it ever should be in my power to obey any commands of yours, it will give me the greatest satisfaction to do it. I have the honour to be with great esteem & regard &c.

1782, August 4. New York.—Transmits a paper containing some remarks on the evidence produced in the defence of Lippincot on his trial for the murder of Joshua Huddy. Is aware that many things brought forward will condemn the members of the Board of Directors, but he will not now attempt to justify himself in case such an action would weaken the testimony by which Lippincot hopes to save his life. This paper he desires to be laid before Carleton and returned shortly to him, as it is to form a part of the general remarks on Lippincot's trial.

SIR GUY CARLETON to BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL.

1782, August 5.—Received his of 24th and 26th June ; thanks for the description of Nova Scotia enclosed and for that of the post of Penobscot. If he should continue to think it absolutely necessary to construct an outwork for the defence of Penobscot to give order to engineer accordingly. "As you mention that the Howe armed brig will be useful in keeping up a communication with Penobscot, I approve of your continuing her in the service, and leave it entirely to your discretion to keep or discharge the armed schooner." If the party sent to Spanish River remains longer than the usual season for encamping, to give directions respecting their hutting. With regard to examination of public accounts refers him to general orders on that subject; accounts to be sent first to the deputy commissary and thence to commissary of accounts. Morden's—the barrack master's—letter having induced delay in fulfilling the orders given to commissary general by the King's commission, those orders to be complied with immediately. To issue bat and forage money to all officers in his district holding themselves in readiness for action. Refers to him a request from the Governor of Nova Scotia, for military assistance. P.S. Has thought of lodging an additional number of troops at Halifax and given directions to the commissary general to make preparations for that purpose.

ELIZABETH DE LANCEY to MAJ. GEN. JAMES ROBERTSON.

1782, August 5. Flushing.—Desiring continuance of emolument enjoyed since last November—fuel for three fires and forage for two horses. It is the first compensation or favour she has ever received from Government. Early in the war her house at West Chester was taken possession of by the Continentals and converted into a hospital; when they were routed General Heister's Quarters were fixed there; her property in forage, grain and cattle was taken for use of the army, and though an account was sent in, and payment promised, it has never been received. She and her children lost 14 houses at the fire in New York in 1776. Returning to her house at West Chester they were too much exposed to alarms from the open and spirited part her son James has taken. He advised them to come to Long Island and the fuel and forage was a most seasonable relief.

RAWLINS LOWNDES to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, August 8. Charlestown, S. Carolina.—Apologizes for the liberty taken in writing. Is an inhabitant of the province; known in many public characters in which he formerly served his Majesty. After the conquest of Charles Town was included in the benefits of the capitulation and expected to be protected in person and property. Has since remained within the British lines unimpeached of violating his engagements—Thinks the continual deprivation of his property is not warranted by any principle of war or policy.

What he particularly alludes to is the prevalent practice of carrying off negroes from this province, scarcely a vessel sails but some of the inhabitants lose this kind of property ; many of his own are now at New York and other places. Captain Durnford of the Engineers has lately carried with him a valuable house servant woman, wife to a man in Captain Durnford's employ. They have both been in Georgia in his employ. Hearing that Georgia was to be evacuated, waited on Colonel Moncrieff to request his interposition for the recovery of the negro woman, but Captain Durnford did not permit her to come on shore and after lying a day or two off the bar the vessel proceeded to New York. Desires interposition of his authority and the restoration of the woman, to whom his family are much attached, who raised his children and had the care of their infancy.

GOV. WILLIAM FRANKLIN to LIEUT. GEN. JAMES ROBERTSON.

1782, August 9. New York.—Requesting His Excellency to have the rent of the house in which he resides settled as soon as may be. When he took the house 50% was asked for the first six months and if he remained in it longer the rent was submitted entirely to himself. Is of opinion 150% per annum will be sufficient, and he believes, satisfactory to Messrs. Yates and Stephens who represent the persons to whom the house belongs. As he has taken his passage to England at the request of a number of Loyalists and with the approbation of the Commander-in-Chief would wish his consent to pay the rent for the remainder of the quarter ending the last day of October. The reason for asking this favour is that he is obliged to leave his furniture and effects undisposed of as it will be some weeks before they can be sold with such loss as he can ill sustain. Followed by a statement from Adjutant General Delancey that having represented that Sir Henry Clinton had told Governor Franklin his house rent should be paid, the Commander-in-Chief was pleased to order the following letter to be written to Lieutenant General Robertson.

1782, July 12. Head Quarters.

“Sir, It having been decided that the House in which Governor Franklin now resides, is the property of some children under the care of Mr. Stephens of the Ordnance, and that they ought to be paid rent, the Commander in Chief has directed that what is now due shall be paid by Government, for which purpose I take the liberty to request your Excellency will be good enough to determine what sum should be paid for each year that it has been in the Governor's possession.”

LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, August 10. Charlestown.—No. 6. Sends a duplicate of his letter acknowledging despatch by Major Wemyss. Fears he will require much more shipping than at first stated. Has given permission to British merchants at Charlestown to send a deputation to learn what terms will be granted them from the enemy; whatever Greene's answer may be, it is probable many will desire to remove their property with the troops. Will appoint officers to superintend the transport of the negroes &c. to Florida, Jamaica and elsewhere; proposes a corps of pioneers; has not sufficient provisions, so will apply to General Greene, who he hopes will see it is to his interest to supply him on reasonable terms. Some civil officers and others desire to go to England if a proper convoy can be granted.

Signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 217. Duplicate. No. 218. 4 pp. and 3 pp.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, August 10. Charlestown.—The Loyalists whose property has been confiscated by Acts of the Rebel Assembly seem to expect some compensation for their losses from the sequestration fund. Mr. Cruden, the commissioner appointed to manage the sequestered estates, has a balance due to him of 10,000*l.*, and he requests this may be paid from a proportional sale of negroes. Desires orders respecting this claim and the expectation of the Loyalists, in case an offer should be received from the Rebel Assembly which by some is thought to be concerting measures on this subject. Is again in a dark room and very weak. Proposes sending the Florida Rangers with the refugees to St. Augustine unless contrary orders arrive before the evacuation. Has now part of the artillery embarked.

Signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 220; also duplicate, Vol. 23, No. 219. 2 pages each.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, August 10. Charlestown.—No. 8. Proposes sending the North and South Carolina regiments and Col. Brown's corps to East Florida, also the withdrawing thence of the 4th battalion 60th regiment under Lieutenant Colonel Glazier; this change would place the command on Lieutenant Colonel McArthur who is well fitted for it. Many of the South Carolina regiment have gone off to the enemy. Proposes to reduce the regiment to infantry instead of dragoons. The returns, which are sent, show the weakness of these three corps; will await orders before making the change and in the meantime proceed with preparations for the evacuation which will probably be completed about three weeks after the arrival of the transports. N.B. The two deputies gone from here to his Excellency is a measure he has not encouraged.

[SIR] G[UY] C[ARLETON] to LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, August 15. Head Quarters, New York.—No. 5. "I am to acknowledge the receipt of your letters by the fleet from Charlestown, which arrived safe in this port on the 10th instant.

Major Wemyss who sailed from hence the 17th July in the "Duc de Chartres," will repeat to you my determination respecting the evacuation of Charlestown, and my impatience until it is carried into execution.

You may expect some shipping from Europe or the West Indies to assist in this business.

Tho' my letter of the 23rd of May last, was so full, respecting the conduct to be observed in the evacuation of Savannah, and was equally intended for that of Charlestown, yet, having received information from home, that Government disapprove very much of the officers of the police at Charlestown having extended their jurisdiction beyond its proper limits, that they have given in to a very dangerous policy of interfering with the property of Rebels, lying within the British lines, and have taken cognizance of debts prior to the capitulation, all which is considered as unwise, and unauthorized, I think it right to communicate the same; tho' what has been said in my letter above mentioned, I thought sufficiently strong to prevent plundering of any sort, or carrying away any property which may belong to Rebels. I recommend, not only the leaving the property of such persons uninjured, but to treat those in your power with lenity and generosity.

Such prisoners of war as remain in your possession you will try to get exchanged as soon as possible.

A supply of rum was sent under convoy of the "Duc de Chartres," and I have directed such medicines as are most wanted to be sent by this opportunity.

P.S. I am informed the French Fleet were seen off Cape Ann on the 7th instant."

BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, August 17. Halifax.—Received letter of 5th inst.; the contents shall be punctually complied with. Colonel Hatzfeld with a body of German recruits arrived on the 14th inst., by whom he received a letter from Shelburne. Encloses a copy, together with a letter from his lordship to Carleton. The recruits were ready to sail for New York, but on information that a French fleet was actually on the coast, of their taking the "Allegiance" sloop of war from Penobscot, and chasing the "Chatham," he detained these recruits on account of the risk of their being taken. Is glad an outwork is to be constructed at Penobscot; intends sending the Brunswick recruits thither, as he is afraid the place may be attacked. Provision ships for this garrison have not yet arrived, and there are only 10 days' allowance of bread and flour in the King's stores here. Has given Mr. Crawford permission to purchase 400 barrels of flour as there is only a month's provisions at Penobscot. Hopes to send two months' provisions to latter place as some flour has been sent in the "Diligence." An enclosed return shews the weak and sickly condition of the garrison.

LIEUT. GOV. ARCH. CAMPBELL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, September 1. Jamaica.—Sends a duplicate of his despatch of 13 July last. By intelligence from Cape François is informed that Don Galvez and the combined army are still in cantonments at Hispaniola. After deducting about 2000 French embarked for the Windward Islands, the troops who have gone on board the fleet as Marines, and others died of sickness, the forces are supposed to amount to 15000 men. Two of Gen. O'Hara's transports on their way to St. Lucia from Antigua with troops on board have been compelled by currents and scarcity of provisions to come to Jamaica; owing to the difficulty of forwarding them at this time of the year, he has ordered them to land and join the troops here, until orders are sent for their removal. Has heard that part of the 79th Regiment and the Loyal American Rangers with some provincial troops of this island have been sent to New York and Bermudas; will be glad of orders given to them to return to their respective corps in Jamaica.

GEORGE ROSE to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, September 7. Treasury Chambers Whitehall.—Sends a copy of the last report of the commissioners for the public accounts relating to extraordinaries of the army. “The constant & assiduous attention your Excellency paid to that service while in this country, from which the public are likely to derive such considerable benefit, and the steps taken, almost instantly, on your arrival at New York, for constituting a Board there to examine the Accounts of the Army, will not permit a doubt to be entertained of your Excellency's disposition to use every possible means to lessen the expenditure, at a time when it is so highly important that every exertion should be strenuously used for that purpose. The accounts for the money advanced by way of imprest to the several officers for various services in America, cannot be finally made up and settled here till a late period, and the auditors who are ultimately to examine them cannot possibly judge so well of the charges as persons on the spot, who are conversant with the services for which they were incurred; every immediate control of the expenditure therefore by such persons must be of the utmost consequence." The Treasury intend considering this report; will communicate their directions or observations.

PHILIPPE ROCHEBLAVE to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

Complains that after three years' humiliating treatment in captivity and a separation of five years from his family, he is still here without hope and without succour, not only having received no compensation, but not even the appointments due to him, rations, lodging nor forage, for the sole reason that he was not appointed by the present General of Canada. His special knowledge of American affairs. Endeavoured unsuccessfully in the previous year to render the nation a signal service by begging the previous Commander-in-Chief [Sir Henry Clinton] to take note of the danger of Lord Cornwallis's situation.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. PATRICK TONYN.

[17]82, September 20.—Received letter of 31st July, with triplicate of dispatches entrusted to Mr. Moore, also addresses and resolutions of both Houses. The evacuation of St. Augustine or any other part of His Majesty's dominions must never be considered but as a measure of necessity submitting to a lesser evil to avoid a greater. Finds no representation made of the number of the people, their condition, their means, their wants, their total force when collected nor the natural strength of the province, without which he can make no estimate of events nor effectually co-operate with or safely countenance measures, the probability of whose success are not made in any way to appear. To send full information that he may judge the steps proper to be taken. Lieutenant General Leslie meantime is directed to send to St. Augustine the King's Rangers, South Carolina Regiment, North Carolina Regiment and North Carolina Highlanders to relieve the 60th regiment at St. Augustine, and to send a supply of ordnance and stores. Has paid two bills drawn on Clinton to prevent the credit being questioned; desires to know on what authority he proceeded.

MAURICE MORGANN to ANDREW ELLIOT.

1782, September 23. New York.—“I inclose for your information & that of Lieut. Genl. Campbell, a list of the prisoners contained in two cartel ships which arrived at Philadelphia from England. Of the ships which have arrived in other ports, I can give no distinct detail, but all the prisoners from England either have or will be delivered in the American ports.

Upon this occasion, & looking to that liberality of sentiment which prevails in England on the subject of exchanges,

I cannot help wondering that so many difficulties should be made here, and that on a point wherein not only the common interests of humanity are concerned, but the clear undoubted rights of prisoners. Exchange is a measure which cannot possibly wait on any tedious liquidations whatever, as in such case, prisoners, under the rigors of confinement, wou'd perish, and the question of course be lost in the discussion. One shou'd think by this strange union of a future interest with a present remedy, that America cou'd see no other security for her claims but a few miserable pledges, that are daily melting out of her hands, whereas a claim of money, if any due, is a national point & will remain unimpeached after every exchange has been made. Liquidation & exchanges have never been united in Europe, among other obvious reasons because each party considers their own imprisoned subjects, many or few, as entitled to immediate redress, with which the measure of liquidation is manifestly an incompatible thing. It is the prescribing of an instant remedy requiring one knows not how much time to prepare.

"It is plain that in England they have an unbounded confidence that America will not be outdone in acts of humanity and justice, & which appear so evidently to be such, and, in their nature, so indispensable, that they make part of the ordinary laws and regulations of war; for cartels are to be considered only as the mode of doing that, reciprocally, which previous to and independent of such cartels it is universally acknowledged ought to be done.

"I am Sir, wishing you all that success which the interests of so many unhappy prisoners on both sides require, Your most obedient & obliged servant."

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. PATERSON, commanding at Halifax.

1782, September 24. New York.—Importance of the post of Penobscot. Would have no means neglected that may conduce to its safety especially at this time when there is information of a meditated attempt against it. Works to be constructed with a view to an establishment of greater consequence. Besides the defence of this year, could wish a plan formed, that availing itself of all the natural strength of the post might be given its full force and importance and would be glad to know what number of troops such a plan would require. Does not mean to confine him to the spot where the fort now stands; that establishment would comprehend the whole river if desirable. As the whole augmentation of the year remains with him hopes he will be able to repel any attempt against him.

In addition to this I have a private letter from Ld Keppel, not quite so full as I could wish but he tells me I am sufficiently master of the secret matters from what passed between Ld Shelbourne and me of which I acquainted your Excellency that I believed from that conversation it was intended troops should go from this or Carolina and that I was directed to send every transport I could lay my hands on and that I believed likewise as Barbadoes was to be the place of rendezvous a force was likely to be sent out from England to meet there ; this was a conversation not for me or you to act upon, further than the part I had to do as to transports, of which I have been able to give you a very small supply. Indeed I shall be happy to receive your commands as to the troops to be embarked in the fleet as well as to that of convoying those that may go in transports.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 3. Bermuda.—Having three ensigns for the three battalion companies here, Ensign Grant has gone to New York for the recovery of his health. If His Excellency thinks it necessary to send another subaltern he requests he may be a Lieutenant, one being deficient for the Grenadier Company. If one of his own sons might be appointed to an ensigncy in the battalion or in any other, it would greatly recompense for the bad fortune he has had since 1755 having been obliged to purchase every commission he has had the honour to enjoy. P.S. Begs his acceptance of a turtle.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 3. Charlestown.—No. 11. I have received by the Narcissus the duplicate of your Excellency's letter of the 10th ultimo: I shall give every attention that the several articles of your instructions therein contained may be complied with.

The fleet for St. Augustine is nearly ready to sail; the Provincial troops mentioned in your letter will proceed to that place, where Lt. Colonel McArthur will be left with the command. I have despatched a vessel to advise them of this intention and to prepare the two Battalions of the 60th Regiment, who will be brought hither by the return of the transports; I have also embarked a supply of ordnance and stores for that garrison, and I shall give every possible assistance our magazines will afford to the Refugees, in the article of provisions, in the manner Mr. Brook Watson's directions have pointed out to the deputy Commissary General.

The Artillery has already been embarked in the manner Your Excellency recommends.

I could wish your Excellency's instructions had been fuller with regard to the sequestered negroes; their number, which is very considerable, renders this a subject of much importance, and I am not a little embarrassed how to dispose of them.

I must observe that the copy of the letter from the Treasury with regard to the salaries of the officers on the civil establishment of this Province did not come to my hands, I therefore imagine it to have been enclosed with the original of your Excellency's dispatch, the vessel with which, I understand, has been taken. I have the honor &c.

LT. COL. ROBERT DONKIN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 4. Queen St., Westminster.—“I trespassed on your Excellency's time last packet, requesting a renewal of my leave of Absence! As I apprehend the Capt Lieutenancy (vice Philips promoted) was never filled up, I beg leave to recommend the succession by seniority according to the inclosed; submitting entirely to your Excellency's pleasure to do therein as you shall think fit.

As I learn from Adjutant Dunn, that he would rather resign that commission than risk his health at Bermuda, I beg leave to recommend Sergt Major Thomas Lisle (my relation) to succeed him & go to Bermuda, & beg Mr. Dunn may remain in his command of Lieut & Pay Master, if agreeable to your will.

LESLIE.

1782, October 5. New York.—“ The Commander in Chief being out with the army at McGowan’s pass, and the fleet to sail early in the morning for Charlestown, he has only had time to give me directions to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 8th Sept. (No. 10), and to express to you his entire approbation of your conduct in those matters which have lately occurred in Carolina, & which are particularized in that letter, and its several enclosures.

His Excellency desires me to say, that with respect to the prisoners, and Governor Mathews’s letter, you will follow the instructions he has already given on those subjects ; and that in the case of the demands for rents of houses, and in all other money matters of that nature, the claimants should be referred to the Treasury.

MAJOR GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 8. Halifax.—No. 3. Received letter of 24th ult: and forwarded an extract to Brig. Gen. Campbell at Penobscot, who has now 1000 men. Promises to use every exertion to secure the Province, but the means he is supposed to be possessed of are not to be calculated by his numbers, 2000 of which are raw, unformed recruits, scarcely able to carry, much less make use of their arms. Avoided appointing a major of brigade, so as to double the 5/- per diem to the military secretary, who has more business and responsibility than any other officer. Impracticability of adding to present defences. Exertions will hardly be sufficient to put what there already is, in proper state. The expenditure of money granted for the works and defences is enormous and cannot be checked while the contract and the execution are vested in the same person. Begs determination on enclosed memorial from Captain Callbeck [see 3 October] P.S. Sends list of expenditures in the Engineer Department. P.S.S. LIEUT. COL. THOMAS BROWN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 9. St. Augustine.—Since the evacuation of Savannah the Creeks and Cherokees are favourably disposed toward Government. Major General Leslie desiring no offensive operations to be carried on by the Indians against the frontiers, has directed the officers to prevent their doing so and to pursue their hunting in order to divert their thoughts from war. Has always endeavoured to restrain the Indians from any wanton outrages. The Cherokees “have given uncommon proofs of their fidelity and attachment to His Majesty’s interest; from the exposed situation of their towns to the incursions of the rebels from the frontiers of Pennsylvania, Virginia, and the Carolinas they have twice been laid in ashes & their plantations destroyed—numbers of their women and children have been butchered in cold blood or burnt alive—, yet no species of rebel barbarity, or the loss of their towns, provisions, families or friends have induced them to abandon His Majesty’s service. The rebels & Spaniards have been lavish of their promises & presents to corrupt the fidelity of the Creeks, and to detach them from our interest” but without success. . . “The Creeks on a late occasion manifested extraordinary proofs of their zeal and attachment to His Majesty’s service. The chiefs of the nation having received information that Savannah being invested by the rebels the path to their friends was destroyed, immediately sent off Emistisicho (head warrior of the Upper Creeks) with one hundred and fifty chosen Indians. Having marched near five hundred miles, they understood that the rebel army under General Wayne was encamped within five miles of the town. Not disheartened at this intelligence, they determined to cut a passage through the rebel army or perish in the attempt. After a march of sixty miles without halting, they surprised and routed the rebels, and with a very trifling loss (the brave, gallant Emistisicho excepted) arrived in town.” Stock of Indian presents is exhausted. Promises strict economy in the Indian Department but suggests that the services of Indians in general are not equal to the expense. Whether the purchase of their neutrality at present is an object His Excellency can best determine.

MAURICE MORGANN to EARL of SHELBURNE.

1782, October 9. New York.—On occasion of transmitting to the Treasury the quarterly account of warrants for money issued here, it became proper to make some observations on the novelty of paying the provincial corps by warrants for each corps after the manner in which the British are paid instead of issuing sums of money on account to a general agent as had been heretofore the practice. The Commander-in-Chief, not being minutely informed by what rule or upon what principles those payments were made or how they had been applied, and at a loss how to state the matter in a public dispatch with certainty, the packet being on the point of sailing, and time being wanting to make a perfect investigation, has desired him to state his own conceptions of the case to His Lordship. Understands that the whole Provincial Force has been heretofore paid by one agent or paymaster common to them all, that this agent has been nominated by the Commander-in-Chief for the time being, that he was allowed for this service thirty shillings per day, that he also withheld two pence in the pound upon the total pay of each corps in the quality of agent, and had also, it is understood, the advantage of a contingent man in each company, and that he retained also in his own hands one shilling in the pound upon the pay of the commission and staff officers, which deduction was held necessary in order to place the Provincial Forces on the same footing, in that respect, with the British. Presumes this will be a matter of investigation and account, though understood by many here that these advantages are to belong to these paymasters and agents as the perquisites of office. When the present Commander-in-Chief arrived here one of his first attentions was to reform this practice, and he accordingly ordered every separate corps of provincials to be paid separately by warrants granted to their own separate paymasters and the stoppage of one shilling in the pound to be detained in the deputy paymaster general's hands as a surcharge, and he has placed these corps, in other respects, on the same footing with the British, they being now paid regularly two months in advance and their stoppages of provisions charged for the two months preceding, and this regulation extends likewise to the stoppages of their men in the general hospital, but those stoppages having been paid up to the 24th of June by the former agent or his substitute here, the present warrants do not appear to carry any stoppages, or only a few, but those of the 24th of this month will contain the proper deduction of provision and hospital stoppages. Does not undertake to be correct in every particular but thinks he has made no considerable error.

LIEUT. GEN. LOSSBERG. “Opinion.”

1782, October 11. Bayard’s House.—Paper headed “Memorandum.” “From the superiority of our ships, and the difficulty of the thing itself, a descent upon this Island by the East or North-rivers, or Harlem Creek, in view of a prepared army, is very improbable.

The works at King’s bridge are the most likely to be attempted.

In this case it is my opinion, that small corps of observation be left at Harlem to observe the creek and opposite shore, and at McGowan’s Pass and Harlem Cape to observe the North river—and that the main army occupy the works at King’s bridge, and there wait the event, or act according to the circumstances.

But if the works at King’s bridge are to be considered as outposts not to be supported, and the main defence to be made at this side of McGowan’s Pass, then the heights from Harlem Cape to McGowan’s Pass will afford a very advantageous position, to be occupied according to the nature of the ground, without adhering to a regular line.

By such a position the front and flanks would be perfectly secured, especially as the light troops may be kept concealed in the bushes, in front and on both flanks of the Army.

The possibility of a descent by the East or North Rivers may be precluded by a proper number of armed vessels, or at least delayed, till a sufficient land force can arrive on the spot to oppose it.

Should a serious attack be attempted by laying bridges from Morosinia across Harlem Creek, the success must be rendered very doubtful, in the first place, from the opposition which we are able to make by our artillery from Snake hill and other batteries, in that case to be erected, and in the second place, because the enemy may be defeated en detail, by immediate attacks from proper detachments of the army, as it will not be possible for them to bring over a large force at once.

Lastly, should the enemy surmount all these obstacles, the last mentioned position on the Heights from Harlem Cape to McGowans Pass must still retain the same advantages.”
Endorsed :—Lieut. General Lossberg’s opinion, relative to the position to be taken up in case the Enemy attempt an attack on New York Island.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 11. St. Augustine.—Has this moment received letter of 20 September. Captain Ball sails this afternoon. The resolves and addresses transmitted were the natural sentiments of loyal subjects. “The number of settlers previous to the evacuation of Georgia were about a thousand, and near three thousand blacks, the militia were about three hundred, and in case of rebellion or invasion, I am authorized by an Act of the Assembly to arm every male inhabitant within the province, and I apprehend about five hundred negroes might be trusted with arms. The Refugees from Georgia are about fifteen hundred whites and a thousand negroes, there are a few respectable families but they consist chiefly of backwoodsmen who are intolerably indolent; perhaps about four hundred may be found fit to bear arms, but their appearance is against them, their families are in distress, and they are exceedingly dissatisfied. The provincial corps no doubt may be compleated from them. General Leslie will I presume give your Excellency the earliest information of the Refugees from Carolina destined for this province; and you will be able to judge of their capacity, and the additional strength they will afford us." Promises a plan of fortifications of this town and strength of the country; the fortifications are extensive and the place naturally strong; could its boundary be extended to St. Mary's river it would prove a commodious asylum for distressed Loyalists. Thanks for honouring his bills. Is directed by His Majesty to apply for every military defence and assistance.

REAR ADMIRAL ROBERT DIGBY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 18. New York.—“ Sir, Captain Elphinstone last night sent me a letter from General Martin by which I find your Excellency has given orders not to deliver the Culloden's and Defiance's guns to the Navy except in exchange for others to replace them. Perhaps your Excellency may not have been informed that they are only lent from the Navy and that a receipt was refused at the time because the Navy should have the right to demand them. Are we not serving one master? and can it make any difference to the nation whether the Army or the Navy purchase 22 twenty four pounders? If I have stated it right it appears to me, in point of regularity, the Army should purchase the guns, as it is the Army will want them after returning the guns to the Navy, which were only lent. But if Your Excellency should persist in refusing to part with them without others, I shall make no scruple of buying a sufficient number of the French frigates guns which are all English and new. I have the honor to be '' &c.

SAMUEL HAKE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 18. New York, No. 86 Broadway.—Memorial. That in his loyal attachment to the Crown he chose to return to England. That he was sent out again by the Ministry under extraordinary sanctions. That he was taken on his passage and carried into Connecticut; thence obtained liberty to visit his connections, the Livingstons; was suffered to come into New York ostensibly to effect his exchange; was entrusted by the King's Commissioners in 1778 with a number of proclamations which he took with him in a quantity of goods amounting to 1600*l.* sterling; on account of the proclamations the goods were condemned and he himself confined, until, having formed with others a plan of extricating the loyalists from the tyranny they laboured under he escaped bringing with him the whole plan. Awaits still Sir Henry Clinton's promised action in the matter and meanwhile asks that rations, rooms and fuel, stopped the 20th May last, might be renewed. The losses sustained will appear from an enclosed deposition [see August 15th 1782]. On the back is a note dated 26 December 1782 quoting Minutes of Council of New York 20 December 1781 that if the Civil Courts of Justice were opened they would recommend that Hake should be committed to prison and prosecuted for libel; and also that he was then on the pension list at home for 200*l.* sterling per annum.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 18. Charlestown.—Secret. Sir, I dont find that the Admiral has wrote at all on the subject of Rebel property not being brought off from here to the officer commanding. As all searches on board of ship must be done by his Order, I imagine your Excellency's intentions will be better executed by a letter to Cap. Swyney on that head from Admiral Digby. It is a most interesting business, and I wish to do my best,—but must fall very short of your expectations, for officers long in this country look on negroes as their property, and the slaves are exceeding unwilling to return to hard labour, and severe punishment from their former masters, and from the numbers that may expect to be brought off, including their wives, and children, if to be paid for, will amount to a monstrous expence.

If your Excellency will please mention any number of blacks, or (if paid for) a certain sum of money to be paid (or receipts given) to a certain amount, this will be a guide for my conduct, for every department, and every officer, wishes to include his slave into the number to be brought off. They pretend them spys, or guides, and of course obnoxious, or under promises of freedom from Genl. Prevost, Ld. Cornwallis, Ld. Rawdon, or some other officer of rank, or free by proclamation.

I shall attend that all those that are paid for, or carryed off by permission, shall be sent to St. Lucia under a proper officer for the public service there.

If they are valued here, they will come very high, from the numbers already gone off.

If your Excellency intends them paid for, suppose receipts given of their names, occupations, ages, sex, owners &c. &c., and this to be settled by some men at home well informed in the value of slaves of all degrees, Genl. Green and their Governor dont seem to agree in this business, and if Mr. Greene continues to insult our front, while their commissions are here, I shall break off the business; a letter is gone out on that head—the Hessians desert very fast, every precaution is taken to prevent it—

The troops are getting, again in health—since the beginning of this month. I have the honor to be &c.

I should not wish the Admiral to know I write your Excellency on the subject of a letter to Cap. Swynney—

The want of cavalry makes Mr. Greene take the liberty mentioned in the letter—I have not 100 horses left from desertion from the S. Carolina Regiment, mounted.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOV. WILLIAM BROWN[E].

1782, October 20. New York.—Sends by this conveyance to Bermuda one Thomas Poole an American who has been imprisoned some time as an acknowledged spy. "The same humanity which saved him from the customary fate of that class of men when detected, would probably have shortened the duration of his confinement could it have been effected without inevitable ruin to many loyalists in the country whose names he had contrived should be made known to him & who were from their acts of attention to him when under the character of a loyalist left entirely at his mercy. However as he has suffered the most severe confinement and is in consequence become very decrepied," he is sent with severe injunctions not to leave the island during the war, but he (Governor Browne) is asked to ensure his continuance there for the welfare of the persons mentioned. If too difficult, recommends that he be sent to one of the West India Islands where the possibility of his returning to this continent would be most impracticable. Clothes and subsistence are to be given him.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJOR GEN. JAMES PATTERSON.

1782, October 20.—No. 3. Acknowledges letters of 25th and 30th September. Is concerned that he found the works at Halifax in such bad order as to be prevented putting them in a proper condition before the setting in of the inclement season ; he is not on that account to delay sending the intended reinforcements to Penobscot. Approves of his complying with the request of the Lieutenant Governor for troops to be sent to the frontier, but they are to be of sufficient force to prevent the danger of being carried off. Having given orders for supply of coals from Louisbourg, had expected he was well supplied with fuel and would be able to assist New York. Has given directions for a proper hospital staff and a number of artificers to proceed to the province. Refers him to instructions given to Brigadier General Campbell with regard to public accounts. Sends copy of a letter from Lieutenant General Lossberg respecting his need of stores. " The Commissary General having informed me that his assistant at Halifax has in consequence of your desire discontinued the Commissary at Penobscot without any other reason being assigned than a compliance with the desire of Brigadier General Campble " he must desire that the Commissary before mentioned at Halifax be reinstated unless there has been misconduct. Lieutenant Rousselet returns to Halifax with stores needed for recruits, and several officers are also sent to improve the discipline among them.

JOHN GRAHAM to SIR GUY CARLETON.

She was immediately released and sent to demand the liberation of the inhabitants of the Natchez settlement in exchange for those taken in the vessels. Has encouraged the Indians in his district in planting and hunting. Is indebted for the information in the enclosed paper to Mr. Robert Ross who resided in that country many years as merchant and planter. He has been lately at the Havana. Indian presents received but in a bad condition; delivered half to Colonel Brown. ## COMTE DE ROCHAMBEAU to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, October 27. At Camp.—“When Admiral Pigot has sent back the servants belonging to the officers of the French army, that were on board the Eagle, a mistake has happened the cause of which can only be the secretary of the Baron de Viomenil who made the return. Your Excellency will see by the return herein joined, that those whom I claim belong to the Marquis de Laval and to the prince de Broglio: the first was happy enough last year after the siege of York to lend 1,500*l.* sterg. to Earl Cornwallis; the second is son of a marshall of France whose reputation is known to both nations. I make this observation to your Excellency only to the end that this affair may be ultimately finished. As I do not know who is the Admiral that now commands, I can only address myself to your Excellency that thro’ your means, it may be done, being intimately persuaded of your Excellency’s and the Admiral’s generosity.”

LIEUT. COL. ARCH. MCARTHUR to LIEUT. GEN. LESLIE.

1782, October 30. St. Augustine.—Dear Sir, On the 17th I was honored with your letter of the 8th & on the 25th with yours of the 20th inst<sup>t</sup>. ; every possible endeavour has been used when the weather and this horrid bar would permit to land the troops and provisions ; the former have been several days on shore & the latter are landing as quick as the few craft here can effect.—I am sorry to inform you that much too high a proportion of the provisions have been send to St. John's, as you will see by the inclosed return ; I remonstrated on this head to Capt. Edwards, whose answer was, that want of time, proper craft, & ballast for the ships off this Bar rendered it impossible to bring the proportion wanted, here, before the Hornet & Adamant sailed.—These provisions are now landing in the Bluff. at St. John's where I have sent an officer's party to cover them, & ordered Capt. Howe to station his galley so as best to protect them till they are brought here by small craft ; which will incur a heavy expence to Government, exclusive of the risk ; about one fourth would have been sufficient to have landed at St. Johns. Col. Glasier informed you he had appointed Mr. Winniott a commissary for the refugees at five shillings per day :—I have found it necessary to continue him, and formed a committee of four of the principal refugees viz : Colonels Ball & Cassells for Carolina & Cols. Tattnall & Douglas for Georgia, to ascertain by oath the number of refugees & blacks & superintend the delivery of provisions ;—they request three or four assistants for one month to deliver out the provisions & prevent confusion & impositions ; I have taken upon me to allow them two at half a crown each per day, which I hope you will not disapprove of. The refugees not being yet all landed we have not been able to ascertain their numbers, or that of the blacks. —I expect by next opportunity Willson & I will be able to send a few blacks rebel property as you desire.

A vessel bringing the clothing of the new garrison over the Bar two days ago was cast away on it :—The clothing is got out with little damage, but the master of a transport humanely coming to her assistance, his boat upset & he with three or four of his men were drowned.

I am much obliged to you for what you say touching the Roti. I purpose immediately to replace the gunns at the Matanza fort & make it an officer's post, it is the key of this place,—I shall also have either a galley or gunboat there.

Now that Providence is out of our hands, would not this be a very proper place for a company or two of old fogies, they might smoke their pipes & tell their lies in great tranquillity without fear of flux or ague.

We are all anxiety for a confirmation of the naval victory, should it prove true, I flatter myself you will not quit Charlestown.

The new garrison is likely to be much distressed for blankets, the 60th who are just gone on board having taken the barrack blankets with them;—I remonstrated pretty strongly to Col: Glasier, but he was positive as to the 4th Battn.—and to have ordered the third to leave theirs might have been attended with serious consequences. The Barrack Master is possessed of the regl. receipts given when the furniture was issued. Please accept a small cask of sweet oranges. I have the honor to be, with the most grateful sense of your friendship, &c.

Have these corps leave to enlist men? Col. Brown has been good enough to offer his assistance in pointing out lands & procuring settlements for the refugees on St. John's River, & I shall furnish them with the publick boats for that purpose.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

N.D. [1782, October.]—Secret. “Sir, If a joint letter was wrote from your Excellency, and Admiral Digby, as Commissioners, to the naval officer here and the officer commanding on shore, it would be a guide in regard to our conduct on quitting the place, for people may differ in their opinions in regard to property, and the nature of the two services makes a material difference; and it must be observed the officer on shore has no power on board.

Queré—if an officer takes a negroe belonging to the enemy in action, with his master's horse, is that negroe looked on to be the property of the officer who took him or not.

Colonel Moncrieff advises the work on Shoots Folly to be destroyed, for they may from thence insult the shipping after all is on board, if detained by a contrary wind from getting to 5 Fathom hole—

I imagine we shall be about 4 weeks still here, for neither the York or Halifax fleets are arrived; the one for Halifax sails in two days, and the one for Jamaica very soon.

So your Excellency may still have time to send me your further instructions—

I must entreat you not to mention my having wrote about the naval business—to the Admiral.”

BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to MAJOR GEN. PATERSON.

1782, November 1. Fort George, Penobscot.—". . . . . Last night I received the honor of your letter of the 6th of last month; every attention in my power shall be paid to the defence of this post while I have the honor to command in it, at the same time I beg leave to call your attention to a conversation I had the honor to have with you at Halifax respecting this place, when I took the liberty to inform you, that this fort is commanded by a tract of high land, the summit of which is about one thousand yards from this fort; if a proper work is constructed on that height and well supplied with cannon it is scarce possible for the enemy to take this fort, while we can keep possession of that work, and without that work, I do not think this place secure.

I wrote fully to the Commander in Chief on this subject and a copy of his answer of the 5th of August I delivered to you before I left Halifax; I now request to have your orders regarding the same.

I am sorry to inform you that since my last letter to you, seven more of the Brunswick Troops deserted, four of whom were retaken up the river Penobscot.

This fort is so small and the barracks so near to one another, that it is necessary to have one or two fire engines sent here by first opportunity, and a reinforcement of some artillery men."

