FROM THE DESK OF THE PRESIDENT

This has been quite a year for the Society. To recap briefly here are some key happenings between October 2007 and September 2008.

- Membership reached 1351
- Conveners began representing the Society in Alberta, IL, NH, MN and OR.
- Clan Crawford began making CWS material available at festivals where they have conveners but we do not. We have been doing that for Clan Crawford since 2007.
- In the category of good works the Society made significant donations to the National Trust for Scotland to assist in restoration of the Culloden Battlefield. By the way, the paver recognizing the CWS contribution is now in the walkway to the Visitor's Centre.
- In addition, the Society assisted, financially, in the restoration of the Robert Burns statue in Milwaukee in time for the 200th anniversary of The Bard's birth in 2009.
- Joanne Crawford and CWS member Rafif Jouejati teamed up to produce a first-class publication about the William Wallace-Crawford connection. The publication will soon be available on the Society web site.

Early in September I was privileged, along with other representatives of the designated honored clans for 2009, to lead the parade of clans through the streets of Estes Park. What a thrill to attend the Scottish/Irish Festival & Highland Games there! Members who attend the Society 2009 Gathering are in for a terrific experience.

During September the 2008 election of Directors was completed. Again, Thank You to all who volunteered to fill Society leadership positions and congratulations to the winners, Membership Chair Charles Wallace, Convener Chair Jean Wallace, Web Master Jim "Bowie" Wallace, and new Director Darrell Wallace who will fill the vacancy created by Jim Marcus Wallace's completion of service on the Board of Directors. New Director Donna Wallace will complete the term of Kay Cayler, who is resigning effective January 1, 2009. Donna will also assume the duties of Secretary.

I hope you read the special notice 1st page of this edition of The Guardian. Like you the CWS is doing its best to deal with increasing prices. Specifically, printing and mailing of newsletters and member correspondence are the largest expenses every year.

Norma and I and the members of the Board wish all of you a very joyous holiday season and a healthy and prosperous 2009.

Bill

CONVENOR'S CORNER

We are in the process of updating all Convenor addresses; phone numbers; emails and games convened every year. There are several areas that require this information, the newsletter editor, membership chairman, and convening. In order to stay in touch with you and so you continue to get special information, we need current information on all members, so please, please send your new street addresses and/or emails. Also, if a member registers at the games where you are convening and mentions oh, this is a new address, PLEASE send it to the groups listed above. It would be helpful if you could give us the web site (if there is one available) for the various games that you convene. New photos for the Clan Wallace web site would also be appreciated. Please email them to our Webmaster jpeg format so they can be added to the web page. We also need to update the "permission to publish" your name as Convenors. This can be done in an email confirmation.

It is that time again to look to the 2009 schedule and send in your list of games where you will convene next year. Please send me your list, and remember if there is a web site for those games, it would be a nice addition for our Webmaster; it really helps him save time in updating the information for the web site.

We have added new Convenors in New Hampshire, Illinois, Minnesota and Idaho and hope to have more next year. So anyone interested in convening please contact me and I will be happy to get you started on making new friends and sharing information about Clan Wallace with members and future members in your area.

47TH SALADO, TEXAS SCOTTISH GAMES AND GATHERING 2008

The 47th Annual Scottish Games and Gathering were held this past weekend on November 7-9, 2008. They were held in Pace Park in Salado. This was a new location for the games, having moved from the Robertson Ranch location where they have been held the past few years. The weather was a delight, especially after some of the "Scottish" weather we have experienced the past few years. Standing in mud up to your ankles is not my idea of fun but maybe I am just getting old. I set up on Friday afternoon with assistance from fellow member Frank Wallace Leslie. He set up for Clan Leslie in the space next to mine. I was assisted over the weekend by my daughter Donna Kay Wallace, also a Council Member of CWS. My brother William Wayne Wallace, of Canyon Lake, Texas, also a Council Member of CWS, visited and helped to provide coverage. Visitors to the tent included CWS Co-founder Anne Wallace of Salado, Texas and Lance Wallace of Houston, Texas. Lance was competing in heavy athletics. An annual visitor to the tent was Life Member June Wallace Hillman of Rockwall, Texas and her husband Don Hillman.

Clan Wallace Tent w/ Jim Wallace

Life Member Gail and Jeff Wallace of Plano, Texas came by and submitted a new snail mail address. They had been lost for some time and were looking forward to getting back on the newsletter mailing list. Also setting up a tent for the first time this year was Camilla Bollinger and her husband Kevin of Clan Crawford. She and her husband shared a tent with me last year as a way to get started and learn the ropes. This is part of our commitment to Clan Crawford to help them get started with convening. All in all it was a very good weekend. Many of you know that this location was the start of CWSW some 40 plus years ago. The games have been held in the vicinity of the Stagecoach Inn in Salado since the beginning.

HOW DOES JIM SCHMELTZER FOLLOW HONORED CLAN AND THE GATHERING AT WILLIAMSBURG GAMES?

