

The Families Which Built
White Cross, N.C. and
Antioch Baptist Church
200th Anniversary

The enclosed collection of family trees and photographs is intended to depict the families that originally populated White Cross, North Carolina and built the Antioch Baptist Church.

Using 25 to 30 years as an average time separating each generation, most of the families trace their ancestors of White Cross back 200 years. Many of the families are found among the original members of the Haw River Mountain Church on Collins Mountain, which later became Antioch Baptist Church in 1830.

Until fairly recently, the White Cross Community was thought of by its population as having smaller local communities within itself, because travel was by horse and buggy and mule and your neighbors were the people you knew, courted, married, and with whom families were constructed.

Fifty percent of the family names on the census records 150 years ago are found today in the same community. I know of no community as close knit and as caring of one another as this.

There are bound to be misspellings and other errors in this documentation, so please make corrections in your book, as needed.

With special thanks to Mayling Blackwood, Kathy Hobbs, and Barb.

Thank you,

Navy Chaplain Corps' 'Gray Shepherd' Capt. J.D. Atwater

retires after 30 years naval service

Capt. J.D. Atwater

NAS Pensacola's Command Chaplain, Capt. J.D. Atwater, recently retired at the Naval Aviation Memorial Chapel following 30 years of naval service. In addition to supervising the command religious program for the air station, Atwater has also served as regional chaplain for Navy Region Gulf Coast.

Earlier this year, Atwater was recognized as the Navy Chaplain Corps' "Gray Shepherd," the designation accorded to "that chaplain with the earliest effective date of appointment among the captains on active duty, not having been retired/retained."

A native of Chapel Hill, N.C., Atwater received a bachelor's degree from Mars Hill College in 1970, a master of divinity from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1973 and a second master's degree from Salve Regina College in 1990. Atwater was also a "distinguished graduate" of the Naval Chaplains School's Advanced Course in 1986, and was designated a "Master Training Specialist" by the Chief of Naval Education and Training in 1989.

Active for seven years as a pastor in the Southern Baptist Convention, Atwater served two churches in North Carolina—Pleasant Grove in Green Mountain, N.C., and McDuffie Memorial in Chapel Hill—before entering active duty.