BRIG. GEN. BENEDICT ARNOLD to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, November 3. London.—“Sir, I did myself the honor to write to your Excellency the 13th May, and I inclosed a letter for Sir Henry Clinton respecting my Regiment, but as the letter may have miscarried, I take the liberty of inclosing a copy.—Since my last I am informed by Captain Frink, that he has requested of your Excellency to have his troop draughted from my regiment and attached to the Queen’s Rangers, or some other Corps. A request so very unreasonable and unjust, I am convinced you never will comply with, especially as it is unprecedented and would deter any person in future from attempting to raise a new corps.—It was at the request of Sir Henry Clinton (which General Robertson well knows) that I undertook to raise a regiment, who promised me every encouragement, and desired me to give my sons commissions in the regt. and assured me that they should have leave of absence as long as I choose to keep them at school.—In consequence of which I had the full complement of men inlisted for my son Richard, and Sir Henry Clinton was pleased to appoint him a lieutenant, and afterwards sent him to me in England for his education. Capt. Frink now informs me that application has been made to your Excellency to put him on half pay, and that Cornet Cagney should do duty in his room, which I am convinced you will do, as he had leave of absence, but if it is necessary that he should join the regiment, I will bring him out with me, tho he is but twelve years old and can be of little use in the regiment.

I employed Lieut. Furlong to inlist fifteen men for my son Henry, to entitle him to a lieutenancy, which number of men were inlisted by him and inspected, and I paid the bounty, but by the extraordinary measure which has been taken with my regiment (for I don't find that it has been extended to any other) the deserters from Mr. Washington's army have been claimed by the navy, and I have lost the bounty money, near one hundred guineas, and my son his appointment, notwithstanding his men were inspected, and the county paid in consequence of it.—If the men were improper recruits the Inspector General ought not to have passed them. It is very hard that I should lose the bounty and appointment too, and equally so upon the officer who inlisted the men, provided he did not know they had been in the navy, which I verily believe he did not.

Most of the officers of the regiment as well as myself have made great sacrifices by joining the King's army and have been at a very great expence in raising men, and I have the fullest confidence that your Excellency will not in my absence, suffer the Inspector General, by his misrepresentations, to injure the regiment, or any particular officer of it, but that there will be no distinction made between the Provincial Corps, altho Colonel Innes has declared his intention to break up and ruin mine.

I am informed by my agent in New York that my batt and forage money has been stopped in consequence of my absence. I had made the necessary preparation to return to New York in consequence of the King's pleasure signified to me for that purpose by Lord Amherst, but was detained by Lord Shelburne, who assured me that my detention should not in the least affect my pay or emoluments, and Mr. Secy Townshend now assures me that he thinks it reasonable, and that I ought to receive it. Had I been in New York I should with other officers have received not only my batt and forage money, but rations of forage and provisions, and have had a house provided for me. But as I have been detained here at a great expence and contrary to my intention, I trust that your Excellency will order my batt & forage money to be paid to me—had I been absent on my private affairs I should not have asked it.—

I have the honor to be &c.

I am informed by a vessel just returned that they are safe arrived at Annapolis Royal.” To give them all possible assistance.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1782, November 7.—No. 4. Has received his of 8th October by the Hussar frigate. Hopes the reinforcement would have arrived at Penobscot in time to put themselves under cover before the severe weather. Regrets the stores asked for have not been forwarded by this convoy as the troops at New York are in great distress for blankets. To send blankets, coats and other stores by the first safe convoy, also to supply what is required for the Hessian troops. The necessities of the Hanau, Waldeck, Anhalt and Anspach troops make it absolutely requisite they should have what they want most. Major General Riedesel represents that the Brunswick corps in Canada need the clothing and stores which arrived at Halifax in last fleet from Germany. As the season forbids these being forwarded this year requests Paterson to make the necessary arrangements for relieving their recruits from Penobscot and sending them with the clothing and stores to Canada as early as possible in the spring. Makes no doubt he will be able to control abuses in the conduct of public accounts and in the business of the Engineer Department. A reference to the dates of commissions will determine the dispute between Captains Callbeck and Hayden. Has no objection to 5/- a day being added to his military secretary.

1782, November 9. New York.—Petition. By the solicitations of his kinsman Crean Brush he came from Ireland to New York and settled in the county of Cumberland where he had strong expectations of being appointed sheriff. That by the incursions of the banditti headed by the noted Remember Baker, Eathen (sic) Allen, Robert Cochran and the "villian who afterwards assassinated General Gordon in Canada" all justice was stopped, he himself was committed to prison, despoiled of his property and banished. That he afterwards carried dispatches to General Howe at Boston and served in a volunteer company; was appointed assistant to Mr. Brush in storing and carrying away all property which on the evacuation of Boston might be useful to Washington's army. On their passage to Halifax they were taken prisoners and carried back to Boston, treated with great cruelty, committed to a dungeon and detained in captivity nine months. Banished to Penobscot, he and his wife escaped in a fishing boat and being picked up by a sloop of war, were landed in Nova Scotia and thence obtained passage to New York. States that he has never received either pay or subsistence. That in the execution of his duty he got his thigh broke and that his wife is in a languishing state of health. Asks the honour of a commission in the Royal Garrison Battalion of invalids or a permanent support on the Irish Establishment in his native country. DAVID BARCLAY (captain and paymaster 76th regt.) to BRIG. GEN. ABERCROMBY, Quarter Master General.

1782, November 13. New York.—Has made enquiry respecting the allowance made to the officers, prisoners by the convention of Saratoga. “I understand that while they remained in the country, they had a weekly allowance for lodging and fuel, corresponding to their rank.—This allowance was regularly paid them in the country by the Paymaster General of that army, in consequence of warrants for that purpose signed by General Phillips, & after his departure by the next senior officer.—They had their authority for signing these warrants from Sir Henry Clinton who without directions from home, but of his own accord, ordered the same allowance to be made to these officers, as was paid to the officers at Boston for lodging & fuel . . . .

Besides that allowance it appears that about the beginning of the year 1781 General Riedesel made application by letter to Lord George Germain for batt & forage money for the officers. An extract from this letter was laid before Lord Amherst, who gave it as his opinion, that he did not think it would be right the officers of the Convention army should receive batt & forage money like those employed in the field—but on account of the particular circumstances of that unfortunate army his Lordship thought, that it might be recommended to Sir Henry Clinton, if he should think proper, to make some allowance or douceur to those officers out of the contingencies of the army in America, in aid and by way of recompence in part of the heavy expenses they had been put to. Lord George Germain transmitted Genl. Amherst's opinion to Sir Henry Clinton to whom it was left to apportion the quantum.—Sir Henry Clinton upon this proposed a certain sum for each officer, which he submitted to a board of General Officers, who (as it appears by their letter to Capt. Smith the Secretary) gave it as their opinion, that the allowance his Excellency proposed was perfectly proper. Accordingly Sir Henry Clinton on the 22nd July, 13th Octr. & 5th Decr. 1781, granted three separate warrants for the payment of the allowance, to the British, Brunswick & Hessian officers. The allowance made to each Officer appears from the distributions annexed to these warrants. The distribution seems to be made on very just principles. The whole officers have the allowance from summer 1778 (165 days batt & forage being paid them the beginning of that year) and from that time continued till the officer was exchanged or went home. Those who remained in America were allowed it for the whole time, till exchanged . . . . .”

MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, November 13. Halifax.—No. 4. “The fleet which sailed for Spanish River to load coal, is safely returned and fully laden; with the exertions now using in cutting wood, I have no doubt we shall have a sufficient supply of fuel for the troops.

Being disappointed in the return of one of the transports from Penobscot, and impossible to procure another here, I had it only in my power to send half of the intended reinforcement to that post, it consisted of the Anspach Yagers, as by the inclosed return. They sailed three days ago under convoy of the Atalanta and Savage sloops of war, by which I sent three thousand pounds to Brigr. General Campbell.

I have directed Colonel Hatzfeld who commands the foreign troops, lately arrived, to detain such baggage as he shall think necessary for this service, the remainder goes to New York by the present convoy.—The transport Holderness, loaded with camp equipage and stores, I have also ordered to proceed together with the ordnance ship Lady Amherst with this convoy to New York. Out of this last mentioned ship, I have directed the ordnance storekeeper here, to take out all the arms reported to me to be in a bad state, four hundred and fifty barrels of powder for the use of this garrison, and one hundred barrels for the sea service. The Store Keeper's report of the state of the arms is inclosed.

The Superintendent of the Hospitals must have been misinformed, as no medicines have arrived here by the last fleet.

By the inclosed state of the Provincial Forces in this province, it will evidently appear how absolutely necessary will be a reformation in that Corps. I have directed an inspection of the men unfit for duty in order to their being discharged.

The troops are under cover, the British recruits are hutted about five miles from hence on the communication to Fort Sackville.

I beg leave to submit to Your Excellency's consideration, the inclosed letter from the surgeon to the hospital, requesting that the mates in that department here, may be put on the same footing with those at New York; and also a memorial from Lieut. Governor Desbrisay.

With respect to the public accounts of this command, I have only to observe that every attention shall be paid to the strict regulation of Your Excellency; And I have directed, that all accounts, prior to my command, shall be closed, and sent in agreeable to orders signified to me by the Adjutant General.

The short notice I had of the fleets sailing prevents my sending the necessary lists and customary certificates respecting the recruits to be drafted into the 70th Regiment, by the next opportunity I will do myself the honor of transmitting them.

Herewith are sent lists of the several warrants granted by me, for the public service, to the 30th October, and also a letter from the Deputy Pay Master on the difficulty of procuring money here.

A detachment of the 42th of one subaltern, one serjeant and forty privates arrived here a few days ago from St. John's Newfoundland in order to join their regiment. I have ordered them on board the Berwick navy store ship and the ordnance ship Lady Amherst.

In consequence of the inclosed letter, I have granted leave of absence, to the Chief Engineer, Captain Spry, and shall send for Captain Hartcup, engineer at Penobscot, to remain here till his return.

Not being competent to decide on the inclosed memorial from Captain Callbeck respecting the cloathing &c. of his company, on the Island St. John, it is submitted for Your Excellency's determination.

Brigadier General Campbell having appointed a Mr. Shaw to do the duty of Deputy Provost Martial at five shillings p. day, with the rank of junior captain, I am to beg the honor of Your Excellencys decision.

The letter in cypher for General Haldimand is forwarded. I have the honor &c.

ALEXANDER THOMSON to MAJOR GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1782, November 13. Halifax.—Money for the expenses of the army in this district is procured by bills of exchange drawn on the remitters in London and occasionally by specie sent them in the King's ships. If money cannot be had for bills but at a discount such discount is government loss. The last supply of specie in October 1780 enabled him to keep the exchange at par "but the demands of Government in the different departments here, being by far too large in proportion to the trade and circulating specie of the Province, and the sending specie from hence to Penobscot, which throws it totally out of our circulation, the exchange could not any longer be supported." Informed Brigadier General Campbell last August that he could only procure money for his bills at a 5 per cent. loss to government and at this rate the exchange has remained ever since. Finds he cannot procure money sufficient even at this rate; is therefore of opinion, that until he can receive a supply of specie the government must have even a greater loss in the exchange, also that it will be difficult if not impossible to obtain money for the payment of warrants the Major General may have occasion to issue.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, November 13. St. Augustine.—The King's Rangers, North and South Carolina Regiments have safely arrived in this province, also an engineer, a reinforcement of the Royal Artillery, ordnance and stores, and loyal refugees. "It is with pleasure, Sir, I inform you of a considerable accession of strength by the arrival of His Majesty's distinguished Loyalists from Charlestown, many of whom, merchants and planters, are substantial, and although I deeply regret the occasion of their coming, it will prove I hope, a happy era to this province; the merchants will be accommodated with houses in town, and the planters notwithstanding their present melancholy situation, will find themselves in a short time comfortably and I trust advantageously settled in a healthy climate and fertile soil . . . I fix them on tracts of land which had been granted by virtue of a royal mandate, and which have not by the former grantees been cultivated, agreeable to the terms of the grant." "The late successes of His Majesty's fleet in the Channel will animate us with joyful prospects that the nation has already experienced the lowest abyss of adversity . . ." and that the deluded subjects of America may listen to terms of accommodation. Returns his and the refugees' thanks for provision granted by Government for their subsistence. Believes the province will be well defended when all the expected reinforcements arrive. Has requested Lt. Colonel Mc. Arthur to direct Mr. Wilson, the engineer, to make out immediately a plan of the fortifications, and a sketch of the natural situation of the place in respect of defence; two galleys are arrived, three gunboats were built here, but are now in disrepair, several others will be wanted for a sufficient defence . . . Begs his Excellency to co-operate with the Admiral in making provision for the defence of the trade by one or more sloops of war, and by ordering a convoy at some fixed period for carrying off produce. Recommends that Mc. Arthur should be told to co-operate with the civil government, as their union would tend to strength and harmony. Has received instructions from Germain to apply to the Commanders-in-Chief for all assistance required to protect East Florida, and also for expenses incurred for same; encloses copies of vouchers and particulars. Suggests that the civil and the military authority be united in himself. P.S. 14 Nov. Encloses letter received from Lieutenant Colonel Mc. Arthur.

Flatters himself that when the depositions and memorial of so respectable a body of loyalists relative to Colonel Roger Morris's conduct is fairly stated to the impartial public on the other side of the Atlantic, which he will be under the necessity of doing in vindication of his own character, it will see the principle actuating him in writing the letter to the Adjutant General 15th December last and will fully justify him. Reminds that on arrival at this garrison he communicated the embassy he had in charge and that he was refused a proposal for his exchange and a small loan. 1782, November. Chatham.—“ Sir, Captain Asgill will have the honour to deliver this to Your Excellency, who is at last set at liberty by a Vote of Congress after a long and disagreeable confinement, which he bore with that manly fortitude that will for ever reflect honour upon himself. During the period that he was close confined he had frequent opportunities of making his escape, and was often urged to do it by anonymous correspondents, one of which assured him that if he did not make use of the present moment an order would arrive next day from General Washington that would put it out of his power for ever. This letter he gave me to read, and at the same time told me (that unless I wou’d advise him to do it) he never wou’d take a step that might be the means of counteracting measures adopted by Your Excellency to procure his release, or might bring one of the officers of Lord Cornwallis’s army into the same predicament, and that he had made his mind up for the worst consequences that cou’d happen from rebel tyranny.

I shall expect Your Excellency’s commands at Lancaster for which place I set out tomorrow by the way of Philadelphia, where I shall visit our prisoners in gaol at that place and I will take the first opportunity to transmit returns to your Adjutant General. I have the honour to be,” &c.

BROOK WATSON, Commissary Gen., to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, December 4. New York.—Submits alterations in arranging the business of the sundry departments under his control, and requests His Excellency's direction and advice for carrying them into execution if it shall be found expedient to do so. The duty of his predecessors had been confined "to the receiving, providing and issuing provisions only till the year '76, when the forage department returned to that of the Commissary General, hence, he has fulfilled the duties of providing and applying vessels, boats, waggons, waggon horses, stores, &c.—heretofore provided and applied by the Quarter Master General; of wood, coals, candles, barrack bedding, and utensils provided by the Barrack Master General; and of all other necessities and conveniences commonly called contingencies to the army; by which he is now discharging the extensive duties of general receiver, provider and distributor of all things necessary to the army.” The Commissary General is an accountant and cannot give the general inspection and control which is necessary. Suggests that he be authorized to deliver all the wood, forage, provisions, vessels, waggons, horses and stores to George Brinley, the Deputy Commissary General, Gregory Townshend, the Assistant Commissary General, Major Molleson, the Waggon Master General, and T. A. Coffin, the Storekeeper, holding them responsible, and giving them the charge of receiving and issuing them and of receiving and paying money for the contingent expenses. That they all becoming public accountants may receive warrants in their own names for sums necessary to carry on the service, their accounts and their memorials for money being examined and approved by the Commissary General. That one cashier or paymaster be employed for the whole department in this district through whom all money should be passed. By this means the whole business may be properly “chequed” and regularly conducted. All orders from Head Quarters to go to him and by him be branched to their proper offices without confusion and the whole be brought to act under one directing head—who will be at liberty to visit, examine, control and direct the subordinate officers at the different posts.

JOHN CRUDEN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, December 13. Charles Town.—On his return to Charlestown found that the garrison was to be withdrawn. "It therefore only remained for me to apply to General Leslie, to know his pleasure, respecting the property of the enemy in my hands. And for a final settlement of my audited accounts: in answer to my first request, the General was pleased to inform; he had it in command from you, that no property should be carried (except Negroes obnoxious to punishment; whose predicament should be decided by a Board instituted for the purpose). And that I must accordingly, take those measures, which appeared most eligible—to the second I was informed that your Excellency's pleasure was, that I should be referred to the Treasury, for the final settlement of my accounts.—I shall not presume to obtrude my private feelings on your Excellency upon receiving these answers. My balance then being considerably above five thousand pounds sterling." Has taken such steps as appeared necessary for the property. Meanwhile his private concerns have suffered very materially, and he is compelled to go first to the West Indies to extricate himself from his present embarrassments. Begs that his peculiar hardship may be taken into consideration and as he has sacrificed a liberal property, begs he may not be oppressed with the difficulties of his office, and that payment of his accounts upwards of 4,000*l.* may be ordered and paid to his brother, Mr. James Cruden, who will present this.

GOV. ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, December 18. Jamaica.—Acknowledges letters. Mr. Champion has nearly finished his purchase of rum according to the Commissary General's instructions, but there is no vessel at liberty to take it to New York; expects when the Charleston fleet arrives this difficulty will be removed. Seven neutral vessels have been transporting part of the Spanish forces from Port au Prince to Cape Nichola Mole. From the enemy's unsuccessful attempt on Gibraltar and their apprehensions that His Majesty's forces from North America mean to visit the West Indies, there is reason to hope their intentions of attacking Jamaica may be again frustrated, but the events of war are precarious. Whenever they shall divide their force and he finds it certain they have relinquished their ideas of attack, all the troops he can spare shall proceed to Windward or to New York. "Having at all times considered the safety of this Island the first and peculiar object of my care, I have studiously avoided since I had the honor to command, to reduce my force by detachments. I therefore wish your Excellency to know, that when 100 men of Odell's American Rangers were lately sent to the Spanish Main, it was not in pursuit of fresh conquests, but merely to prevent the Spaniards from annihilating His Majesty's settlers and friendly Indians on that shore—who were then exposed to the worst calamities of war. Every circumstance at that period concurred to render such an attempt successful, without any hazard to the security of this island.—The Spanish troops at Black River from the little opposition they met with in the attack of that post, chose to lull in listless security; the Spanish had returned to the Havannah; the French Fleet were on their way to North America; ten sail of British ships of the line were at anchor at Port Royal, and the hurricane season was far advanced. The consequences which ensued have fully justified the measure; our settlers on the shore have been re-established in peace; the enemy's projects discomfited; their troops, artillery and stores have come into our possession, and the detachment sent from hence is actually on its return to Jamaica without the loss of a man."

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to THOMAS TOWNSHEND.

1782, December 18. New York.—“The bearer, Mr. Depeyster, is a gentleman from New Jersey, who informs me that immediately after my arrival he attempted to send me some information, but was discovered and apprehended. He fortunately made his escape, and on his coming here applied to me for some relief and recompence for the services he represented to have rendered during the command of Sir William Howe and Sir Henry Clinton; I am unacquainted with his merits, but as he is well spoken of by Genl. R. and the A. G. who corroborate his own narrative, I gave him £200 sterling as a suffering refugee, and recommended that he should apply to the General Officers at home who are better able to state his pretensions. As he is now become dependent on Government, I recommend him to your notice.”

1782, December 21. Adjutant General's Office.—“The Commander-in-Chief desired I would mention to you that it would be satisfactory to him if you would procure an order from home for him to continue issuing your pay as Brigadier General here—this does not by any means proceed from a desire of His Excellency to throw any difficulties in your way, for tho' he is convinced of the propriety of your receiving it, yet without a special order for the purpose it would be construed into a precedent and claimed by every person in the same rank, tho' without any other pretensions.”

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1782, December 22. New York.—No. 5. Has received his letters to No. 7 inclusive, with their several enclosures. Proposes sending the corps mentioned in the enclosed return [not identified] to Canada as soon as the river St. Lawrence is open, and desires him to have whatever part of them are now at Penobscot or elsewhere under his command relieved as early as possible in the spring and collected at Halifax with such stores as belong to Canada that all may be ready to proceed. Takes it for granted that Brig. Gen. Campbell had no authority from the King to give rank and therefore that of Mr. Shaw becomes a nullity; refers Shaw's memorial to his own decision, observing that the Deputy Provost Martial here receives only  $2\frac{1}{4}$  per day. The mates of the hospital should be paid  $7\frac{1}{6}$  a day, stopping the usual deductions. Has directed an inquiry to be made respecting Calbeck's memorial. To pay the 200 days' batt and forage money to the officers who came out with the recruits from Europe. Has ordered 165 days' forage money to be paid to the officers here and desires it to be paid in his (Paterson's) district to those who are present with their corps. Governor Parr having represented the scarcity of flour, he has given directions that 1,000 barrels shall be issued from the King's magazines at Halifax to be sold for the relief of the inhabitants as the Governor shall think reasonable, an equal quantity having been bought and delivered into the magazines at New York by the merchants of Halifax.

BRIG. GEN. BENEDICT ARNOLD to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, December 23. London.—“Sir, The inclosed is copy of a letter which I had the honor to address to your Excellency by the Nov. packet, since which I have received the inclosed letters and papers, which in justice to the officers concerned I take the liberty to send to your Excellency, not doubting but that proper attention will be paid to their memorial, as their request appears to be very reasonable. I cannot suppose (after the sacrifices which I have made) that my regiment should be the only one precluded from recruiting, and the expences which the officers have incurred in raising their men not only lost but their future hopes blasted, unless their situation and circumstances had been greatly misrepresented by Colonel Innes, and in consequence the officers ruined.

If any officer in the Corps (who has compleated his number of men) is so void of honor as to endeavour to ruin his brother officers of the corps by seeking a permanent rank in some other, I have that confidence in your Excellency's justice as to believe you will not permit it. I have the honor to be &c."

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, December 23. St. Augustine.—The Refugees who arrived by the first convoy are forming settlements in the country; has provided them with agricultural tools. A thousand Loyalists are supposed to have arrived under convoy of the "Bellisarius" and also 1500 negroes; General Leslie's information thereon will no doubt be particular. They are disembarked with the loss of some small craft owing to their rashness in venturing over the bar without sufficient guides. Suggests formation of a military establishment on St. Mary's. Will be short of grain next summer unless provisions can be sent from Carolina and Georgia and an allowance is granted to these distressed Refugees. Submits a proclamation to pave the way for this necessary supply. Also submits a mode of rendering the militia useful by raising a regiment either allowed rations or pay while doing duty. Apprehends the state of inactivity to the southward will not be lasting. "The Superintendent Lieutenant Colonel Brown, and Colonel McArthur will no doubt inform your Excellency of the particulars of the Indians, who have lately come into this province, Creeks, Chactaws, and Cherokees, and sundry nations from the North, Mowhawkes, Senacas, Delawares, Shanesees, Manjoes, Tuscararas, Yatanous, and other tribes from Fort Detroit. The expence in presents must be considerable, and we feel severely the weight of their provisions; should they in such trains repeat their visits, we shall be altogether without the means of supplying them.

I am informed that the chiefs of numerous nations are on their way with a talk confederating the whole body of Indians on the continent: before such embassy it will give me the highest satisfaction to receive your directions; in what manner they are to be treated, and in case of their demanding assistance upon being attacked, what assurance I can give them of it, and how the Indians are to be supplied with provisions? Your Excellency is sensible this province is not equal to so large a demand of supplies, and that there is no other channel of communication but this province between the southern Indians and the King's troops. And how far it may be justifiable, or otherwise, in case of refusal of provisions from Carolina and Georgia, to make foraging incursions for that purpose. I have the honour," &c.

Two signed letters. Vol. 30, Nos. 154 and 156. 4 pages each.

Enclosing Gov. Patrick Tonym. Proclamation 11 October.

20 October and 10 November. Sends also extracts of Spanish letters found on board a merchant ship that was carried into Jamaica 24 December, having sailed from Cadiz 16 November. These papers show that the siege of Gibraltar is raised, and that a large armament of the enemy's combined forces is to proceed soon for the West Indies for an attack on this island (Jamaica). The exertions of the French and Spaniards at Hispaniola in collecting troops and transports at Cape Nicola Mole confirm this information, so thought it his duty to send this express that measures might be taken for their support. JOHN NEWTON, CASPER WOLLENHAUPT and OTHO WM. SCHWART to SIR A. S. HAMMOND, Lieut. Gov. of Nova Scotia.

N.D. [1782.]—Memorial. Narrating that on the 1st of July last [no year stated, but this happened in 1782] a party of 90 men under the command of Lieutenant Batterman landed from five privateers at a place called Red Head, two miles distant, and entered the town by surprise at 4 o'clock in the morning, the privateers sailing up in front of the town. The principal part of the inhabitants were then at Halifax; those remaining were taken prisoners, Colonel Creighton having only time to get 6 men with himself into the Block House, which he defended between two and three hours until the privateers came abreast and fired, when he was obliged to surrender. The captain of one of the privateers, whose name was Babcock, and who had command of the party on shore, sent Wollenhaupt with a flag to the militia, who were then assembling, to say that if no opposition was made they would only take the merchandize in the town and would not injure buildings in town, which was acquiesced in. Having plundered everything to the amount of about 10,000*l.*, they got on board their vessels and then demanded a ransom of 7,000*l.* for the town, but agreed to take 1,000*l.*, for which memorialists were obliged to give a promissory note payable to Noah Stoddard, captain of the largest privateer. The block house and Colonel Creighton's dwelling house were burnt, the guns spiked, and all the small arms carried away. Pray for a captain, two subalterns, and fifty British troops to be stationed with a hundred stand of small arms and ammunition for use of the militia.

All to the effect that the German prisoners of the Convention of Saratoga, when taken to Lancaster or Reading, being separated from their officers were, on the 30th July, 1782, visited by an American clergyman, who read to them the following proposition: "The King of Great Britain refused to pay for their maintenance, their Tyrant princes also had abandoned and sold them, the Congress did therefore leave it to their choice, either to enlist in the American Service, or pay 30*l.* currency of Pennsylvania for their past maintenance in hard money, which sum, if they would not afford to pay, the farmers would advance for them, on binding themselves to serve them for three years, in both of which cases they must take the Oath of Allegiance to the United States. The clergyman did advise them rather to enter into military service, than submit themselves to the disposal of the farmers, to which he added, that everyone, who should enlist as a soldier, was to receive eight dollars bounty, and one hundred acres of good land in America after the war." No answer was given to this, and on the 8th August General Lincoln and Brigadier General Haysen (sic) came to Reading and repeated the proposition, with this addition, "That provisions could no longer be allowed to them as their army was in want thereof, they must therefore accept one or the other of the above mentioned propositions." That to this they begged leave to send sergeants to New York to enquire into the truth of their situation and ask orders. That many of the prisoners being removed from the barracks at Reading to the jail, they were either shut in the yard or crowded in rooms where they could neither sit nor lie. They had generally to pay the gaolkeeper for both water and fuel. Their allowance only consisted of 10 ozs. of bread and 10 of meat generally rotten and unfit to eat. As to the serving on the "South Carolina," they had been urged to do this by the American Commodore for six months, after which time they were assured they would have their liberty and allowed to go where they pleased. That many of the King's friends advised them to do this in the hope that the frigate would soon be taken by the King's ships. At the end is translation of the letter said to be written by the prisoners at Lancaster to Sergeant Vaupel at Reading the 22nd September begging him to write a letter to New York describing their situation, and that without money or clothing they cannot hold out much longer, but must enlist with the enemy or indent themselves to the farmers.

A. McARTHUR, Lt. Col. 3rd Batt. 60th Regt. comdg. in E. Florida, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, January 9. St. Augustine.—“I have the honor to inform your Excellency that the fleet under convoy of the Bellisarius, with refugees and provisions, arrived off this bar on the 31st ulto, but in coming over it the Rattlesnake galley and two provision vessels, with six others (private property) were lost; the 18-pounder and rigging of the galley were saved; four lives from the private vessels were lost; the cash is arrived safe.

By the Commissary's return of provisions come in this fleet, which I have the honor to inclose, your Excellency will perceive it is so far short of what General Leslie intended that no more than half the allowance can be issued to the refugees untill a further supply arrives ; and even in the event of our being able to afford them what was originally intended, the crop here comes in so late, that those helpless people are likely to feel great distress in the summer months. I inclose a return of refugees and negroes that arrived before this last importation ; no return of them being sent here, it will take some time to ascertain their numbers, as many of them are looking out for habitations ; but by the best acct. I have been able to procure, there are more than fifteen hundred souls arrived with this fleet.

I likewise inclose the Commissary's return of provisions that will remain in store after the first importation of refugees from Carolina shall have received their compleat six months, and the Georgians their compleat three months first ordered ; by this your Excellency will see how very small a quantity there is for those arrived in this last fleet, and to make the Georgians equal with the first arrived Carolinians. I have therefore resolved to issue only for six weeks to those now come, and when the second delivery for three months to the first batch of Carolinians becomes due to give them only for one month, and the same to the Georgians, which I hope will enable us to give a second delivery to those now arrived ; and when those periods are expired we must issue weekly though it will be attended with much inconvenience to the people. I hope no untoward accident will prevent a supply arriving, as in that event a famine must ensue ; and to save the lives of those unfortunate people I may be necessitated to break in upon the supply of the garrison.

Above two years ago, on the arrival of a quantity of gunpowder it was judged improper to risk all in the Fort ; a house was hired for depositing nearly half the quantity, which the proprietor lately sold ; and I was threatened with a prosecution for keeping possession ; but it being a very indifferent magazine, and not chusing to trust a jury, who in all probability would find largely, the Governor is taking the necessary steps for getting us a piece of land which we are to purchase ; the Engineer and I deem it a more eligible situation and he is to immediately to set about building a proper magazine, capable of being made bombproof, but it will be attended with considerable expence.

As the rank of the corps here has not been properly ascertained, Lieut. Col. Hamilton has requested I would transmit to your Excellency the inclosed certificates, and I beg your decision on that head, as likewise on the rank of Lieutenant Colonels Brown and Hamilton, as in the event of the command devolving on either of them it might be attended with inconvenience to His Majesty's service should there be any doubt about it ; in the interim Lieut. Col. Hamilton acquiesces in the seniority of Lieut. Col. Brown. Col. Innes can afford your Excellency the best information on those heads ; I likewise inclose a memorial from Lieut. Col. Brown.

With respect to the defence of this place, as the Matanza may be considered the key of it, it has since the arrival of the new garrison been an officer's post, with two eighteen pounders ; and next month a capt. and thirty men will take post there, with one large and one small galley ; three galleys will be stationed in this harbour and the same number at St. John's. An eighteen pounder was lately sent to the block house at the bar of that river, and the Engineer has given the plan and estimate of a work to be made at a place called the Sisters, which commands the inland navigation from Georgia ; this the Province is to do without any expence to Government, and is to be an officer's post. The assembly meets in a few days, and the Governor assures me they will furnish us negroes (we feeding them) to make an abbatis across the Neck ; this will be an arduous task, the space being at least twelve hundred yards, the timber to be brought near a mile by land carriage, and then over St. Sebastian's Creek. A space sufficient for three rows of trous des loups will be left between the abbatis and the ditch, and when a stockade is made in the ditch, the pickets for which are preparing, the outer line will be in no great danger of being carried by assault. It is in pretty good order, but the soil is so sandy it requires a number of men constantly employed to keep the works in good repair. By next opportunity the Engineer will have a plan of the works ready to be transmitted to your Excellency. The Musquito inlet being about eighty miles off, I did not think it advisable to send more than an officer, a sergeant and 10 men there, as it would be impossible for them to join us should we be attacked ; but as there are near a hundred men in that neighbourhood capable of bearing arms, with a good block house to occupy they will be able to prevent privateers plundering the settlements as they did a few years ago.

I have pressed the Governor to assemble the Militia, were it only on a Sunday, by companies, to accustom them to a rendezvous, for I apprehend in the event of our being attacked, that for want of this necessary precaution it would be difficult to collect them, A hint from your Excellency on this head would produce a good effect.

Capt. Graves not thinking it advisable to take the victuallers with him at this season of the year, they remain here till spring.

Such of the small craft as may not be judged necessary for the defence of this harbour or St. John's shall be immediately paid off. As it has been understood here that it was in contemplation to occupy St. Mary's, Lieut. Mowbray, of the Navy, who has resided here for several years, has requested I would transmit to your Excellency his remarks on that harbour ; which, with his letter to me, I take the liberty to inclose, but if your Excellency chuses to have a more accurate description of it I shall send Lieut. Willson, the Engineer, there, who is well qualified to execute it.

The new garrison are much improved in their discipline since their arrival, and considering the service they were upon are by no means so licentious as I expected; they live in good harmony with each other and with the inhabitants.

I transmit herewith a return of the military stores.

The barracks being much in want of repair, the Engineer has already begun upon them.

A great deputation from the Northern Indian nations arrived here a few days ago from Detroit. They profess themselves firmly attached to His Majesties interest, and to have been sent to confirm the southern tribes in the same sentiments, as well as to learn the state of affairs here. We have had two talks with them, paid them all military honors, shewed them the fort, magazines, and some explosions with shott and shells, with which they seemed highly pleased.

I am infinitely obliged to your Excellency for honoring me with this command, and shall use my best endeavour to prevent your having reason to regret it." I have the honor to be, &c.

LIEUT. COL. THOMAS BROWN TO SIR GUY CARLETON.

Memorial. Recounting his services in raising in 1776 a regiment called the East Florida Rangers. Was engaged in nine different actions and received the thanks of His Majesty and the Commanders-in-Chief. In 1778 more troops being wanted for the defence of the frontiers of Florida, he engaged, at his own expense, three hundred and fifty men who were formed by General Prevost into a regiment called the South Carolina Royalists, the command of which was given to Colonel Innes. That in the year 1779 General Prevost was ordered to form them into a regiment of Infantry under the title of the King's Rangers and to confirm memorialist and others in their rank of 1st June 1776, which was ordered to be recorded, as Captain Prevost, Deputy Inspector of Provincial Forces, can bear testimony. That in consequence of the constant and distant service in which he and his regiment have always been engaged, neither himself nor his officers have yet received commissions except those formerly delivered by Major General Tonym. Reminds that he has raised twelve hundred men, nearly five hundred of whom have actually been killed in course of service. Begg that such orders may be given respecting the rank of the King's Rangers as they in justice have a right to expect.

LIEUT. COL. THOMAS BROWN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, January 12. St. Augustine.—Quotes extract of a letter from Major de Peyster dated Fort Detroit 18th July last informing of a victory gained by the Indians over six hundred of the enemy, “who had penetrated as far as Sandusky, with a view of destroying the Wiandotts, man, woman and child, as they had done with ninety six of the Christian Indians at Muskingum a few weeks before. The affair at Sandusky happened on the 4th of June, when the enemy left two hundred and fifty in the field, and it is believed that few of the remainder escaped to Wheeling. Their Major, McLellan, and most of their officers were killed in the action. Colonel Crawford, who commanded, was taken in the pursuit and put to death by the Delawares, notwithstanding every means had been tried by an Indian officer present to save his life. This the Delawares declared they did in retaliation for the affair at Muskingum.” The Major is sorry the imprudence of the enemy has been the means of reviving the old savage custom of putting their prisoners to death, which with much pains and expense the Indians had been weaned from in this neighbourhood. Canada is quiet, well fortified against attempts, and the Western Indians are attached to Britain. A deputation from the Northward Indians with 1,200 Cherokees arrived at St. Augustine lately to establish a league and confederacy among the different tribes. Gives substance of the talks delivered to him by the Indian representatives, reminding that the Indians had fulfilled their engagements and hoping that the Great King would not abandon them. In his reply, he had renewed assurances of attachment, urged them to desist from all offensive operations and attend to hunting and trading.

" They were perfectly satisfied with their reception and will set off for their land in two days.

" As the towns of the Cherokees are too much exposed to the incursions of the rebels from the frontiers of Pennsylvania, Virginia, and the Carolinas, in order the better to contribute to their security, I have prevailed on the head men of the Cherokees to move their towns this winter to that part of the country between heads of Coosa, Chatahanchie and Tannassie river, where it empties itself into the Ohio, that in case the rebels presume to disturb them, they may more readily and conveniently effect a union of force with the Creeks, as well as be in a capacity of intercepting the rebel and Spanish boats navigating the Mississippi and Ohio.

" Since my arrival in this province above three thousand Creeks have been down, and though I have positively ordered them to follow their hunting, they still persist in their visit and plead their poverty and friendship.

" On a service at present deemed so odious and expensive by Government, however necessary, as the rebels and Spaniards spare no pains to excite the Indians to abandon us and take up the hatchet against us, I have, to free myself from the imputation of in any manner improperly contributing to the public expence, informed the Commg. Officer of the King's troops and the Governor (who is conversant with Indian affairs) of every circumstance relative to their disposition, situation, and wants, and have always requested instructions from them in what manner I ought to conduct myself for the good of the King's service.

" With respect to the Northward and Cherokee visitants they told me to subsist them, supply their wants, and send them away satisfied. In obedience to them and with their approbation I purchased blankets and shirts (none being in the store or sent in the last cargo from New York for the eastern or western department); lest I might in any manner through a zeal for the service subject myself to censure, I shall undertake no step without their sanction.

" The Creek nation contains six thousand and the Cherokee three thousand gunmen; the western department contains about five thousand. The annual supply of presents without respect to numbers, circumstances, situation, or wants is sent equally to both. The Creeks and Cherokees from their vicinity to the rebels and us are more exposed to temptation from the former, and are equally prevented from hunting to procure supplies, and from their contiguity to us are more frequent in their visits in the proportion of ten to one.