HE WINS BEST TENT DISPLAY

Team Schmeltzer won the Lord Dunmore award for Best Clan Display for 2008 at the Williamsburg Scottish Games. The Team was made up of Wayne and Cathy Jones, Jim "Bowie" Wallace, Lowell Wallace, Mary Anne Whiteside and Garret Whiteside. The award winning display was a full team effort. Jim led his team providing encouragement and inspiration to all. He also supplied great Scotch. The Wallace Tent had over 150 visitors, of which 24 completed the information page and took membership information. Many also took information on how to order the Book of Wallace. It was an outstandingly productive effort on the part of the team. Cathy and Wayne Jones provided a beautiful Tent display, Jim "Bowie" made sure the replica of the Wallace Sword and its partner sword were present. Mary Anne and Garret provided the "monkey work" as Mary Anne put it. They delivered, set up, manned the tent and tore down. Lowell worked the tent and was a HUGE help on the money brigade. Not saying they had such a good time they looked like happy little monkeys, but you can decide by looking at the picture. Just two who lifted a "wee dram" to Jim.

Team Schmeltzer thought you might like to see the awarding tent.

Our thanks go to Jim for providing the motivation and inspiration to do a tent of this quality to represent the Wallace Clan. Thanks also to Wayne Jones for not only mentoring a couple of upstarts like Garret and Mary Anne but also providing everything needed for an award winning display.

Happy Holidays!

By North Carolina Convenor Nina Wallace

Carey Wallace-Johnson promoted to Ensign in her NJROTC unit and Honors Clan Wallace in design of her gown.

My niece, Carolyn (Carey) Wallace-Johnson, attended her annual Military Ball in January, 2008, where she received a special award for loyalty to God and Country. She was also promoted to ensign in her NJROTC Navy unit, one of 6 officers over 130+ students. In an unexpected departure from the usual formal wear required for this annual evening event, she asked me to design and sew her a gown that would show off her Wallace plaid drape. She stated that she wanted to feature her Wallace plaid as an important statement of her heritage and history. I was pleased to make her gown, and very pleased that she was so interested in representing Clan Wallace in this manner.

Carey is shown with Chief Richardson, of the AM Vets of Ramona, California, presenting her the Loyalty to God and Country award.

Carey's gown is made of white on white embossed satin. Her Clan Wallace Plaid is made from Wallace 100% cotton, with her Clan Wallace pin in the center of the Rosette. The representation of Clan Wallace in this manner was very well received at the Naval Military ball. Carey is the daughter of Carolyn Wallace, of Ramona, California, and the niece of Nina and David Wallace, Clan Wallace conveners in North Carolina.

WALLACE TRIVIA

From past Director Dick Wallace of Marysville, California comes another Town named Wallace, in this case California. If you have a Wallace named town or place, please submit the story and a picture. For instance I know there is a Wallace, Arkansas and if I can find it, I'll take a picture for sharing.

6TH CLAN WALLACE INTERNATIONAL GATHERING: SEPT 11-13, 2009

Over 75,000 are expected to attend the Festival, one of the largest in the United States. ### THE WALLACE MEN MAKE GREAT CALENDAR STARS

Yes, our Executive Vice-President, Bob Wallace, is Mr. January 2009. Bob's picture not only shows his Clan Wallace connection but also his interest in railroading in Northern Nevada. Bob also serves as a docent for the Dayton Museum. He and his wife Lois moved to Dayton, Nevada in 2006.

Two generations of Wallaces are shown wearing the Wallace tartan for June, Kevin Welsh and Keenan Peel. It's nice to see grandparents sharing their Scottish heritage.

The Nevada Society of Scottish Clans publishes a calendar annually as one of their fundraisers. CWS is proud to have representation for 2009. The Nevada Scots Society is an umbrella organization representing Scots of all Clans. The 2009 calendar is their third year of publishing a quality calendar in the Reno/Carson City/Dayton region, also reaching into Northern California in the Portola/Quincy area. The Nevada Scots can be found on the Internet at: <http://www.nvssc.org>.

A Men in Kilts calendar might be a good idea for other Scottish organizations.

CHARLESTON GAMES IN SOUTH CAROLINA

The 2008 Charleston Scottish Games and Highland Gathering was held this year at historic Boone Hall Plantation on September 19 through 21, 2008. This event has been held since 1973 and is one of the premier heritage festivals in the South Atlantic Region. The weekend started with a formal Sponsor's reception at Alhambra Hall in Mount Pleasant on Friday evening attended by several hundred representatives from the 40 plus Clans and Societies serving the Games followed by a tremendous Saturday of Ceremonies, Athletics, Scottish Dancing, Bag Piping, Entertainment, Heritage Clan Tents, Children's Events, and Vendors. This year the Honored Clan was Clan Gregor. The weather cooperated and it was a grand day for all who were present. Carole and Jack Leonard, Wallaces from Charleston, served as Clan Wallace Tent Convenors and hosted an excellent and colorful tent. During the weekend, the Games were visited by long time CWSW Members Larry and Judy Slight from Florida, Judy Wallace Moore from Richmond, Virginia, Board Member Charles M. Wallace and his wife Karen from Georgia, and Board Member and Past President John R. Wallace from South Carolina. Sunday's traditional Kirkin' o' the Tartans was held at First (Scots) Presbyterian Church, located in downtown Charleston, thus closing the 2008 Gathering. All in all it was a grand event, worthy of your consideration in 2009.