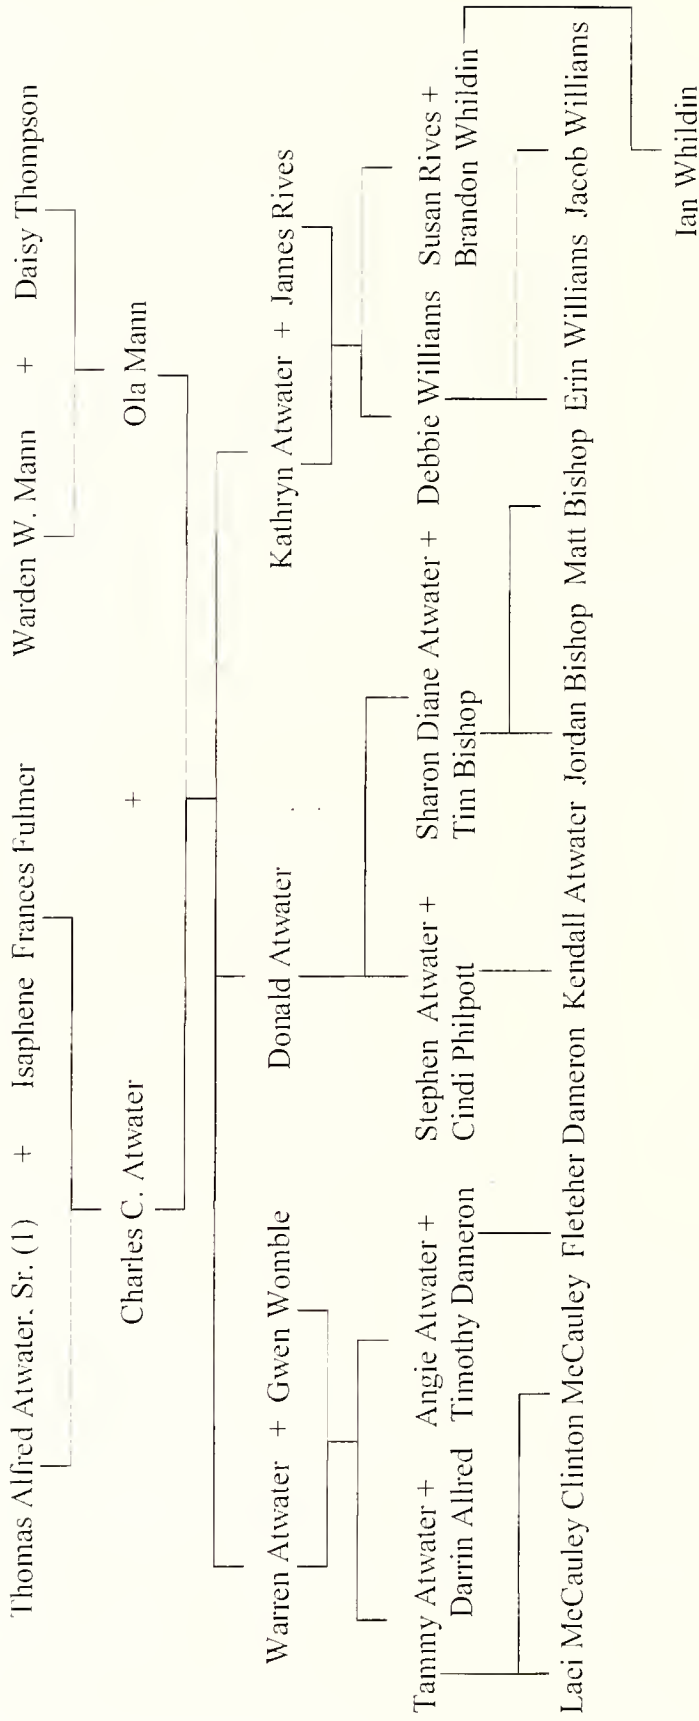

During his second pastorate, Atwater was involved in ministry to graduate students at University of Chapel Hill and Duke University, and also served a volunteer fire department in several capacities including assistant chief, training officer, ex-officio chaplain and a member of their board of directors.

After completing the Naval Chaplains School Basic Course in 1975, and spending a year with the Naval Reserves, Atwater began his active duty career in 1976 with the Fleet Religious Support Activity, Norfolk, Va., where he served as a "circuit-riding" chaplain for amphibious ships, destroyers and service ships on successive deployments.

Atwater's assignments included tours as wing chaplain at the Second Marine Air Wing; director of Plans, Programs and Professional Development for the Chief of Chaplains; force chaplain for the Chief of Naval Education and Training; and head of Chaplain Program Development at the Naval Education and Training Professional Development and Technology Center. Prior to joining the NAS Pensacola staff, Atwater served as the director of the Naval Chaplains School in Newport, R.I.