" The westerns from their distance are scarce comparatively an object of consideration. I have represented this matter to the Commg. Officer and Governor, who purpose to write to your Excellency on the subject.

"As the securing and preserving the friendship of the Indians will, I imagine, appear to your Excellency an object of moment, no exertions on my part shall be wanting to strengthen their friendly disposition towards us.

"At the same time, I beg leave to request your Excellency will be so obliging as to honor me with your orders relative to Indian affairs, which I shall endeavor to execute to the extent of my judgement and abilities: for should the rebels be disposed to make encroachments on the Indian lands, I shall be under some difficulties what line of conduct I am to pursue. I have the honor to be, Sir," &c.

"I have this moment received information from a Mr. Ross, a merchant, that a quantity of Indian goods, addressed to Mr. Stuart's (my predecessor in office) correspondent in Jamaica, were sent to the Havannah and from thence sent to New Orleans to the manifest prejudice of the King's service. I shall endeavour to procure some authentic proofs of this iniquitous transaction and transmit them to your Excellency."

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, February 3. New York.—No. 6. Acknowledges letter of 27th December with enclosures. Is surprised at his giving orders for issuing of forage at Halifax contrary to directions contained in the Adjutant's letter to Brigadier General Campbell of 5th August, and one to himself of 25th August; encloses extract and copy of these. Requests him to issue no forage money to troops under his command without special orders from Head Quarters. The exchange here is 5 per cent. below par, and the risk of sending at this season too great, desires him therefore to raise at Halifax what money is necessary for present service. Cannot allow the appointment of Purveyor of Hospital at Halifax. As Mr. Marshall is not satisfied he is to be allowed to return to Europe. Encloses instructions sent by Nooth to Paine; desires him to render all possible assistance. If Messrs. Kay and Cullen, regimental surgeons, are also paid as hospital mates, they are to be reduced to their regimental pay and duty. Complains of not having received any public accounts nor warrants; encloses extracts of letters and General Orders on this subject. Sends copy of proclamation signed by Pagan, 24th October, 1782, and said to be issued by order of the General; disapproves of this paper, and requests that Campbell in future may issue such in his own name. 1783, February 3. Bloomingdale.—Memorial. Representing his claim to certain rents and property, the leases of which are declared by the Mayor to be expired and forfeited, but which leases the corporation had promised to renew, and over which various complications had arisen. The memorial was referred by the Commander-in-Chief to General Robertson, the Governor of the Colony, who endorses it thus: "With this memorial I enclose the remarks made in consequence of a strict enquiry. The facts as stated in the remarks appear to be justly stated, and the principles to be equitable. And I am of opinion that Mr. Jones, without any right, has got possession of a considerable sum of money belonging to the poor-house—which he ought to be obliged to refund. James Robertson."

LT. COL. WM. CROSBIE, Barrack Master Gen., to MAJ.
MACKENZIE.

1783, February 5. New York.—“The two accounts of expenses incurred in my department from the 27th day of May, 1782, to the 31st day of December following, which had been examined and certified by the Commissary and Honourable Board of Accounts, and which you returned to me on the first instant, with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief's directions that they should be formed into three separate accounts, viz., Contingencies, House Rent, and Pay to Persons employed in the Barrack Department, are altering agreeable to His Excellency's wishes, but upon preparing the account of House Rent, I find that for Mr. Livingston's additional allowance of 50*l.* per annum from the 5th May, 1782 (Mr. Livingston is paid up to that date), your letter of the 26th January, 1783, ordering that additional allowance to be made, is not a voucher that can be brought forward for or a charge inserted in accounts ending the 31st of December, 1782; may I therefore request that an order may be sent me similar to the one of the 26th January, dated so as to correspond with my accounts ending the 31st December, 1782.

“I must also beg you to be so good as to inform me whether you have laid before His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the copy of my letter to the Commissary of Accounts, in answer to his requiring from me a return of the receipts and issues of barrack stores from the 27th of May, 1782, to the 9th of July following, as by that letter, I make it appear to the Commissary of Accounts, that these returns can never be furnished by me as the barrack stores were in possession of the Commissary General during that period.

“The stores being out of my possession, was the reason why no charge for storekeeper for that period appeared in my accounts. John Clisby, who had formerly been my storekeeper, was by me paid up to the 27th of May, 1782, and then discharged, when I gave up my trusts and closed my books. Clisby was from that period employed by the Commissary General as storekeeper in his department, and was directed by the Commissary General to look to him for his pay, &c.

“As you informed me on the first instant, that it was His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief's desire that John Clisby's pay from the 27th of May, 1782, to the 9th of July following, should be included in my accounts, permit me to remark, that it is necessary for me to have a written order from you, as my voucher for including John Clisby's pay during that period in my accounts, I having made it appear to the Commissary of Accounts, that neither the stores nor storekeeper were in my department during that period.

Desirous to shew the readiest attention to His Excellency's wishes, and teased with the repeated applications of the needy, who have been informed my accounts had passed the Board, I shall anxiously expect your answer.”

GOV. WILLIAM BROWNE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, February 17. Bermuda.—Receipt of letters of 7th November and 30th December. Thanks him for the attention paid to their security and means adopted to find out what is required. Lieutenant Slack has passed through the island, viewed the forts and works, conversed with the inhabitants, seen the militia mustered, &c., &c. A return of the inhabitants is to be shown him and he is to have a list of the privateers and prizes. Does not know what has been communicated as to the remissness of this country to provide quarters for the King's troops, so thinks it his duty to enclose an account from the Secretary of the money expended for the accommodation of the battalion; "and when you consider that the whole has been done by this little territory at a time when, from the interruption of their trade, and the want of their accustomed supplies, they were literally starving for lack of bread, and suffering the devastations of a pestilence from unwholesome diet; and when I add that they were treated by the military at their first arrival with a severity which would have ill become men less civilized, you will rather wonder with me that they have done so much, than blame them for having done so little."

DAVID MATHEWS, Mayor, to MAJOR THOMAS MURRAY.

1783, February 17.—New York. Maintaining that Mr. Jones had not fairly stated the title under which he claims, also that the claim has been fairly treated on previous memorials. States the proceedings according to the best of his memory. That in order to find shelter for refugees he had been desired by Sir William Howe and by Sir Henry Clinton to give permission to build on vacant lots belonging to persons without the lines or to the corporation. That about eighteen months ago a Mr. Ryckman asked permission to repair and occupy a house which was being suffered to go to ruin, and which was found to be part of the corporation estate. That Mr. Jones afterwards stepped in and demanded rent, after much delay producing a lease, expired for a considerable time, granted from the corporation. Mr. Jones said there was a promise of the corporation to renew it. That he told Mr. Jones he should have, as an honest man, called on the vestry and hired it of them. Maintains also that Mr. Jones had been paying a ground rent of only 4*l.* a year reserved by this lease instead of near 200*l.*, which he should have paid, also that the place should at least have been prevented from going to ruin. Finding that there were other buildings on the ground which Mr. Jones had rented out for a very considerable sum the tenants were forbidden to pay him any more rent, which was to be called for by the City Treasurer. Is glad of the opportunity of reporting his own conduct at large ; his whole study during this rebellion has been to serve Government and bring knaves to justice. Begs for himself an asylum in another country.

Whatever directions I may have the honor to receive from his Excellency shall be punctually obeyed.”

Annexed :—Remarks.

No. 1. The Ship Friendship } Are Prizes to Men of
 2. The Ship Good Hope } War, which are to be sold tomorrow. Mr. Wanton, the agent, wants permission to sell their cargoes, with liberty for exportation. Such an indulgence has not as yet been granted, as circumstances and prospects did not formerly admit of it. The agent says he can produce certificates from the King's Naval Yard and Public Departments that none of these articles are wanted; it is to be observed that this will be a precedent for all prizes with similar cargoes to make the like applications in future.

No. 3. Applications to ship flour, sugar, mellasses
 4. and naval stores to Halifax.—As flour is a
 5. perishable commodity and very plenty in town, *permission to ship it to Halifax may perhaps be of service to that place and save the property from perishing. Mellasses, sugar and naval stores have been till lately very scarce and high here, and never allowed to be exported but in small quantities to the garrisons in Virginia, Carolina, Penobscot and Newfoundland; these articles are now fallen greatly in their prices, which is no reason for allowing them to be exported, but as the quantity's here at present are very considerable, the supplying of Halifax is an object, if the demand there makes the price so high as to induce the merchants to export those articles from hence. ## LIEUT. COL. THOMAS BROWN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, February 23. St. Augustine.—Wrote by the “Belisarius” a state of Indian affairs and desires his Excellency’s orders on these matters. The Cherokees and deputies from the Northern Tribes are returned well satisfied. As the visit has been attended with much expense, hopes it will be productive of much good. Transmits accounts and vouchers of expenses incurred and has directed his agent to apply for a warrant for payment. By intelligence received, the Spaniards have abandoned Mobile, and the garrison of Pensacola is reduced by sickness and desertion to three hundred men, and constantly harassed by Creeks. Pensacola and New Orleans might easily be reduced by six frigates and three hundred men from Jamaica with such assistance as he could render with the Indians. "The pride of conquest and to establish a reputation induced that military Quixote Don Galvez to hazard every thing for the conquest of West Florida; which being effected with an amazing force, has since been comparatively abandoned and might be recovered with the assistance of 600 troops. The planters and inhabitants are principally French, to whom the Spanish yoke is most odiously galling from the wanton cruelties exercised by Govr. O'Reilly."

ADMIRAL HUGH PIGOT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, February 28. “Formidable,” Gros Islet Bay, St. Lucia. “Dear Sir,—I take the opportunity of writing to you by the Narcissus. I am sorry I have it not in my power to give you a more pleasing account of my own situation; the great distance between Jamaica and this island makes it a difficult task for me to know how to act, more especially as the islands here are in so weak a state, that whenever I may be obliged to go to leeward, I think they will all be taken by the enemy, if they have any naval force here.

“By dispatches I received from Government two days ago, I am informed a great armament is upon the point of sailing, if not sailed, from Cadiz to the West Indies; that they are sending ten sail of the line to reinforce me, but as part of them come with convoys, they may be a long time e'er they get here, the enemy is supposed to sail with forty ships of the line. I have no information whether they mean to come first to these islands or proceed immediately for Jamaica: My last letters from thence are dated the 10th of January, they had then got the reinforcement of troops sent from this island: the Carolina troops not arrived. I have letters from Lord Hood of the 22nd of January, dated off the Cape. He had intelligence of Vaudreuil's being off Porto Rico, where I have since learned he took shelter, and as Lord Hood must long ago have been obliged to go to Jamaica for water, I have not a doubt but Vaudreuil is gone to the Cape. I have no certain accounts of the Spaniards at the Havanna. Lord Hood seemed to think they would not move from thence. My accounts from England are that two ships of the line with a frigate is convoying out fifteen or sixteen hundred men that are to call at Barbadoes, and proceed from thence to Jamaica; that a thousand men more are to come out in the merchant ships bound to these islands and Jamaica, which men are for Barbadoes. I am also informed that orders are gone to you to send sixteen hundred men to Barbadoes; with these supplies the islands might with a small naval force be able to defend themselves, and leave me more at liberty to go to leeward. I hope the vessels that are appointed to watch the enemy at Cadiz will give me early information of them ; if the ten sail intended to reinforce me all arrive before the combined fleet, I shall muster thirty-four of the line, besides the fifteen Lord Hood has belonging to me to leeward. I am in hourly expectation of something from Jamaica, which will be a great relief to my mind, wishing to know the state of that island, which may direct me how far it may be necessary for me to go there ; if I go and am not wanted, I expose all these islands, for I cannot get back to give them any assistance. It is strange that with all these armaments we are negotiating for peace, or rather I may say the French are trifling with us ; you see, my dear Sir, that my case is critical. I must hope for good intelligence by which I may be able to take the properest steps for the King's service ; I have been cruizing a month for Vaudreuil, who gave me the slip by going to the northward of the islands. One of my ships, the Leander, had a smart action in the night with one that I believe to have been one of Vaudreuil's, the action much to the credit of Captain Payne and his people, and it is not a clear point the enemy's ship did not sink. For further particulars I refer you to my letter to Admiral Digby ; the Jupiter has taken Vaudreuil's great store ship, and brought her into English Harbour ; this will distress him, and give us the masts and other stores we were much in want of."

J. TEMPLE to GENERAL SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, March 3. Boston, N.E.—“ Sir. The signature at the foot of this letter will probably bring to your recollection the little acquaintance that subsisted between us, in the better days of two countries now almost exhausted in their mad endeavours to wound and tear each other to pieces! And that, too, at a time when every consideration founded in wisdom and true policy called loudly upon them to have remained as they were, in the mutual bonds of cordial friendship! Human affairs, however, never did, nor ever will, go as true wisdom and sound policy point out; we must therefore take the world as we find it.

Concluding as I now do from accounts lately arrived from England, that the cruel and unnatural war between the two countries, is before this time totally at an end! and that it is become the fervent wish and desire of the King, his Ministers, and people, to endeavour by all laudable means to bring about as far as may be practicable a cordial return or renewal of intercourse, friendship and commerce! an event I as ardently wish for as any man in England possibly can, I avail myself of the present opportunity of writing, to bear testimony to the just claim that Mr. Bowdoin in honor hath upon the Government of England, for large and valuable property at various times taken from his estate (islands in the vicinity of New York) in the course of the war; and for which strong assurances of payment were repeatedly made. Permit me, Sir, to introduce him (brother to Mrs. Temple) to your notice upon the occasion, as a gentleman of strict honor and integrity! who would not make application for a single farthing more than he thought to be his just due. Nor need I suggest that an honorable attention to the just and reasonable application of Mr. Bowdoin may, in no inconsiderable degree, forward the desirable object of an hearty and general reconciliation.

From personal observation on the spot, corroborated by the concurring sentiments of the best informed leading gentlemen, both civil and military, in this country, with whom I made it my business to be conversant when I came to America in Seventy Nine, I found that a very great majority of the people in these States, so far from what had been represented in England, were at all events determined to be independent of the Government of England, and I became fully persuaded that they would substantially effect it, however long or distressing the war might be continued for the purpose of defeating such their object. I therefore, after having been deliberately through the Northern and Middle States, and with Congress, returned to England; and on the first day of my arrival there, assured Lord North in person, and in the most explicit terms, that the Ministry had been almost totally misinformed of both the disposition and resources of this people, for that, circumstanced as affairs then were, the arms of England, I was confident, would never be able to wrest their independence from them; though a continuance of the war might probably drive them further than desirable, into foreign connections. Events shew that my opinion was not unfounded. Happy, happy then would it have been for Great Britain, and happy too for this country, had that Ministry attended more to the just representations I then made (for I went back to England on purpose to undeceive them) rather than to the delusive, and almost fatal statement of affairs, made by Lord Carlisle, Govr. Johnstone, Mr. Eden, Gallaway and others; who, however faithful they intentionally may have been, never had the means or opportunity of obtaining true knowledge of either men or things in this country. They could learn only from those whose interest and inclination it most certainly was, to misrepresent and to deceive them. Millions of money and much blood might thereby have been saved to the two countries, and peace, friendship and commerce have long since been restored! But it is to no purpose to look back, further than to make past errors subservient, as they some times may be made, to better conduct—to, as far as may be, recovering conduct, in future.

Ever since my last return to America, seeing as I had long seen, that these United States were, and must be, independent of the Government of England, it has been my constant zealous wish and desire that they may be, and that they may continue to be, as completely independent of every other Power, Kingdom, State or Potentate, upon earth! and that, every kind of undue influence, foreign or domestic (artfully introduced and set on foot in the hour of our necessity and distress) militating with, or like a slow poison acting upon, such an entire independence, might be effectually counteracted and completely destroyed! my efforts to that purpose have not, I trust, been altogether fruitless. In the same line of conduct I, however, mean stedfastly to persevere.

With great consideration and respect, I have the honor to be, &c. Endorsed "Reed. — March, 1783. By Mr. Bowdoin."

JOHN SMALL, Lt. Col. Comdt. 2nd Battn. 84th Regt., to
MAJ. GEN. PATERSON.

1783, March 10. Fort Edward, Windsor District, Nova Scotia.—Reports by command such occurrences as are connected with the public service and that part of the troops under Paterson's command stationed at the more advanced and frontier posts of this Province. That the 2nd Battalion of the 84th occupying this post and its environs were mustered and (he flatters himself) would merit approbation. This battalion is scattered and dispersed, part at Placentia, part on Cape Breton Island and part in the Southern Provinces. Requests his interposition to have it united. Repairs needed to the wood and brick work of this fort. Satisfactory assurances from the inhabitants for the defence given by these troops, both at this place and Annapolis. The accounts from the posts of Cumberland and Cornwallis are favourable. Major Studholme, commanding at Fort Howe at the embouchure of the river St. John's, forwards some dispatches from General Haldimand. The severity of the season makes it almost impracticable to "pervade" the frontiers any farther at present.

ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR, Lt. Col. 3rd Batt. 60th, commanding in East Florida, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, March 11. St. Augustine.—“ The provisions in issuing have held out beyond expectation—by withholding from a dozen of people who have large gangs of negroes and who are best able to purchase provisions for them, we are enabled to issue for the fifth month to all the necessitous Refugees who came with the two first fleets, and for ten weeks to those who came in the last fleet, retaining provisions for the garrison to the end of June.

It has hitherto been impossible to ascertain with precision the number of Refugees that came in the last fleet, they drop in daily from distant parts of the Province where they went to look out for habitations, but they are nearly three hundred short of what I mentioned on the 9th January ; several vessels when that acct. was taken had not got within the Bar of this place or St. John's, and the masters of vessels who were got in gave at random the numbers on board those without.

The duty of the Inspector of Refugees having become much more laborious since the Carolina people arrived, I was necessitated to increase his pay from five to ten shillings per day, with an assistant here and another at St. John's, each at five shillings.

I mentioned in a former letter to your Excellency that the house where near half of the gun powder was kept had been sold, and it being necessary to remove the powder to the Indian Church till a new magazine was built—yesterday when the powder was removed, Colonel Bull, the new proprietor, gave notice by an attorney that we were not to remove a neat guard room built by us for the magazine guard, a large stage for drying powder in, and the pickets above the magazine. As I did not chuse to be involved in a law suit, I directed our people to desist ; but this behaviour appeared to me so unhandsome in a man who is receiving provisions from the Crown for 178 persons, that I have wrote to him, in case he persists, the rations for himself and his people should be withheld. As it is probable this man may add to his other absurditys that of importuning your Excellency on this subject, I considered it my duty to apprise you of it.”

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to CHEVALIER DE LA LUZERNE.

1783, March 19. New York.—Proposed letter. Sir, Admiral Digby communicated to me a letter from your Excellency dated the 7th of March, 1783, addressed jointly to us, but the subject relating only to the Navy, over which I have neither inspection or controul, I must therefore, Sir, refer you solely to the Admiral, from whose natural humanity I must conclude his answer will give your Excellency the fullest satisfaction.

I cannot, however, help observing that no man has died in any prison under my command since May last. Provisions are very good, and in such great abundance that I could have spared the Admiral large quantities, had he wanted them.—I am, with much consideration, &c.

HESSIANS.

1783, March 20. Mount Hope.—“Abstract of a letter from thirty-five Hessian prisoners of war to his Excellency Lieut. General de Lossberg.

In the goal at Philadelphia one Mr. Fash on the 28th of April, 1782, proposed to procure their enlargement, if they would go and work for him ; he promised at the same time to bring them back to Philadelphia whenever they should desire it.

The miseries of a goal, in which they had been confined for eighteen months, upon small allowances, prevailed upon them to consent. They accordingly went with Mr. Fash to Mount Hope. On the 15th of Novbr., 1782, a Captain and three men came to enlist them, which they refused. Mr. Fash procured a continuance of their stay with him.

In the month of February last they attempted to escape to New York, but having got as far as Newark they were taken up and put in goal, where they were kept for eight days without any allowance of provisions, when Mr. Fash again procured their freedom, paying twenty dollars for each of them, which sum he was to deduct from their wages.

Some time after, some of them asking Mr. Fash for money or linnen, he went away saying that he would get some, but Captain Dille with a detachment came to carry them to the goal at Brompton, to make them enlist or pay the 30*l.* for their maintenance. They insisted upon being brought back to the goal at Philadelphia according to Mr. Fash's promise, but he said they were out of his hands, and refused to pay the balance of their wages.

The Captain told them they were at his disposal, because they were Continental servants, to which they replied that they were no servants, but the King's soldiers. Upon which the Captain drew his sword, put it to their breasts, threatening to kill them, and struck them, till he broke it upon the head of one of them. He then carried them off, and that night put them into a house surrounded with centries, and allowed them neither bread nor water.

The next day, which was the 8th of March, Mr. Fash came again, and offered the 30*l.* for them, for which they were to work. As they could not hold out in their present situation, and had no other choice but to enlist, which they would not, or return to Mr. Fash, they accepted his proposal.

On the 12th of March they were made to swear that they would either repay the money or work for it.

In this situation they remain.

On the 19th of March they heard of a peace being made, and that all prisoners were to have their liberty.

They can get no certainty of it from Mr. Fash, and beg to be informed of their situation by an answer from New York.

As they apprehend being reported as deserters, they express their happiness in having this opportunity to declare their firm intentions, and only desire to rejoin their regiments, and to explain to the General in what manner they were forced into their present condition.

Their names are subscribed to the letter. They number thirty of the Regt. of Knyphausen ; two of the Regt. of Prince Hereditaire ; one of the Regt. of Hessian Artillery ; two of the Regt. of Hesse Hanau Artillery. Total, 35.

Taken from the German, New York, April 27th, 1783.
H. R. Motz, Secretary."

MAJOR GEORGE HANGER to MAJOR FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, March 21.—Thinks Lord Cathcart or Captain Miller should pay the money to Captain James. As Lord Cathcart appointed him paymaster, thinks it a very cruel case that Captain James should be kept out of the money so long, he having paid the sum to his troop out of his own subsistence. ANDREW ELLIOT, Supt. Gen., to MAURICE MORGANN.

1783, March 22. Police Office, New York.—“ Having received his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief’s directions to make out a form of a return of all the memorials given into the police in consequence of the General Orders of the 18th of February, 1783, in order that his Excellency, before full reports are made by the police, may have a general view of the claims contained in those memorials. In obedience, I have the honor to enclose a sketch of such a form, which I request you will be so good as to lay before the Commander-in-Chief, and to inform me if it meets his Excellency’s wishes, or if not, the alterations he may chuse to have made.

As deserted property has never in any shape come under the direction of the police, further than deciding such disputes as might arise amongst the occupiers, the police in order to enable themselves to make the necessary reports upon the memorials ordered to be given unto them, have collected every material they could obtain that could give them insight into the disposal and present situation of such property.

From a desire to give the fullest information, I have taken the liberty to enclose copies of seven papers, which give the fullest view of the disposal and situation of deserted property.

The books containing the reports of the Board of Enquiry appointed by Sir Henry Clinton the 28th of August, 1780, which are referd to by the enclosed sketch, the police obtained from the Commandant’s Office ; should they be wanted, they are at present lodged at the Superintendent’s Office in Water Street.”

MAJ. GEN. ROBERT HOWE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, March 25. Boston—"Sir. The bearer of this letter, Mr. Livingston, seems to think that an address from a military to a military character will have its effect, however adverse those characters, from a sense of duty, may officially in other respects be compelled to act. In compliance, therefore, with the wishes of a gentleman whose family, and merit give him a claim to my attention, I venture to trouble your Excellency with this letter; and I confess without fear of being thought an intruder; because the character I have had of you, confirmed by many circumstances in your conduct, has impressed me with such an opinion of your liberality of sentiments, as leaves me without a doubt, should the liberty I take be improper, that it will meet your excuse, when you consider the motive from which it results. Mr. Livingston will explain to your Excellency the occasion of his visit to New York; and the detail will convey to you such a complicated scene of villany, such an atrocious breach of commercial faith, as deserves and should receive the discouragement of every State, though the transaction should have happened in one at war with that where the perpetrators may attempt to take shelter. Possessed of this opinion, I fully persuade myself, that should the persons I particularly allude to, fly to New York as an asylum, they will have no protection from your Excellency; and that Mr. Livingston will receive aid, rather than obstruction, in obtaining that justice due to him, from you who have upon every occasion demonstrated that humanity and generosity were the guides of your conduct. I am, Sir, with great personal respect, &c."

CADWALLADER COLDEN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, March 29. New York.—Hearing that his Excellency may at any time give up the chief command, begs to suggest a method whereby his difficulties as a distressed loyalist may be lessened, that is of having a year's pay in advance to enable him to pay some debts and to remove his family to his former place of residence, if he may go there. Reminds him he is the son of an old, faithful servant of the Crown, and though he acknowledges the generous allowance he has had the two years past, he has lived in the greatest economy ; he has spent all that could come out of his own property, and his estate is stripped of everything for fines and taxes.

MAJ. WATT DULANY (Maryland Loyalists) to SIR GUY
CARLETON.

1783, March 29. New York.—Thanks for the flattering prospect of being put on the British establishment, adding :—“ My duty as a subject ; the happiness which America enjoyed under the British Government ; and the miseries to which she would be reduced by an independence ; were the motives that induced me to join the British Army ; . . . . . But, at the same time, that I acted, with the greatest zeal, against my rebellious countrymen, I never forgot that I was an American. If, therefore, Sir, Independence should be granted, and the war still continued, I should deem it extremely improper to remain in a Situation obliging me to act either directly or indirectly against America. If, after this declaration, I can be received by your Excellency, upon the footing offered me by Colonel Thompson, I shall think myself highly honored, it being the first wish of my heart ever to serve in the British Army, whilst I can with consistency. Endorsed :—“ Major Dulany, 29th March, 1783. To Sir Guy Carleton. If Independence is granted and the war continued, he cannot serve directly or indirectly against America. The King can have no occasion for the service of such officers, as will not serve against his enemies. By order of the Comr.-in-Chief. Fredk. Mackenzie, D.A. Genl., 11th April, 1783.”

HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS COMMISSION.

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE,
CHANCERY LANE,
LONDON, W.C.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING has been pleased to ratify and confirm the terms of the Commission issued by Her late Majesty, appointing certain Commissioners to ascertain what unpublished MSS. are extant in the collections of private persons and in institutions, which are calculated to throw light upon subjects connected with the Civil, Ecclesiastical, Literary, or Scientific History of this country; and to appoint certain additional Commissioners for the same purposes. The present Commissioners are :—

Sir R. Henn Collins, Master of the Rolls; the Marquess of Ripon, K.G., the Earl of Liverpool, the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Crawford, K.T., the Earl of Rosebery, K.G., Lord Fitzmaurice, Lord Alverstone, G.C.M.G., Lord Lindley, Lord Stanmore, G.C.M.G., Sir Edward Fry, Mr. John Morley, O.M., M.P., Sir H. C. Maxwell-Lyte, K.C.B., and Mr. C. H. Firth, M.A., LL.D.

The Commissioners think it probable that you may feel an interest in this object, and be willing to assist in the attainment of it; and with that view they desire to lay before you an outline of the course which they usually follow.

If any nobleman or gentleman express his willingness to submit to the Commissioners any unprinted book, or collection of documents in his possession or custody, they will cause an inspection to be made by some competent person, and should the MSS. appear to come within the scope of their enquiry, the owner will be asked to consent to the publication of copies or abstracts of them in the reports of the Commission, which are presented to Parliament every Session.

To avoid any possible apprehension that the examination of papers by the Commissioners may extend to title-deeds or other documents of present legal value, positive instructions are given to every person who inspects MSS. on their behalf that nothing relating to the titles of existing owners is to be divulged, and that if in the course of his work any modern title-deeds or papers of a private character chance to come before him, they are to be instantly put aside, and not to be examined or calendared under any pretence whatever.

The object of the Commission is the discovery of unpublished historical and literary materials, and in all their proceedings the Commissioners will direct their attention to that object exclusively.

In practice it has been found more satisfactory, when the collection of manuscripts is a large one, for the inspector to make a selection therefrom at the place of deposit and to obtain the owner's consent to remove the selected papers to the Public Record Office in London or in Dublin, or to the General Register House in Edinburgh, where they can be more fully dealt with, and where they will be preserved with the same care as if they formed part of the muniments of the realm, during the term of their examination. Among the numerous owners of MSS. who have allowed their papers of historical interest to be temporarily removed from their muniment rooms and lent to the Commissioners to facilitate the preparation of a report may be named :— His Majesty the King, the Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Portland, the Marquess of Salisbury, the Marquess Townshend, the Marquess of Ailesbury, the Marquess of Bath, the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Carlisle, the Earl of Egmont, the Earl of Lindsey, the Earl of Ancaster, the Earl of Lonsdale, Lord Braye, Lord Hothfield, Lord Kenyon, Mr. Stopford Sackville, the Right Hon. F. J. Savile Foljambe, Sir George Wombwell, Mr. le Fleming, of Rydal, Mr. Leyborne Popham, of Littlecote, and Mr. Fortescue, of Dropmore.

The costs of inspections, reports, and calendars, and the conveyance of documents, will be defrayed at the public expense, without any charge to the owners.

The Commissioners will also, if so requested, give their advice as to the best means of repairing and preserving any interesting papers or MSS. which may be in a state of decay.

The Commissioners will feel much obliged if you will communicate to them the names of any gentlemen who may be able and willing to assist in obtaining the objects for which this Commission has been issued.

R. A. ROBERTS, Secretary.

INTRODUCTION.

This fourth and last volume of the Calendar of the American MSS. in the Royal Institution, London, covers the few remaining months of the British occupation of the late colonies, that being now limited to New York, St. Augustine, and the small post of Penobscot. The correspondence extends from April to November 1783; a few subsistence accounts are made out to the 24th December; some papers bearing no month follow, while a few to which no definite year has been attached bring the Calendar to a close.

Having urged his request to be relieved, and received permission to return, Sir Guy Carleton was only waiting the arrival of his successor in order to embark. At the end of May he had still to complain of the embarrassment caused by the non-arrival of Sir Charles Grey, appointed to succeed him. The change of ministry had, however, broken off the arrangements with that general, who, besides his political views, had desired active service and had no wish to be employed in diplomacy or negotiation. On the first of June Sir Guy received from Lord North, the new Secretary of State, an earnest appeal to remain and carry out the evacuation, the words of which so well explain the position of the Commander-in-chief at this time that they may be here quoted:—

“I beg leave to submit it to your consideration whether you will chuse to avail yourself of it (the leave granted) in this very important moment; when the evacuation of New York, and the distribution of His Majesty’s forces under your command are depending, a service tho’ less brilliant, yet not less difficult, and much more disagreeable than any which you had in contemplation at the time that you undertook the command. I will not conceal from you that His Majesty has that confidence in your attachment to his service, and your zeal for the public, that he hopes to hear that you consent to remain at New York till the principal arrangements are settled, which are necessary for the speedy and orderly execution of the great and complicated business which you have now in hand. The removal and destination of the troops under your command, the security and disposal of the public property, the proper regulations for the liquidation and adjustment of the accounts, the care, support and assistance to be afforded to the Loyalists, are but a few of the points which will come under your consideration. . . . .
Give me leave . . . . once more most earnestly to entreat you to remain in your command till this great business is properly arranged, and the machine put in order. I perfectly feel and acknowledge the justice of your reasons for demanding your recall, and I would not press you to stay, if for the execution of this important work I could find any man so much trusted on your side of the Atlantic and on ours."

This appeal, as Sir Guy answered the following day, left him no choice, and the papers in this volume abundantly testify to the way in which the trust reposed in him was fulfilled.

Though preliminaries of peace with America had been signed on the 30th of November, 1782, they were conditional upon the settlement of that with France and Spain. These were signed on the 20th of January, 1783, and the news was immediately transmitted from France to the Americans, being received by them before official notification from England reached New York. An account of its reception at Philadelphia is given in the opening letter from the pen of a British officer—Captain Armstrong, Deputy Quarter Master General, who, as shown in the third volume of this Calendar, had been commissioned to convey certain stores and money to the British and German prisoners of war in Pennsylvania and Maryland. In spite of passports these stores were stopped in transit, and representations to the authorities took him to Philadelphia where he evidently made good use of his opportunities of observation, though not daring from his situation to commit anything to writing. On his return to New York, at the Commander-in-Chief's desire, the interesting narrative quoted was set down, and includes the opinions of the Americans on the articles of peace, remarks on their relations with the French and Spaniards, and on the French Minister, their finances and army, General Washington and Congress, parties in Pennsylvania, the future union or disruption of the thirteen states, trade with England, etc., etc.

The last military episode of the war was a successful though belated attempt made in April 1783, to recover New Providence, Bahamas, from the Spaniards, who, assisted by some American ships, had captured it in May 1782. The small expedition started from St. Augustine under Major Andrew Deveaux, a provincial officer of South Carolina. In General McArthur's words:—"With a handful of ragged militia and five privateers he took Providence, where were five hundred Spaniards, seventy pieces of cannon and six galleys, but unluckily he was nine days too late." By the fifth Article of the treaty with Spain, Providence and the Bahamas had been restored to England. He remained on the island some time, together with the Spanish governor, and his action was rewarded by Carleton with the temporary gratification of 20s. a day to the 24th of December and a strong recommendation to Government for a more permanent mark of the King's favour, not only for his gallantry in this but for previous services and losses. He and others of the same family or name appear at a subsequent date amongst the claimants under the royal commission appointed in London to compensate American sufferers.

By the cession of East Florida to Spain the minds of the loyalists of South Carolina and Georgia who had removed thither were again disturbed. It was hoped that the Bahamas might be available to settlers, and Brig. Gen. McArthur, who commanded at St. Augustine, was instructed by Carleton to send Lieut. Wilson of the Engineers to examine Providence, and, later, all the other islands, to report on their nature, soil, harbours, defences, etc. His plan of the harbour and town of Nassau is still amongst these papers. The reports of some intending settlers as to Providence were not very favourable, as the soil was said to be rocky and no tracts of land contiguous where negroes could be employed. Many, however, of these southern loyalists did remove to that and other islands, and from New York more than a thousand persons associated themselves to settle at Abbaco. The question of titles to ungranted or escheated lands was one of the subjects submitted by Carleton to the home Government. The islands were put by him for the time being under the military direction of McArthur, who, on the evacuation of East Florida, was to take thither the remains of the garrison of St. Augustine. Strong representations being made by the Governor and Houses of Assembly of East Florida against the too early removal of the troops, under apprehension of depredations by lawless people on the frontiers, a detachment of the Royal Artillery, reinforced by three companies of the 37th Regiment from New York, was ordered to remain till the actual delivery of the province to Spain. The attachment of the Indians to the British is dwelt on by Governor Tonyn, by the Brigadier and by Lt. Col. Brown, the Superintendent of Indian Affairs :—"The minds of the Indians are as much agitated as those of the unhappy loyalists on the eve of a third evacuation, and however chimerical it may appear to us, they have seriously proposed to abandon their country and accompany us, having made all the world their enemies by their attachment to us (p. 59)." On this point, however, Carleton's orders to the superintendent were decisive,—to discourage the idea as destructive and embarrassing.

A good deal of correspondence occurs over the question of the disbanding of the Royal Garrison Battalion stationed in Bermuda. Against the orders to remove all Provincial Regiments to Nova Scotia there to be disbanded, it was urged that this battalion consisted almost wholly of veterans, that they were nearly all entitled to Chelsea, and that their removal to such a climate as Nova Scotia would be fatal to many.

Finally, Carleton agreed to have them disbanded in Bermuda and passage home given to such as should pass the Chelsea Board, the others being removed to Nova Scotia. To this island also Carleton sent an officer of the engineers to survey its military defences and report generally with a view to its security or benefit, but the ship of war, the Mentor, on which he was returning, was wrecked, and he and all the information collected, lost. Lt. Durnford, of the same corps, was afterwards appointed to a similar duty.

Two sets of prisoners remained in the hands of the Americans, namely :—those of Gen. Burgoyne's army held since the Convention of Saratoga in 1777, and those taken at Yorktown in Virginia, by the capitulation of Earl Cornwallis in October, 1781. By the end of May these had nearly all been returned, but in the case of the German troops the numbers fell short of what were expected. Amongst other reasons, no doubt, it was found that, in consideration of money paid for their release from prison, many had become indented servants and taken the oath of allegiance to the States, the Americans said "willingly," the Germans themselves said "by compulsion." A particular case is cited of about thirty-five who were thus indented to a Mr. Faesch at Mount Hope, and to whom, on the calling in of prisoners, the following propositions were made by the American officers (p. 131).—First, to purchase their liberty by the payment of 30*l.* each and become free citizens of America ; second, to enlist in the American army ; and third, on refusal of these, to go back to Philadelphia jail. Choosing the latter, they were actually marched off, but apparently hesitated and sent for Mr. Faesch to whom they are said to have entered into "a voluntary agreement" on his paying the 30*l.* per head required. Gen. Lincoln, the American secretary for war, disclaimed all responsibility, maintaining generally that if prisoners did not come in, it was to be inferred that they did not wish to return. The Governor of the State also declined to act and the matter was said to rest with the inhabitants. The conclusion of the case is not given in these papers, but the last mention of Mr. Faesch is at New York where he was expected to be found willing to release his claim to several.

By the letters of recommendation from Carleton to Gov. Parr it will be seen that numbers of officers and men of these corps took advantage of the permission from the German Princes to quit the service and joined the settlers in Nova Scotia, where they received grants of land as others.

