

Chapter 8 of Kerr Roots and Shoots

The listing of Barbara and Thomas Spence's eldest son John Spence in 45 South Clerk Street, Edinburgh in 1935 made me wonder yesterday (9th June, 2005) as I was finishing the previous chapter, if I might discover anything of his whereabouts before the deaths of his parents in 1920 and 1935, respectively. This curiosity in fact led me to a 'find' that I had missed more than two years before while looking for any family for my Great-Great Grandfather Robert Kerr of Mid Calder (1833-1914) and his wife, Jane Proven (1826-1917) of Corstorphine. So what transpired?

Well, I had a hunch that by 1901, as the eighteen year old John Spence had not been in the family Census list in Dundee, he may well have found work elsewhere in hotel service like his father, and may possibly have been located in Edinburgh. Also his father Thomas had not been in Dundee then either! Here is the relevant Census in St Andrews Burgh of Edinburgh.

[Cont.—Sheet B.]

John Spence (Hotel Porter) had thus been living at 25 Thistle Street, Edinburgh with a David Kerr (Hotel Waiter), aged 44, born in Bonhill, Dunbarton. My eyes almost popped out of my head at this because I already knew that Robert Kerr (my GG G-Father) had been Coachman at Balloch Castle, Bonhill in 1860 when daughter Jane had been born in the Coachman's Lodge there. So, was this David Kerr a previously undiscovered great grand uncle of mine?

The answer is YES .... and why I had missed it before was soon revealed in the OPR record of his birth in 1857. v.i.z.

DAVID KERR

Male

-----
Event(s):

Birth: 17 OCT 1857 Bonhill, Dunbarton, Scotland
 -----

Parents:

Father: ROBERT KERR Family

Mother: JANE ROWEN [Transcription Error 'Proven'- annotation by JH]

Thus, John Spence had been living with his cousin David Kerr, second son of his mum Barbara's brother Robert Kerr (who of course had been some 22 years older than Barbara, his youngest sister, born in 1855!); my Great Grandfather James Kerr being Robert and Jane's first son, who had been born in 1855, only a few months after his Aunt Barbara (Kerr) Spence!

The birth of David at Balloch Castle is confirmed in this GRO image :-

Again the rest of this bit of family history will appear later when I deal with the life-stories of Robert Kerr and Jane Proven and their, now, three offspring!