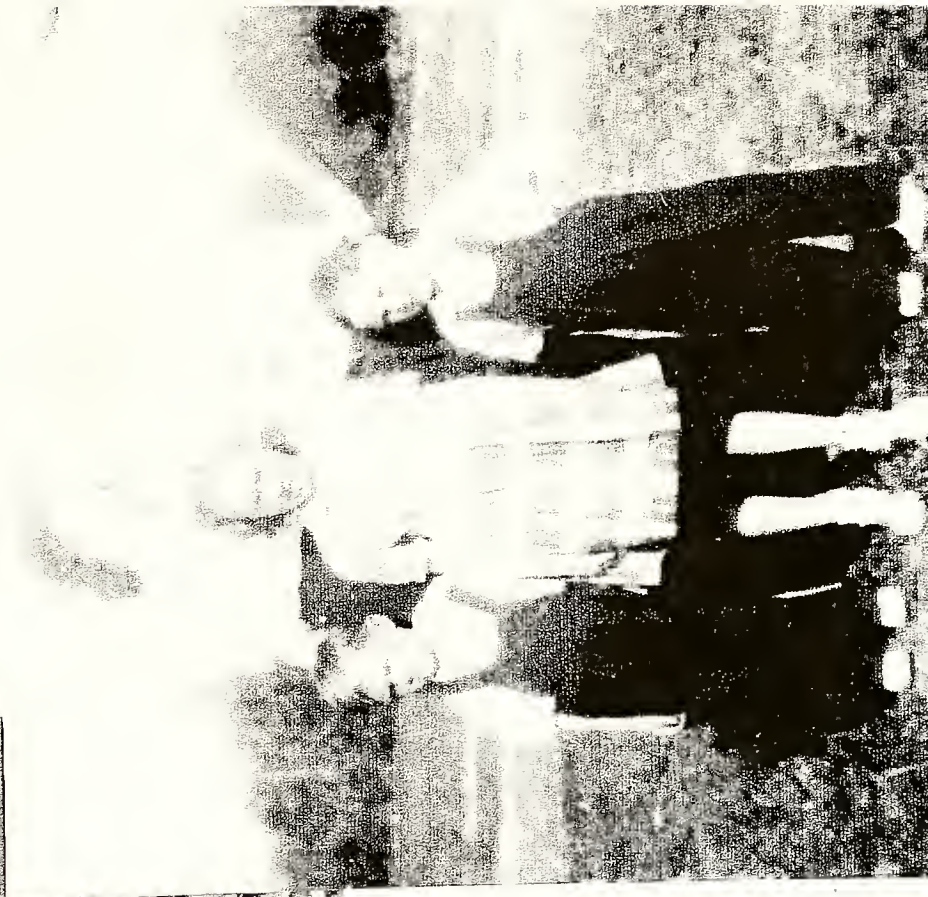

Atwater's personal decorations include the Navy Commendation Medal (two awards), the Meritorious Service Medal (three awards) and the Legion of Merit (four awards).

holding daughter Treva -- 1911

From "The Chapel Hill Weekly", dated Friday, May 6, 1927:

"Dies at Post of Duty -- Mack Williams a Member of Police Force for Eight Years -- As he sat at the wheel of an automobile bringing a negro brawler from Carboro to jail shortly after midnight Sunday morning, Mack Williams, well-known local policeman, died of heart failure.