Support of this Rewards Program for any

Clan Wallace Honored at 2008 Treasure Valley Games

The Wallaces made a nice splash in Boise. Not only was the Annual Director's Meeting held in Boise immediately prior to the festival, but there was a CWS tent at the festival and the Society gained a new convener in Idaho. Kelly Wallace of Nampa, ID and her family members were excited to see the Pro Libertate banner over our tent. All joined the Society and Kelly agreed on the spot to convene at next year's festival. She received plenty of pointers from the Directors in attendance, all conveners.

Boise is a great place to visit. Probably most of the Directors put on a pound or two sampling the several good restaurants in downtown. The festival is held in a nice, grassy venue, partially shaded by huge old growth trees. Best of all the weather was terrific, sunny and mild, just the thing when one is wearing 8 yards of wool.

John McDade, leader of the festival organization and proprietor of "Wee Bit O' Scotland" in Boise made all of us feel like long lost friends as did everyone associated with the festival. If you can make it, a visit to the 2009 festival to support Kelly is highly recommended. The unique opening ceremony featured the City of Trees Pipes and Drums which includes Society member and piper Kendrick Wallace who joined the Society before taking the field. Incidentally, John McDade is the band's Pipe Major.

THE ROADS WE TRAVELED

By Bob Wallace

One of the ideas we incorporated into September's "Roads Less Traveled" was to actually travel the roads most tour companies, for whatever reasons, choose not to travel. In some instances, it has to do with the type of roads their routes would take them over, or parking lots too small for larger tour buses. While some of our stops included locations the Big Guys also visit, we did manage to get to a number of places most organized groups never visit.

Following arrival night in Glasgow, we boarded our 19-passenger coach for a ferry trip out of Gourock to Dunoon on the Kintyre Peninsula, then through the Argyll Forest Park, a stop at Inveraray Castle, drive by Kilchurn Castle (struck by lightning and abandoned in 1760) and over the hills to Oban, our two-night base for a visit to Mull and Iona the following day.

Back on the road out of Oban, we stopped at Killin to view the Falls of Dochart, the river running quite high with all the rain the Scots had put up with for much of the year. In fact, this river was carrying lots of topsoil along with it. We saw a similar situation later during our visit to New Lanark and the Falls of Clyde.

Of major interest to Clan Wallace would be the stop made in the Borders region to view the first monument erected in memory of Sir William Wallace, the 1814 statue placed in what is left of Ettrick Forest. The statue faces England across the hills to the south. Arlene Wallace Tomlin, Lois and Bob Wallace and others in the tour group walked about one-third of a mile from the parking lot to visit the site and take pictures of the red sandstone monument. This Wallace monument is in a location that requires use of a small tour bus or private motor car, given a parking lot with only a handful of spaces, and local roads that are relatively narrow.

Several stops were made in Lanark during our visit. St Kentigern's Church is located nearly a mile from the center of the burgh, is largely in ruins, and is surrounded by a churchyard cemetery. Nearby is the old cattle market. Near the center of Lanark is a site with a plaque noting that it used to be the home of Sir William Wallace when he lived in that area in the 1290s. Just across the street is a somewhat newer church that happens to have a statue of Wallace on its side. We were unable to get a view of the statue or usable photos of the church or statue due to wrap around the entire structure while work was being performed on the outside.

Other visits of a more general interest included Sir Walter Scott's home at Abbotsford, two of the four Abbeys begun under King David I in the 1100s (Melrose and Jedburgh), the burgh town of Peebles where we enjoyed their Games on Sunday without even the threat of rain for a day, and visits to sites related to Scotland's National Poet, Robert Burns, at Dumfries, Ellisland and Alloway. We were reminded on more than one occasion by both Burns guides that we were doing that part of the tour in reverse, seeing the Burns farm at Ellisland before we'd been to where he was born in 1759.

Given a small group of only 13, a small tour bus, we managed to go over roads most tour groups will never see. One reason for calling our 2008 tour the "Roads Less Traveled."

Long's Peak Scottish/Irish Festival and Highland Games September 5-7, 2008

The venue for the Society's Gathering 2009 lives up to its reputation as an outstanding location with an excellent festival. From Richard, Deb and Ann Tomlin's CWS tent to the scenery, to the entertainment, to the parade through town, to the Celtic dog demonstrations, to the large number of vendors, to the elk in town, the 2008 festival was top notch. Members planning to attend the 2009 Society Gathering can expect to be warmly welcomed by the Tomlin's and to have a once-in-a-lifetime experience. Below are additional photos of Wallaces participating in the 2008 event.