With the exception of six of the best regiments, which were kept to the last, the German troops with the British invalids were returned to Europe as a first embarkation in June and July.

Amongst the miscellaneous activities of the Commander-in-Chief's office throughout these months was the establishment of numerous boards of commissioners, the most noticeable of which were :—that to settle and adjust matters of debt, and that appointed, jointly with General Washington, to superintend embarkations at New York, complaint being made of the shipping of negroes who were said to be American property. A careful register and description was kept, and is still here, of all the negroes embarked and inspected by these commissioners, to be of service in any claims of unlawful deportation which might be put forward later. There is also in this connection a bill of 18*l.* for a dinner given at Roubalet's tavern by the British Commissioners in return for one given by the American Commissioners at Black Sam's tavern, as well as some accounts of Captain Gilfillan and others, presumably in the same capacity, for dinners and suppers, in which the entry "a large chicken paye" at a cost of over 2*l.* figures more than once. Another subject is the disposal of the prisoners in the provost, many being recruited for service in the West Indies ; in the case of the worst criminals sent thither an opportunity was to be taken of dispatching them to the coast of Africa. Orphan children in the Orphan House were sent to Halifax in the care of a minister of religion. Public records were handed over and property delivered up. Militia was organized for the Bermudas, the Bahamas and Nova Scotia, and stores and money transferred there. The people of the civil departments of the army were assisted to Nova Scotia ; other clerks received six weeks' pay to enable them to get to their homes. Towards the end, as the city fund gets low, even the question of a supply of oil for the lighthouse has to be submitted to the General. Several accounts of wages to his own servants and "chore women" remain, in one of which is this item :—"Bought by the Commander-in-Chief's orders, clothing for two poor children, 5*l.*"

But that which lends to this evacuation its peculiar interest is the spectacle of the enforced emigration of the thousands of loyalists of all classes, who, after the peace, found that they were still under existing laws of proscription, banishment, and confiscation of property, and that any attempt to return to their homes or native States met with maltreatment and threatened death. Carleton writes of the leaders of the Americans as elated and intoxicated by the peace and as having cast off all desire to be reconciled to the loyalists, and refers to associations forming to prevent restitution of property and renewed intercourse, which associations were quite uncontrolled by the States. These committees or associations are frequently referred to in this volume. He suggests to Clinton, the Governor of the State of New York, that "seeing the hostile dispositions of the committeemen, the legislature might give some direction to a more desirable spirit by repealing laws made during the war." To Lord North he wrote, "it is utterly impossible to leave exposed to the rage and violence of these people men of character whose only offence has been their attachment to the King's service," adding that "the proceedings are not to be attributed to politics alone—it serves as a pretence, and under that cloak they act more boldly, but avarice and a desire of rapine are the great incentives." Concerning the whole matter of the treaty in its relation to the loyalists, the attitude of Congress and the different legislatures, the reader is better referred to the monograph entitled, "The Loyalists and their Fortunes," in Winsor's "Narrative and Critical History of America," Vol. VII., p. 185. So many were driven to the necessity of seeking fresh homes that the tonnage available at New York was wholly inadequate. Transports were collected from the West Indies and sent from England, while refugees who were able joined forces in ships of their own providing. An order issued on the 1st September attempted to restrict free passages and provisions to persons actually in want. As early as the 17th of April there is a return of 5,593 persons for Nova Scotia. In June 4,000 more are reported. Later are 47 families of the Reformed Calvinistic Church and 60 families of Quakers. In July Gov. Parr writes :—"The people from New York number about 12,000." By September, great numbers—eight to ten thousand—were still desirous of being removed, so that Gov. Parr in October again reports :—"They arrive by two or three ships at a time, which makes it difficult to obtain exact numbers, but I believe they amount to 24,000." A few days later he says 29,000. In the official return by Brook Watson, Commissary General, dated two days before the troops finally left, the total number gone from New York to Nova Scotia is given as 29,244. Adding those from Penobscot and Carolina, part of the Garrison Battalion from Bermuda, and troops discharged at Halifax, the result is 32,224, while those to Abbaco number 1,458 and to Quebec, 1,328, the latter not including those who went there by way of the Lakes. No complete return appears here of those who went to Britain. Copies of the almost daily letters of recommendation written by Sir Guy Carleton to Gov. Parr on behalf of individuals or parties are preserved, as well as those to the Secretary of State for such as went to England, and to the Governors of Bermuda and the Bahamas. In calendaring the appeals addressed to him for relief and assistance* it was found impossible to narrate the circumstances of each claimant, but one or two entries are suggestive :—"A refugee from New York has signed to go with his wife and family to Nova Scotia "and cannot command as much money as would purchase either of them a pair of shoes." Another is "without a shilling," and a third family formerly "lived in plenty and even fashion, but lately have been nearly in want of bread." Sums of money were granted and other assistance provided, stores of linen and woollen material, spades and axes were sent with them, but hardships, suffering and distress were inevitable both before and after their final settlement on the lands allotted to them. At the time of the autumn arrivals Gov. Parr represents that he had been obliged to put Government to expense for boards, etc., to preserve many from perishing, for "the oldest man in the province does not remember such severe bad weather as we have had for some time past." Amongst his other duties Carleton found time to draw up the outline of a plan for the granting of lands in the neighbourhood of towns, to prevent the mischief of large grants in such situations, and to secure to the inhabitants the means of supplying themselves with pasture and vegetables; as well as to urge on Government the total abolition of the temporarily suspended quitrents, and that, in the revision of the constitution of the colony, there should be a clear and explicit exemption from all taxation, except by their own legislature. He also sent thither Lieut.-Col. Morse, Chief Engineer, to obtain a general knowledge of the province and to examine and report on its military defences, its natural strength, resources and advantages. Several interesting letters from that officer appear in this volume. His survey took so long and his report became so voluminous that he could not return to New York before the evacuation, but remained in Nova Scotia till the next summer. The long report mentioned may be found printed in Dr. Brymner's Reports on Canadian Archives for the year 1884, published 1885.

That class of loyalists which had taken up arms, spoken of throughout these volumes as the Provincial Troops and British American Forces, were now to be disbanded and also settle in Nova Scotia. By royal order given early in the year each non-commissioned officer was to receive 200 acres, and each private 50 acres, exclusive of what he should be entitled to in right of his family, with rations for one year. Many of the regiments in New York, had, by their agents, selected lands in the vicinity of St. John's River, and, on the 12th September, transports conveying seventeen corps sailed direct to that place, where they were to be disbanded and hut during the winter on their own lands. One of the transports, the Martha, on which were the Maryland Loyalists and part of the 2nd Battalion of Delancey's Brigade, was wrecked on Seal Islands in the Bay of Fundy, and one hundred lives lost, six officers and seventeen persons being saved. Strict orders were issued for the preservation of peace and regularity amongst so many disbanded soldiers, and names of officers fit to act as justices of the peace were recommended to the Governor.

By the exertions of Lieut.-Col. Benjamin Thompson, of the King's American Dragoons, whose letter recounting his efforts on their behalf is given on page 204, the officers of the Provincial regiments became entitled to half-pay. Colonel Thompson himself was a native of America, and was proscribed and banished as a loyalist by the State of New Hampshire. As Count Rumford or Von Rumford, his brilliant career is well known, and it is worth noticing that he was the projector of the Royal Institution, in which this collection of MSS. is now deposited.

Only a hint is given in these pages of the royal commission established by Act of Parliament in July of this year in London to afford compensation to loyalist sufferers. Its history belongs to the next few years, the papers relating thereto being in the Public Record Office.

On the 21st to 22nd October the evacuation of New York by the British troops began in earnest, having only been delayed, as Sir Guy pointed out to the Americans, by the necessity of first seeing the loyalists in safety. Fifteen days later the last of the Hessian regiments followed, together with the Royal Artillery and the ordnance ships. On the 25th November the remaining loyalists and the troops were withdrawn from the city "without the smallest circumstance of irregularity or misbehaviour of any kind." By arrangement with Governor Clinton and his Council, Staten Island and a few other convenient points were reserved till the transports which were daily expected arrived to remove about two thousand of the troops still left. Sir Guy himself embarked on His Majesty's Ship Ceres. Though not in this collection, it is characteristic that his last letters, dated off Staten Island on the 29th November, are both in connection with the loyalists:—the one, a recommendation of certain memorials of widows of Provincial officers; the other, concerning lists and statements on behalf of the officers themselves.

A word may be added with regard to the occasional references throughout these four volumes to duplicates in the Public Record Office. Some of the series there, particularly that of the "America and West Indies," have recently been reclassified and renumbered, but the papers referred to may still be identified without much difficulty.

As previously explained, the material of this Calendar was well advanced in the lifetime of the late Mr. B. F. Stevens and has been seen through the press by Mr. H. J. Brown.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM ARMSTRONG to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 1. New York.—“Sir. The desire that I ever have to be of service in any capacity makes me most readily comply with your Excellency’s wish that I should put in writing such observations as came within my knowledge during the time I was at Philadelphia and other parts of the interior country.

From the time I left this place, the 17th Decr. last, every person outside our Lines expected and wished to hear of peace being settled almost upon any terms. They were tired with the length of the war, and the most sanguine amongst them knew they could not long support it, on account of the very deranged state of their finances.

On the 23rd of March the Triumph sloop of war arrived express in 37 days from Cadiz, wth letters from the Comte d’Estaing and Marquis La Fayette to the French Minister at Philadelphia and different people in Congress, informing them that a general peace had taken place at Paris on the 20th of January. The captain of the vessel had orders from Comte d’Estaing to order all vessells belonging to France to cease hostilities, and to give copys of y<sup>e</sup> orders he had received to all British cruisers. He brought out with him a table copied from a French newspaper, specifying at what time hostilities were to cease in different latitudes. I could not procure a copy of it, but recollect hearing a gentleman say that it mentioned they were to cease in eight days after the ratification of peace in the English seas, two months in this country and four months in the East Indies. The accounts of the unlimited Independance of America being granted, gave the greatest pleasure to the Whig party, the greatest uneasiness to the Torys, all of whom dread the consequences of a separation from Great Britain and anticipate the evils that ’tis more than probable will ensue from it.

Some of the warmest Whigs acknowledged to me that had Great Britain made it an Article that the restoring all the confiscated property of the Loyalists should be the condition on which Independency should be granted, it most certainly would have been complied with. When the Provisional Articles were read before the Assembly of Pennsylvania and a number of people gathered together on the occasion, they acknowledged that the terms were much more liberal than they had any right to expect, at the same time they ridiculed that Article which says that Congress should recommend to the different Assemblies the restoration of ye property of the Loyalists, well knowing that no attention would be paid to it by the Assembly's; and Col. Hamilton, a Member of Congress, acknowledged to me that he was of the same opinion. Yet the Article on their part should certainly be complied with, tho' sensible it would not answer any purpose wished for on ours. The boundaries established by the Commissioners are much more extensive than they expected, and they all think very politick in our Commissioners giving up the Floridas to Spain, as it will save Great Britain much expence and trouble, and places a power close to them that they expect ever to be at enmity with, as they already declare they will have the sole navigation of the River Mississippi.

I heard Col. Hamilton read part of a letter he had received from the Marquis La Fayette, dated at Cadiz, and sent to him by his servant who came passenger in the Triumph, wherein he says—'Had not the accounts of peace arrived we should in three days have sailed from hence with forty-nine sail of the line and twenty thousand troops, to have been joined in the West Indies by the combined Fleets, consisting of twenty-six sail of the line and fifteen thousand troops, forming altogether a force consisting of seventy-five sail of the line and thirty-five thousand troops, the whole to be under the command of Comte d'Estaing, with which he was to have made an attack on Jamaica; yet such an idea have they of the force that Britain would have sent out to oppose them, that they are happy the attempt was not made, as they have not the smallest doubt that this would have proved unsuccessfull, and consequently the terms of peace would have been less favourable.'

The Marquis says likewise in his letter that he wished much to have been the bearer of such wellcome news as this must have been to America, but was obliged to go to Madrid wth Comte d'Estaing; he, however, flattered himself with the hopes of being here in July next, when he expected he will come out as Ambassador.

They all appeared much surprised at Comte d'Estaing's not being more explicit in his letters as to the terms of peace and cessation of hostilities, and were at a loss to account for it. Yet not one person doubted that a general peace was agreed upon. So convinced were the merchants of it that they immediately dissarmed some letters of marque, purchased vessels of large burthen, and were loading them with flour, some of which is destined for a British market, and goods were sold 50 p. cent. lower than before the arrival of that vessell. Many of the merchants applied to me to bring in and forward lettrs to merchants in London with whom they wish to form connections; all agreeing that when the animosity incidental to a Civil War was subsided, that if Great Britain adopt proper methods with America she will still, from the similarity of religion, manners, &c., retain the principal trade of it, and the attachment between the two countrys will be as strong as formerly.

Many of the Americans are already jealous of the French, and all in their hearts detest them, but have too much policy to show it, and it appears reciprocal, but less concealed by the French.

They have still a greater dislike to the Spaniards, who on their part treat them with the most sovereign contempt.

They are exceedingly anxious for the arrival of ye Treaty of Commerce, and reprobate every idea of their trade being restrained by France, which next to the weakning the powers of Great Britain by dismembering the Empire has been the great object. They are convinced that Spain will not allow them to trade with their colony's, as they are supplied from Mexico and Old Spain, and have the same idea with regard to France. To this power they acknowledge themselves under great obligations, yet do not hesitate to say it was not regard for America that made them take the part they have done.

They admire very much the conduct of their Commissioners, Messrs. Franklin, Jay and Adams, in making this Treaty of Peace, and think that Franklin outwitted Mr. Oswald in the Article with regard to restoring the property of the Loyalists, which was first proposed by Mr. O. and intended to have been made a positive Article in the Treaty, from which he was dissuaded by the eloquence of Franklin and obstinacy of Jay, to whom with that quality they allow much merit, as they do likewise to Adams, altho they dont think him equal to the other two.

Altho I never could meet with any person that could well explain it to me, yet I have every reason to believe that those three are much influenced by the French Ministry, and have often heard it hinted that Mr. Franklin in particular was in the pay of France. If so, it is natural to suppose the others likewise are. And I also believe, nay, am certain that several people about Philadelphia are also paid by France; who in every transaction wth them shows the greatest policy.

In every place or company the French Minister or rather Mons. Marbois (the Minister being only the ostensible person) has spys who carefully attend to the conversation and sentiments of each person, and regularly repeat them to him, so that he has the earliest intelligence of the effects each step has on the minds of the people, and acts accordingly.

Had it not been that the finances of France were in so bad a situation as to make an immediate peace absolutely necessary it was not the intention of that Court to conclude one at this time. As they very justly flattered themselves that the longer this country was kept at war with Great Britain, the greater wou'd be the animosity and difficulty of connecting them again, whilst they of course woud gain a larger share in the trade. It does not appear to me that in making the peace the American Commissioners have attended more to the interest of one State than of the whole. But untill the particulars are known tis impossible to form any idea on this subject.

Every person at Philadelphia acknowledges the bad state of the finances of this country, and all agree in saying that had our Ministry not been in such a hurry to conclude a peace with them, they must have accepted any terms that had been offered, as they have not any funds or prospects of raising any money to support the expences of another campaign.

The officers of the army at West Point have lately sent in to Congress two Memorials or rather Remonstrances, worded in the strongest terms, insisting that as there was a prospect of peace their arrears shoud immediately be paid, and security given for future pay. Their last Memorial was occasioned by a well written inflammatory paper being distributed through the Army, which after stating the causes, recommended a meeting of so many officers of each rank to form a committee to wait upon Congress—a move that was reprobated in the strongest terms by Genl. Washington, who with his usual policy on such occasions advised more gentle methods, put off the day they had appointed to meet as above mentioned and made a new arrangement of the officers appointed to form the committee, at which I believe he attended, and backed their Memorial, which, I was told by a gentleman who saw it, was drawn up in a firm and manly stile, to which Congress replied that every step shoud immediately be taken to satisfy their demands. Thus, by General Washington's policy, a step was prevented taking place which gave the greatest alarm, and might have been productive of very serious consequences.

I was informed that their Army at present consists of fourteen thousand men under the immediate operating command of Genl. Washington, that they are well appointed in every particular and highly disciplined. The French officers all told me they were amazed to see them so perfect in their exercise and manoeuvres.

Great reductions and reformatons have taken place in the Army; much greater will take place on peace being ratified.

They talk of not keeping more than two regiments in each State; those that are reduced, and chuse to accept of it, to have grants of land in the back country, particularly on the banks of the Ohio, where great numbers have already emigrated and settled.

Tis said that when peace takes place Genl. Washington means to retire to his estate in Virginia, and not take any part whatever in publick affairs. They do not think him ambitious, else he might very easily gett himself appointed King of America, as the Army is entirely at his command. In general he appears to be respected by all partys, more for his capacity as a politician than a soldier.

The powers of Congress are now very confin'd, as they can only recommend to the Assemblys of the different States what they wish to have done, it still remaining with the Assembly to determine whether or not they will comply with their request. Congress can assess the different States with their proportion of taxes thought necessary to be raised for the use of the whole, but cannot themselves raise any money. The Members of Congress acknowledge that they are little better than mere cyphers, and attribute to themselves the blame of transferring so much of the power out of their own hands into that of the Assemblys of the different States.

In each of these, there appears to be two partys who study to counteract each other, particularly in Pensylvania, where they have run very high, and are now headed by Mr. Dickinson, the present Governor, and Mr. Reed his predecessor; till lately all the principal people were much attached to Mr. Dickinson, thinking him a man of very superior abilities—which as a courtier he certainly is—but they now find him timorous, fickle, and indecisive, an unfit character to govern a State in its present convulsed situation. Mr. Reed, his opponent and head of the other party, or rather the mobility, is a man of great abilitys, possessed of a daring, enterprizing genius, but said to be destitute of every honorable sentiment.

Few of them expect that the thirteen States will long remain under the same Government, the ideas of the Eastern and Western States being so very different in every particular. Some people think they will be divided into two Governments or Kingdoms, divided by the Hudsons River; others think into three Governments, comprehending the Eastern, Middle and Western Governments, divided by the Hudson and Susquehannah Rivers. In a very short time they will take the Floridas from Spain, and tis more than probable they will not stop there.

They speak warmly of forming connections in trade with England, and I heard many of the merchants openly declare that whatever article could be got there equally good with that from any other country they would ever go to England for it. I understood that the French Ministry dreaded this very much, and were exceedingly jealous of the apparent intimacy between Mr. Oswald and Mr. Adams, as it seems they have a much higher opinion of Mr. Oswald's mercantile than political ideas.

They expect that an Ambassador will shortly be sent out from England to reside in Philadelphia, and that there will then be an English and French Party, but all think the first will easily gain and keep the ascendancy, if the person sent out is a man of ability and address. In general, the people appear to be easily led by appearances, being open to every species of flattery, fond of every kind of amusement and entertainment, and always most attached to the person who will contribute most to their pleasures. From this rule I must except the Quakers, but they from principle as well as policy will ever attach themselves to the English interest.

When it was known that the Washington Packet, Capt. Barney, which brought the Provisional Articles of Peace, protected by a passport from His Majesty, had also brought a considerable quantity of money, which was lodged in the Bank, and also sixty bales of dry goods (which were uninsured) every person I heard speak of it exclaimed against his conduct as an infringement of the passport, and it was said he was to be prosecuted for so doing, but I do not expect they will take any further notice of it, as they reprobated his conduct more from the risk he thereby run of being detained if taken by any of our cruisers, than from any ideas of publick honour or honesty, which, as yet, are as infantine as their States.

On the 21st of March a brig named the Duc de Lauzun—Green, master—arrived at Philad<sup>a</sup> in three weeks from the Havannah, which place he left in company with the Alliance frigate, Capt. Barry, and ten sail of Spanish line of battle ships, going to join Vaudreuil's Fleet.

Had not an express arrived there from Cadiz those ships were to have convoyed a fleet then laying ready to sail for Old Spain, on board of which were twenty millions of dollars, which immediately on the arrival of the express were relanded. Green, brought with him fifty or sixty thousand dollars; Barry, who arrived about ten days ago at Providence, brought 135,000 dollars, 85,000 of which were publick, the other private property.

Had it not been for the supply of cash brought by these three vessels, the Bank must certainly have stopped payment for some time, as they had very little cash in possession, not even sufficient to answer the common demands. The credit of the Bank is looked upon as perfectly good, as the shares are only held by persons of large property. Each share is 250*l.* curry., and no one person is allowed to hold more than four shares. The profits of the Bank arise from discounting bills of short dates, and the use of the cash whilst their notes are in circulation. The idea of this Bank first originated with Mr. Robt. Morris, who sett it on foot and by his credit raised it to its present situation. He still presides, and so well is his credit established thro the country, that one of his notes is much easier passed than a bank note. His resignation of the office of Financier General alarmed every person in power, as they well knew they had not any person of equal capacity or credit that they could appoint to succeed him. If another campaign had taken place it would have been the severest stroke that could have happened to them, as no person would have entered into any contract for supplies, unless he made himself responsible. That appears to be reason of the vote of secrecy imposed upon him by Congress, which in his second letter he desires may be taken off, as after his first letter of the 24th of January, in which he informs them of his intention of resigning next May, they formed contracts in his name before the people knew of his having resigned.

The instant that the Triumph arrived with the accounts of peace, they talked of the evacuation of New York and its dependencies. Many of them thought it ought to be done immediately; those less sanguine and more liberal in their ideas allowed till the end of June, but none exceeded that period.

It was reported in Philadelphia that a law had lately been passed in the State of New York, confiscating the property of those three islands. I conversed with several of them on this subject, and the most sanguine amongst them reprobated the measure as a most cruel and unjustifiable step. I have since heard that an attempt was made to pass this law, but it was thrown out. I also heard that Messrs. Clinton, De Waine and Livingston are appointed a Committee to act for thirty days after the evacuation of this place, their orders and decisions to be final.

The day before I left Philadelphia, Genl. Lincoln, Secretary at War, told me that he supposed all our prisoners would be sent to New York immediately after the arrival of the official accounts of peace, which were every day expected from Brest.

I have thus endeavoured to mention everything I can recollect, but as it entirely depends upon memory, not daring to write any thing on account of my situation whilst amongst them, there may still be many things in which your Excellency may wish for information. Should any questions occur, if in my power I shall be happy to answer them and by every method study to assure your Excellency that with the highest esteem and respect I have the honor to be, &c."

MAURICE MORGANN to GORDON, BIDDULPH and GORDON.

1783, April 10. New York.—In answer to their letter of yesterday, the Commander-in-Chief desires to know if they consider under their instructions subsistence bills (for which, he apprehends, cash is paid in advance, and for the transaction of which their constituents obtain a commission of  $1\frac{1}{2}$  p.c.) as absolute demands upon them for the total amount in specie at whatever rate of exchange, or as conditional and not obliged to be paid unless they are permitted to draw bills at the market rate of exchange below par and place the loss to the account of Government. If the former, he is directed to inform them that the prohibition under which they stand of not drawing bills of exchange for the uses of the military chest below par, does not extend to these bills which they may find it necessary to draw at a loss to their constituents in order to enable them to perform their absolute engagements, but if they are of opinion the bills are conditional, the Commander-in-Chief does not disallow of their drawing bills of exchange to the amount of the subsistence bills now in the Deputy Paymaster General's hands, at the best rate of exchange they can obtain, leaving the final decision of this question to the terms of the contract and the constructions that may be made thereon.

JOHN FOXCROFT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 11. General Post Office, New York.—Major Williams having called on him from the Commandant with orders for payment of arrears of rent for the Post Office, obliges him, with reluctance, to trouble his Excellency. Represents that the house in which the Post Office is kept was appointed for that purpose by Sir W. Howe on his taking possession of the city, and has continued without paying rent. Why it was put on the vestry list he cannot say. His salary is 300*l.* per annum, and not received regularly ; owing to the letters for the army being delivered free of charge, though he is charged with them by the General Post Office in London, the revenue is considerably in arrears for salary to himself and his colleague, and by a new commisssion it appears their salaries are to be paid out of the revenues arising from the postage of letters in America. His whole fortune, together with what belongs to Mrs. Foxcroft, is out of the lines. He is unable to pay what is demanded, and his feelings are somewhat hurt after twenty-two years of service, which, with his losses, he thought would have entitled him to a house rent free equally with many others.

LIEUT. GEN. JAMES ROBERTSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 11. New York.—Sir. An order of Sir Henry Clinton, dated the 3rd March, 1778, sets forth “that there “are many houses and stores in this city belonging to “persons not under the protection of Government, which “are occupied by merchants and others not entitled to “quarters, as constituting a part of this Garrison, and “whereas large sums of money are requisite towards “assisting the poor, lighting the lamps, repairing the pumps, “cleaning the streets, &c., &c., &c . . . . .
“And there being no reason why the aforesaid persons “should not pay rent for the houses and stores they occupy,
“his Excellency appointed David Matthews, Esqre, Mayor, “and twenty-six more gentlemen to act as overseers of the “poor. And he authorized and appointed John Smyth “to call on and receive from all persons not entitled to “quarters, the half-year's rent ending the first of May then “next to come, to be applied as directed by a majority of “overseers, who were to render an account to the police.”

On my arrival here I found this order in force, and practised under the direction of General Pattison, Commandant of the city. On General Pattison's departure, finding the method directed by Sir Henry Clinton perfectly consonant to that which my instructions directed me to observe, in case the Commander-in-Chief, by setting any part of the country at the King's peace had suffered this care to devolve on me, when Sir Henry Clinton desired me to carry the spirit of my instructions into execution not in the character of a Civil Governor but of a General Officer, subject to his orders, I continued the practice I found instituted, with this difference, that I gave free entry into the vestry to all the respectable citizens, and I subjected the payments to be made by the Treasurer to more cheques. The receipts and payments, after being examined by men of character and well versed in accounts, have been stated and published. Every particular is stated in books I now put into General Birch's possession, not only for his information, and to enable him to proceed in this business, but subject to the direction of the Commander-in-Chief to be open to the inspection of the publick.

The houses have been preserved by being put under the care of persons interested in their preservation, and as the produce has been applied for purposes absolutely necessary, and which otherwise must have been an expence to the Crown, the amount is a publick saving.

I found that the distance from some parts of Long Island, and the expense of living at New York, made most of the inhabitants of that isle rather suffer wrong than apply to the Courts of New York for redress, and that the want of Courts on Long Island left every licentiousness and crime unpunished. These considerations led me to institute a Court of Police on Long Island, with such amendments as observations made me think proper. Happily, the gentlemen who were chose for judges have executed whatever I could hope from them. Justice and equity and order have taken place there, and a want of the rules which are instituted for guarding liberty have been little felt, while delay and expence have been entirely avoided. The farms and derelict houses have, agreeable to my instructions, been employed and divided among distressed refugees; such as could not be applied to the advantage of these, have been let for their benefit, or for the payment of the judges and officers of the police on Long Island.

I leave in General Campbell's hands accounts of all the moneys that have been received or paid. The books show the distribution of all the houses and farms, the names of all that have been provided for, and will give an idea of the advantages that have been derived from the cultivation of these farms. The houses which have hitherto covered refugees, will, when returned to their owners, be found in a better condition than they would have been without this regulation.

It is my duty, as the powers by which I have acted are derived from the Commander-in-Chief, to lay these matters before you. If the attention I have paid to these subjects meets with your Excellency's approbation, I think myself abundantly rewarded. I am, &c.

New York.—The gentleman in waiting having declined to deliver the enclosed memorial and papers relative thereto, they have no other method of laying them before Carleton but under cover. SIR GUY CARLETON to CHEVR. DE LAVALETTE.

1783, April 16. New York—"Sir. People in grief shun the inspection of strangers, more particularly of such as have contributed to their misfortunes. This city, I am persuaded, can afford no entertainment to you; multitudes embarking and on the point of leaving the place of their nativity, their habitations and their friends for ever; under the agitations of mind inseparable from these distresses, 'tis to be feared even civilities might be mistaken for insult. On a different occasion I should be happy in shewing you every attention in my power, and of convincing you, Sir, that I am, with much consideration, your most obedient humble servant."

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to MAJ. GEN. BARON DE RIEDESEL.

1783, April 17. New York.—“In consequence of your request, I had some time ago given orders to Major General Paterson to take the earliest opportunity of sending the troops and stores belonging to the Brunswick troops under charge of Captain Clive to Canada. I had also directed that whatever men of the Brunswick troops who had made their escape from the enemy were here should be sent to Halifax to be forwarded at the same time. But as the situation of affairs has entirely changed, and the great want of transports rendering it impossible to spare any from the service of this place, I am compelled to delay sending the troops, who would probably be brought back immediately, and have directed Major General Paterson to send the clothing, camp equipage and other stores, of which you report your troops to be in great want. Cornet Schonewald, who some time ago arrived here with your dispatches has undertaken to deliver this letter to you. It is incumbent on me to inform you that he has on all occasions testified the greatest anxiety to return to Canada according to your orders, but till now has had no opportunity.”

LIEUT. GOV. ANDREW ELLIOT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 19. New York.—Mr. Creamer, who has acted in this garrison as coroner since 1776, was appointed by General Valentine Jones, then Commandant. Neglect of duty having obliged the Commandant to confine him, it becomes necessary that another person should be immediately appointed, and Chief Justice William Smith acquaints him the appointment of coroner lies with the Lieutenant Governor, which is certainly the case where civil government is in force. New York, as a garrison, is under the supreme control of the Commander-in-Chief. Sends copy of letter received from General Robertson with the Great Seal. Is reluctant to exercise powers which General Robertson, as a civil governor, never assumed, and flatters himself that the appointment of officers will continue to be made by the military authority. Regardless of trouble or fatigue, he will study to accomplish his Excellency's wishes, and will therefore as Superintendent of Police, if so directed, make enquiry for a proper person for the office.

REAR ADMIRAL ROBERT DIGBY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 21. 4 o'clock. New York.—“Sir. Since your Excellency spoke to me I have been considering of a proper vessel to lye guardship at the Kilns. The Lucifer, which lay there all last year, I have ordered to City Island, as I thought it necessary from the complaints of the inhabitants to remove the Volcano. If your Excellency wishes it, I will order Captain Patton to resume his former station, but then it will be absolutely necessary he should again have (as he always has had) a guard of soldiers, as his complement of men, officers included, is only 45, of which he has not half on board. But I should rather think, as it is a post so entirely dependant upon the Army, that the best way would be to order one of the transports (for the Lucifer is no better) to be put under the direction of any officer of the Army you please, which would prevent any inconvenience from soldiers being put under the direction of sea officers, which I apprehend is what your Excellency wishes to avoid. I really have nothing else proper to send to that station, as it requires a vessel of very easy draft of water."

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to the Commander-in-Chief [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, April 22.—"Sir. Being informed that a representation of a matter is laid before your Excellency, in which some officious people wish to injure me in the line of duty by an interference with command, I beg permission to lay before your Excellency the reall state of the affair.

The prisoners from Havanna (taken at the Island of Rattan) being entirely destitute of all necessaries whatever, and no way pointed out to provide them, I gave permission to one of them (who was an apothecaries son in Jamaica, and being far from being a good duty solgier) to go on board a privateer, he paying a 4th part of his prize money towards the relief of his comrades, he made near 400*l.*, and when the cruise was finished, I desired him to pay into the hands of the officer who had the charge of them the shaire intended for their use, by agreemt., which he refused to comply with, and from advice of absurd people, refused to attend to any point of duty, or commands from me. I confess the impropriety of the indulgence, and can only rest it upon the insignificancy of the fellow as a duty man, and the use it was of to the more deserving, and if I have trespassed so as to incur your Excellency's displeasure in so doing, I am most sinserely sorry for it, and submitt this jenuine relation of the transactions to your will and pleasure. I am, with infinite respect, your Excellency's, &c."

P.S.—The fellow had been punished by the sentence of a Court Martiall, and afterwards brok as Corpl. by the sentence of another, for disobedience of orders before he came here, when on service.

SIR GUY CARLETON to REAR ADM. ROBERT DIGBY.

1783, April 22. New York.—His objections to granting troops to serve on board armed vessels proceeded not only from the improper use they have heretofore been put to, but from the reduced state of the regiments, which renders it impossible for them to furnish the numbers necessary for the duties on shore, but were it otherwise he could not approve arming transports and giving the command to land officers. Repeats his uneasiness that all the approaches to this open town by water are abandoned by the ships. Reiterates his request for guard ships to the different stations occupied last summer of at least equal force.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. WILLIAM LIVINGSTON.

1783, April 22. New York.—The records and papers applied for by Mr. Stevens, President of the Council of Proprietors, have been delivered to his agent; a copy of the order is enclosed. There has been some little unintentional delay in issuing the order from which he will be concerned if any inconvenience has ensued.

REAR AD. ROBERT DIGBY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 22. New York.—“Sir. Your Excellency's letter of this date calls upon me to give you an immediate answer, as it seems to imply that the approaches to this town were abandoned by the ships under my command. I beg you to recollect that when you called upon me yesterday I told you that the Bonetta was ordered before you spoke to me, and was then going to Spiken Devil in the room of the Otter, which I had withdrawn to move her Captain. That the Centurion came from the Hook by a mistake and was returned to Staten Island. With respect to the guardship at the Kilns, I wrote you very fully yesterday, and beg to remind you that it is not long since I was applied to (I believe by your Excellency's directions) for two transports in order to their being arm'd for the reception of the whale boat men, and I was particularly desired to give orders that they should obey the officers of the Army. This, and the having nothing else proper for that station, made me propose the arming transports. As there are many arm'd vessels entirely under the direction of the Army, and the above vessels cannot be moved, I see no objection. If your Excellency determines not to make use of the Lucifer at the Kilns, I shall send her immediately to City Island. Every other station is as it was, except the Hook, where I hope to have a ship to-morrow or next day. But if your Excellency expects these guard ships can prevent boats loading in and about New York all hours of the night, you will certainly be mistaken. Your Excellency knows my opinion upon that head fully (viz.), that nothing but regulations on shore can prevent it effectually."

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. PATERSON.

1783, April 26. New York.—“I enclose herewith embarkation returns of the troops and refugees going in the fleet to different parts of Nova Scotia; together with returns of artillery, ordnance stores, and provisions.

As the situation of affairs has undergone many material changes since I wrote to you respecting the preparation for sending troops to Canada, I must now desire you will send there only such clothing, camp equipage and necessities, as the officers commanding the Brunswick, Hesse Hanau, and Anhalt Zerbst troops shall point out, with such men as they may deem necessary for the care of them, and who can be embarked without inconvenience, or any additional demand of tonnage. The rest of the troops belonging to the Canada establishment are to remain in Nova Scotia until further orders, the great want of transports, and the necessity there is that those now sent should be returned to this place without delay, rendering it impossible to send them at present. You will, however, permit Cornet Schoenewald, of the Brunswick troops, who is charged with a letter from me to General Riedesel, to go in the clothing ship to Quebec.

The King's American Dragoons, who are dismounted, having desired to be sent to St. John's River, Bay of Fundy, I have agreed to their request, and they will proceed directly to that place, where they are to encamp and do duty for the present; but as the period of their stay there is uncertain, I wou'd advise you not to withdraw the troops actually posted there.

Many officers of the Provincial Troops take this opportunity of going to Nova Scotia to look for places for future settlements; as their situation claims our particular attention,

I recommend them to you for every assistance in your power.

I send an engineer to Port Roseway, and enclose a copy of the instructions he has received, for your information.

You will observe in these instructions that the engineer is directed to apply for an ample reservation of lands for the purpose of establishing a military post for the defence of the settlement. You will please to make application to the Governor for this purpose, but you will not admit of any works being constructed, or of any expences being incurred at that place, nor any other without express orders.

I am obliged to express myself in these general terms (which you will understand as extending to all extraordinary expences whatever) as the accounts of the expenditures within your district have hitherto been kept from me, notwithstanding repeated and express orders for their being transmitted here.

You will please to send Captain Hare, of the Royal Artillery, to Port Roseway by the first opportunity, where he will take the command of that department, and give every assistance in his power to the settlers.

I enclose an extract of a letter from Sir Henry Clinton to Governor Patterson, with a copy of a letter from Lord George Germain on the subject of Captain Callbeck's affair, by which you will perceive the matter appears to have been referred home; and that until I receive directions in consequence, I can take no further steps in it. But I must observe that Captain Callbeck's claims appear to be for expenditures made previous to any proper authority for so doing, and part even in direct contempt of orders.

It does not appear to me that Captain Callbeck's Company has been so far completed as to entitle him to the usual allowances, or even to a commission."

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 28. Bermuda.—Received letter of the 5th inst. Has only to say in vindication that if any mistake has happened respecting the Pay Master having drawn improperly on Mr. Morgan[n] it proceeded from some misconception of the advice by Lieutenant Slack. The Paymaster's accounts were all made up conformable to order after Lieutenant Slack had mustered. At the time he left he was perfectly satisfied everything was in the channel ordered. That a clear settlement might take place, sent Lieutenant Hunt, the paymaster, to New York the 13th inst., and having sent Lieutenant Charles Blundell with Lieutenant Slack to settle the barrack accounts with Brook Watson made no doubt of everything being right. His Excellency's letter, this instant come to hand, informs him of Barrack Master Blundell being superseded. Knew of no such order of last May. The misfortune of the "Mentor" not being arrived in which Lieutenant Slack, Lieutenant Blundell and all accounts went, is, he hopes, the cause of the present errors, which, he trusts, will in every respect be readily put to rights.

Signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 137. 2 pages.