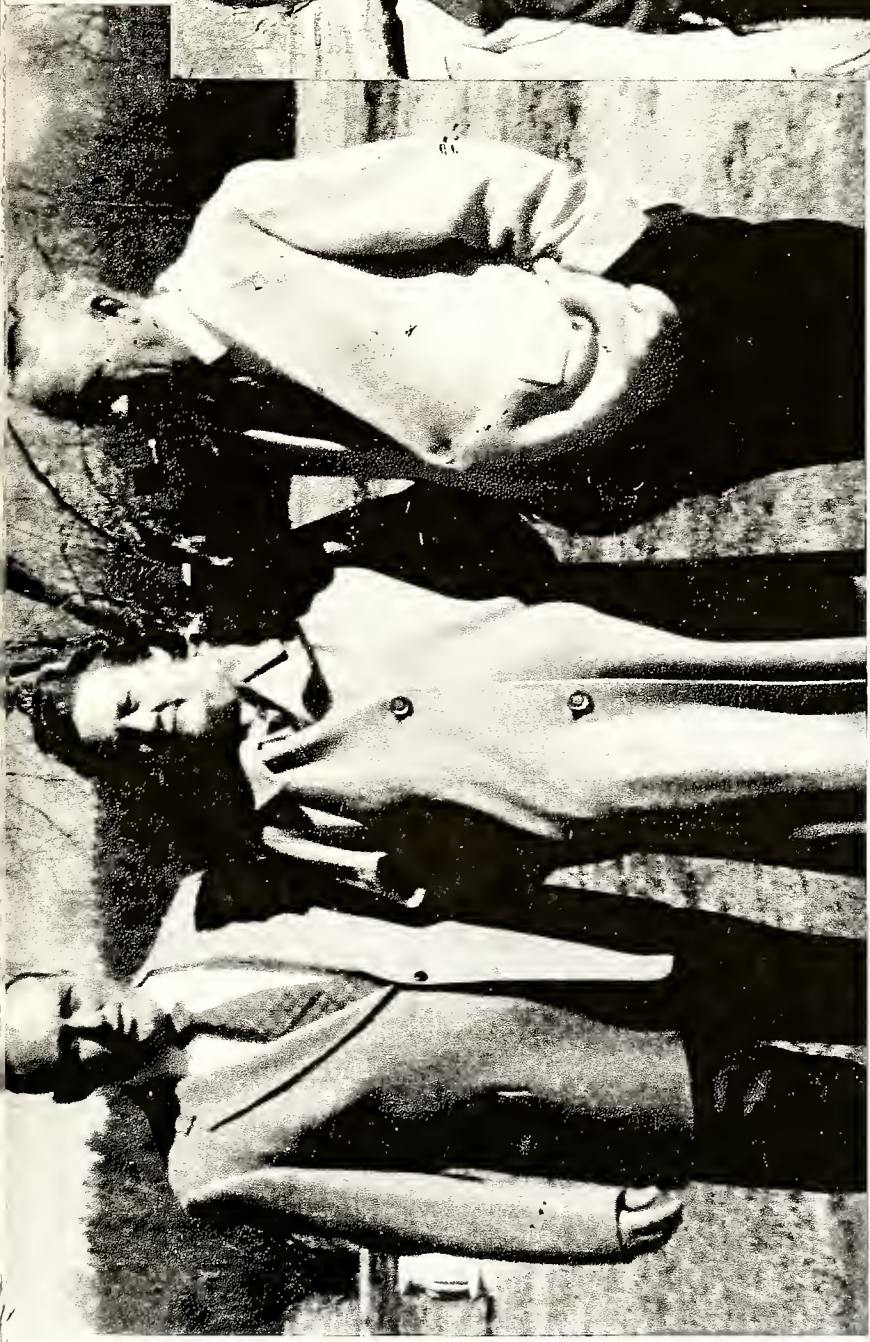

Officer Sloan, with the prisoner, was in the back seat of the car. He saw Mr. Williams fall forward, and reached his side shortly after the machine had been stopped by colliding with a telephone pole. Mr. Williams presumably had died instantly.

'Chief', as he was affectionately known to the students, was one of Chapel Hill and Carboro's best beloved residents. He was sixty-two years of age and had long been in the public service of the two towns, having served as deputy sheriff and chief of police of Carboro before he joined the the force in Chapel Hill. He was born in Chatham, but has lived for over twenty-five years in Carboro.

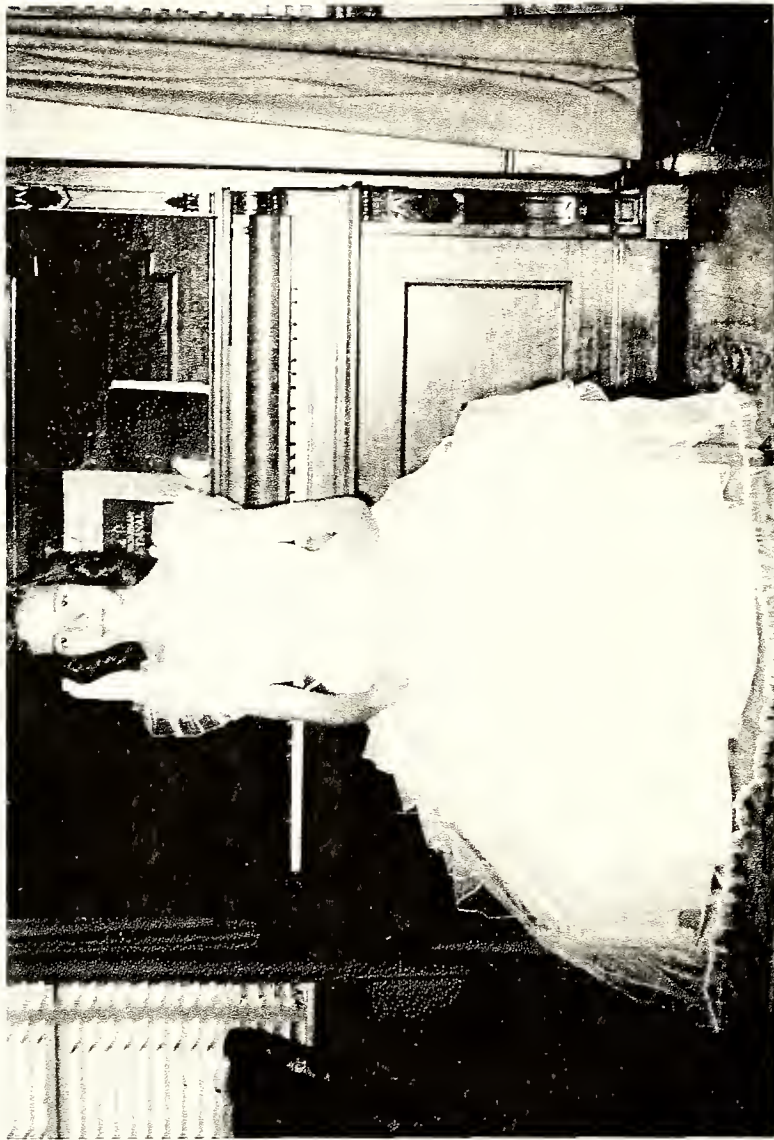

Besides his wife, Mrs. Ella Williams, he is survived by his father, G.S. Williams; two sisters, Mrs. John Upchurch and Miss Linda Williams, and one brother, Hency, all of Carboro; one aunt Miss Beanie Stone of Chatham, eight children by his first wife, Mrs. E.W. Hobby, Chapel Hill, Mrs. W.L. Bowden, Greensboro, Mrs. H.C. Riggsby, Carboro, Misses Minnie, Ella, Vadna, Carlene, and Treva, all of Chapel Hill. He was a member of the Carboro Police Force and the Carboro Fire Department.