THOMAS BROWN, Supdt. of Indian Affairs, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 28.—St. Augustine.—Quotes order received from the Secretary of State of the 14th February to withdraw all officers and traders from East Florida on account of its cession to Spain. Fears of the resentment of the Creeks and Cherokees on a supposed breach of public faith with them. Has been applied to by agents to the nobility and gentry who have lands and slaves here as well as by the legislature of the province to provide for the security of persons and property at this juncture.

I therefore thought it consistent with my duty to adopt such measures as will alone contribute to that end "to send "for the principal chiefs of the different towns of the Creeks "whom I shall endeavour to reconcile in the best manner "I can to this unfortunate event, and endeavour to keep "them here until the evacuation is effected." Whilst the chiefs are with us, the young men dare not attempt the commission of any depredations or outrages on the persons or property of the inhabitants, to which resentment or their natural ferocity of temper might hurry them.

In a conference with a Creek chief yesterday, he told me he had heard "That the Great King had sent a peace talk "to the Virginians and Spaniards to inform them that if they "would bury the hatchet, that he would order all the "English across the great water, and give them as a present "all the Indian warriors their families and lands to be "divided betwixt them. I am, said he, a man and a warrior, "and a friend to the English. This talk is a Virginia lie; "I don't believe it; an Englishman will never turn his back "and betray his friend."

The situation of our poor unfortunate allies most sensibly affects me. They were ever faithful to me; I never deceived them. Your Excellency, I hope, will pardon the liberty of saying, I now feel for my own honor."

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, May 1. Bermuda. — Hopes for safety of the "Mentor." Sent full remarks and memorandum by Lieutenant Slack to "illucidate" the inconveniencies met with here by the backwardness of both houses and the unwillingness of the Governor to push any point with his Council and Assembly for the advantage of the troops or benefit of the service. No barracks at St. George's, abominable quarters for the men, no allowance for officers, exorbitant rents and high prices. Has "memorialled" repeatedly; has taken a lot of land for twenty-one years, built a mess house and a cistern all at his own expense and wants only about one thousand bricks, which, if his Excellency would send, it would contribute more to the real benefit of the troops than ever was done since Summers first unfortunately stumbled upon the barren rocks of Bermuda.

CAVALIER JOUET to [ ] .

1783, May 4. New York.—Sir, Having been advised by my friends to communicate to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief a transaction which happened in the Jerseys, on my attempting to travel there and cultivate a friendly intercourse with the people of the place into which I first entered, and doubting whether it may be altogether so proper immediately to address his Excellency on the subject as more mediately and indirectly to communicate it to one of his aids-de-camp ; I presume on your goodness, Sir, for the freedom I take in a recital of the facts, in order that you may (if you think proper) lay them before his Excellency seasonably, in case he should find any purpose in holding them up in his conferences with General Washington.

They are as follows :—Some little time after the publication of an armistice between the belligerent Powers, I thought it might prove of use to myself and family to pass into the Jerseys, and speculate on the spirit and temper of the times there, in order to determine whether it would be feasible to replace my wife and children in the township where they formerly resided, for the purpose of a more easy maintenance of them, and to be in the way, with the assistance of their friends, of finally recovering their property ; and accordingly I pitched upon the neighbourhood of Woodbridge to make my entrance, where I had been subject for near three years past in the capacity of a prisoner of war on my parole given to General Washington, in consequence of a parole of like nature given by a certain John Hampton to his Excellency Sir Henry Clinton, at the time of the said Hampton being liberated from the Provost. In this place, where I had received much civility, for a course of time, as well from the particular party who captured me, as from the inhabitants in general, between whom and myself had passed a reciprocation of good offices, they frequently granting me real indulgences that were not common to every one in a like predicament with myself, and I embracing every opportunity to make all possible acknowledgements consistent with my avowal of the strictest loyalty and fidelity to the cause of my rightful Sovereign, I say, in this place, I received the most outrageous insults, and narrowly escaped the most shameful and degrading abuse. A number of fellows came about me with sticks and whips (the most of whom had formerly treated me with great courtesy) telling me the case was altered now ; that when a prisoner of war, they thought it incumbent to be civil to me, but the peace had dissolved all paroles, and I had no right or title to come there, and they were determined to give me (as they insultingly termed it) a continental jacket. I expostulated with them whether I had ever injured any of them or others they had heard of in their properties ; or had so much as in the slightest manner affronted their persons ; in answer to which they told me I had proved a traitor to my country and had joined the enemy, and they were determined that no such damned rascals should ever enjoy the benefits of the country again ; and had, with the approbation of the Magistrates of the township, entered into an association for the purpose of expelling every rascal that attempted to come into it in like form as they meant to treat me, by whipping them out again. Near or at this juncture came General Heard, of their militia, and appeared to aggravate the spirit of the mob very much by pointedly asking them what they meant to do with that damned rascal? and a Justice Freeman coming up shortly after, called out aloud hang him up, hang him up. A Justice Bloomfield, too, who finally showed a disposition to appease the spirit that had arisen in the people, first told me it was a crime to come there, and on my enquiring whether their conduct was authorized by the Magistracy, he said so far as that they had entered into an association, with the knowledge of the Magistrates, to treat persons coming as I had done in such sort, and believed they would find no redress. In short, it was with infinite difficulty I escaped their clutches with all the assistance I could get from a certain Thomas Edgar, who pleaded that he had received favours from one of my sons when a prisoner under his charge, and held himself under obligations to the family; and from the benevolent interposition of their clergyman, Mr. Rowe, who in every instance and respect behaved very much like a Christian and a gentleman.

I could mention many other circumstances expressive of a most intollerant spirit prevailing among them, but I have been already too prolix, without being well able to avoid it, and relate the whole of the principal facts, for which I must beg your pardon, and subscribe myself, Your most obedient, etc.

MAJOR WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 9. Bermuda.—“I did myself the honor to write your Excellency fully by the sloop of war Atalanta respecting the detachment from Rattam, they were mustered with the battalion by Lt. Slack, and have been returned to your Excellency as part of the garrison here, but for what reason I can't pretend to say, Governor Browne has tackin the authority to give in Generall Orders that they are no longer to do duty with the battalion, and in consequence wherof one of them (who had a triall in Chancery) is gone of, being informed as above, but to prevent the growing evil of mutiny amongst them, I sent the remainder to the castle, where a company of the battalion is quartered (from which they can not desert). I hope I have acted consistently in not dismissing the whole by the Governor's orders, as I had not yet received your Excellency's orders respecting them, hoping the Mentor and Lt. Slack are arrived safe.”

COL. WILLIAM BAYARD to MAJOR GEORGE BECKWITH.

1783, May 9. New York.—“I did myself the honor this morning of attending at headquarters in expectation of paying my respects to the Commander-in-Chief, when to my mortification, I found his Excellency was so much indisposed as not to be seen, I did intend at the same time had he been at levée to have put into his hands the inclosed notice, which was this day served upon my tennant, Daniel Smith, and by him deliver'd to me. And as I would by no means wish to take any steps that would not meet his Excellency's approbation, I beg leave to inform that this estate at Hoobock has from the first of this rebellion to the present time always been in the hands of the King's troops, and my own, that it has never been confiscated, nor sold as it says, within the province of New Jersey, and therefore am the more surprized at receiveing a notice of this sort of so late a date as yesterday, and am apt to believe this fellow Herring (who was formerly my ferryman from this place) has done it more from a wish to get on it himself than from any late order, and as upon the country's being opened and this estate of mine at Hoobock being a very publick road for the northern part of the country to bring in produce to this city, I consulted the Commandant on the measure of putting up my brigade (as Hoobock is nearly an island) which I have accordingly done, and established my boats for the transportation of passengers and produce, and for which he was pleased to give me the inclosed permission for the purpose, all which I must beg the favor of you to lay before the Commander-in-Chief."

DAVID SPROAT, Commissary General of Naval Prisoners, to MAJOR MCKENZIE.

1783, May 10. New York.—"In compliance with your request, I beg leave to inform you that on Sunday, the 6th of last month, his Excellency Rear Admiral Digby ordered Captain John Beazley, of His Majesty's ship Ampheon, to go on board the prison ships accompanied by me and read the proclamation, which was accordingly done. The same day it was read to the naval prisoners in the Provost, and a circular letter sent off express to the prisoners who were on parole on Long Island informing them thereof, and desiring them to hold themselves in readiness to be sent out. The next day I had six vessels in the Walabough under flags of truce, which on the 9th of April took the whole of the prisoners on board and carried them to their respective places of abode to save them expence and the fatigue of long marches—excepting about 18 or 20 sick and wounded who could not be removed with safety—concerning them I wrote to Mr. G. Turner, chief under Mr. Morris for marine prisoners, but received no answer. The poor people having got better, they were delivered to Mr. Hopkins, intendant for prisoners, who sent them to Boston the 3rd instant.

The provost was cleared of the marine prisoners (without exception) on the 10th of April. And on and after the 7th of same month passports were granted to those who were on parole to go out, as it suited their convenience."

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR WILLIAM BROWNE.

1783, May 12. George Campbell, of the King’s American Regiment, made a complaint to the President and members of the General Court Martial, before whom he is under tryal for sundry charges exhibited against him by Captain Depeyster, of the same regiment, in behalf of himself and other officers that Ensign Thomas, paymaster thereto, had refused to pay him his subsistence, and I was desired by Brigadier General Fox, the President, to lay the matter before the Commander-in-Chief, and I accordingly went to headquarters for that purpose, but finding his Excellency much indisposed, I left the enclosed papers with Major Beckwith, which have since been returned to me. BRIG. GEN. ARCH. MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 19. St. Augustine.—“On the 10th inst. I was honoured with your Excellency's letter and instructions of the 12th January, your letters of the 26th March, 5th and 7th April by the Narcissus, and all the victuallers are arrived except the Eliza.

The strictest attention shall be paid to everything you have mentioned; I fear, however, I must venture to deviate a little from the mode of delivering presents to the Indians, as Colonel Brown has represented to me it would intirely ruin his credit with them, particularly at this critical juncture, when the utmost attention is necessary in our conduct towards them, in order if possible to keep them in temper, and Colonel Brown's character for integrity is so well established there is not the least danger of misapplication; nothing, however, shall be purchased or given them without my knowledge. Your Excellency will perceive by the state of the presents remaining in store that there is little to be delivered untill purchased.

I shall most carefully guard against every improper expence, but if the numbers arrive that are talked of, I foresee a heavy expence will unavoidably be incurred. In all transactions with the Indians I shall consult with the Governor and Superintendant, and use every possible means to conciliate their good will. The minds of these people appear as much agitated as those of the unhappy loyalists on the eve of a third evacuation; and however chimerical it may appear to us, they have very seriously proposed to abandon their country and accompany us, having made all the world their enemies by their attachment to us.

I have the honor to inclose to your Excellency a return of the receipts, issues, and presents remaining in store with each of the Indian Departments; Lieut. Col. Douglass has no vouchers to enable him to go further back, Mr. Graham not having left them with him; and Lieut. Col. Brown having been on a court martial for several days past has not had time to go further back, but promises to furnish it by next opportunity.

The several instructions, letters from the Secretaries of State and estimates, which Lieut. Colonels Brown and Douglass have furnished to me being exact copies of those your Excellency was pleased to send me, except an instruction relative to the Siminolies from Lord George Germain, dated 5 July, 1780, and a letter from Mr. Knox, Under Secretary of State (dated 6th June, 1781), to Mr. Charles Shaw, Deputy Superintendent, I thought it unnecessary to trouble your Excellency with any other copies except the two last mentioned, I likewise inclose a copy of Mr. Townshend's letter of the 14 February, 1783, to Lt. Col. Brown, a letter from the Speaker of the House of Assembly to Col. Brown of 29th April last, Col. Brown's letter of the 15th instant to me, and the substance of talks with the Indians.

I am infinitely obliged to your Excellency for honoring me with the rank of Brigadier General, and hope by a strict attention to my duty to merit a continuation of your Excellency's good opinion.

I have appointed Capt. Roworth, of the King's Rangers, to act as Major of Brigade.

Col. Ball has cried peccavi and receives his rations.

I have the honour to be with the greatest respect."

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 20. With P.S. of 22nd and 27th. St. Augustine. —“I have the honor to inclose to your Excellency the Commissary's return of provisions [see 19 May], by which it appears that if those now come get safe over this bar and St. John's, there will be sufficient for the garrison and refugees to the end of September, provided there are not much damaged provisions come.

This additional supply would have made the poor refugees very happy were it not for the sad alternative of seeking a new asylum or living under Spanish government. I have the honor to be, etc.

P.S.—The Eliza, victualler, with 379 barrels of flour, 237 do. pork, 63 do. beef, 60 do. oatmeal, 60 tierces of rice, and 289 barrels of peas, being missing, a ship anchored off this bar on the 19th inst. which some naval officers pronounced the Eliza; on this supposition the Commissary made the inclosed calculation and return, the sea running too high for any boat to pass the bar in order to ascertain what ship had arrived; but Lieut. O'Halloran, of the King's Rangers, who was on board the Eliza, arrived this day and informs that the ship and cargo are lost. I inclose his letter to me on the subject [see 22 May]. I hope this loss will soon be replaced from York. That of the flour will be first felt; there is some to be purchased here and a good deal of rice, both cheaper than at York.

May 22nd, 1783.

Archd. McArthur.

Exclusive of the provisions for refugees, an unexpected demand is made on the provision store; a number of the old inhabitants of this province and of the Bahama Islands have given in their names, some to go immediately to Britain, others to Jamaica and Providence. Capt. Edwards has fixed the quantity as follows: for those that go to Britain, eight weeks' provisions, to Jamaica, six weeks, and to Providence three weeks'. The numbers stand at present:—

For England	47 souls
Jamaica	85 „
Providence	90 „

Though I have no instructions on this head, I have taken upon me to promise Capt. Edwards to furnish the provisions, which I hope your Excellency will approve of; and that the Commissary General will attend to it when provisions are ordered here. Among those for Jamaica there are several refugees whose provisions, as such, will answer; for England or Providence, scarce any refugees have given in their names.

May 27th, 1783.

Archd. McArthur.”

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 20. St. Augustine.—“I have the honor to transmit to your Excellency a letter from each of the officers commanding regiments in this garrison on the subject of the disposition of men and officers respecting the places they would wish to be conveyed to on the disbanding of their corps. They are all extremely anxious to know what lands or gratuities will be allowed such as will go to Nova Scotia, though they much dread that climate.

As to the refugees and old settlers, they dread Spanish government so much that on the first account of the evacuation most of them talked of removing, yet knew not whither, but since they have seen the violent resolves against the loyalists in many of the rebel provinces they are more undetermined, and what contributes much thereto is an account from London in some private letters by last mail of a vague report there that Government was to exchange Gibraltar for Porto Rico and the Floridas, and untill this is done away by the arrival of a mail, the greatest number can form no resolution. A good many people have given in their names to go immediately to Europe and Providence agreeable to the Governor's proclamation, which I inclose; the Governor is to send you the exact number that is to go as above.

I inclose another newspaper which will inform your Excellency of a very spirited action lately performed by Major Deveaux, of the Beaufort Militia. With a handfull of ragged militia and five privateers from this place he took Providence, where were five hundred Spaniards, seventy pieces of cannon and six galleys, but unluckily he was nine days too late.

Major Manson, of the North Carolina Regiment, being in a very bad state of health, and the faculty having certified the necessity of his trying his native air, I have taken the liberty to allow him to go to Britain first opportunity that offers.

Capt. Wm. Wyly, of Col. Brown's Regiment, being impowered by the officers of the corps to solicit Administration on their behalf, Col. Brown has requested I would allow him to go with the packet ready to sail for England, which I have taken the liberty to agree to, all the captains being present. I have the honor to be, etc."

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 23. St. Augustine.—“Your Excellency having been pleased to desire I would transmit some general account of this province, its produce, etc., I beg leave to observe that the number of souls is about sixteen thousand, the proportion nearly three blacks to two whites. The militia are formed into eight regiments, of some more than two hundred each, but they have never been properly mustered.

The chief crops are rice, indigo and Indian corn, but the profits of late years on tar and turpentine have been so great that the planters have given much into that, neglecting agriculture and trusting to the precarious supply of prize flour. Rye answers well and is fit for reaping in May.

A great inconvenience here is the flatness of the country; when an easterly wind prevails after heavy rains, the tides cannot fall, and the face of the country is in a manner covered with water, as was the case last winter for above two months; at these times the cattle suffer much, the higher grounds to which they retire affording little pasture.

The natural soil in the neighbourhood of this town being in general bad, it must always be ill supplied with provisions till a cut is made from Pablo or Julianton Creek to the North River, which empties itself into this harbour; these two creeks fall into St. John's River; the cut from the former would be about six miles, from the latter near four. Had the province remained with us it is probable one of these would be soon effected and then this town would be plentifully supplied with provisions; at present the distance being near forty miles is too great for land carriage. I mean from St. John's, where the best plantations are.

The large grants of ten or twenty thousand acres each to noblemen and gentlemen at home who have scarce done anything to them has been one great cause of the province being so little cultivated. The useful planter could find little land fit for his purpose without going far back, the best having been early taken up by those I have mentioned; the best lands are on St. Mary's River and towards the Musquito inlet.

No other produce has been exported except indigo, lumber and naval stores; the province in no year has yet been able to feed its inhabitants, at its first settlement the cultivation of indigo and of late years the making of tar and turpentine being more advantageous than raising provisions, but in time of peace the demand for the latter being much less the people would naturally apply themselves to agriculture.

Large quantities of deer and bearskins are brought down by the Indians, and during a peace, when few presents are made them, they would take a considerable deal of British manufactures in exchange for their peltry.

The two principal advantages this province enjoys are the healthiness of the climate, particularly in the neighbourhood of Augustine, and the great plenty of fish, all the creeks and rivers being amply stored with them; oysters are also in the greatest abundance, all the lime used here is made of their shells; from the great number of people that have lately come into the province and who were beginning to be reconciled to their fate, had it remained with us there is not the least doubt but it would be in a few years in a good state of cultivation could the large grants be done away. An order from the King in Council for this purpose has been issued some time ago, but some doubts remain with the people here as to the legality of that order.

Since the evacuation of Charlestown a little town regularly laid out is forming at the Bluff on St. John's River, seven miles from the bar, which (were we to keep the province) would soon become a place of some consequence on account of the bars being so much deeper and safer than that of Augustine and the goodness of the harbour of St. Mary's would materially induce numbers of people to settle there, where without doubt a town would soon form.

As to the defence of this place, whoever possesses it should keep several stout galleys and gunboats to defend the entrance of this harbour and that of the Metanza; the beach seldom admits landing cannon and stores upon it, and if an enemy is obliged to bring these by land carriage from St. John's River, and the Indians are not their friends, a few hundred of them, which could soon be brought down, would harass an army so much by obliging it to send such strong escorts with each convoy as would greatly retard the progress of the siege."

BRIG. GEN. ALURED CLARKE to MAJ. GEN. LINCOLN.

1783, May 25. Philadelphia.—“Sir, Lieut. Col. du Buy, Quartermaster General to the Hessian troops, having represented to me that he has every reason to suppose many of the German prisoners of war who are dispersed through the country wou’d be glad to return to their respective corps if they knew (and were able to avail themselves) of the opportunity that presents itself; and also that several others who complain of having been indented as servants by compulsion are strongly desirous of returning to their duty, if they were not detained contrary to their inclinations, I take the liberty of enclosing his letter to me on this subject for your perusal, in hopes that you will be pleased to take such steps as may be most likely to procure the speedy liberation of such prisoners as still remain in your hands, particularly those under the afore-mentioned description of indented servants. JAMES CLITHERALL to JOHN CRUDEN.

1783, May 25. St. Augustine.—[Extract.] “Dear Sir, I am sorry to inform you that every obstruction is thrown in the way of your just endeavor’s (joined with the loyalists) to restore negroes to their real owners by the Governor and his Council: I must therefore intreat you will lay the affair in its proper light before Sir Guy Carleton, that he may write Gov. Tonyn on the subject; the negroes which were required to be delivered up by the Governor were only those who were here without owners, and had not been condemned in the Court of Admiralty; even those he has refused. There are gentlemen now here who have seen their negroes, who are willing to go home with their masters, but they are not allowed to swear to their property, far less to carry it away.

All this is done under the cloak of friendship to the suffering loyalists, as they are to be kept until the Governor and his Council see what the States will do regarding the repeal of the Laws of Confiscation.

As you are fully satisfied that this is not the true cause, neither is it the way to soften the very disagreeable situation of the loyalists, who are much in the mercy of the States—I hope your goodness will do all in your power, and that speedily (as no opportunity is now missed in carrying off negroes by people to whom they do not belong), to put a stop to the wicked practices of this place.”

MAJ. GEN. BENJAMIN LINCOLN to BRIG. GEN. ALURED CLARKE.

1783, May 26. War Office.—"I am honored with the receipt of your letter of the 25th instant, enclosing a representation addressed to you by Lieutenant Colonel du Buy respecting the German prisoners of war supposed to be detained against their inclinations. The circumstances which he alledges do not come within my knowledge, and I wish to learn from whom he has received his information.

It is true there are some Germans now in the country who were formerly prisoners of war to the United States. Those people upon their petitions to become citizens, were admitted to the oaths of allegiance. If any of them subsequent to this have become indented servants, it is a civil matter altogether, and no longer cognizable by me.

I am persuaded, Sir, you must be sensible that every measure has been taken by me which could facilitate the communication of their enlargement to the prisoners. It has been announced to them through the channel of the Gazettes, and the officers commanding at the several posts, where they were stationary, have extended the notice throughout their districts. The conclusion therefore must be that no prisoner is detained who wishes to return.

I have the honor to remain," etc.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 27. Bermuda.—There is no intelligence of the "Mentor." Fears she will not be heard of. The loss of so many promising young men affects him much seeing the resolution they observed in the late catastrophe of the sinking of the "Cerberus." Refers also to the great loss of the drafts and remarks made by Engineer Slack. Sends the late Barrack Master's accounts and vouchers by Lieutenant Sperrey, who desires permission to go to England. Captains Kelley and Dalhunny wish to know if they can go to Ireland. The last provisions received are very bad. Has built a cistern to procure fresh water for the troops, but it is at a stand for want of ten thousand bricks. Hopes for his Excellency's help. Begs an ensigncy for his son. P.S.—Ensign McWillie is the oldest ensign and quite deserving of a lieutenancy.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, May 27. New York.—No. 9. Receipt of letters of 14th and 29th April. Whenever the troops are withdrawn from Penobscot Brigadier General Campbell may go to Europe. Approves action in refusing payment for purchase of cannon. He may make an allowance to the serjeant and two men of the 82nd and 84th Regiments for the loss of their necessaries. Cannot give any answer to Major Johnson's request that his son may be appointed to an ensigncy, as he has not specified his age or residence. Major Skinner's account for contingent expenses is returned, as it is so imperfectly stated. Captain Studholme should have applied to the persons whose business it was to have paid him at the time. The account of disbursements in the Secretary's Department at Halifax between 13th September and 31st December, 1782, has been sent to the Commissary of Accounts and is under examination. A paper of proceedings in the office of the Deputy Commissary of Accounts at Halifax 27th June to 31st December, 1782, with observations on accounts, has been sent to Lieutenant Colonel Drummond, but as the accounts themselves are not sent no judgment can be given. Has not heard from the War Office of any promotion affecting Major Robertson, of the 82nd Regiment, or Captain McDonald, of the 84th.

The disposition you have hitherto shewn to facilitate and expedite the march of the prisoners already sent to New York, gives me every reason to be convinced of your intentions to finish the business in the same liberal manner. By indiscretions I am not now worth a shilling but what my commission will sell for, and we can never live together to upbraid one another. My commission I mean to sell and you shall share of it, and my intention is to retire to some sequester'd place to live and I hope to die unknown. As to seeing you is impossible, the stroke would be to great for either; as we must part immediately, and it could not be for either of our advantages. I am far from being well and will write you more fully, but your brother knows my fixt resolve. May every blessing attend you, prays your most wretched, A. Bruce."

JAMES CLITHERALL to JOHN CRUDEN.

1783, May 31. St. Augustine.—“Since writing you a few days ago concerning the situation of the negroes that are in this province belonging to gentlemen inhabitants of South Carolina, whose estates were sequester'd, I have taken every step to recover three negroes, the property of Thomas Savage, Esq., as you will observe by the inclosed paper. After the refusal therein mentioned, I demanded the negroes as your representative, they being sequester'd property, to which I received for answer, he “was surprised at your advertisement, and you had no right to interfere.” The gentlemen here from South Carolina presented him with two memorials regarding the property of gentlemen in Carolina, especially that property which came immediately under the express and positive orders of Sir Guy Carleton, to which he has not thought proper to return any answer in writing. He has gone so far as to say the Commander-in-Chief had no power over him, therefore had no right to direct him,

This, my dear sir, is the situation we at present are in. All public business under the immediate controule of a man whose chief study is to enrich himself at the expence of many. He and part of his Council give for the reason of their present conduct that they must first know that the Confiscation Laws in the State of Georgia and South Carolina are repealed, and the Loyalists restored to their property, before they will deliver up a negroe. Whether this mode of proceeding is agreeable to the provisional articles I will leave it to you to judge. In the meantime, this conduct must irritate the inhabitants of the different States, and at a time when they are going to call a meeting of their assemblies to receive the recommendations of Congress, when the fate of many will be determined unfavorably upon, and many families intirely ruined.

A Commissioner sent here from the State of South Carolina to negotiate about the negroes was, as soon as he came on shore, put on his parole, and not allowed to write to South Carolina, from whence he came on public business. I have," etc.

your Excellency's permission to proceed to Europe. The Brigadier has reported to me an unfortunate affair which happened at Penobscot between Captain Wurmb, commanding the detachment of Anspach troops, and Archibald McLean, of the 74th Regiment, in consequence of which the former was wounded and since dead. Lieutenant McLean immediately absconded; in the monthly returns sent by this opportunity to the Adjutant General, he is returned "absent without leave." Thinks his Excellency's dispatches must have been detained at St. John's or Port Roseway. Desires instructions about the issue of bat and forage money to the troops when they encamp for the repair of barracks. Provisions will be wanted at Penobscot if the troops are not withdrawn early in July. P.S.—The sudden departure of the ship which carries this prevents him sending monthly returns to the Adjutant General.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to MAJ. GEN. DE RIEDESEL.

1783, June 6. New York.—“In my last to you of the 17th April by Cornet Schoenewald, I informed you that I had intended to send all the Brunswick troops to Canada by the earliest opportunity, but that the change in public affairs had rendered it impossible to spare transports for that purpose.

I notwithstanding directed Major General Paterson to send to Canada the clothing, camp equipage, and other stores of which your troops were in want, and hope they have arrived safe before this time.

Having on the 1st instant received the King's commands to send to Europe without delay all the German troops serving in this army, I am preparing to comply therewith as soon as possible, and mean to send those belonging to the Duke of Brunswick in the 1st embarkation.

I have given the like directions respecting those now serving in the district of Nova Scotia.

The whole will proceed to the Downs, which is the rendezvous appointed, and where they will receive further orders.

I transmit herewith a letter from Lord North, which his Lordship desired might be forwarded by the first opportunity.

Some of the Brunswick prisoners still remain in New England. Measures have been taken for their speedy enlargement.

I shall say nothing more on this subject, as Lt. Reinking, who is apprised of the express going to Canada, will give you the fullest information of every particular.”

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR JOHN PARR.

1783, June 8 [not clear].—Received letter of 7th May. Being assured of his (Parr's) good disposition towards the loyalists who are forced to seek refuge in Nova Scotia, it is unnecessary to say anything in recommendation of those ready to depart hence for St. John's. Their numbers amount to nearly four thousand; other embarkations will probably follow from this place. As the inhabitants of Penobscot are also likely to seek refuge in Nova Scotia on the withdrawal of the troops, hopes they will receive the like protection and grants of land.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, June 7. New York.—No. 12. "I have received your letter of the 7th May. You will be pleased without delay to make the necessary arrangements for sending to Europe all the foreign troops under your command, and you will order them to be in readiness to embark as soon as the transports, which will be allotted for them by the direction of Admiral Digby shall be fit to receive them. If the number of transport is not sufficient to carry them all off at once, I recommend that those belonging to the Canada establishment be sent home first, and that the Hessians may go last.

These troops are to proceed to the Downs, and there wait for further orders, for which the Admiral will give the necessary directions.

I would have you withdraw the German troops from Penobscot as soon as possible, and give directions that every assistance may be afforded to such loyalists as may desire to remove from thence to N. Scotia.

Previous to the embarkation of the foreign troops, it is proper they should settle all demands for provisions and hospital stoppages which have been usually paid by them in this country.

Embarkation returns should be transmitted home with the foreign troops to the Secretary of State, specifying the numbers embarked on board each ship and the corps they belong to. Copies of those returns to be sent to me.

Brigadier General Campbell will then have my leave to go to Europe, leaving the command at that post to the senior officer.

I have appointed Brigadier General Fox to relieve you in the command of the troops in the district of Nova Scotia, on whose arrival at Halifax you have my leave to return to England."

BRIG. GEN. MOSES HAZEN to [MAJ. GEN. LINCOLN].

1783, June 7. Pompton.—"I had the honour to receive your letter of the 5th current, with the papers inclosed, which came yesterday to hand.

Agreeable to your directions, I have inquired into the complaint made by the Germans at Mount Hope, and it appears to me to be altogether without foundation, and the least colour of truth.

Agreeable to your orders to me to collect the prisoners of war together, I sent Captain Selin and Lieut. Mooers, of my Regiment, on or about the 20th of November last, to Mount Hope, with the following propositions to those at that place in Mr. Faesh's employ, viz :—That as orders had been given to call in the prisoners of war those Germans might be indulged to purchase their redemption for 30*l.* per man, and become free citizens of America; secondly, they might enlist into our service—an indulgence granted to the Germans only; and thirdly, in case they did not chuse to accept of either of those offers, they were to be sent back to Philadelphia Goal. These propositions being communicated to them by Captain Selin, a native of Germany, and Mr. Faesh being absent at the time, those prisoners requested a little time to consider of the matter, and to consult with Mr. Faesh on the subject; their request was accordingly granted, and soon after, they or a number of them attempted to make their escape to New York, were apprehended and committed to Newark Goal. Mr. Faesh paid a reward for taking them up, as I am informed, near the sum which they have stated in their letter of complaint, and therefore it was but just to charge them with it, more especially as it was at their own request rather than to return to Philadelphia Goal.

On or about the 25th of March last, I sent Capt. Selin with a small detachment from this place to Mount Hope to carry the previous proposition with the Germans into execution. They at first declined purchasing their redemption or inlisting into our service, consequently, after giving them time to settle their accounts, Capt. Selin marched them off for Philadelphia, and halted in the evening about two miles from Mount Hope, from which place those prisoners sent back for Mr. Faesh and requested that he would come and see them, which he accordingly did next morning. They then entered into a voluntary agreement with him, who advanced and paid into my hands thirty pounds Pennsylvania currency a head, which sum has since been paid into the Public Treasury at Philadelphia.

Thus, sir, stands the case with those Germans—complainants at Mount Hope. If it is not a crime to enlist prisoners of war to assist in spilling the blood of their countrymen, it may be allowed a virtue in that state who admits a mercenary soldier and a prisoner of war to become at his own election a free citizen in the State to which he owes his existence.

From Mr. Faesh's character, and the little acquaintance I have with him, I am fully persuaded he is incapable of that deception or injustice he is charged with. Capt. Selin I know to be a soldier and a man of humanity.

The severity complained of by being eight days in confinement without provisions, is, I daresay, as unconnected with truth as the other grievances stated in the letter of complaint. With great respect, etc."

One of the gentlemen of the Board of Claims has informed him the amount of business will prevent a speedy investigation, but the greater part of the matter complained of does not fall directly under their cognizance. Has also prayed the justice of the Board that they will make such representations on the subject as the progress of the business may dictate. Bègs to be indulged in the request that if any representations from the Board should point to a more extended commitment of this business, they may meet with the same attention already given.

MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. Halifax.—No. 14. The implied censure of part of his conduct in the command of this province, which with mortification he has perceived in some letters received, reduces him to the cruel necessity of imploring a public investigation of his conduct, and if he cannot prove that every exertion and every faculty has been unremittingly applied in the conscientious discharge of his duties, not only in restoring order and discipline, but by a general reform of expenditures and abuses, then he will willingly resign a profession served without reproach for thirty years until he had the honour of his Excellency's correspondence.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 168. 3 pages.

MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. Halifax.—No. 15. In order that his successor may not come here under the same disadvantages that he did, he transmits reports of the commanding officers of Artillery, of the Chief Engineer and Barrack Master, together with return of provisions from the Commissary Department. The nature of this climate causes an immense expenditure for the annual repair of works. Thinks the defence of this post greatly mistaken. The citadel upon which 100,000*l.* has been expended could not possibly hold out forty-eight hours against a regular approach, from entire want of cover for the men. Suggests a heavy battery upon the point of Cornwallis Island to command the channel.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 169. 2 pages.

MAJOR GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. Halifax.—No. 16. Receipt of letters Nos. 9, 10 and 11. The detention of the flour from Messrs. Cochran and Abbott was the result of mature deliberation, concurred in by the Governor and founded on the report and return of the Assistant Commissary General. Had always felt that general orders, particularly those from a great distance, however explicit, must necessarily be in some measure discretionary; laments that his conduct did not meet with approbation. Will order 2,313*l.* 3*s.* 11*d.* to be paid them according to his Excellency's desire. Did not understand that all accounts for this Province audited by the Deputy Commissary of Accounts should be sent to Headquarters. Transmits accounts mentioned in enclosed schedule with the Commissary's report thereon. Arrival of six ships with provisions for the army. They are being unloaded quickly in order to proceed to Spanish River for coal for this garrison. Has ordered no more coal to be raised, but the troops are to embark on board the ships as they arrive, leaving some men in charge of the King's stores and to help in loading ships sent on that service. A non-commissioned officer of artillery arrived from Quebec with a particular despatch from Haldimand to the Secretary of State. Captain Affleck gives him a passage to New York, as no opportunity offers directly from hence to England. Has communicated to Brigadier General Campbell the permission to go to England when the troops are withdrawn from Penobscot.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 170. 4 pages.

WILLIAM SWINEY to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 12. “Assurance,” New York.—That Lieutenant Governor Graham freighted five vessels with negroes, provisions, and other effects of loyalists obliged to leave Georgia. Encloses a similar certificate to the one given to Lieutenant Governor Graham, he intending to apply to Government to reimburse his expenses, which he is justly entitled to. Explains that more people having determined to leave the province than was first expected, there was a deficiency of tonnage of vessels in the King’s pay, and he was obliged to solicit the owners of vessels present for the use of empty tonnage or otherways people and goods would have been left on the beach a prey to the enemy. Not knowing how far he was authorized as to payment for such private tonnage he did not proceed as in a regular contract, but gave to Lieutenant Governor Graham a certificate as he requested.

Hopkins, who is a Commissary of Prisoners in this district, tells me in his last answer that he cannot let me go without orders from General Washington, which are daily expected.

I beg you will represent these circumstances to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief at New York, and accelerate our liberation as much as possible, for it is impossible to keep the men in any kind of order. Their number is forty at present, and if I am detained much longer, I apprehend it will diminish yet more.

S. JARVIS, lieut., South Carolina Royalists, to [                      ].

1783, June 15. New York.—"Agreeable to your request, I have endeavoured to give you as true account as my memory will allow of the conduct of the people of Danbury towards me, and other loyalists that have gone into the country since the cessation of hostilities. On the 22nd of May I was visited by the populace of Danbury at my father's house, when I was called forth by a Mr. Theophilus Taylor, who was appointed as their speaker. Mr. Taylor said they had come to inform me that I must immediately retire, that at present they did not intend to hurt me, but if I was seen within thirty miles of Danbury after sunset (which was then only half an hour high), I must stand the consequence, for they would not answer for my safety after. I then presented my permit from the authority and select men of Danbury to visit my father; they damned the authority who would allow such a person as I was to come into the country; in the course of conversation several of the authority arrived at my father's, who endeavoured to quell the mob, but it only attended to aggravate them. My father sent to Lieut. Col. Jimmerson, of the Continental Army, who gave me a guard to protect me till next morning, when by the advice of several officers of the Continental Army I retired a few miles from Danbury. Several other people have been punished very severely, carried on a rail and then mounted on horseback without a saddle with their face to the horse's tail; their coat turned, and a wooden sword by their side; then drove back and forth, to the great joy and satisfaction of the spectators." JAMES BULYEA, ISAAC and ARTHUR AERSE or ORSER.

1783, June 19.—Information before William Smith, Chief Justice :—“That they were of the corps called DeLancey’s Refugees, and by their colonel’s order above a month ago quitted the county of West Chester, and have since spent their time on Long Island and York Island.

That yesterday three weeks they cross’d in a boat from Long Island to Frog’s Neck to visit their mothers, who then resided on the Neck, and get from them their cloaths and some supply of provisions.

That they had scarcely landed and fastened the boat before they discerned a party that were armed and commanded by Lt. Hill, of Col. Sproat’s Corps, advancing towards them.

Taking them to be Continental soldiers, they put off their boat but were called back and fired upon, and verily believe had thirty shot at the boat before she got to the shore. The party promised before they landed that they should be well used, and yet as soon as they were landed they were beaten several blows, and had their cloaths or part of them taken from them, viz. : from James Bulyea, a pair of shoe buckles and a pair of knee buckles, both of silver, a plated stock buckle, a pair of stockings, a Manchester jacket and breeches ; and from Isaac Aerse a silk handkerchief, a pair of fustian overalls, a pair of shoes and brass buckles ; and from Arthur Aerse a new Castor hat.

They then led them to a house possessed by Joseph Castin on Frog's Neck, where they were detained that night, and conveyed them next morning to West Chester Jail. This happened on a Thursday morning.

On the Saturday following they were taken out jail, and sent under a guard to Frog's Neck, where they were allowed to get their things together, and ordered to begone by that night, threatening that if found there afterwards they should be treated as thieves and robbers.

They were twice examined before they were dismissed from jail by Mr. Morris, who was stiled the judge. They were treated very civilly by him. The scope of his questions respected their being out in service during the war on the side of the Crown, and what cattle or other property had been at any time taken, and he declared at the close that in his opinion none that had been in arms for the King would be permitted to continue in the country."

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to LIEUT. COL. BROWN, Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

1783, June 19. New York.—Received letter of 1st June with the Indian talks enclosed. Will write on the state of things in the Indian country and measures to be taken, in letters to Col. McArthur. Explains that the directions concerning the distribution of presents to the Indians were founded on the King's instructions to Canada, and were to apply universally and not intended to point at any particular person.

Copy. Vol. 41, No. 173. 2 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR.

1783, June 19. New York.—“By His Majesty's ship Cyclops, I received your letters, one dated 16th, two the 17th, two the 19th, two the 20th, one the 23rd and two the 27th May ; also one the 6th June, 1783.

I approve of what has been done respecting Lieutenant Angus McDonald, of the Corps of Guides and Pioneers.

The claim of the seven officers of the King's Rangers shall be referred to a Board of Officers for examination.

Lieutenant Col. Morse, chief engineer, will give you information relative to Lieutenant Wilson. The plan of the works which you mention he has sent to the Chief Engineer has not been received by him. I suppose there has been some mistake in that matter, which has prevented its being transmitted.

The Provincial Corps under your command may be assured that there is no intention of sending them to the East or West Indies; on the contrary, at a proper time every man shall have liberty to go where he pleases, and if any of them chuse living under the Spaniards or United States in preference to the British Government, let them have permission.

My letter of the 7th of April informed you of my intention to furnish them with very assistance in my power, which should have convinced them that the report you mention was without foundation.

That part of your instructions relative to Indian affairs was written before it was known that the province of East Florida was to be ceded to Spain. But now under the very extraordinary circumstances of your situation, when numbers of the Indians are expected at St. Augustine, an extraordinary expence must unavoidably be incurred. I am, however, under confidence that neither you or Col. Brown will enter into any expences on their account, but such as are necessary for the public service and the security of the people of the province.

I am astonished Colonel Brown should conceive that the regulations I directed to be observed in distributing presents to the Indians would ruin him in their opinion. In Canada they had orders from home to adopt that method, and as the Indians should understand that the presents made to them are from the King and not from his officers, the more ceremony there is observed on such occasions, the stronger will be the impression they receive of the King's bounty and regard for them.

I do not expect that the same form shou'd be observed on every trivial occasion, but when any considerable numbers are assembled, it should be strictly attended to.

Such of the Indians as persevere in their demand of being carried to the Bahamas shall be furnished with the means, but as it is a situation ill adapted to their mode of life, and of which they would be soon tired, you cannot use too many arguments to dissuade them from a measure destructive of their happiness.

The provisions lost in the Eliza shall be replaced and the Commissary General will make provision for those persons who are to remove to England and Providence.

Whatever other wants you may be apprehensive of should be communicated in time that the necessary steps may be taken for supplying them.

I beg you will accept my thanks for the description of the province of East Florida contained in your letter of the 23rd May.

The Adjutant General will transmit my approbation of the several sentences of the general court martial held at St. Augustine the 19th May. I approve very much of the spirited conduct of the party of militia, and of your having rewarded them for it.

I have not had time to examine the lists of warrants granted by you, transmitted in your letters of the 27th May and 6th June. They shall be sent to the Board of Accounts for their inspection."

GEN. LOSSBERG to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 19. New York.—“Every information which I have been able to obtain respecting the German prisoners of war to the United States, who have been indented as servants or enlisted in the American army, concurs in convincing me, that having been brought to this condition by compulsion and other devices, many of them are strongly desirous of returning to their duty, and that they are detained against their inclinations.

As I do consider the resolve of Congress and the subsequent treatment of the prisoners, from which this situation originates, as a procedure unprecedented and illegal in itself, I think it my duty to submit to your Excellency the propriety of employing your authority with Congress on that subject, demanding a just redress of this grievance, by issuing a proclamation in the most public manner announcing to all German prisoners, whether indented or enlisted, their perfect liberation and free permission of returning to their respective corps in the King's service, as also strictly forbidding all inhabitants to detain them against their inclinations on any pretence whatever.

The situation of the thirty-five men indented to John Jacob Faesch at Mount Hope is a notorious evidence for the justice of this demand.

I do myself the honour to annex copies of several papers proving the facts above alluded to.”

St. Augustine.—A party of Creeks came down last week to escort the Commissary and some traders from their nation ; to send them away in good humour several articles had to be purchased for them. Quotes a paragraph from Colonel Brown's letter sent from Picolata. "Mr. McDonald, commissary for the Upper Cherokees, arrived here yesterday—he says a Col. Christie with 800—and a Col. Shelvey with 400 men, had marched from Powell's Valley and Holstein and expected to be reinforced by a considerable body of rebels from Canetuck—against the Shawanees and Delawares—about 150 Cherokees and some Creeks have set off to assist the northwards. Not a Creek Indian attended the Congress at Augusta—the rebels must reduce the Creeks before they can procure a cession of lands." The gentlemen who went to Providence to view the lands have not yet returned. The two ships with refugees for England will sail Monday next. The ship for Jamaica sailed ten days ago. A young gentleman named Maxwell well known to us all here was lately murdered in his own house near Savannah in Georgia, generally believed to have given no other offence than the inexpiable one of being "a Tory."

LIEUT. COL. BENJAMIN THOMPSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 6. Pall Mall Court.—Sir, "I beg leave to congratulate with your Excellency upon an event which I am confident will afford you great satisfaction: the resolution of Parliament to give half-pay to the provincial officers. We all feel ourselves under infinite obligations to your Excellency upon this occasion.

As you have had the goodness to interest yourself so much in our behalf, I think it my duty to acquaint your Excellency with all the steps I have taken in this country relative to the provincial business, since my arrival from New York.

Soon after my arrival in London, finding the Session of Parliament drawing near to a conclusion and that no resolution had been taken by His Majesty's Ministers relative to the memorial of the provincial officers recommended by your Excellency, I took the liberty of writing a letter to Lord North upon the subject, copy of which is inclosed, and made personal applications to General Conway, Lord Sheffield, and other gentlemen of the House of Commons who assisted in bringing the business forward.

I then, at Lord North's desire, set about to prepare estimates of the expence of half-pay for the provincial officers, with other information relative to that matter, copies of which I put into the hands of General Conway and Lord Sheffield, who both interested themselves very warmly in our behalf. Inclosed I have the honor to transmit to your Excellency for your information copies of all the papers I took the liberty of laying before Lord North. I earnestly hope they will meet with your approbation but if I have made any mistakes your Excellency being fully acquainted with what I have done will have it in your power to rectify them.

The paper No. 1 contains copies of all the letters between the Secretary of State and the Commander-in-Chief in N. America relative to the provincial corps, to which are added a few observations, and a copy of the memorial of the commanding officers of the provincial regiments.

No. 2 is a list of the provincial corps in N. America which was made out from your Excellency's return of the army under your command, dated New York, 11th April, 1783. The establishments of officers of the different corps were taken principally from the printed list of the provincial army published at New York this year.

Your Excellency will observe that in this list, as well as in the list No. 3, there is a colonel and a lieutenant-colonel put down to the King's American Dragoons. This was done with the knowledge and consent of Lord North and General Conway, and upon this ground:—Being disappointed of getting my regiment put upon the British establishment, I took the liberty of soliciting the rank of colonel of the King's American Dragoons and that Major Murray might be promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel of the same, which request I flattered myself would not be thought unreasonable, as it was originally intended that there should be a colonel and lieutenant colonel to the regiment; and as your Excellency had given me reason to hope that you would have honored me with the provincial rank of colonel had I embarked for the West Indies with the corps to the command of which you had appointed me.

I took the liberty of writing to your Excellency upon the subject by the last packet, since which His Majesty has been graciously pleased to approve of the King's American Dragoons having the full establishment of field officers as was originally intended, and that I should be promoted to the rank of colonel. I cannot help flattering myself that this arrangement will be agreeable to your Excellency, and that I shall be returned in your list of the provincial officers for half-pay as a colonel.

The rank to me is of infinite importance, as I am going abroad in a short time with a view to foreign service, but the half-pay is also an object as I have little else left to depend on, except my industry.

The paper No. 3 will explain itself. I wished much that the House of Commons would have voted the full or complete establishment of the different corps, but Lord North seemed very desirous of bringing the sum wanted for the provincial half-pay as low as possible that it might pass the easier. With that view the calculation of the savings of part of the chaplains half-pay, the adjutants, quartermasters, etc., were made. But all these regulations will depend intirely upon your Excellency. Whatever you think right I am confident will be done without any kind of objection or difficulty.

As it was impossible to lay correct estimates before the House at the time, none of the corps have been voted specifically, but their claim to half-pay in general is substantiated by the vote of a certain sum "on account of half-pay"; and so the matter must rest till your Excellency can furnish His Majesty's Ministers with such returns of the different provincial regiments and corps as may be proper to lay before Parliament.

I hope your Excellency will approve of my having made no separate claim or interest between the three provincial corps that are established with permanent rank (of which the King's American Dragoons is one) and the rest. I thought it would have a better appearance if we were all unanimous, and would be more pleasing to the rest of the corps that we should take our chance in common with them and stand or fall together.

At the end of the paper No. 3 your Excellency will observe that Major Rooke is returned for half-pay as a Deputy Inspector General of Provincial Forces. This was done at the desire of Colonel Innes, who arrived in London after all the papers were prepared. I know nothing of Major Rooke's pretensions and therefore cannot answer for the propriety of his being included for half-pay, but as it is a matter that must finally be determined by your Excellency, I am sure nothing but what is perfectly right will be done respecting it.

In the vote of the House of Commons no mention is made of half-pay for the Muster Master General or his deputies, but it is by no means intended to exclude them, and if your Excellency returns their names the vote for their half-pay will pass of course. I have spoken to Lord North upon the subject, and he thinks it perfectly right that they should be included, as also Mr. Bridgham, Colonel Innes's deputy.

With regard to the Seconded Provincial Officers who are mentioned in the memorandums contained in the paper No. 4, both General Conway and Lord Sheffield strongly advised against bringing their claims before Parliament at the same time with the application of the officers of the provincial corps, as the largeness of the sum wanted for the whole might prevent our success, whereas if what we then asked should be granted, it would strengthen the claim of the seconded officers, and their application would afterwards be brought before Parliament with greater propriety, and with a much better prospect of success. I conceal no part of the transaction from your Excellency, and I hope what I have done will meet with your approbation. I am certain the motives which induce me to take the steps I have followed in the prosecution of this business are such as cannot fail to be approved of by your Excellency. I have been indefatigable in my endeavours to carry what I thought your wishes respecting the provincials into execution, and if what I have done meets with your approbation and with the approbation of my deserving countrymen in whose behalf you have so generously and so nobly interested yourself, I shall be amply repaid for all the trouble and anxiety I have had in the course of my solicitations.

I have the honor to be with the greatest respect, and with unfeigned gratitude for all your goodness to me," etc.

1783, July 8. Halifax.—Captain Studholme commanding at Fort Howe on St. John's River, sends intelligence that a number of people from a place called Machias within the boundaries of New England have moved to Passamaquoddy (hitherto deemed within the limits of this province), and possessed themselves of lands between the river St. Croix and the River Scoodie. Explains that a dispute formerly existed when Mr. Bernard was governor of New England as to which of the two rivers was the western limits of this province, "at length Mr. Bernard gave up the contest by taking a grant from the Governor of this province of one hundred thousand acres of land by the King's special mandamus, for himself and others, between the River St. Croix and the River Scoodie." Forwards a chart of that country and of the rivers, and observes that should the lands between the two rivers be adjudged within this province they would be a proper settlement for the disbanded provincial troops.

1783, July 8. Island Saint John.—"I have been informed there are complaints made by the senior officer of the troops stationed here against Mr. Wm. Nisbett, the barrack master. I am not well acquainted with the nature of the charges, nor do I mean to say a word for or against the man. My only intention in doing myself this honor is to request you will be so good to indulge me with naming a successor in case of a vacancy. Such an officer may become a permanent inhabitant, perhaps a member of Assembly; and as such may be useful or troublesome to Government. The most probable means to promote the former and prevent the latter, in my humble opinion, will be by his receiving his appointment from the Governor. Perhaps not me, but I have so much the good of His Majesty's service at heart, I should be glad to secure such an appointment for my successor. And it is on this principle alone I venture taking such a liberty. You, Sir, are so well acquainted with the nature of civil government, it is needless to take up any of your time by saying how very necessary it is for governors to have influence in their governments, and how very little is allowed them, the crowds of dependants at home rendering the most insignificant place an object with Ministers."

1783, July 9. New York.—No. 23. [Sheridan and Burke had by this time replaced Rose as Secretaries.] Encloses for information of the Lords of the Treasury copies of letters written to the agents of the money remitters, with copies of their replies, Nos. 1 to 26.

“ The enclosure No. 26 contains an extract of a letter from the remitters to their agents and by them communicated to me ; this extract refers to the report of a board constituted by me, and which has been transmitted home. The tone assumed does not appear to deserve serious notice ; but as the remitters for supplying this army with money, which, ever since I have taken the command, has been performed by bills drawn on them by their agents, at different rates of exchange, some times at ten per cent. loss to the public, consider all this business as their own private concern, and have given orders to their agents to refuse all information which may be called for ; it may therefore be found necessary against a future time for their lordships to determine whether all enquiry into these transactions is an officious meddling and interference with what only concerns the remitters and their agents, or (without the least impeachment to the character of any gentlemen) if it is the duty of the Commander-in-Chief to take heed that no concealed and unnecessary expence be incurred in this, any more than in every other department belonging to the army under his command; and whether he may or may not enquire into the necessity and check the lowering of the exchange, should he judge differently from those agents; whether he may demand specific returns of all bills drawn by them for the use of the army, marking the amount of such, the date, place where drawn, and in whose favor, that by comparing those accounts with the Deputy Paymaster General's book it may be ascertained, not only that all the sums drawn for were for the immediate use of the military chest, but also that they were drawn at the approved rate of exchange. But if implicit confidence in money transactions be admitted, I shall then readily suppose that it may be as well placed in these gentlemen as in any."

MAURICE MORGAN[N] to BRIG. GEN. BROWNE.

1783, July 14. [the 4 has been written over an erasure ; endorsed as 13th July.] New York.—“ I am directed by the Commander-in-Chief to inform you that he thinks he has very amply complied with the purport of Mr. Secretary Ellis's letter of the . . . March, 1782, in having restored you to the rank and pay of a Brigadier, which you had but for a short time, and to the pay of Colonel, which it never was intended you should have ; it having been originally regulated by his predecessors in this command that persons appointed suddenly to the rank of Brigadier General should have the pay and emoluments attached to this rank, as more lucrative than that of Colonel, but not both ; also that all general officers who were appointed and paid here should, on quitting the army, or soon after, cease to be considered on this staff, or to receive pay as such. From these regulations you was not considered as having any claim to emoluments in this army when you left Providence in obedience to the King's orders.

“ I am further directed to acquaint you that you have his permission to return to Europe for the recovery of your health ; and at the same time to apprise you, to prevent any further misapprehension, that the latter regulation concerning general officers is in full force. I must also decline your desire of referring the question to a Board of General Officers, as nothing less than the King's commands could make him alter his intentions.

“ But he refers you, however, in the case of any possible error in judgment he has formed, to his predecessors in command, Sir William Howe and Sir Henry Clinton, and to Col. Innes, Inspector General of the Provincial Forces, also to Lord Rawdon, who was Adjutant General at the time of your going to your Government of the Bahamas, and he does not doubt but that your claims will be fully considered and justice in all respects done you.”

Should you find it an advantage to the inhabitants, and that it can be done without detriment to the troops, you will send a battalion, or part of a battalion to Port Roseway; but I would wish you in all such cases where the province is concerned to consult with the Governor. What I have said of Port Roseway may be applied to any other of the new settlements where you may judge it advisable.

As it may hereafter be necessary to erect works for the defence of some of the new settlements now forming in Nova Scotia, I recommend it to you to make application to the Governor for a reservation of such lands as may be judged proper for that purpose, and for the security of the province in general as well as for the erection of such buildings and store houses as are necessary thereto.

ARCHIBALD CUNNINGHAM to MAJ. MCKENZIE, D.A.G.

1783, July 19. New York —Report concerning the Scotch Society, of Boston. As treasurer of that society he had at the evacuation all the books, bonds and papers in his custody and has hitherto thought it his duty to preserve them entire and in his own possession. Question of adherence now to the original design of the charity. Twenty of the members are for ever excluded from Boston by proscription; only seven remain in that country. It is asserted that the fund ought not to be divided nor the stock removed from Boston. The Society's stock in the year 1775 amounted exclusive of interest to about 900*l.* lawful money, and the number receiving relief did not exceed seven or eight. The loyal members are a great majority of the Society and may find in other countries particularly Nova Scotia many countrymen to whom they would wish to extend a share of the relief to which they have so long contributed. "I am willing for my own part (and such of the other members as are here at present concur with me, in making the proposal), that an equal moiety of the Society's stock, and of the interest due thereon should be surrendered to the members remaining in Boston, and all the original books, bonds, mortgages and papers delivered up to such person as they may appoint to receive them, whenever they on their part shall pay or cause to be paid a like equal moiety into my hands, or to my order, for the benefit of those whose interest I am now more especially bound to consult and provide for. But until this proposal is complied with, I beg leave to say that I deem it my indispensable duty, unless His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief should positively order the contrary, still to retain the papers in my own hands.”

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 19. St. Augustine.—Acknowledges receipt of letters of 19th and 20th June. Is glad his endeavours meet with approbation. Little has occurred worth mentioning since his letter of the 5th inst. The Indians who came down with the officers and traders were got rid of on easier terms than was expected; hopes to be able to convince them that quitting their own country would be the greatest evil that could befall them. Has begun to issue provisions to the refugees to the end of September. The two ships with refugees for England sailed ten days ago. The gentlemen who went to Providence have not returned. Lieutenant Wilson sets off for that island to-morrow. Cannot conceive what has become of Mr. Wilson's plan of the works and sketch of the country; it was put in the packet to Colonel Morse with two quarterly accounts of the department; that packet was put in his (McArthur's) bag and sealed by himself. The Commissary sends return of what will be wanting to complete the clothing of the three Provincial regiments here for 1783. The sentence of the General Court Martial will be carried out on the 25th inst.

GOVERNOR JOHN PARR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 25. Shelburne.—“I have the honor to inform Your Excellency of my arrival here (late Port Roseway) in the Sophie frigate, and that I have named the town and district Shelburne. From every appearance I have not a doubt that it will in a short time become the most flourishing town for trade of any in this part of the world, as the country will for agriculture. For any particulars that Your Excellency may wish to know, I refer you to the bearer, Mr. Robertson.

I did myself the honor to write to you by the Licorne, expressing my sentiments relative to the number of loyalists intending to go to the River St. John. I greatly fear the soil and fertility of that part of this province is overrated, by people who have explored it partially. I wish it may turn out otherwise, but have my fears that there is scarce good land enough for those already sent there. If all the Provincial Corps go, am certain there will not, which was the reason for my recommending the eastern side of the St. Croix River to Your Excellency."

I have given Mr. Watson a commission to execute for me with Your Excellency, which I flatter myself you will not think an unreasonable request. Should have wrote to you before upon the subject, but did not wish to be troublesome, as you must have your hands full of business."

BRIG. GEN. MONTFORT BROWNE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

Inconveniences which can only be avoided by Your Excellency's indulgence, may, from the want of my commission, arise at home, and it would be a singular hardship upon me, after having served His Majesty such a number of years, to find myself through neglect and inattention thrown altogether out of the line of the army; and the more so, as his other British American Brigadiers, whose periods of service have not been by any means equal to mine, have been honoured with commissions as Colonels."

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR.

1783, July 29. New York — "I have received your letter of the 16th June, also one letter of the 4th, and three of the 5th July, with their several enclosures.

Having judged it proper for the present to include the Bahama Islands in the Southern District, you will therefore consider them as under your command until further orders, and will give such directions in the present situation of them as you may judge prudent and necessary for the King's service.

I have heard, but not from good authority, that the Spanish Governor and several other persons have been detained at Providence by Colonel Deveaux, on a charge of a breach of the former capitulation.

I desire you will please to have this matter enquired into, and a state of it transmitted to me.

You will please to order the sum of 20s. sterling per diem to be paid to Colonel Deveaux from the day of his leaving St. Augustine, to go against Providence, till further orders, or until he is otherwise provided for; unless you should see sufficient reasons for deferring it, which you will report to me.

Many applications have been made to me by loyalists who are desirous of settling on the Bahamas, but as I am unacquainted with the real state of those islands, and what land, if any, remains ungranted, I cannot give them the recommendations for grants of land they desire. I therefore would be glad you would make enquiry into the general state of those islands, the situation of the landed property, and such other matters as may enable me to decide on these applications, as I have recommended home that the lands ungranted or escheated, may be given, free of all expense, to those loyalists who have lost their estates and property in consequence of their attachment to His Majesty's Government ; and may be desirous of settling there.

You will direct an account to be taken of all military stores in the Bahama's belonging to the King, which you will transmit to me that I may judge what may be necessary for the future defence of those islands.

I have given directions that provisions be sent to you, to replace those lost in the 'Eliza,' also a further supply for the garrison to the end of this year.

The request of the Field Officers of your garrison cannot be granted ; no forage is allowed to the Field Officers in Nova Scotia, nor any equivalent for it ; nor has any forage been allowed to the officers in Canada during the war.

I have directed the department of the Commissary of Provisions here, to be discontinued from the 30th June last ; you will please to do the same in your district."

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOVERNOR JOHN PARR.

1783, August 1. New York.—“I enclose the memorial [see 22 July] of a number of gentlemen, clergy and merchants now resident in this city and neighbourhood, who from their attachment to Government and connection with the army, deem it unsafe to remain here after the King's troops remove from hence; these persons being determined to live under the mild influence of the British Government, intend seeking an asylum and settling in the province of Nova Scotia; and for this purpose have nominated the Rev. John Sayre, Anthony Stewart, Nathaniel Chandler, and P. John Livingston, Esquires, as their agents, to solicit your Excellency for grants of lands in that province, for their future residence, on the terms set forth in their memorial.

As many of those who have signed the memorial are men of respectable characters, and much influence, and have lost large property in consequence of their loyalty, and as the accession of such a valuable body of loyal subjects will prove a great benefit to the province, I am confident your Excellency will consider them as entitled to every assistance and favour in your power to grant.

I beg leave to recommend the gentlemen their agents to Your Excellency's countenance and aid in the execution of their business, and that as the season is advancing fast, it may be expedited as much as possible."

GOV. ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 3. Jamaica.—“About a fortnight ago I was only honoured with Your Excellency’s letter of the 26th May last, communicating your wish that the 63rd, 64th, 71st and detachment of the 84th regiments, which came here from Charles Town, should be sent to New York, to meet the other parts of their corps, with a view to facilitate the settling of their accounts.

The detachment of the 84th Regiment is now embarked agreeable to the inclosed return on board a merchant brig and sloop bound to New York, and their passage paid for at so much per man. This corps being the least in number and Halifax their probable destination, I have taken the earliest opportunity of forwarding them to New York. Had I been so fortunate as to have received Your Excellency's letter before His Majesty's transports sailed for New York, all those regiments might have embraced that opportunity without expence to Government; at present there are no vessels here either in the department of the army or the navy.

An advertisement has been put in the papers here, desiring that proposals may be made by owners of merchantmen bound to New York who will engage for the transport of troops, and in case I am not ordered to send the 63rd, 64th and 71st regiments to England, Your Excellency may depend on their going to New York as soon as possible. A few days will in all probability bring a packet or an express with the arrangements for this army.

In the meantime, a return is forwarded of those regiments, and as they have been lately mustered, I have given directions for a copy of their last muster rolls, commencing the 25th December, 1782, and ending the 24th June, 1783, to be sent me, in order they may be forwarded to Your Excellency by this or the first opportunity, which at all events may be useful in settling the accounts of those regiments, especially if they should be ordered to England."

1783, August 6. Halifax.—“I have the honor to inform you that I arrived here on the 30th of last month, and delivered Your Excellency’s dispatches to Governor Parr and Major General Paterson (who proposes sailing in the course of this week).

I shall transmit as soon as Major General Paterson gives me up the command a list of the several departments, and all other returns relative to the troops in this province; according to Your Excellency’s orders, communicated to me by Lieutenant Colonel Delancey, Adjutant General, and Major McKenzie.”

GOV. JOHN PARR to BRIG. GEN. FOX.

1783, August 14. Halifax.—“Repeated representation having been made to me that several persons from the Massachusetts Bay Government have crossed the western boundary of this Province and are beginning to form settlements on the eastern side of the River St. Croix, under pretence that all the lands between that river and the River Scoodiac, belong to that Government, and as those lands are intended chiefly for the immediate settlement of part of the Provincial disbanded troops and one hundred and fifty refugee families from Penobscot,—I think it necessary to propose to you that proper measures be forthwith taken to protect and secure that boundary from such encroachments, and that for that purpose a sufficient detachment of His Majesty’s troops be sent to take post there.”

ALEXANDER THOMSON to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, August 14. Halifax.—In answer to letter of this date states that the discount on Government bills has been 10% for eight months, since which time the quantity of money procured by bills has been so inadequate to the exigency of the service, that he has been able to pay only the subsistence of the troops and staff in specie, and the warrants for extraordinary in bills of exchange, excepting very small sums occasionally for petty disbursements. Has repeatedly represented the difficulties attending this mode of payment. Would suppose that unless a supply of specie is sent here soon it will scarcely be possible to raise enough for the subsistence of the troops now here and the pay of the staff, to say nothing of contingencies. Previous to 17th June last all the money was furnished by Harley and Drummond, the contractors, but on that day their contract ceased without any other arrangement being notified. General Paterson concurred in opinion that the 4th article of the Paymaster General's instructions would apply in this case, and bills have therefore been drawn on the Paymaster General, with the approbation of the commanding officers.

REAR ADMIRAL DIGBY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 15. New York.—“Mr. Watson has just been with me from your Excellency about ships to move 1,100 refugees more to Nova Scotia. At this moment we have nothing ready. A few ships fitting for troop ships and one or two just come from the West Indies will be ready soon. I would therefore beg to know if your Excellency thinks we may make use of them. I go this evening to Denyse's, and have the honor to be.”—P.S. I inclose your Excellency a copy of a letter I received yesterday.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 15. Halifax.—On the 6th inst. Major General Paterson embarked on the “Magicienne” with a convoy of ships carrying the whole of the German troops from this province. Brigadier General Campbell embarked the same day for New York, and he (Fox) took command. Has communicated to Governor Parr instructions to send troops to Port Roseway, but the Governor thinks from the present good disposition of the inhabitants it is not expedient at this time. The Governor assures him that reservations for public purposes in the new settlements, should be made in all instances. Sends list of the several departments in Nova Scotia. Has endeavoured to reduce them as low as the nature of the service will admit. The Department of Commissary of Prisoners is discontinued, and as Mr. Winslow, Muster Master General of Provincials, is to reside at Halifax, has thought it unnecessary to continue Major Skinner as his deputy here. Has reduced the allowance of rum to working parties from half-a-pint to one gill per man, and directed that the commissioned officers shall receive spruce beer in lieu of rum. Finding that the King's American Dragoons could not be hutted where they are at present encamped, without inconvenience to many loyalists who are forming settlements at the mouth of the river Saint John's, has sent them one hundred miles higher up to the ground allotted for provincial regiments where the procuring timber and other articles necessary for erecting the huts will facilitate the clearing of the land. Has reviewed, inspected and approved the battalion of British recruits under the command of Captain Ball of the 63rd Regiment. Has ordered the commanding officer of the 70th Regiment to make returns agreeable to the Secretary at War's of the 7th June. As there is said to be a considerable number of deserters from the German Corps within this province, asks how to dispose of them. Sends returns to 1st August. Also sends a memorial of Foster Hutchinson, brother to the late Governor of Massachusetts Bay. Submits copy of a letter this day received from Governor Parr. Observed to him that the measure proposed of sending a detachment of troops to the place pointed out in his letter could not have a tendency to settle the controversy relative to the boundaries and might be attended with very disagreeable consequences. It is deferred till particular instructions are received.

ROBERT MORSE, Chief Engineer, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 15. Halifax.—"Brigadier General Fox writes to your Excellency by this opportunity so fully upon the military business of the province as to leave me but little to say—he has already collected returns of the troops and persons employed in the several Departments—of the barracks and houses hired for the troops, in which considerable savings will immediately be made—of provision store houses, which are all hired, and at a very considerable expense, the annual amount being 1,379*l.*, and which I fear must for a time be increased as more provisions are daily expected. The Return of ordnance store houses is not yet made, but they are numerous, and I am of opinion that the powder and inflammable articles had better be put on board some hulk and kept afloat, and that even the purchasing such a vessel would be economy and tend to the safety of the town, as well as preservation of the stores, by the removal of which, too, room would be obtained for the provisions. These expedients I propose as temporary ones, but should our situation here become permanent, wharfs, store houses, etc. must be built, and here I beg leave to observe that there is scarcely any land remaining of such as was originally reserved for these uses, for which licenses of occupation have not been given, and which from long possession and certain laws of the province it will be difficult to recover; I mention this with a view to obtain from your Excellency a caution against any more such licenses being given in the town, especially upon the water side.

I have as yet made no progress in collecting materials for my report, upon which I hope to proceed in a few days, so soon as Brigadier General Fox shall have made such arrangements in which he may wish to have my assistance. My first object will be Passamaquody Bay and the Boundary River, about which I much fear some difficulties will arise. There are no less than three rivers running into Passamaquody Bay, each called the River St. Croix, and representations have been made to the Governor that persons from the Massachusetts Bay are already settling between them. The westernmost was the former boundary between the two provinces when belonging to Great Britain, but the middle one is by much the most considerable river,—which is meant for the present boundary between the province of Nova Scotia and the American States may, and I fear will, admit of disputes. I shall endeavour to have them explored, so as to be able to give your Excellency the clearest lights in my power. The Governor has applied to General Fox for troops to be sent there directly, upon which subject both, I presume, will write to your Excellency.

There is a number of valuable logs and a quantity of lumber at Penobscot that has been paid for by Government, which I wish to know if you would have removed. Whenever establishments may be made at Passamaquody or in the harbour of St. John's River, these will be very usefull. Doubtfull if so long a letter will be interesting or acceptable to you, I have the honor to remain with the greatest respect."

1783, August 15. Halifax.—Is glad that the Provincial Corps could be accommodated to their satisfaction upon the River St. John near the source of the river, leaving the lower part to the refugees now settled there. Complains at the same time of the unreasonable demands and illiberal ideas of Major Antill on the part of the seconded officers. Room has been made in the Orphan House for those sent by Carleton. Is concerned that none of the provincial troops have been settled on the eastern side of the River St. Croix or somewhere upon the Bay of Passamaquaddy, the frontier of this province, to resemble the cantonments of an army agreeable to his letter of 26th April. Sends a proposed route to Quebec.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOVERNOR LIVINGSTON.

1783, August 16. New York.—“I lost no time in laying your Excellency’s application (concerning seven sailors of the Massachusetts said to have been lately pressed into the British service) before Admiral Digby, to whom the cognizance of the case properly belongs, and I find that the persons you mention are on board the Diomede. After a strict examination, Sir Edmund Affleck, who has his broad pennant on board that ship, reports to me that, excepting two sent on board for theft and for concealing deserters from the Diomede, they all entered willingly into our service during the war, and were pressed out of our own vessels, one of them from a Bristol trader, two from one of our privateers, and the other two from a British vessel by desire of the captain, for mutiny, as your Excellency will perceive more particularly by the enclosed copy of a memorandum which I have received from the Commodore.

“I have not been able to find the smallest trace of any combination entered into by refugees or others here to plunder or burn any houses either in Elizabeth Town or elsewhere, and I am inclined to think that the intelligence your Excellency has received on this head is without foundation, for certainly there can be no person within these lines who does not know that in every case of such enormity I should use all possible means to have the offenders brought to speedy and condign punishment. At the same time if your Excellency can furnish me with any means for obtaining evidence of the supposed conspiracy, and detecting the parties engaged in so nefarious an undertaking, I presume that you need no assurances of my readiness and zeal in behalf of justice and humanity to avail myself to the utmost of your information.”

COL. G. G. LUDLOW, on behalf of Officers, to [SIR GUY
CARLETON].

1783, August 19. New York.—Had expected the memorial by the Field Officers of the British American Regiments presented in March last and forwarded to the King would have been answered before this. "The services of the "British American Regiments for the space of six years "we forbear to mention, but lament at the end thereof "they should be disbanded without any positive subsistance

“for the officers or a provision for the men equal to that of the American Loyalists in general. The situation of the officers was fully stated to your Excellency in that memorial to which is now to be added that they are ordered to Nova Scotia, there to be disbanded without an assurance of continuation of pay. . . . Unaccustomed to labour, deprived of the property they possessed in America, many, if not most of them, having large families, it is absolutely impossible they can exist in an uncultivated country without the immediate assistance of Government.

“The non-commissioned officers and privates from their faithful services demand particular attention—as men who from principles of loyalty have sacrificed their estates rather than oppose their Most Gracious Sovereign—for their spirited conduct in taking up arms in defence of his cause, and persevering to the last moment in their exertions to restore order in America.

“The season is so far advanc’d that it will be impossible for them to have their respective allotments of lands pointed out in time to erect a sufficient covering for the winter—the consequence of which will be that before they can attempt the improvement of their lands, half the provisions allowed by Government will be expended—to this may be added that they have neither tools to build with, implements of husbandry, or the ability to purchase them.

“ . . . We request your Excellency will be pleased to continue the pay of the different corps until a decisive answer is received to the application made for half pay and permanent rank in America—that the year’s provision to be granted them may commence the 1st of May next, a period as early as their respective lands can be allotted, and that such tools and implements of husbandry may be furnish’d them as their necessities will require.”

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR BROWNE.

1783, August 21. New York.—“The unfortunate loss of Lieutenant Slack having deprived me of the information he had collected respecting the islands under your government, I am induced to send another officer to Bermuda to obtain the requisite information, and as your Excellency favored Lieutenant Slack with your countenance and assistance in executing the orders he received from me, I have no doubt the bearer, Lieutenant Andrew Durnford, of the Corps of Engineers, whom I send on this duty, will experience the same attention and be furnished with the same means of informing himself of what is necessary. I beg leave, therefore, to recommend him to your Excellency for such aid in the execution of the service he is sent upon, as it may require.

Having received His Majesty's commands to disband the Royal Garrison Battalion, part of which is now at Bermuda, transports shall be sent as soon as possible to remove them from thence to Nova Scotia. Such men of that corps as are desirous of remaining at Bermuda will have permission, and will receive their discharges there.

I have no doubt your Excellency will make such arrangements as will bring forth the whole strength of the island of Bermuda, for the defence of the property of its inhabitants, on any future occasion, and if before my departure from hence I can be of any service therein I shall be glad to hear from your Excellency on that subject.

As I have been informed your Excellency declined taking charge of Thomas Poole, and that he has since made his escape from the Carolina, it is not necessary I should trouble your Excellency with anything further on that subject."

P.S. 23rd August, '83.—"Lieutenant Durnford having been taken sick since writing the above, is thereby prevented from going by this opportunity, but as soon as he is recovered he will proceed to Bermuda."

1783, August 21. New York.—"To the number of persons whom I have had occasion to recommend to your Excellency's favourable notice, I beg leave to add the name of Mr. Blowers, the bearer of this letter, who, in my opinion, merits particular regard. In his profession as a lawyer he has acquired a distinguished reputation for abilities and unimpeachable integrity, and his conduct as a British subject entitles him to every mark of consideration that a zealous and a suffering loyalist may claim.

In the course of the late war he has been appointed judge of a Court of Admiralty at Rhode Island, and Solicitor General for the province of New York, and he now proposes to settle in Halifax, hoping there to retrieve his fortune by his own exertions in the way of his profession, in which I doubt not your Excellency will find him on every account worthy of general esteem and encouragement."

SIR GUY CARLETON to LT. COL. THOMAS BROWN.

1783, August 22. New York.—Received on the 18th inst. his letter of 20th July. In consequence of his recommendation has given directions to Brigadier General McArthur to pay the respective salaries of the extra officers of the Indian Department up to the 24th December. As the troops will soon be withdrawn from St. Augustine, recommends these officers to provide without delay for their future maintenance. Should any of them choose to settle in Nova Scotia or any other part of His Majesty's American dominions, they shall be recommended for lands as other officers. Thinks he should remain at St. Augustine as Superintendent after the removal of the troops, but would be determined by the opinion and advice of Governor Tonyn, supposing he (Brown) has no particular instructions to the contrary from home.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, August 22. New York.—No. 4. Instructions as to the disbanding the 2nd Battalion of the 84th and the British American Corps in Nova Scotia and the Island of St. John's. Has ordered that a spade and an axe shall be given to each soldier here whose future mode of life may require them, on his being discharged. Desires him to do the same.

"You will please to send me lists of all men belonging to British regiments under your command who are entitled to their discharges, and who wish to remain in America, also an Embarkation Return of those who are to go to Europe, that provision may be made for their conveyance.

The several corps should be discharged as contiguous as possible to the lands on which they are to settle, for which purpose you will communicate with the Governor, and press him not only to determine the spots for such corps, but that he will also expedite as much as possible the location of lands for the refugees on the River St. John's, which I am concerned to hear has been much delayed. As it is probable some of the refugees going from hence, notwithstanding the exertions we have made, will not arrive till late in the year, you will be pleased to have the barracks and publick stores at Annapolis put into repair for their reception, or for the use of such troops as it may be necessary to send there. The British American troops from this place will be sent to the River St. John's as soon as possible.

You will pay the 200 days' bat and forage money to the troops under your command.

I have been informed that Captain Studholme has employed the craft intended for the assistance of the refugees on St. John's River in other services, which has distressed them and retarded their arrival at their settlements; you will order enquiry to be made into this matter, and that it may be prevented in future.

I enclose an extract of a letter from the Secretary of State, which you will please to communicate to the officers of the British American Corps, that they may be informed on what ground they stand as to their hopes of half pay; I have no other information on this subject.

The enclosed accounts of expenditures on the public service at Spanish River by Lieutenant Fraser, of the 82nd Regiment, has been transmitted from Halifax; have it examined into by the Board of Accounts, and if it shall be found regular and justly due you will order it to be paid.

The Secretary at War has given me notice that the Military Establishment for Nova Scotia and Newfoundland is to consist of one major general with one aide-de-camp, one brigade major, one surgeon and three hospital mates, and that Major General Campbell is named for the command of the troops in that province."

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 124. 6 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. MCARTHUR.

1783, August 22. New York.—On the 18th inst. I received your letters of the 19th and 20th July with their several enclosures.

In the general orders which are sent to you by the Adjutant General, you will find His Majesty's instructions to me for the disposal of the troops under my command, and the advantages held out to those who choose to become settlers in Nova Scotia.

Vessels will be sent from hence as soon as possible to convey the British American Regiments under your command to Halifax or any other part of Nova Scotia where their lands may be located, and where they are to be disbanded, but should any of them chuse to be dismissed at St. Augustine, or go to Providence or any other of the Bahama Islands, I shall have no objection, and in the latter case you will please to furnish them with conveyances.

These corps are to be paid by you to the 24th October, 1783; such men of them as chuse to be discharged at St. Augustine are to be paid up to the day of their discharge, and to receive fourteen days' full pay in advance.

Some refugees from this place have gone to make an establishment on the islands Abbaco and Cat Island, but as I am unacquainted with the tenure of the lands in all the Bahama Islands, and whether the King has any to grant or not, I could give them no encouragement; however, if any persons chuse to go there at all hazards, I have no objection to their being provided with conveyances, and the same assistance refugees have had going to other parts.

The detachment of Royal Artillery now at St. Augustine must remain to do the duty until the final evacuation of that place.

You will please to issue 200 days' bat and forage money for the present year to the troops under your command.

As soon as the troops leave St. Augustine you will repair to Providence and take upon you the immediate command of the Bahama Islands, for which purpose I enclose you a particular letter of service which will be in force until further orders, or until the arrival of a Governor appointed from home. You will try to persuade the people to arrange themselves into a militia for their own security, and the defence of their property, in such manner as you shall think will best answer the end and be most satisfactory to themselves; you will likewise do everything in your power to accommodate the refugees who go from hence, who take with them six months' provisions, and I shall complete them to one year.

As I make no doubt it will be agreeable to you, it is my intention to recommend you to be appointed Governor of the Bahamas.

On your departure from St. Augustine you will pay yourself and your major of brigade up to the 24th December, '83; the other officers of the extra staff are to be paid up to 24th October only, to be reduced at the departure of the troops, excepting those of the Indian Department. Colonel Deveaux is also to be paid up to the 24th December, '83.

In consideration of the services and exertions of the extra officers of the Indian Department mentioned in the enclosed return received from Lt. Col. Brown, you will pay them up to the 24th December, 1783, agreeable to a letter from the Secretary at War, that being the latest period to which any of the extra staff of this army can be paid, and you will recommend it to them to lose no time in providing for their future maintenance.

You will please to require of Mr. Gale, the Assistant Deputy Paymaster General at St. Augustine, a return of money remaining in the military chest in specie and in bills of exchange drawn by Mr. Thomas on the Paymaster General in England. Should there be more money or bills of exchange than may be wanted, Mr. Gale will, of course, bring it to New York upon the removal of the troops, but shou'd the money he now has be insufficient, you will direct him to draw bills upon Mr. Thomas for such sum as you may think necessary for the service to the time of their removal.

In consideration of the former services and present distress of Colonel Pearis, you will please to grant a warrant for paying him one hundred pounds sterling out of the extraordinaries of the army.

I enclose an extract of a letter from the Secretary of State, which you will please communicate to the officers of the British American Corps, that they may be informed on what ground they stand as to their hopes of half pay. I have no other information on this subject.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, August 22. New York.—“By the June packet lately arrived I have received the King's commands to disband forthwith in Nova Scotia all the British American Corps and some of the British.

The King's orders specify that the British American Corps are to be disbanded at Halifax, but as that would be attended with many inconveniencies and the lands appropriated for them are on the River St. John's, as I learn by a letter from Mr. Bulkeley to Major Barclay, dated the 2nd instant, I have directed those corps to be sent there, and I request your Excellency will lose no time in allotting to the respective corps the lands for each; and on this occasion I am of opinion the provincial troops should be considered as refugees with respect to the number of acres allotted to each man; many of them certainly have equal pretensions on account of the property they have been obliged to abandon in consequence of their loyalty, their having taken up arms and served during the war I consider as an additional merit, and must therefore again recommend them in the warmest manner to your protection and favour.

Another class of people belonging to the Civil Departments, and at present employed with this army, consisting of civil officers, artificers and labourers, armed boat men and seafaring people, who from their occupations cannot all be spared from hence 'till the final evacuation, I beg leave also to recommend for a reservation of lands in your province; they will send forward some of their number as agents to choose a proper station for building a town, and I have no doubt they will meet with all that encouragement from your Excellency so useful a body of men are entitled to expect.

Besides all those above mentioned, there will be a large embarkation of inhabitants, consisting of merchants, farmers and mechanics, and many persons of large property, amounting to several thousands, who from their sufferings and the additional strength and wealth the province will derive from their settling in it, deserve every encouragement and assistance.

The military force to be stationed in Nova Scotia and Newfoundland is to consist of six British battalions; Major General Campbell is to command, with a small military staff. The numbers of inhabitants acquired to the province and the great security given it by placing the provincial troops (who are to have their arms, as indeed are almost all those sent into your province) on the River St. John's, will render it unnecessary to disperse the British regiments for the purpose of defence, and I trust your Excellency will have been able to make such effectual arrangements of the militia as will give the most perfect security to the province.

I conceive that the persons from Machias, mentioned in your Excellency's letter of the 8th July to have possessed themselves of lands within your province, are only a sett of lawless people, unknown to any of the States, who first fled from taxation, and now may think to acquire a right by possession. In the present anarchy of the times it may be in vain to apply to any of the States on this matter, but if your Excellency is clear that the tract on which they have placed themselves is within the limits of your province, as described by the late treaty, I would recommend that the most friendly means are taken to remove them from thence, and that you should take possession of that part of the frontier as soon as possible.

The Secretary of State having transmitted to me a copy of an additional instruction to your Excellency respecting the granting lands in Nova Scotia, and also a copy of a letter enclosing a list of articles sent out from England for the use of the refugees, I transmit copies of them, lest the originals should not have been received by you."

1783, August 25. Camp, Long Island.—Memorial as captain in the King's American Regiment. ## BOARD of COMMISSIONERS for settling and adjusting matters of debt, etc.

1783, August 25. New York.—Minutes, signed by Robert Alexander, S. S. Blowers, Daniel Coxe, Isaac Low and William Wanton. The Board took into consideration the complaint of John Thurman against David Mathews referred to them through Chief Justice Smith. The Superintendent General attended and explained the orders given to the police concerning the reports and memorials on the general orders of 18th February, and that he was ordered by Lt. Gen. Robertson to state to him and the Commandant the nature of the applications for houses from time to time without formally reporting in writing. The Board then went into a minute examination of evidence on that part of the complaint which respected the withholding the houses on the North River from the Miss Rosevelts. It appeared that on the reduction of New York the buildings were possessed by some soldiers and transferred for a trifling consideration to some poor refugees destitute of any habitation. That the Barrack Office not choosing to strip these people of shelter, relinquished its claim and considered them as in the care of the vestry, but they were never entered on the vestry books, the refugees continuing in possession. That Mr. Mathews had no concern in putting these people in and appears to have taken no other part than to recommend them as suffering loyalists and to constantly refuse to remove them unless another dwelling was provided. The Board proceeded to enquire into the suggestion of Mr. Thurman that the report of the Board of Claims respecting the house claimed as his property was very erroneous, and found that the suggestion was without foundation, it appearing from Mr. Thurman's original letter to General Robertson that his application respected his house in Wall Street, for which he was then paid rent by Government.

DAVID MATHEWS, Mayor.

1783, August 25.—Report. That in order to accommodate the number of distressed refugees in the city of New York he received orders from Sir William Howe to grant, without fee or reward, permission to erect temporary habitations on the vacant lots of persons residing without the lines. That the lots were held by the erectors of the tenements only during pleasure. After the evacuation of Philadelphia and the second great fire in New York, he was directed by Sir Henry Clinton to proceed agreeable to the former orders. "No mention was made in the permissions granted of the removal of the houses, as I always supposed they would have liberty to remove their buildings if the proprietors refused making them a proper compensation; this opinion I gave them when they took out their permissions, and trusting to the justice of this opinion many have made very considerable improvements, some to the amount of 800*l.* or upwards.

If even a free intercourse could take place between the owners of the houses and of the lots on which they stand, yet the disposition of the times is such as gives no encouragement to expect any compensation will be made for such improvements as several of the proprietors of such lots [sic] on which the refugees have built are in town and refuse making any allowance whatever; so that a removal of the wooden buildings is the only method by which the erectors can save their property."

1783, August 25. Annapolis Royal.—Acknowledges letters. "A number of people who at first intended settling at St. John's River are since come to this place, and having received certificates from Colonel Tyng of their being loyalists and of the time they were victualled to by him, I shall continue them on my list with the rest till the first day of May; many of the refugees who came here with Major Ward last fall and are now settled in the Bason have applied to me for the same indulgence, but as you have not been pleased to mention anything of these people, I shall not presume to promise it to them until I have your orders for so doing; at the same time permit me to observe that without such further help many of them I fear will want before the spring, as their lands were allotted them too late to reap any benefit from them this season.

Inclosed is a return of provisions remaining in store, and an abstract of the numbers at present victualled from His Majesty's Office at this place, which I wish safe to hand."

EDWARD WINSLOW to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 25. New York.—“Being about to embark with my family for Halifax, I beg leave to suggest to your Excellency that I have no means of support but the allowance from Government, which by your Excellency's goodness has hitherto been continued to me.

My age and infirmities and the necessities of a family unaccustomed to want, which has no other dependance but upon me, make me look forward with great solicitude and anxiety for some permanent source of subsistence in a country where I shall be an utter stranger.

Your Excellency will therefore, I hope, pardon my request that an order may be given which will enable me to receive the quarterly allowance of fifty pounds as usual at Halifax. If your Excellency cannot grant me this indulgence, I humbly hope you will have the goodness to advance my allowance as far as your Excellency's authority for that purpose will extend and your sense of the propriety of my request will warrant.

Relying upon your Excellency's wonted benevolence and the friendship you have uniformly discovered to me and my family, which will with the greatest gratitude be remembered by me to the last hour of my life. I have the honour," etc.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS for settling and adjusting matters of Debt.

1783, August 26. New York.—Robert Alexander, Daniel Coxe, and three others' opinion on Mr. Mathews' report of the previous day. That considering the situation to which this place was reduced by the rebellion, and the necessity which compelled so many to take refuge, all these temporary erections should be at the disposal of such erectors, and that in all cases where the proprietors of lots do not offer to pay a reasonable value for such buildings, the same may be pulled down and the materials taken away by the owners.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 26. Halifax.—Refers to his letter of the 15th and the Governor's wish for a detachment to be sent to Passamaquaddy. While awaiting instructions, proposed that a regiment should be sent to Annapolis Royal, there to be in readiness if required. Preferred the 84th Regiment for this as part of it was already at Annapolis and another detachment at Fort Edward (or Windsor), and thought it would be an advantage to collect them in case of their being disbanded. The companies of British recruits of the 37th and 54th are ordered to occupy the aforesaid post of Fort Edward. The Governor having applied for troops for Shelburne, has ordered three companies of the 82nd to embark for that place under Major Pitcairn. These detachments made it necessary to move the Nova Scotia Volunteers into Halifax from Fort George, at which post they are relieved by the King's Orange Rangers from the Eastern Battery. Decision to remove the powder and form a magazine at Eastern Battery, a proper distance, and in Lieutenant Colonel Morse's opinion an eligible situation. Sends to the Adjutant General a return of invalids left for Europe under Captain Murray, of the 2nd Battalion 84th Regiment, on leave. Mr. Crawford, late a commissary here, sailed a passenger on the Torbay without his consent. Intends to set off on a visit to the outposts. Sends proposals from Lieutenant Colonel Morse, which he has approved. That which relates to the establishment of post-houses on the River St. John's he will defer till his arrival there, when better able to determine the measures which will most contribute to facilitate communication with Canada. Approves Lieutenant Colonel Morse's idea of negro labour as the present price for labour is very extravagant. Mr. Winslow is appointed Paymaster for the Engineers' Department. "A number of loyalists have (in consequence of your Excellency's determination to continue their provisions till May) made applications to me; I have endeavoured as far as possible to discriminate, and I have confined my orders to such as appear to be meritorious characters and in distressed circumstances. I inclose a list of barracks by which your Excellency will observe that I have been able to lessen the expence of barrack hire in some degree. I hope to make still further advantageous arrangements under that head. Lieutenant Colonel Campbell, lately appointed to the 62nd Regiment, having applied for leave to join his regiment in England, I have taken upon me to grant it."

GOVERNOR WILLIAM LIVINGSTON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 26. Elizabeth Town.—Recounts objections to Hetfield being tried by court martial. The crime is entirely of a civil nature and the trial should be according to the course of common law. The witnesses refuse to go into the British lines to give evidence. With regard to his Excellency's apprehensions from the violent spirit which prevails against refugees, there is no instance of juries having convicted persons without the clearest proof of guilt, etc. Hopes therefore the man will be delivered to the authority of this State. ## SIR GUY CARLETON to GOV. LIVINGSTON.

1783, August 31. New York.—Hetfield has been made acquainted with the charge against him. Regrets Livingston's opinion does not coincide with his as to the trial of the prisoner at this place. Cannot reconcile himself to the surrender of the prisoner. It is because of the slow abatement of that hostile spirit which it was the intention of the articles of peace to subdue that he prefers the trial here. "On the other hand, your Excellency may dismiss all apprehension of the prisoner's escaping by the exception to our authority, in a course not conforming exactly to the common law, since our Courts here for the trial of offences against that law stand upon the ground of absolute necessity to avoid all the miseries of a wanton and perilous licentiousness." Must leave the obstacle of the obstinacy of the witnesses (refusing to go to New York) to their discretion. The Court will sit from the 8th to the 13th September, and the witnesses can have no doubt of finding the amplest protection, etc.

GOV. WILLIAM LIVINGSTON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 1. Elizabeth Town.—Cannot concur with him respecting the propriety of having Cornelius Hetfield tried for the robbery by a court martial at New York. It cannot be expected that the present hostile spirit of the people will abate while the refugees continue their depredations.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 4. Bermuda.—“Having closed and delivered my letters to Captain Mackay, commanding the Carolina guardship, I beg to trouble your Excellency with this in consequence of a sloop this instant arrived in five weeks from London, by which we have a certain account of a fleet of 50 sail fitting out at Portsmouth, destination unknown, but supposed in consequence of a rupture between the Russians and Turks, suspecting an intention of France joining in the fray.

Colonel Donkin requests in the strongest terms that his battalion may be sent home to be disbanded with the other two companies in England, that they may be invaleeded, being assured by the Chealcey Board that those intitled to the pension cannot be residents in the Continent, and desires me to implore your Excellency's tender considerations of the wounded veterans, as your Excellency is well acquainted with the nature of the Board and the expectations of the worthy old sufferers in the service; he likewise desires me to send you the inclosed in behalf of my son, tho' I confess myself a great intruder on your Excellency's goodness, yet I hope as it is from the anxiety of a reduced father (and at this juncture) I still hope for your further attention to the lad, and forgiveness, which will render me happy till another war, and I am with the most gratefull respect and esteem, etc.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 175. 3 pages.

Enclosing Col. Donkin to Maj. Anstruther, 4 June.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, September 4. Bermuda.—“The orders for disbanding the R.G.Bn. came to hand yesterday, and all due attention shall be paid to it; at same time humanity urges me to represent to your Excellency the very great inconveniences that will attend both officers and the poor, infirm, languid, wore out old men (numbers of whome are in the five companies here) in sending them at the height of a very sickly season from the climate of Bermuda to that of Nova Scotia, the effects of such a transition must be very fattall to the poor old men, and render the intention of settling there abortive as a gratuity for past services, as a strong proof of which Governor Browne intends writing your Excellency on that head, and I have at his request transmitted Doctor Bell's opinion, who has at present no less than 40 in the hospitle, who are very low, and every day losing some or some taken sick, which may reasonably be expected to continue till the middle of October.

I beg to return my most sincere and gratefull thanks to your Excellency for your attention to my son, and I hope that tho' the father is so very unfortunate to be reduced after serving since 1755, purchased every commission he ever heeld, and losed his limbs, or the use of them, in the service, his brother will do credit to your Excellency's patronage was he fortunate enough to meet with it, he, poor lad, having nothing to expect from his much reduced father."

ABIATHAR CAMP to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 4. New York.—Memorial. Representing that by the largeness of his family and the sickness he has had in it he is so reduced that he cannot leave this place with honour, and is to sail for St. John's in three days. That he has suffered every abuse, being almost three years a prisoner, and loss of property to a larger amount than any two loyalists from the same colony [Connecticut]. Seeing he goes penniless, far advanced in life to struggle with the difficulties attending new settlements, he is much distressed at the prospect and prays some advance money, one quarter or half a year's pay to help him. Recommended by Jeremiah Leaming. Marked :—"Ask Major Upham." Answered :—"Mr. Camp is a very deserving man and in need of relief. J. Upham." Further marked :—"8th Sept. E. G. LUTWYCHE, JNO. POTTS and RUFUS CHANDLER to
MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, September 4. City Hall.—“ Mr. Israel Young’s list of loyalists desirous to emigrate from this place, being referred to the Board by order of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to report their reasons for not recommending it, we beg leave to acquaint you for his information that last Monday morning Major Mollison informed us “ it was the wish of the Commander-in-Chief that none but refugees so destitute as to be actually unable to provide for themselves, should be recommended for passage or provisions.” This order precluded almost all the persons contained in Mr. Young’s list, as they did not come under the description of refugees, or of being so destitute as to justify our recommending them. We beg leave further to acquaint you that the line of conduct pursued by the Board in their recommendations has been that the persons were either refugees or loyalists who had suffered by their attachment to His Majesty’s Government, or who were likely to suffer for their active loyalty, by their stay here after the final evacuation.

The Board also request the favor to be further informed whether it is the Commander-in-Chief’s pleasure that this last order be extended to a revisal of the lists of persons already passed, but not embarked, or whether it is only intended to regulate our examinations subsequent to that order.”

JOHN THURMAN to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, September 4.—No. 2. Is compelled to this address in his duty of guardian of orphans [executor to the late Nicholas Roosevelt on behalf of his four children, three girls and a boy]. The simple case consists in a demand for the restoration of a house in this city the property of these orphans, and for rent due to himself for a house in Broadway on the Barrack List. The necessity of the appeal is founded on a denial of justice in subordinate departments, especially in a late application to the Board of Commissioners, who rejected his cause unheard, altho' on the day they had previously referred the business, he appeared prepared with proper proofs that Mr. Mathews was the cause why the property of these orphans was wasted and from whom he demanded restitution. His evidence would have substantially proved the following facts :—

- No. 1.—Miss Elizabeth Rosevelt would have proved an early application to Mr. Mathews for the house on the North River so far back as 1776, together with the discouraging reception she then met with from him. See exhibit No. 1.
- No. 2.—Miss Sally Rosevelt has sworn and would have proved to the Board that she three different times applied to Mr. Mathews, who treated her with evasion at first, and afterwards peremptorily refused the delivery of the house, altho' the vestry at that time compassionated the distresses of the orphans, and gave them charity. Exhibit No. 2.
- No. 3.—Samuel Bayard would have proved that he also made an inefficacious application to Mr. Mathews, and that he conceived him the sole cause why the orphans were refused their right. See certificate No. 3.
- No. 4.—Catherine Kirby would have proved that she did apply to Mr. Mathews for the house in question. See her deposition, No. 4.
- No. 5.—William Kirby would have proved that a certain Mr. Lawson was cutting up the dock on which the house was built, belonging to those orphans and that, Lawson shew'd him, on being questioned a writing from Mr. Mathews for the purpose. See exhibit No. 5.
- No. 6.—As a further proof that Mr. Mathews retained this house from the orphans, and placed others therein, altho' he denies it, permit me to offer a copy of Daniel Coe's petition to him and his grant. No. 6.
- No. 7.—Being a solicitor merely for the right of others, I conceived my evidence also might legally have been offered. This evidence would have consisted in a variety of written as well as personal applications to Mr. Mathews in behalf of the orphans, wherein justice, humanity, policy, and every argument that would have moved a man of the least sensibility to have stretched out his hand to relieve complicated misery was exerted; he turned a deaf ear to all my entreaties, and the following addresses to him and others will prove the barrs Mr. Mathews threw in the way, being determined not only to deny relief himself, but endeavoured to prevent it in others. This testimony your Excellency will find in exhibits Nos. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, and 19.

To this charge against Mr. Mathews, I can see no other defence of his unjustifiable conduct than what is contained in Isaac Springstead's and Catherine Allison's oath, with Jeronimus Alstyn and Edward Laight's certificate and the letter of the Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Elliot, see A. B. C. D., in answer to which as it was laid before the Board as a vindication I would beg leave to offer a few objections for your Excellency's information, how far my proof would have gone had the Board been pleased to have heard me and also exhibit E.

1st. Mr. Elliot declares every necessary enquiry besides receiving affidavits was made on my claim in consequence of my application agreeable to the order of February 18th. How far this is the fact, I appeal to the certificate of Alexander Leckie, who was present when I made a memorandum of my application to Mr. Elliot on the 2nd April, this memorandum fully confutes this assertion exhibit No. 16, for your Excellency from them will perceive no evidences were received, nor the reason why the reports were not made, was because your pleasure was to be known in the mode how, and the exhibit No. 17 says the reports were made to your Excellency. 2dly., "Mr. Elliot says it appeared Mr. Mathews had nothing to do with the disposal or detention of the house in question" and yet exhibits No. 6 and 5 speak a language diametrically opposite, and almost every other exhibit. How far Mr. Elliot's relation of your Excellency's perfect satisfaction with Mr. Mathews' conduct is also true, I must leave to your Excellency now to determine.

In answer to Mr. Elliot's last clause in his letter to the Chief Justice, I have to say he was no stranger to my frequent applications, and the unwearied assiduity I exerted for my wards, and I can with truth declare I have spoke to him on this very subject frequently as my memorial to General Robertson, exhibit No. 9 does prove.

Mr. John Smith's (Collector of Rents) certificate No. 18 will prove that y<sup>e</sup> house was never disposed of by vestry.

1783, September 5. Bermuda.—Has been sent for by the Governor, who desires him to represent the hardship and danger of moving the old veterans from Bermuda to Nova Scotia this winter. [SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, September 5. New York.—No. 5. Approves of the reduction made in public departments and regulations respecting working parties, rum, and fuel. It was well judged to send the King's American Dragoons to the lands allotted them. Hopes the British American Corps will sail the 7th. He is to take measures for disbanding the corps now going to St. John's River. Has directed the Deputy Paymaster General to send by H.M.S. Ceres 40,000*l.* sterling consigned to Alexander Thomson at Halifax for supply of the military chest, after the receipt of which sum orders are to be given to Mr. Thomson not to draw any more bills on the Paymaster General but at par 4*s.* 6*d.* the dollar. [SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. PARR.

1783, September 5. New York.—Thanks him for the proposed route from Halifax to Quebec, hopes it will be effected as soon as circumstances permit. Care to be taken that no part of it goes out of the King's territory. Is sorry that the seconded officers made choice of so improper a person as Major Antill to act as their agent.

"There can be no doubt of the necessity of our taking possession as soon as possible of our side of the river St. Croix and making as large settlements thereon as the fertility of the soil will permit but it does not appear advisable that persons who have been driven out of large possessions should be compelled to settle in a country which they object to, and where they think the lands insufficient to answer the trouble and labor of the occupier; they have a very bad opinion of the lands on the River St. Croix, and tho' I hope their opinions may be erroneous, yet considering the circumstances under which they emigrate, I think it would be cruel not to suffer them to be directed by their own choice in their place of future residence, I am therefore happy you have been able to accommodate them to their satisfaction on the River St. John's. They embarked on the 3rd instant according to the enclosed return. Perhaps many may be found in your province who will make choice of the River St. Croix, and others may be induced to join them.

I enclose a list of militia commissions granted by me since the last return.

Great numbers of Loyalists are still desirous of being removed from hence; they may amount to about eight or ten thousand."

BRIG. GEN. ARCH. McARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 12. St. Augustine.—Thanks for his goodness. As soon as the troops have gone will set out for Providence.

“Mr. Gale has almost ten thousand pounds in the chest; the troops are all paid to 24th October, but the bat and forage, Mr. Turnbull's balance and other extraordinaries will probably amount to about five thousand pounds; the expense of the Indian Department we can yet form no idea of, our friends the Creeks who have been all detained at home on account of the green corn festival, are expected to visit us in great numbers, and to quiet as much as possible the poignant apprehensions of the unhappy people who remain here, we must endeavour to send the Indians home in temper, and your Excellency knows that without purchasing we have nothing that suits them except ammunition; you may rely on no expense being incurred that is not unavoidable.

"As Colonel Brown with a high proportion of the men and officers of his regiment intends settling on some of the Bahama Islands, he has requested me to ask your Excellency's concurrence to their retaining their arms and accoutrements in the same manner as those who go to Nova Scotia; he apprehends many of his Indian friends will insist on accompanying him; of the South Carolina Regiment near two-thirds propose getting their discharges here; of the North Carolina Regiment above one-half propose going to Nova Scotia; few of either of these two corps propose going to the Bahamas, about forty of the N. C. Regiment are desirous of going to Britain; I have informed them I had yet no instructions on that head.

"I had wrote thus far when I was honored with your Excellency's letter of 29th July by the Loyalist, with several duplicates, her passage has been so tedious that Lieut. Wilson has been at Providence in obedience to your orders and returned here on the 30th ulto., and only this day received Col. Morse's instructions to view all the Bahama Islands. Of course his report must be far short of what your Excellency had reason to expect. He shall therefore set off again for the Bahamas so soon as he has made up the accounts of his department.

"Mr. Wilson understood that a large quantity of gunpowder has been brought from the Havannah to Providence and is still there, with more than seventy pieces of cannon of different calibres, no small arms, but unless it is stipulated by the treaty the Spaniards most probably will demand all, the capture of Col. Deveaux having happened after hostilities were to cease; for this reason Mr. Wilson did not think it necessary to take a particular account of them.

"Don Claraco having received considerable sums of money from several of the inhabitants for the use of the Spanish troops before Col. Deveaux arrived, these people requested he might be detained till the money was repaid, which I understand from some other gentlemen as well as Mr. Wilson is the cause of his detention.

"The Colleton family, of South Carolina, are said to have a claim on all the lands of the Bahamas which Government does not admit; as few people have settled there of late years, such as became settlers set down where they thought proper without any grants; this account I have from many people who have been there, and without recourse to their records no better can be had. Mr. Wilson shall be instructed to report to me on these three heads, which shall be forwarded to your Excellency."

LIEUT. COL. MORSE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 12. Off the River St. John's.—“As I presume you would wish to know my progress, I avail myself of Captain Mowatt's civility in sending his boat on board to acquaint me that the Sophie, now alongside, is bound for New York. As we are both under considerable way, the Sophie going out of the harbour and the Maria going into it, my letter must be short. I am just now come from Passamaquoddy Bay, where I was detained eight days. I arrived there in time to point out to the surveyors employed in laying out different towns, and the lands adjoining, such spots as appeared to me proper to be reserved for the uses of Government, and future protection of the country. I likewise dispatched Mr. Nicole up the River St. Croix (or Scodiac) with orders to go, if possible, to its source, to ascertain its course and distance, which I consider objects of importance. I went up myself as high as a boat could go, and from what I saw, and the information I could collect, I judge the course of this river to be nearly west; I have left directions with Mr. Nicole to explore the two other rivers likewise, this being the middle one, and by much the most considerable.

“From St. John's I propose going to Annapolis, and from thence to Cumberland and Windsor, and unless I continue to be very unfortunate in winds, I hope after calling a second time at Port Roseway to return to Halifax the first week in October. I have received no letters from New York since I left it, but as I expect to meet General Fox at Annapolis I am in hopes of receiving from him some of your commands.”

In respect to the memorial presented to your Excellency by a great number of persons, under apprehension of grants of land being likely to be made in this province injurious to their expectations, they may be assured that their fears are wholly groundless, and that nothing has been, or will be done to their detriment.

Every preparation has been making for allotting to the British American Corps the lands designed for them, and I shall pay all attention to your recommendation of them, I have also provided a convenient situation for the people of the Civil Department, and shall make a further reservation for the great number more who may follow them.

I shall take due care of the settlement of the discharged German officers and soldiers."

JOHN COOK. Information before WILLIAM SMITH.

1783, September 16.—Information by John Cook, of Charlotte Precinct, Dutchess County, Province of New York. He owns a farm in the above precinct in fee simple of about 260 acres; has a wife and eleven children. Being a known Loyalist during the present troubles, he has suffered much from the party in opposition to the Royal Government. Lately he found it necessary for him to quit his estate and the precinct, and to remove to the manor of Livingston. The paper hereunto annexed is a copy of an intimation from the Committee of the district. It appeared to him to be dangerous to abide any longer within the limits of their power, and he is in great apprehension for his safety in the manor; nor indeed knows any quarter in the colony where any loyal subject may hope for protection, or the benefit of the provisional articles. The country in general is under the dominion of committees, and there can be no confidence even in the new erected Government, which the committees despise. Mr. Clinton indeed talks favorably to those who are oppressed and against the usurped power of committeemen, but they find no relief. The language of the committees is that none shall rule but the majority of the people, and that the committees represent the majority—that the acts and agreements of the Congress, the legislatures, governors and rulers, are all to be subject to the will of the people expressed by the committees; and upon this principle they hold the provisional articles to be not binding, for that the Congress had no authority to give to the commissioners but what shall be controllable by the committees, as the representatives of the majority of the people. The informant is credibly informed that very lately an exchange was made of a farm in Dutchess County for another upon Long Island with Governor Clinton's privity and approbation, and yet after the removal of the proprietor of the latter from Long Island to Dutchess County he was abused by the Committee of Romboat Precinct, whipped 39 lashes, and a resolution made to repeat the whipping if he remained 24 hours in the precinct, and to give the same punishment to such as harboured or assisted him. The informant had his information from a Mr. Wyly of Romboast Precinct, who added that the transaction had been represented to Governor Clinton, but it was followed with no remedy, and it is a recent event of within five or six weeks." Accompanied by Order of the Committee to John Cook, Nine Partners, Charlotte Precinct, to take his all and family and leave the county, 19 August.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 16. Annapolis Royal.—Has received and immediately forwarded to the several posts the orders relative to the disbanding of the troops. Has communicated to Governor Parr Carleton's wish that he would determine the spots where the different regiments are to settle and to expedite the location of the refugees on the River St. John's. Will repair the barracks at this place for the reception of troops ordered here. Expects to meet Lieutenant Colonel Morse and will consult with him. "Your Excellency's letter reached me at this place, where I arrived on the 10th instant, after having visited the posts at Fort Edward, Cumberland, and Cornwallis. I was in doubt of the propriety of my continuing my route across the Bay of Fundy to Fort Howe from a rumour which had prevailed that General Campbell had sailed from New York to take the command in this province, but on the receipt of your Excellency's letter it appeared to me of some importance that I should proceed to that post, and I am to embark this day. Shall disband such provincial troops as may have arrived there. Will enquire into the conduct of Captain Studholme. "The dismissing such considerable bodies of men in the remote parts of this province where the inhabitants are not numerous and the civil authority not in sufficient force to restrain them from irregularities, renders it necessary in my idea to keep up the garrison of Cumberland and Fort Howe for the present. And as the regiment doing duty at those places is to be paid up to the 24th of October, the continuing the garrisons is not attended with any inconvenience or expence. Indeed those places cou'd not be left at this time without troops, there being considerable quantities of public stores deposited at both of them. And as I did not know what troops might be ordered there in the general arrangement I did not wish to risque sending detachments of the recruits which it might afterwards be necessary to relieve in an advanced season." Submits request of Governor Patterson, of the Island of St. John, for a small detachment of soldiers to be sent to that place. "I shall endeavour to return to Halifax as soon as possible, and shall there wait your Excellency's further commands. Whenever the arrangement notified to your Excellency by the Secretary at War takes place, I shall have particular pleasure in communicating to my successor in the command every observation which has occurred that can tend to the benefit of the service. And I have only to acknowledge that I feel myself under particular obligations to your Excellency for the honour done me in appointing me to the command of His Majesty's troops in this district." The fire in the fuel magazine at Halifax is reported to be suppressed.

GOV. JOHN PARR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 20. Halifax.—"I have the honor of your Excellency's letter of the 5th inst., inclosing a return of troops going to the River St. John's, and a list of officers appointed in the militia destined for this province. I hope the several corps will find the lands ready for their reception. Major Studholme has long had my instructions, as well as every power I could delegate to him, for employing surveyors for that purpose, not only for the troops, but also for all the refugees who may arrive from New York recommended by your Excellency. He has in consequence made every possible arrangement, yet great inconveniences must attend those unfortunate people for want of tools, etc. Capt. Molitor, with the Germans who came with him, are settled near Annapolis. I shall render them every service in my power. They have no arms, and 23 Waldeckers are without clothing; they are settled near each other. I expect a ship soon from England with tools, etc, for building; they shall be distributed immediately after their arrival.

I am happy to find that our neighbours are not so desirous to settle at Passamaquoddy; there are many people in this province who wish very much for land there on account of its goodness, as also for the great quantity of lumber and conveniency for fishing; these considerations made me the more desirous to have the Provincial Corps settled there I am now glad to find they are so well pleas'd with their situation on the River St. John's. I have from the beginning consulted the inclination of every individual Loyalist, and have allotted them lands agreeable to their wishes and shall continue to do so, notwithstanding some of them are not very deserving.

Major Hanger seem'd very happy to have Port Mouton allotted for the Legion. I hope Mr. Watson has been able to settle that point with him; if they come here it will be much out of their way. I have the honor, etc."

ZEBEDEE JERRY to MAJOR STUDHOLME at Fort Howe.

1783, September 25. Campo Bello.—“I am under the disagreeable necessity of informing you that it is entirely out of my power at present to proceed on the business of exploring the rivers agreeable to my orders from Col. Morse, notwithstanding all the interest and influence of Esquire Curry, who

I am sensible hath exerted himself most anxious with unfeigned duty in behalf of the accomplishment of the work.

The noted I. Allen is lately arrived here among the Indians as colonel comandant of them, with a little vessel loaded with many articles, etc., for the Indians, which causeth them at this time to pay the greatest attention to him. I this day received a few lines from him, requesting a conference with me, a copy of which is here inclosed; as I am not clothed with any authority to treat on matters relative thereto, I seriously took the advice of Esquire Curry, and also Captain Morris, deputy surveyor, which was to wait on Mr. Allan; that I did, and carefully observing their instructions.

He declared to me that he had lately received special orders from Congress as also from the Massachusetts State to repair to this place in order to see there should not be any encroachments made on lands (to the westward of Majegadawwy (?) River) by any British subject, and that there should not any surveys be taken, and also that no inhabitant on said land should give any aid or assistance or even harbour a British subject in their house, at the expence of the last drop of blood in his body, for he had part of his family about him (signifying the Indians) who were always ready and willing to obey his commands.

The Indians then present declared that there should not any British subject go on the survey up Scodiac River, and that it was best they would not attempt it, for if they should they would not return, etc., etc.

I declared to Mr. Allan that the intention of exploring those rivers was that a plan of the courses and distances only should be taken to be laid before Commissioners for their better ascertaining the right river that the preliminary articles of peace hath recourse to, called the River St. Croix. He said if that was the case he should be so far from making any objection, that he would give every assistance in his power, but he could not think that was the intention, for the provisional articles of peace was not signed, for which reason he was confident there would not be any Commissioners appointed for the present for that purpose. I then said I was not invested with any authority to treat with him upon a subject of that nature; I was only in a private capacity and beg'd the favor he would be so kind as to let me see his authority for saying I should not explore those rivers; when I should be able to give satisfaction to my employers, for I was under oath and consequently obliged to strictly attend to my duty; which if he would gratify me with I would immediately return, and not assume going further on the business, and he utterly refused to do it.

I this day waited on Mr. Crowe, who informed me that he should be exceeding happy to give his assistance as a pilot in exploring the River Scodiac, but since it was attempted by Captain Nicole he had many threats from the Indians that if he ever went as a pilot he should not return alive, and in particular since Mr. Allan's appearance here they had declared to him repeatedly that if they found him guilty they would kill him; therefore he thought it his duty to endeavour to save his life, for it was sweeter to him than money. I then engaged him to appear before Justice Curry, which he did, and passed an examination as above described, this being the same case at this time with all other pilots.

I was very particular in making every inquiry I thought was necessary for Chiefs, Captains, etc., or any one belonging to either of the tribes, viz., Mellisheet, Mickmuck, or Penobscot, but finding no intelligence of either of them being near this place.

Sir, you may think it very extraordinary that there should be such a sudden turn of times here, but I do verify it to be the truth, which I am willing to declare on oath."

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, September 25. Commissary General's Office, New York.—By the general state of provisions and stores delivered this morning it appears that altho' there is a sufficiency of meat, flour and bread will be wanted. Is authorized to purchase two thousand five hundred bags of bread of 112lbs. each, which with three thousand barrels of flour would make ample provision for the troops, for victualling transports, and the remainder of which might accompany the meat to Nova Scotia for the Loyalists. As it may be improper to advertise for it at this time, suggests it might be bought in different quantities in the market.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to the OFFICER commanding
H.M. Forces at Penobscot.

1783, September 28. New York.—“The Sally, the Mary and the Alexander transports, which sail from hence with refugees to St. John’s River, are ordered, as soon as they have disembarked them, to make the best of their way to Penobscot, to remove the garrison from thence to Spithead, in England ; you will therefore make the necessary preparations for the complete evacuation, that no delay may take place after the arrival of the ships, provided the refugees and loyalists who choose to emigrate this year are all removed, which previous step you are to urge with all diligence as the season will not admit of further delay ; the Spring transport, which is gone with refugees to Port Roseway, after she is cleared, is also to go to Penobscot to receive the ordnance and ordnance stores, with which she is to proceed to England.

“The officers and men of the Royal Artillery, must be sent to Nova Scotia, and as the Commissary General will send a vessel to remove the public stores in charge of his assistant at Penobscot, they can be sent to Annapolis by that conveyance.

“You will take particular care that the quarters of the regiment are cleared and the men settled with in conformity to His Majesty’s instructions, contained in the orders of 17th August last, of which I enclose you a copy.

“You will transmit to Brig. Gen. Fox and to me, if occasion offers, a correct embarkation return of the troops, and of all the stores in the post under your command, together with a state of the fortifications and publick buildings at the time of leaving them. You will acquaint the officer commanding the nearest American post, or the nearest civil magistrate, of the time you think you will be able to quit that place, in order that a person properly authorized may be sent to whom you will deliver it up, taking care in so doing to conform strictly to the articles of the provisional treaty between Great Britain and the United States of America respecting the evacuation of places within the said States, a copy of which is enclosed for your information.

"On your arrival in England you will immediately acquaint the Secretary at War, sending him an embarkation return of the regiment under your command, and informing him you wait for his instructions how further to proceed." I am, etc. Endorsed :—Enclosing Hugh Gaines Newspaper of 7th April, '83, containing copy of Provisional Treaty; orders of 17th August; Extract of orders, 30 August. Original by the Greyhound. 1783, September 29. New York.—No. 10. "The enclosed is a return of men of British Regiments who are entitled to and have obtained their discharges, and who are going to settle in Nova Scotia. As the faithful services of these people merit every attention on our parts, you will be pleased to take the necessary steps for their receiving the advantages held out to them in the orders of the 17th August, both with respect to provisions and lands; for the latter you will make application to the Governor, and as the season is far advanced, request he will expedite the location for them as much as possible. They will have no demands for pay or clothing after their arrival in Nova Scotia, their accounts being settled and paid up to the 24th October, and each man has received two pair of stockings, two pair of mitts, and one pair of shoes, extra clothing, also an axe and a spade.

They will be victualled on board the transports until the day of their landing, from which time the King's allowance of one year's provisions is to commence.

Separate lists of the men's names who go to Annapolis, Port Roseway and St. John's River, specifying the number of women and children and the regiments they belonged to, are sent to the officer commanding at each of those posts, who is directed to send copies thereof to you, and report any alteration on their landing.

Since my letter of the 22nd instant, No. 8, it has been determined that the Royal Garrison Battalion shall be disbanded at Bermuda, and as much the greatest part of the men of that corps are entitled to Chelsea, they will be sent immediately from Bermuda to England. A few who are desirous of settling in Nova Scotia are to be brought here, from whence they shall be forwarded to Halifax.

I have directed transports to be sent to Penobscot for the evacuation of that post, and enclose a copy of my letter to the officer commanding there, containing instructions for that purpose; I have sent the orders directly from hence to Penobscot, to prevent delay."

MR. TOWNSEND to MAJ. FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, September 29. New York.—Touching his (the major's) objection to signing the receipts for the Commander-in-Chief's provision. Hopes the objection will not be continued, as he is in great want of the receipts.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 3. Annapolis Royal.—“I avail myself of the earliest opportunity to communicate to your Excellency (agreeable to your desire) a proposal for the distribution of His Majesty's troops in this province, and my reasons therefor.

Having personally inspected the barracks at Fort Edward, Fort Cumberland, and Fort Hughes, I find that those at Cumberland will contain five companies on the peace establishment, those at Fort Edward three companies, and those at Fort Hughes one company; and I have received good information that there are barracks at the island of Saint John's for one company (shou'd your Excellency suppose it necessary to send a detachment to that place). I mentioned to your Excellency in my letter of the 16th of September several reasons which induced me to propose sending troops to Cumberland. I am now perfectly convinced from the most authentic information collected on the spot that a considerable part of the settlers in the vicinity of Cumberland are disaffected to His Majesty's Government. The intelligence I have received on this subject has not been from sanguine or partial inhabitants, nor is it the effect of party zeal, but certain evidence respecting the individual persons who have carried arms and assisted in the investment of the fortress while defended by the King's troops, and of their uniform opposition to Government in every instance. The new settlers who have arrived there are of a character so diametrically opposite that (situated as both parties are at present) altercations must arise and unless there is some appearance of restraint from His Majesty's troops occasionally to aid the civil magistrates, it appears to me that great confusion must ensue, and the intention of Government in sending settlers there will be defeated. These are some of the considerations which would induce me to station troops in that district, as mentioned in the inclosed proposal.

Lieutenant Colonel Morse having given proper directions for repairing the barracks at this place, the barracks and casemates will easily contain four hundred men, and the inhabitants having offered the church for the use of the Government without rent, and only on condition that a floor shall be lay'd in it, four hundred men may be accomodated in that, provided stoves can be sent from New York.

It appears to me absolutely necessary that troops should be stationed at this place, as from it's local situation it will be particularly convenient to detach parties from it to any part of the Bay of Fundy where troops may be wanted. And it also appears to me of very great importance that a detachment of troops should be stationed at Fort Howe. Separated from the peninsula of Nova Scotia by the Bay of Fundy, and remote from the seat of Government, the operations of the civil authority are very feeble there, and the multitude of people of various orders which have lately arrived on the River St. John's increases the necessity of keeping up some appearance of check on the licentious and disorderly, without which in my idea the progress of that extensive settlement may be interrupted and greatly impeded. In addition to this, it is very certain that a military garrison there will considerably facilitate a communication with Canada. I communicated to your Excellency the requisition of Governor Parr respecting stationing troops at Port Roseway. The other three companies of the 37th Regiment I propose should remain at Halifax Harbour, that they may be ready to join the detachment at Shelburne in the spring if necessary.

The three regiments at Halifax and Birch Cove appear to me sufficient to answer every purpose at those places.

I have preferred the 54th for Cumberland, and the other places in that neighbourhood, and the 57th for Annapolis and that district, as their detachments of recruits are the most numerous and are commanded by captains; and I have preferred the 37th Regiment for Roseway and Halifax Harbour, as they are already a broken regiment.

I must also observe to your Excellency that all these posts are easily approached by vessels with provisions and stores, and that the preservation of the barracks and public buildings appeared to me a considerable object.

The 54th Regiment (although dispersed) will be so situated as that a constant intercourse may be kept up between the detachments.

I am now on my return from the River St. John's, and am making all possible haste to get to Halifax; I therefore cannot be so particular in my representations to your Excellency by this accidental conveyance as I could have wished.

I proceeded one hundred and twenty miles on the River St. John's to the place allotted to the King's American Dragoons, where they were mustered by Mr. Winslow, and I ordered them to be disbanded on the tenth instant.

I considered myself fortunate in meeting the remainder of the British American Regiments at the mouth of the river, as I was thereby enabled to afford some assistance in carrying your Excellency's orders into execution. I beg leave to refer your Excellency to Major Prevost for particular information relative to disbanding those corps and for other circumstances respecting them. I have great pleasure in acquainting your Excellency that they were making preparations to proceed immediately to the lands assigned them. And from my own observation I am perfectly satisfy'd that the country which they are to possess is capable (with industry) of affording every necessary of life.

I shall do myself the honor of communicating to your Excellency such observations as appear to me of importance so soon as I return to Halifax."

F. MICHAELIS to MAJOR BECKWITH.

1783, October 4. New York.—Here are the observations I had an opportunity of making during a late trip out of the lines. I have suppressed only confidential intelligence.

Sir Guy Carleton.—Held in high esteem. Had he come sooner he would have made Tories of all the Whigs. Many wish he might be British Ambassador at Philadelphia. The French respect, fear and hate him.

Lord Cornwallis.—Hated and despised by the allied nations, considered no general.

General Washington.—“Soon the Protector of America. A deep, endless ambition, too thinly veiled to escape penetration of some who see him behind the coulisse as well as on the stage makes the basis of the character of this man who has for ever inscribed his name in the annals of the world ; great not by shining talents, but by a happy concurrence of circumstances, a useful understanding, a passive perseverance, the mediocrity of his competitors, and the weakness and perfidy of his antagonists. Genius it seems is not the growth of this western world. He is without a spark of imagination, enthusiasm or that torrent of talent that carries everything before it, cold, deliberate, patient, persevering, he finds himself elevated to a pitch of grandeur he never dreamed of, and would not grasp at the supreme power if to obtain it he must as Cromwell surround the State-house and tell them, ‘Be gone, the Lord you seek has left this place.’”

But no such exertion will be required, the nation is sick of Congress. Congress is tired of its situation. "I know they all expect and most desire a revolution."

Congress.—Its members of little respectability and acknowledge they have no power at all, but the persecution of the loyalists springs from them.

Dr. Witherspoon.—Political firebrand who perhaps had not a less share in the revolution than W—— himself—he poisons the minds of his young students and through them the continent. Account of the orations, etc., of these students and Dr. Witherspoon at the "comencement" when Washington was present.

The French Minister and French Gold.—Of all the men the French could have chosen, the most improper.—"What do you think of the savoir faire of a French Ambassador at Philadelphia who remains an entire stranger to many, who invites the Americans to his house and entertains them with the "condescendence" of a French lord of the manor, who gives a feast to his tenants, who leaves the supper table when the company are just seated to pay a visit at half after ten at night to the charming Mrs. Cr (?), and who by every look and action tells the inhabitants, Vous etes de la canaille et moi je suis Baron François ?

"Marbois is the soul of the embassy and possesses every talent but that of pleasing. Their grand aim is to prove that they had done all and the Americans nothing. Their open contempt of the nation is incredible. All this the Americans feel and gratefully return the compliment. The French interest extends not an inch further than French gold. Yet they dread French influence. It would be easy for a British Ambassador to ruin the French interest here. Send a man of a social turn who can stoop to conquer, but let it be a man of rank—for pride is after all the bosom passion of the Americans. French stiffness and formality will be no match for British hospitality nor French gold for good old Madeira wine. I hope for your indulgence in treating on a subject so foreign to my pursuits and in a language not my own. But your good nature, I know, will be my advocate. Besides, I think my ignorance in political matters is rather an advantage to you. When I wish to get an account of any subject of natural history I always chuse as ignorant a man as I can. He has no system and sees neither through Linneer [sic] nor Bufhons [sic] spectacles, but merely with his own unprejudiced eyes."

SIR GUY CARLETON to RICHARD FITZ PATRICK.

1783, October 5. New York.—No. 53. Acknowledges letters with enclosures. Captain Archibald Campbell to succeed Major Alexander Campbell, of the 74th, promoted. Sends an embarkation return of British Regiments sent to Nova Scotia to be disbanded. The British Legion, Queen's Rangers and King's American Regiment have been clothed for the year 1783 from the clothing sent out for the provincial forces. The greater part of the Royal Garrison Battalion at Bermuda being desirous of going to Europe and most of them being entitled to Chelsea, has directed the five companies to be disbanded there, and such as wish to go to England may be sent direct from there. Has done this from a consideration that the severity of the climate of Nova Scotia would prove fatal to many of these old men. Two companies of the 84th arrived from Jamaica are sent to Nova Scotia to be disbanded with the rest of the corps. Governor Campbell, of Jamaica, writes that he intends sending part of the 1st Battalion 71st to the Clyde, will therefore send the men of that corps now here to the same place. Sends return of men of British regiments entitled to their discharges, who have made it their option to settle in Nova Scotia; also embarkation return of invalids sent from that province to England.

Has directed the Deputy Paymaster General from the 1st October to draw no more bills at a lower rate of exchange than  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. above par, dollar at 4s. 6d. Was induced to give these orders as he hopes they have more money in the chest than will be wanted, and wished the money holders to make their remittances in cash by the King's ships, or if they persevere in preferring bills this advanced rate of exchange might defray the expense of freight and insurance.

MRS. PENUEL GRANT to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, October 8. New York.—Has received for answer to a previous memorial that Mr. Commissary Watson would accommodate her family with good berths to Nova Scotia, but could not allow of her taking any cattle with her without particular permission. Cannot dispose of her stock at present and has six small children and three servants to provide for. Would not remove at all if her small pension of 25*l.* a quarter might be continued. Recounts the services of Major Grant in Flanders, in Germany, on the Rose man-of-war as well as with the King's American Regiment. Sir Henry Clinton had promised to provide for him, but he died on the passage from Savannah on the evacuation of that post. Hopes she may be allowed the same pension as is granted to widows of officers who die in the field. Accompanying this is a report from John Hamilton, agent, dated 20th October, to the effect that he waited on Mrs. Grant and that she desires to go to Nova Scotia with her family of five sons grown, three daughters and three servants, together with furniture for two rooms and one kitchen, one horse and chaise if convenient, and that she fixes on Halifax, trusting to Colonel Fanning there for advice. Also a note by Brook Watson, 21st October, transmitting that report and stating that if allowed to take the horse and chaise, which can only be done with expense and inconvenience, it would only prove a burden to her. If the Adjutant General has a return of this family they will doubtless be accommodated with passage when ships can be procured.

SIR GUY CARLETON to BRIG. GEN. McARTHUR.

1783, October 9. New York.—Recalling to his attention that sufficient provisions were received by the Loyalists who emigrated to East Florida last year. Should they now unnecessarily begin a new emigration to any considerable number they cannot expect provisions from the public stores. Wishes he would discourage this premature business and guard against tricks and speculations. Nevertheless, the Commissary General has been desired to direct his assistant at St. Augustine after victualling the British American corps for Nova Scotia and retaining sufficient for the Royal Artillery to the end of June, to supply, out of the remains, such refugees as may be in most need.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to COL. B. THOMPSON.

1783, October 10. New York.—“I have received your letter of July 6th with the several enclosures therein mentioned, and you may be assured that the resolution of Parliament to give the British American officers half-pay (with which also I find they will all have permanent rank in America) affords me a very sincere satisfaction.

Your zeal and assiduity on this occasion appear to have been such as your friends might have expected, and I am sensible of your attention to me in writing so fully on the subject.

The American officers have, in my opinion, so fair a claim to half-pay that I hope the grant will finally be made for the full establishment of their several regiments without the least exception.

Your promotion to the rank of colonel is notified to me from the Minister, but as he has given me no instructions respecting Major Murray, you must be sensible that I cannot take it upon myself to give him an appointment which would be considered as a grievance by all the older Majors in the provincial line."

BRIG. GEN. A. BRUCE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 11. Flagstaff, Staten Island.—“The enclosed is the copy of a letter received from the Adjutant General which surprized me as much, as no doubt your Excellency was, when you heard I was quitting the command of Staten Island without your orders or permission.

The embarkation return to which this alludes and on which the idea originates was signed by me on the supposition that, as all the troops destined for Nova Scotia was now going, General Campbell wou'd accompany them, and I, as one, wou'd go also, for which I prepared, and in the meantime had order'd my Major of Brigade to wait on the Adjutant General to know your Excellency's intentions, which from the late bad weather he was prevented from doing till yesterday morning, then too late to prevent the receipt of his letter expressing your Excellency's disapprobation.

I have been too long in the service not to know I cou'd not abandon a command your Excellency has done me the honour to entrust me with, without leave, and I hope your Excellency has that opinion of me that I woud not be capable of indelicacy, especially to the friend I so highly esteem as General Fox. I therefore hope you will do me the justice to believe I had not the most distant idea of moving without your orders for the purpose, and that the step that lead to the mistake was only preparatory in case I shoud.”

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 12. Halifax.—The Provincial Regiments in Nova Scotia were disbanded on the 10th. His (Carleton's) orders could not be complied with in some instances, particularly with respect to the Royal Fencible Americans, the bankruptcy of whose paymaster and the confusion of whose accounts rendered it impracticable to clear with the men. It appearing that the officers in general have been guilty in not exerting themselves to effect a settlement with the non-commissioned officers and men, has refused subsistence and batt and forage money till certificates are produced that the just claims of the men are satisfied, or until his Excellency's pleasure is known. Has sent the Deputy Inspector General to St. John's Island to disband the corps there. Difficulties in settling accounts of the King's Orange Rangers. Has ordered the paymaster in arrest, also an enquiry into claims for clothing. The accounts of every provincial regiment doing duty here are in such a state of irregularity and confusion as renders it almost impossible to do justice to the men. There appears to have been great remissness, ignorance and iniquity.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 219. 4 pages.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 12. Halifax.—“A paper intituled “A List of Necessaries which the Commander-in-Chief has accorded to the Provincial Corps going to settle in Nova Scotia,” has been presented to me by the Assistant Commissary at this place, and a requisition has been made by his Excellency Governor Parr, and Lieutenant Colonel Glasier, of the 60th Regiment, for the same articles to be issued to such of the two battalions of the 60th as wish to settle in this province, and to other soldiers of British regiments who intend to remain here.

Not having any particular directions from your Excellency on this subject, and the Assistant Commissary General not being instructed by his principal to purchase them, and having very few of the articles mentioned in the list, in the public stores here, I doubted the propriety of giving orders for purchasing those things at this place.

I have delivered out a proportion of such articles as were here, a particular return of which will be transmitted to the Commissary General, and have ordered axes and spades to be purchased, but I apprehend there cannot be a sufficiency procured, and I have assured the settlers here that they shall receive the remaining articles whenever your Excellency will give me directions to purchase them; I have been rather embarrassed on this subject, because his Excellency the Governor was fully persuaded that they ought to be immediately procured and issued, and that a refusal on my part would prevent very considerable numbers from becoming settlers.

The 60th and 84th Regiments and company of the Garrison Battalion were disbanded on the 10th instant agreeable to your Excellency's orders; the men of these regiments who intend to go to England remain here in barracks waiting for conveyance.

The commanding officer of the 82nd Regiment having obtained a grant of land from the Governor, I have allowed him to discharge such men as wish to settle here, who will take possession of their land immediately.

I take the liberty of suggesting to your Excellency that there are not above three hundred soldiers in this province (artillery excepted) who have not a right to their discharges, and that although their behaviour has hitherto been regular and proper, I beg leave to submit whether it may not be expedient for one or more regiments to be sent, and whether it may not be beneficial to the service for the officers who have the care of the recruits for the six regiments intended for this province to have orders from their respective commanding officers to reinlist such men of their own or other regiments as incline to enlist here, as those men when reinlisted will be under better discipline than in their present precarious state.

I am honor'd with your Excellency's letters of the 22nd instant with the inclosures.

Your Excellency will undoubtedly before this reaches you have received intelligence of the loss of one of the transports bound to the River St. John's with part of the 2nd battalion of De Lancey's and part of the Maryland Loyalists on board. I have no other information of this unfortunate event, except what is contained in the Halifax Gazette. I have the honor to be, etc."

JOHN CURRY to MAJ. GILFRED STUDHOLME.

1783, October 14. Campo Bello.—“ You cannot conceive the confusion that is in this place at present. I do assure you it is more so now than before the peace took place, the American fishermen insolent and piratical, more so than formerly, as think they are set on by Allan. If I attempt to put the law in force against offenders, my life and property is threatened, that we are now in a state of anarchy. When any thing is done contrary to the mind of Allan and those refractory fishermen, he threatens to set on his bulldogs the Indians, who is very insolent since he came. It grieves me, as well as every good British subject, to think they are obliged to bear the insults of American pirates and savages with impunity. My dear sir, it is impossible for me to state the case fairly to you in writing, as my confused state will not admit of it at present, but hope to relate it to you by word of mouth as soon as possible for me to leave hence ; at same time must entreat you, as Chief Magistrate of the country, to request Government to find out some speedy method to prevent such irregularities for the future. Would not pretend to dictate, but am fully of opinion untill a garrison is established and a ship of force, as well as several laws carried rigorously into execution here the property of the subjects will not be safe. Pray consider this matter and represent it properly to Government. Have wrote the Governor and Mr. Bulkely upon the subject, but not so fully as would wish, and wish you to strengthen what have wrote least they may forget what is necessary to be done, having so much business upon hand.”

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 24. Halifax.—“I have the pleasure to inform your Excellency that all the troops included in the embarkation returns have arrived at this place except the 33rd Regiment and one transport with the 57th.

I wrote your Excellency my ideas of the necessity of posting troops at Annapolis Royal, Cumberland and Fort Howe, and that I had sent detachments of recruits to those stations. Altho' it is with extreme reluctance that I detain a transport for a single hour at this time, I am yet so perfectly confirmed in my first opinion of the expediency of sending troops to those places that I have requested Captain Duncan to permit the transport which brings the 37th here, to land them at Roseway and the 57th at Annapolis and St. John's River. This, I am in hopes will not cause any material detention and it requires only two ships.

As there is a possibility of reinforcing the post at Cumberland by inland conveyance, I would not detain a transport for that purpose.

I have this day received your Excellency's orders for issuing 165 days' batt and forage to the troops here, and I wish to know your Excellency's pleasure whether the British American regiments lately disbanded at St. John's River and other places within this district, are to be included in the returns.”

GOV. JOHN PARR to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, October 25. Nova Scotia, Halifax.—The Nova Scotia Volunteers, of which he was colonel, being disbanded and the officers allowed half pay, requests his good offices to have him put on the same footing should any difficulty arise from his holding an employment under the Crown, for which a dispensation may be obtained or from his having sold out of the army. The whole of his emoluments as Governor do not exceed 1,400*l.* and the expenses are greatly increased by the number of loyalists and unfortunate people he must entertain. P.S.—“I am sorry to acquaint your Excellency that the Gigg sloop, which I lately hired from Mr. Robertson at Shelburne to carry surveyors to lay out the lands at Port Moutoon is lost with all their instruments, drawings, etc. the people are fortunately saved. It will retard the laying out of the lands there and at Port Hebert, for the artificers of your army, which makes it an unlucky circumstance.”

Would not decline any proper occasion of giving further marks of his regard and approbation, but the rank of Brigadier General, which is only temporary and for local exigencies, cannot be conferred at present consistently with orders received for reduction of the army and staff and the speedy evacuation of the posts here.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, October 28. New York.—No. 14. "I have received three letters from you dated 12th October, with their several enclosures.

I approve of your having refused to issue warrants for the pay and bat and forage money of the officers of those British American corps which have not settled with their men, and of the steps you have taken in order to do justice to the soldiers.

I have also received a duplicate of your letter of the 3rd October, the proposed distribution of the troops to be stationed in Nova Scotia, which you mention as enclosed in it, I have not received. My intentions were that you should distribute them for the winter where they might be most conveniently covered, but for the next season, that they should be stationed in one or two corps at most, and where they might render essential service to the province by opening roads and in many other particulars, for I can by no means approve of provinces or parts of provinces requiring armies to protect them in time of peace ; besides, by distributing the army into small corps the discipline of it is destroyed and the troops spoiled at the same time that it multiplies expence and generates rapine and knavery of various sorts under various pretences.

The season being far advanced, I send all the troops destined for Nova Scotia to Halifax, as, from thence, they might be sent with most facility to their respective quarters before the severe weather set in.

It is my opinion that when the Minister talked of Nova Scotia the Island of St. John was meant to be included, and you will be pleased to consider it in that light with respect to the allowances granted to the disbanded soldiers and loyalists settling there.

Governor Parr mentions that twenty-three Waldeckers fixed near Annapolis are destitute of clothing ; if you find them in distress, and likely to suffer from the severity of the winter, you will order a suit of provincial clothing to be given to each of them.

All discharged soldiers who mean to settle in N.S. should be put on the same footing with soldiers who went from hence, and I have desired the Commissary General to send orders to his assistant at Halifax to purchase, under your directions, such things as may be wanting to supply them with the several articles allowed, and I have directed that such corps as settle in a body should be considered as entitled to the same utensils and necessaries as the British American corps placed on the River St. John's.

The Adjutant General has communicated to me your desire to be informed whether you were to issue pay to the absent officers of the British American corps, the order for not paying them being still in force. As the affair is at an end you will please to order their accounts to be settled to the 24th October, 1783, and paid as soon as the claims of the men of their respective corps are satisfied.

I enclose a letter which I received from Mr. Roupell at St. Augustine enclosing an affidavit respecting a negro woman taken from thence by Lt. Waldron, of the King's Carolina Rangers, I request you will make enquiry into the matter and give such orders thereon as shall appear just and proper. I am," etc.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to the ARCHBISHOP of YORK.

Doctor Inglis, an opportunity of presenting himself to your Grace on his arrival in England, and to recommend him to your favorable notice as a clergyman of merit, and one who has lost a considerable landed estate, and is at length obliged to relinquish a valuable living in the Church, in consequence of his steady and zealous attachment to the British Government.”

Submits that he has debts in Pennsylvania and other States, but all the courts of the United States are closed to the just demands of the King's faithful subjects. Further, that had a balance really been due to Mr. Wallis he would voluntarily have paid the money had he not been rendered unable to do so. ROBERT MORSE, Chief Engineer, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 31. Halifax.—“I am extremely sorry that my report of this province is not in such forwardness as to afford me any hope of being able to carry it to New York before I have reason to believe, from the information I have received, that place will be evacuated—I assure your Excellency it is the cause of much mortification to me as, I beg leave to add, I have exerted myself to the utmost to get it done. I was seven weeks out exploring, and though I did not compleat the tour of the province, I collected more materials than I have yet been able to digest and put together in a form satisfactory to myself, much less I fear to your Excellency.

The brig Maria, too, on the tour received considerable damage, first by running on shore, and afterwards in a heavy gale of wind on her return to this place. She is now under repair at the King's Yard, upon my application to the Commissioner, and will not, I fear, be ready to go to sea these eight days; I wish I knew your Excellency's pleasure in respect of her.

The moment my account of this province is in such a state as I may think it acceptable to your Excellency I shall forward it to you, indeed if I can obtain permission I shall be more disposed to wait upon you with it.

Under the painfull idea that I shall not have the honor of seeing your Excellency again on this side of the Atlantic, I remain with the highest respect, etc.”

P.S.—By the St. Lawrence a ship which arrived this day from London I received a few lines from Mr. Morgann dated the 28th of August; I hope and conclude your Excellency has heard from him ere this time. The Chief Justice, Mr. Finucane, Colonel York, and Major Armstrong, came passengers in the St. Lawrence.”

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 1. Halifax.—“His Excellency Governor Parr has communicated to me two letters, copies of which I do myself the honor to inclose, and I beg leave to observe to your Excellency that the alterations referred to appear to have arisen from a supposed uncertainty in the boundaries, and that Allen on his part has represented to Governor Hancock ‘that encroachments are made by British subjects on land which by the Treaty belongs to the State of Massachusetts’ and it appears by that governor’s speech to his Assembly that he has submitted Allen’s information for their consideration, which appears to be a regular method of proceeding, and I should apprehend the same mode adopted here would be more conducive to a settlement of the controversy than a reference to the military, because probably it wou’d be productive of a negotiation between the parties immediately concerned, and an appointment of commissioners who wou’d deliberately investigate, and amicably settle the matter.

“The magistrate who writes the intelligence may not be altogether disinterested. He is extensively connected in the lumber business, of course the introduction of troops, erecting barracks and other public buildings, wou’d considerably enhance the value of his property.

“For reasons which I communicated to your Excellency in my private letter of the 19th instant (a duplicate of which is sent by this conveyance) I did not incline to interfere in the matter. I have the honor to be,” etc.

LT. COL. ROBERT MORSE, Chief Engineer, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 1. Halifax.—“Sir, Brigadier General Fox having just sent me two letters to read, which have been lately received from Campo Bello, an island at the mouth of Passamaquoddy Bay, copies of which he proposes to send to your Excellency by this opportunity, and as the subject of these letters may become a matter of consequence, I think it my duty to throw all the light upon it in my power.

“I shall first describe the three rivers which fall into the Passamaquoddy Bay, each of them called by different surveyors St. Croix, and for the better understanding their positions they are marked with their original names in the enclosed sketch, which as far as it goes is very correct. The Copscork or Western St. Croix was the old boundary between Nova Scotia and New Hampshire, as appears upon record in this province; but as the middle river or Scodiac is by much the most considerable, I am clearly of opinion, for reasons I shall explain in my report, that should be made the boundary between the province of Nova Scotia and the American States, but what I wish now to show is the position taken up by the people from Penobscot, which I conceive to be totally out of dispute. The town laid out for them is on St. Andrew's Point and is stained red in the enclosed sketch; their lands extending up the east side of the River Scodiac. The spots coloured yellow are those I have recommended to the Governor to reserve for public uses.

“Now the river Mr. Allen pretends is the boundary as having been called the St. Croix also, is the Majiggaducey, which I conceive to be quite out of the question, but as it would seem not only from his conduct but from publications in the Boston papers, that he is acting under some kind of authority, I humbly presume that an early explanation should be required, lest the unfortunate people from Penobscot should be again disturbed; or before any military force is sent there. I mention this as a man-of-war is now under orders for that place.

“Your Excellency will, I am persuaded, pardon the liberty I take in making these observations, and attribute them to an honest wish of preventing evil, which I have no other chance of doing but through your Excellency, as my credit with the Governor is not such as I could wish. I have the honor, etc.”

"You may issue to those officers of the British American Corps lately disbanded within the district under your command, who are at present in the province, the bounty of 165 days' forage money for the present year; I should have ordered it to be paid them previous to their being disbanded had I known that the like bounty had been issued to the troops in Canada.

"I wait for a state of the military chest at Halifax to determine what sum of money it may be necessary to transmit for its supply; and I should be glad if you would furnish me with an estimate of the annual expence of the military establishment of the district under your command.

"You will observe from the enclosed extract of the Secretary at War's letter of the 17th June that the pay and appointments of the general and staff officers of this army is to cease and determine on the 24th December, 1783, but as the present circumstances of the province of N.S. render it absolutely

LIEUT. GOV. ANDREW ELLIOT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 15. Superintendent's Office, New York.—"As the delivering up of this place to the Americans is so near at hand, I must beg leave to request that your Excellency will be pleased to favour me with your instructions in regard to the disposal of the books and papers belonging to the port and police offices, both of which were established by and always under the sole controul of the commanders-in-chief of His Majesty's Army in America, and of which offices I have had the honor to be at the head ever since their establishment.

I have just finished arranging the books and papers of the Port Office, and agreeable to the wish you expressed when I last had the honor of conversing with your Excellency on this subject, in enumerating the books and papers, I shall take the liberty of mentioning my ideas as to the disposal of them.

Two books comprehend all the outward and inward entries from the first establishment of the office, except the inward and outward entries of vessels to and from the ports of the United States of America, since the 19th of April last, when this port by your Excellency's orders, was opened for the American trade; at that time a new set of books were begun, in which no entry is made but of these vessels; the papers connected with the first mentioned set of books are the cockets from Great Britain and Ireland, which are very numerous and bulky; as these only express the brokers' names who shipped the goods for the merchants, their being left here can be of no bad tendency to any individual, and perhaps a reference to them on some future occasion may be found necessary; I would propose lodging them with Mr. Seton, who remains here, and has always transacted the business of this office, and to whom such reference would naturally be made. The clearances from the West Indies, and those that attended the licensed vessels, as also the manifests both outward and inward, together with the certificates relating thereto, might be attended with risque to individuals if they were left here, and if carried home can be of no use as their contents are fully expressed in the books. I would therefore propose destroying all these and carrying the books away.

The books opened the 19th of April as mentioned above, as they contain only the inward and outward entries of the American trade, may with their manifests be left in the office being of no consequence.

The certificates on which registers have been granted if left here would perhaps be fatal to many individuals; I would therefore propose destroying these, as the registers granted are all recorded in books which ought also to be carried away.

In regard to the police, as their transactions were reported daily to the commandants, the only papers of that office are in possession of the Mayor, consisting chiefly of the different securities taken at the police, and the determinations of the Chamber of Commerce of such matters as were by the police referred to that Board; there is a necessity, either for these papers being carried home or destroyed, as they would be of bad consequences to many that remain, should they fall into the hands of the Americans.

As soon as I am honored with your Excellency's directions, they shall be immediately complied with."

HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS COMMISSION.

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE,

CHANCERY LANE,

LONDON, W.C.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING has been pleased to ratify and confirm the terms of the Commission issued by Her late Majesty, appointing certain Commissioners to ascertain what unpublished MSS. are extant in the collections of private persons and in institutions, which are calculated to throw light upon subjects connected with the Civil, Ecclesiastical, Literary, or Scientific History of this country; and to appoint certain additional Commissioners for the same purposes. The present Commissioners are :—

Sir Herbert H. Cozens-Hardy, Master of the Rolls; the Marquess of Ripon, K.G., the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Crawford, K.T., the Earl of Rosebery, K.G., Lord Fitzmaurice, Lord Alverstone, G.C.M.G., Lord Lindley, Lord Stanmore, G.C.M.G., Lord Collins, Lord Morley of Blackburn, O.M., Sir Edward Fry, Sir H. C. Maxwell-Lyte, K.C.B., and Mr. C. H. Firth, M.A., LL.D.

The Commissioners think it probable that you may feel an interest in this object, and be willing to assist in the attainment of it; and with that view they desire to lay before you an outline of the course which they usually follow.

If any nobleman or gentleman express his willingness to submit to the Commissioners any unprinted book, or collection of documents in his possession or custody, they will cause an inspection to be made by some competent person, and should the MSS. appear to come within the scope of their enquiry, the owner will be asked to consent to the publication of copies or abstracts of them in the reports of the Commission, which are presented to Parliament every Session.

To avoid any possible apprehension that the examination of papers by the Commissioners may extend to title-deeds or other documents of present legal value, positive instructions are given to every person who inspects MSS. on their behalf that nothing relating to the titles of existing owners is to be divulged, and that if in the course of his work any modern title-deeds or papers of a private character chance to come before him, they are to be instantly put aside, and not to be examined or calendared under any pretence whatever.

The object of the Commission is the discovery of unpublished historical and literary materials, and in all their proceedings the Commissioners will direct their attention to that object exclusively.

In practice it has been found more satisfactory, when the collection of manuscripts is a large one, for the inspector to make a selection therefrom at the place of deposit and to obtain the owner's consent to remove the selected papers to the Public Record Office in London or in Dublin, or to the General Register House in Edinburgh, where they can be more fully dealt with, and where they will be preserved with the same care as if they formed part of the muniments of the realm, during the term of their examination. Among the numerous owners of MSS. who have allowed their papers of historical interest to be temporarily removed from their muniment rooms and lent to the Commissioners to facilitate the preparation of a report may be named :—His Majesty the King, the Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Portland, the Marquess of Salisbury, the Marquess Townshend, the Marquess of Ailesbury, the Marquess of Bath, the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Carlisle, the Earl of Egmont, the Earl of Lindsey, the Earl of Ancaster, the Earl of Lonsdale, Lord Braye, Lord Hothfield, Lord Kenyon, Mr. Stopford Sackville, the Right Hon. F. J. Savile Foljambe, Sir George Wombwell, Mr. le Fleming, of Rydal, Mr. Leyborne Popham, of Littlecote, and Mr. Fortescue, of Dropmore.

The costs of inspections, reports, and calendars, and the conveyance of documents, will be defrayed at the public expense, without any charge to the owners.

The Commissioners will also, if so requested, give their advice as to the best means of repairing and preserving any interesting papers or MSS. which may be in a state of decay.

The Commissioners will feel much obliged if you will communicate to them the names of any gentlemen who may be able and willing to assist in obtaining the objects for which this Commission has been issued.

R. A. ROBERTS, Secretary.
